SPECIAL COMMISSION TO PROBE VIOLENCE IN AMERICA
PRESIDENT JOHNSON, deploring the attempted assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, appointed late Wednesday night a special commission led by Milton Eisenhower, former president of John Hopkins University, to study the causes of violence in American life.

In a seven and one half minute address to the nation on radio and TV from the White House, the President said: "Let us for God's sake resolve to live under the law." He appealed to Congress to "bring the insane traffic in firearms to a halt" with meaningful controls on the sale of firearms.

DOCTORS CONCERNED OVER KENNEDY'S CONDITION

A MEDICAL REPORT issued in Los Angeles on Wednesday evening said the doctors treating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy were concerned over his continued failure to show improvement. It was the third bulletin issued 17 hours after the 42-year-old brother of the late president was shot and doctors said he was "in extremely critical condition."

Meanwhile, police found a spiral notebook in the apartment of the assailant, with a memo "Kennedy has to be assassinated before June 5, 1968." That is the anniversary of the six day Israeli-Arab war of 1967.

SADDENED WORLD PRAYS AS KENNEDY FIGHTS FOR LIFE

SHOCK WAVES FROM LOS ANGELES stirred echoes of Dallas on Wednesday after Senator Robert F. Kennedy held on precariously to life. The bullet fired at point blank range plunged near his brain from a pistol wielded by a Jordanian immigrant, and the attempted assassination vividly recalled the slaying of his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

The assailant was identified as Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, who was born in Jerusalem when it was an Arab city and who came to the United States 11 years ago. He had mixed in with an exultant crowd celebrating the Senator's California primary victory.

Kennedy remains unconscious in the intensive care unit of Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles. One of the team of doctors who performed more than three hours surgery to remove bullet and bone fragments said Kennedy "might not make it" and that if he lives he may suffer extensive brain damage. Kennedy continued to show the ability to breathe on his own although his breathing remained assisted by a respirator.

HOUSE ADVANCES SENATE-PASSED CRIME CONTROL BILL

ACTING ONLY 15 HOURS after the shooting of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, the House cleared on Wednesday for final approval the Senate-passed crime control bill containing restrictions on the sale of firearms. Passage of the bill — opposed by Kennedy on the ground its gun control provisions were too weak — was expected on Thursday.

NAVY ADMITS SUBMARINE SCORPION IS 'LOST'

THE NAVY ANNOUNCED Wednesday that the nuclear submarine Scorpion and her 99-man crew were presumed "lost in the depths of the Atlantic" but that the search would continue. A Navy court of inquiry at Norfolk, Va., raised the possibility that the sub might have collided with an undersea mountain. The Scorpion was last heard from on May 21.

POLITICKING SUSPENDED AFTER KENNEDY SHOOTING

OPponents of SEN. KENNEDY for the Democratic Presidential nomination — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — and the Republican contenders, Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Wednesday night called off politicking. President Johnson conferred by telephone with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the youngest son of the ill-starred four Kennedy brothers, and with Theodore Sorenson, one of Robert Kennedy's advisers. The president also conferred with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover; James Rowley, the Secret Service director and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

STOCK SALES DROP, MARKET DIPS SHARPLY

LATE SELLING sent prices lower in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday. The Dow Jones Industrial average slumped 9.21 to 907.42 and volume dropped to 15,590,000 compared to Tuesday's 18,030,000.

SEE BREAKS IN PARALYZING FRENCH STRIKES

BREAKS CAME in two key sectors of France's strike front Wednesday night when railway workers voted by a 3 to 1 margin to go back to work, and unions ordered Paris subway and bus workers to return to work Thursday. End of the public transportation strikes was viewed as the key to solution of the paralyzing work stoppages. Pres. Charles de Gaulle fired Jacques Bernard du Pont, the director of state-run France radio and television networks.

SOUTH VIETNAMESE CRACK VIET CONG HOLD ON SAIGON

SOUTH VIETNAMESE Rangers advanced behind tanks and cracked the Viet Cong stronghold on a six-block area of Saigon Wednesday. They pushed diehard communist infiltrators into three battered apartment buildings in the Cholon section of the capital. The Rangers killed 34 Viet Cong and captured four others in the charge, the first breakthrough in six days of fierce house-to-house fighting in the big Chinese area of Saigon.

NORTH VIETNAM REFUSES TO BUDGE IN ITS DEMANDS

NORTH VIETNAM said in Paris Wednesday it will neither de-escalate the war nor negotiate peace until the United States unconditionally stops bombing all its territory. Hanoi also refused to discuss the proposal by U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman that "honestly, you know that your troops are in Laos . . . We know, the world knows it." The Ho Chi Minh trail is inside the Laotian border.

POLITICAL CRISIS IN ITALY AS GOVERNMENT RESIGNS

PREMIER ALDO MORO's coalition government resigned Wednesday largely as result of communist gains in the May 19 general elections. The resignation plunged Italy into political crisis.

FITCHBURG FIRM MADE GUN WHICH SHOT KENNEDY

THE PRESIDENT of Iver Johnson's Arms & Cycle Works Inc. in Fitchburg said Wednesday his firm may have made the pistol used in the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Pres. Luther Otto said his firm is the only maker of eight-shot, 22-caliber revolvers in the country. Los Angeles police said the revolver had been registered, but that it had changed hands at least twice since its original registration.

DEFENDANT SAYS VIETNAM WAR 'UNCONSTITUTIONAL'

A FORMER MEMBER of the special staff of the National Security Council and a defendant in the antidraft conspiracy trial Wednesday told a federal court jury in Boston that the Vietnam war was "unconstitutional" and its prosecution constituted an "arrogation" on the part of President Kennedy's advisers. The president also conferred with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, 34, co-director of the Institute for Political Studies in Washington, was the fourth defendant to testify at the trial of himself, Dr. Benjamin Spock and three others. He will continue his testimony today.

UNEARNED RUNS AID TIGERS, EDGE RED SOX 5-4

THE DETROIT TIGERS took advantage of two Red Sox errors and two wild pitches to score four runs in the seventh inning and win the fourth game of their current series at Fenway Park, 5 to 4. The runs counted by the Tigers wiped out a Sox 4-1 lead before 22,385. The series stands at two each, and the rubber game will be played Thursday.

Mayor To Head All-Out Fight Against Stadium

Newton's elected officials headed by Mayor Monte G. Basbas are mapping an all-out fight against a proposal for the construction of a new sports stadium on the Woodland Golf Course in West Newton.

Mayor Basbas has served notice that he is violently opposed to building a stadium on the Woodland site and that he will take every step within his means to block such a move.

On Monday night the Board of Aldermen unanimously adopted a resolution supporting Basbas in his stand and "in any and all steps he can take to express his and the board's unqualified opposition to the placement of a sports stadium on the Woodland Golf Course."

Basbas urged Newton citizens to join their elected representative in the battle to keep a sports complex out of their city.

The Mayor asserted that help of all kinds, including financial contributions, will be needed in the fight now looming up.

He said he will oppose the proposal in the Legislature and, if necessary, will carry his fight into the courts.

His first step, Basbas told the Graphic, will be to discuss the matter with Governor Volpe.

However, members of a special legislative committee which recommended that the sports stadium be built in Newton stood their ground and declared they consider the Woodland Golf Course the best site which can be found for a stadium.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

What Happens Now in Fight For Democratic Nomination?

What happens now in the battle for the Democratic nomination for President?

That is a question political observers have been pondering since Senator Robert F. Kennedy was struck down by the bullets of a would-be assassin as he was savoring the news of his victory in California.

A very strong possibility exists, of course, that Robert Kennedy will be unable to continue his campaign for the Presidency.

As this column is being written, Bobby Kennedy is still fighting for his very life.

To a newsman with no special medical knowledge it seems improbable that Robert Kennedy, who was brought back from the shadow of death in a Los Angeles

Newton Gets Federal Aid To Buy Land

Newton was granted $152,105 this week by the Federal Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) for the purchase of 38 acres of the Webster estate.

The grant is equal to one-half of the cost of the land, and the mayor said that an application is already in with the state to pay half of Newton's share of the costs. If successful, the city could acquire the land for a meager $75,000 of its own money.

Official announcement of the grant was made Monday by Judah Gribetz, northeast director of HUD. He said it is part of the open space program designed "to help communities prevent urban blight by sound community growth in acquiring undeveloped land to preserve open spaces."

Mayor Monte G. Basbas said the land will be left in its wild state for people to tramp through. "There will be no picnic tables, barbecue pits or the like on the land," he emphasized. It will not become a park but would be left in its natural state for people to investigate "or just sit and get away from it all."

15-4 Vote By Aldermen Wins For Open Burning

A resolution to prohibit open burning in Newton that was introduced two years ago by Alderman H. James Shea Jr., was turned down by a 15-4 vote of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, but not before a lengthy unresolved discussion on the problems of air pollution.

Legislation and Rules Committee Chairman Melvin J. Dangel reported that his committee had voted 5 to 0 to reject the resolution.

He pointed out that Fire Chief Frederick Perkins has expressed the opinion that his power to issue permits allows him to prevent burning when atmospheric conditions are poor.

Dangel also said that Public Health Commissioner Dr. Edward J. Sawyer did not feel that the burning of leaves in Newton was causing undue detrimental health effects.

In addition, Dangel noted, Police Captain William Quinn reported that with the number of police in Newton such an ordinance would be practically impossible to enforce. It would cost an additional $100,000 a year for the purchase and maintenance of 18 vacuum leaf pickers and additional employees who would be necessary if the city were to pick up all the leaves, Dangel declared.

Alderman Shea moved that the resolution be sent back to the Legislation and Rules Committee for further study, but his motion was defeated.

Shea said he had the support of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Newton Conservators.

"I regret that although my resolution was submitted in 1966, it has not been reported until June of 1968," Shea commented. "This is another evidence of our insensitivity to the role local government should be serving in the area of air pollution."

Shea called for "responsible local action in cooperation with other levels of government on a major problem of our day" for reasons of "public safety and reduction of air pollution."

Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner commented that "we are all in favor of the principle of the legislation, but it offers such a wholesale solution as to be unfeasible."

He said there are probably some measures that can be taken and suggested that perhaps someone will introduce a more workable proposal.

Bernard Church as Pastor in 1955. Previous to this he had served as a curate at Our Lady of Grace Church, Chelsea, St. Mary's Church, Brookline, and was chaplain at Regis College, Weston.

He was then appointed Pastor at St. Bridget's Church, Abington, and was transferred later to St. Pius V Church, Lynn, before being assigned as Pastor at St. Bernard Church.

Always actively interested in athletics, while at St. Mary's Church, Brookline he was one of the principal organizers of the Archdiocesan High School athletic program. When he arrived in Lynn, St. Pius parish comprised a basement church, clubhouse and rectory.

During his stay at St. Bernard's, Father O'Kane was successful in completing his plans for a four-room addition to the school, renovation of the lower church, a new baptistry, and construction of a new twenty-room convent for the Sisters of Notre Dame who staff St. Bernard School.

Msgr. O'Kane was born in Brookline on October 14, 1886. His parents moved to Chestnut Hill in 1896. He attended the Mason School in Newton Centre and was graduated from Newton High School in 1905. During his course he was on the baseball and track teams. He received his degree from Boston College Class 1909, and while there captained the baseball team two years, the track team one year and was also the manager of the football team.

Besides being an outstanding athlete, he was an excellent scholar, both in the preparatory schools and in St. John's Seminary. He was ordained in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, by William Cardinal O'Connell, on January 10, 1914. He was named a Domestic Prelate on February 22, 1954.

Msgr. O'Kane has taken a deep personal interest in his parish and the lives and welfare of his parishioners. He is beloved by all for his unstinting devotion to the needs of his flock. He has made many personal sacrifices to make himself available at all times to strengthen the spiritual growth of the parish.

During his tenure at St. Bernard's he has been a living example of Christianity. His personal life denotes complete selflessness and dedication to the needs of others.

The enthusiasm of the people in planning this testimonial clearly indicates their sincere appreciation to Msgr. O'Kane for his pastoral activities.

He is a familiar figure walking about his parish, greeting his people, especially the children. Perhaps those who knew him from years past recall a rather remarkable feat. While a curate at St. Mary's Church, Brookline, Msgr. O'Kane walked to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre in Quebec in July, 1922, accompanied by Father John Maloney, one of his classmates.

Upon his retirement, Msgr. O'Kane plans to reside at Regina Cleri in Boston.

Final Rites Today For Dr. Moore

Funeral services were scheduled today in the Newton Cemetery Chapel for Dr. Howard Moore, 87, formerly of Newton and chief orthopedic surgeon at Newton-Wellesley Hospital from 1939 until his retirement in 1946, who died last Monday.

Interment will be in the family lot in Palmer.

Dr. Moore was the first doctor to graft leg bone to a patient's spine, an operation he performed in 1913, curing a girl in whom physicians then pronounced "the most remarkable operation in years."

Dr. Moore was born in Iliou, N. Y. He attended elementary school in Palmer, Mass., and later completed his secondary school education in Newton in 1900.

After attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology from 1900 to 1901 and Boston University School of Medicine, he received his medical license in 1905.

On June 20, 1907, he married Eva Gertrude Matthews of Malden. After her death he married Velma Murdock of Jamestown, R. I., on Oct. 30, 1954.

He interned as orthopedic physician at Burrage Hospital for crippled children on Bumpkins Island. He was visiting physician at Newton Hospital in 1906-07 and joined the staff in 1908.

In 1907 he was assistant orthopedic surgeon in the outpatient department of the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital and in 1910 was assistant surgeon to the hospital, and orthopedic surgeon from 1917 to 1922.

From 1917 he was consulting orthopedic surgeon at Westboro State Hospital and from 1924 at Emerson Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

Dr. Moore was instructor in orthopedic surgery at Boston University School of Medicine from 1916 to 1920 and as associate professor from 1920-22. He was also associated with the Bouve Boston School of Physical Education.

He was a major in the Medical Corps, USA, Base Hospital 44, from 1917 to 1919 and was with the AEF in France, 1918-19. He was a member of Newton Post 48, American Legion.

The doctor was a fellow in the American College of Surgeons, American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons, a member of the American Medical Association, Academy of Physical Education, the New England Society of Physical Medicine, Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society, Massachusetts Medical Society, Boston Orthopedic Club, Newton Medical Club, Phi Alpha Gamma, and Theta Mu Epsilon.

His Masonic organizations included Knights Templar, Aleppo Temple Shrine, Surgeons, and the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Epstein Elected As Red Cross Chairman

The 50th Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter American Red Cross was held recently at the Holiday Inn, in Auburndale.

At the business meeting following dinner, Stanley M. Epstein was elected chairman for the coming year; William K. Mackey, vice-chairman; Mrs. Jack Kaplan, secretary; and Robert B. Nickerson, treasurer.

Serving on the executive committee will be Mrs. Aldrich D. Prouty, Mrs. Anthony J. Medaglia, Jr., Philip L. Miller and Donald Root.

The new board members elected for a three year term beginning July 1, 1968 and ending June 30, 1971 are:

Mrs. Fabian Bachrach, Dr. Joseph de Bettencourt, Mrs. Walter H. Irvine, James C. Nesbitt, Jr., Stafford E. Davis, Mrs. James B. Dealy, Robert A. Schaeffer, Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, Prof. Albert R. Beisel, Jr., Robert G. Fisher and Thomas Dewire.

The speaker of the evening was C. Milton Jackson who discussed various aspects of Red Cross Service at home and abroad.

John Sullivan was toastmaster for the evening. He assisted in distributing awards from National Red Cross to Edward Michaud, retiring chairman, and to volunteers and staff for long, faithful and meritorious service.

Dr. Moore belonged to the Boston City Club, the Hunnewell Club of Newton, the Charles River Country Club, Appalachian Club, Massachusetts Fish and Game Club, and was first president of the Anglers Club of Newton.

He was a resident of Newton from 1895 until May 1962, when he moved from his home at 38 Richardson St. to the Masonic Home in Charlton.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Velma Murdock Moore of Jamestown, R.I., and three sisters, Miss Bertha Moore of Newton, Mrs. Louise M. Welsh of West Newton, and Miss Helene Moore of Malden.

Susan Bornstein received her certificate from the Academie Moderne, Boston, Wednesday evening (May 29) at ceremonies in the Hotel Somerset. She participated in the fashion show entitled Up, Up and Away, Fashion in Flight, presented during the evening.

Dr. Moore was a fellow in the American College of Surgeons, American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons, a member of the American Medical Association, Academy of Physical Education, the New England Society of Physical Medicine, Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society, Massachusetts Medical Society, Boston Orthopedic Club, Newton Medical Club, Phi Alpha Gamma, and Theta Mu Epsilon.

Aldermen To Decide Later On Electric Vote Machines

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night postponed until its next meeting on June 17 a decision on whether or not to use the electronic voting machines in the September 17th primary.

Legislation and Rules Committee Chairman Melvin J. Dangel said his committee did a partial study of the results of the electronic voting experience in last November's election and the recent presidential primary.

Dangel, under the impression that the September primary was scheduled for the fifth day of that month said that an immediate decision was required so that the Secretary of State could be notified in time to comply with the law.

When it was pointed out that the primary is to be held on Sept. 17, the aldermen, still with many doubts, about the process, voted to defer a decision for two weeks so that the matter could be studied further.

Dangel said his committee was not yet recommending use of the electronic vote recorder units for the November election since they want certain questions resolved.

For example, he said, "we may require that some legislation be sought from the General Court to ease the process."

Dangel also expressed the opinion that use of the punch-card ballot system in September might provide another occasion on which to introduce further improvements to the system.

The Newton Election Commission last week submitted to Mayor Monte G. Basbas a report recommending use of the electronic voting machines for the September primary and the November national election.

The report from the Election Commission pointed out that the election laws as they pertain to electronic voting do not afford ideal conditions to work under.

For one thing the law does not allow the ballots to be taken to the computer center until all work has been completed at the precinct level.

The report stated that if the ballots that are to be computed could leave the precinct as soon as they are ready, this would help in saving time both on the computer and on the final count.

"The commission also feels that once the computer has counted all the ballots which in an average election would be about 95 per cent of the votes, the results should be released to the public as unofficial returns."

Writes, especially in presidential primary, are a major cause of delay, according to the report.

In the April 30 Presidential Primary there were over 100 per cent write-ins for the presidential race and those had to be counted at the precinct level before the ballot cards were released to be counted in the computer.

The Gourmet Adventures of

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

Be sure to be at the HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT on Tuesday night, June 18, for a very special occasion — Spanish Night. Spanish food — Old Spanish wine with our compliments at every table — Old Spanish wine and cordial tasting of our complete stock of Spanish liquor — Old Spanish. Naturally, Tuesday night wouldn't be complete without our fashion show, and in keeping with the Spanish motif, we'll have a flamenco guitarist to entertain you while you watch the lovely ladies.

For dinner we'll be featuring Paella. The dish that says Spain in every delicate morsel. A tasteful blend of rice with seafood and chicken that captures the spirit, color and character of Old Spain. But that isn't all. Several other equally tantalizing main courses on the menu say Spain just as well. And what Spanish dinner would be complete without Tortilla al Rum? Suffice it to say that this desert alone is worth a trip to Seville. But all you have to do to enjoy it, is to come to Spanish Night, Tuesday, June 18, at the HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton. For reservations, call me anytime at 332-4400. See you then, amigo!

Crafts Fair in Newton Corner

Newton residents Miryam Dergalis and Charlotte Rothstein will be among the contributing craftsmen exhibiting and selling their work at the Craft Fair to be held Saturday, June 15, on the premises at 188 Church Street, Newton Corner, from noon until 6 p.m.

Sponsored by the Massachusetts Association of Craftsmen, the Fair will have some 20 participating artisans exhibiting glass, pottery, pewter, enamels, wood metals and textiles. The fair is free to the public.

Simmons Reunion Weekend Planned

Three Newton area women are assisting with Simmons College Reunion Weekend plans for the week of June 13-16. On the committee planning and organizing details under the direction of Mrs. George Gowdy of Winchester, are Mrs. Sydney Aldman, 27 Deborah Road; Mrs. Robert Marnoy of 88 Harwich Road and Mrs. Robert Silverstein of 29 Westfield Road, all of Newton. They are chairmen for their reunion classes.

Among Newton alumni planning to attend are Mrs. William Hadley, Mrs. Arnold Nathanson, Mrs. William Jacobs Jr., Mrs. Herbert Zeiger and Mrs. David Granoff.

Sargent's Gun Law

A warning that "America is turning into an armed camp" was issued recently by Lt. Gov. Francis W. Sargent who cited facts and figures to bolster his contention.

He said that in the first four months of this year, 2300 more gun licenses were issued in Massachusetts than in the same period last year, with applications for licenses doubling during the same period in the city of Boston alone.

"Eleven hundred gun dealers in Massachusetts sold enough guns last year to equip 13 infantry divisions — about 56,000 men," the Lieutenant Governor said.

He called for a national law requiring serial numbers on all firearms and providing that the numbers be recorded when guns are sold so their ownership can be traced. He urged legislation forbidding the sale of handguns to felons, dope addicts, mental incompetents and minors lacking parental permission.

Sargent added that he was "not concerned with the hunters or target shooters. They are sensible, law-abiding men. I am concerned with men who are not."

All clear-thinking citizens should be concerned with effective gun-control legislation. The right to bear arms is guaranteed by the second amendment to the Constitution which says that right should not be infringed. However, there should be some way to keep guns out of the hands of those who are not sensible, law-abiding men.

Help Them Go To Work

Once again in the month of June the doors of our schools will be open to disgorge a veritable army of young people. To some, the summer will be a time of relaxation, sports and rest; to others it will be a time to sample the world's work, to earn some coveted possession. To the graduates, who will turn their backs on schools, it will be a time to meet the responsibilities they will face the rest of their lives.

For those youngsters looking for work there will be disappointment in a vast number of cases. Even if we equal last year's national record of turning up some 1.1 million extra jobs for young people, the unemployment rate among the young will rise by eight per cent. That's because we have an additional half-million youngsters looking for jobs this year.

Clearly the stakes in this massive summer search for employment are very high indeed. For many of these youngsters, the children of deprivation, a job is no luxury. It is an absolute necessity. They have to earn enough money to return to school in the fall.

For many others, a job means the difference between launching a productive and rewarding career — or remaining idle, perhaps living on public assistance.

For every single one of them, a job means exposure to the world of work and to the responsibilities associated to the world of work and to the responsibilities associated with performing useful work and taking home a paycheck.

Youngsters looking for summer jobs are youngsters who care. They are preparing for their future.

hospital, will be physically able either to resume his Presidential drive or to hold the most powerful and demanding office in the world and carry out its duties and responsibilities.

But there is a disposition on this writer's part not to count out Bobby Kennedy, a remarkable and determined young man, in any fight he wages.

Some political pundits believe that President Johnson might reconsider and agree to run again if Bobby is eliminated from the contest for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

That's possible, but it's highly improbable. It's much more likely that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be nominated for the Presidency and that he would ask Senator Edward M. Kennedy to be his Vice Presidential running mate.

Whether Ted Kennedy would agree to do so under the circumstances is uncertain. The guessing is he would.

Humphrey, of course, could not invite Senator Eugene McCarthy to be his ticket mate since under the Constitution the President and Vice President cannot be from the same state.

The Democratic political picture will be fraught with uncertainty if Robert Kennedy is out of it. No one can be sure what the chain reaction of events or the impact upon the public thinking would be.

Bobby Kennedy was the most colorful and controversial of all the candidates for the Presidency. He drew the biggest crowds and aroused the greatest public interest.

Millions of people who watched the televised debate between Senators McCarthy and Kennedy wound up in arguments about Bobby's haircut. That's the kind of candidate Robert F. Kennedy was.

No other candidate for public office would have taken a dog with him on his campaign tours as Bobby did in Indiana.

He was criticized for his canine companion and for taking the dog with him to the poshest restaurant in Indianapolis.

In high good humor as he made his victory speech to his supporters in Los Angeles, Bobby publicly thanked his dog Freckles.

There are not many candidates for public office like Robert F. Kennedy. Indeed, there are not many men of his stamp.

The work he did for his brother, the late John F. Kennedy, in the 1952 Senate campaign and in the 1960 Presidential fight was almost beyond belief.

Robert Kennedy has been a person who aroused strong likes and dislikes.

But there was a great outpouring of feeling for him on the morning a stunned nation awakened to learn Bobby had been shot and that his life was hanging in the balance.

People who were not particularly interested in Bobby Kennedy's political ambitions went quietly to their churches to pray for him.

We wish we had some reason for speculating on what would happen in the happy turn of events that Bobby recovers to such an extent that he is able to resume his Presidential campaign. Unfortunately, there is no basis for doing so.

As a necessary sizeup is made of the new Democratic Presidential contest, Hubert H. Humphrey becomes an overwhelming favorite to emerge a winner at the Chicago convention.

McCarthy is a much stronger candidate with

Use Of Junior College Still Is Live Issue

Editor of The Graphic:

Dear Sir:
From the first moment of my arrival in Newton, I have been shocked by the irrational schedule of the elementary schools and the attitude of the administration in justifying it. I have never aligned myself with any group supporting a single session because none of them struck at the heart and guts of the problem.

On Monday night, Dr. Bellin as spokesman for the combined protesting groups served to weaken the cause by basing his entire argument on the changing role of women in our society. The issue is not the mother — whether lazy or energetic, weak or strong, devoted or neglectful, at work or at home, unconcerned or civic-minded. The issue is the child and the optimum conditions for his education only.

The administration states the need for unstructured time, I agree. The most structured time of the school day is the hour and a half for lunch. The child must really keep moving to get dressed, walk home, wash up, eat lunch, get dressed, walk back, get undressed, and get back to work. Any lost motion — especially in bad weather — results in pressure for those living at the outer edges of the school district. Those living very close find themselves with too much time on their hands.

Why do the teachers feel so threatened by the idea of a change? I would like to suggest that each and every elementary school teacher be assigned to a most family next year and be required to walk home with the child, have lunch, and walk back every day for the entire year, or at least until the February evaluation. I would predict that the teachers would alter their views radically.

The administration points to the large blocks of time available for children to return for extra help. Tuesdays are generally not available because this time is reserved for faculty meetings. A good many Thursdays are unavailable as well because of parent-teacher conferences.

Those children who need help should have it when the need arises — not deferred for the first Tuesday or Thursday afternoon. For those children, who early in the year commit this time to special as many do, a return to school becomes punitive or embarrassing. A shorter day every day would allow the teacher time when needed at the end of any day to help a child.

Why did the school committee allocate a hefty sum for a pilot program? Could they not have walked across the borders into adjacent town and evaluated the results? Single sessions are not an innovation — quite the contrary! It would appear that this study like so many in Newton was a deliberate tactic for delay and avoidance.

There is inherent in the so-called optional lunch-in-school program, the seeds for destruction. The only possible hope for a successful lunch program exists in a period limited to a maximum of 45 minutes and preferably to only 30 minutes. This would allow the child time to eat and relax and return to work without loss of interest. To allow a choice this period would have to be extended.

This extension would invite disaster for the child overstimulated with too much time, for the supervisor burdened by excessive time to monitor, and for the teacher who must then cope with an enervated or agitated child. In reality, there can be no choice.

For those of us living at the extremities of the district, even a fifteen minute cut precludes a choice, unless we are willing to compound the safety hazards by driving our children back and forth.

The fact was established long ago that the concentration level of children drops rapidly in the afternoon. The late hours of the day traditionally have been reserved for less demanding activities. Why not capitalize on this knowledge and eliminate the later hours of the day altogether as many progressive schools have. This would free those hours for hard play or just plain doing nothing — both of which our children need sorely.

Teachers would also have an open-ended block of time every day to do their creative work or even plain dull clerical work which is also demanding on them. As a former teacher that would be my preference.

My role as mother and woman does not enter the picture. I serve my home, my child, and my community faithfully and will continue to do so whether or not my child comes home for lunch. The crucial point is that every elementary school child in Newton would be served better by a shorter uniform five day week. I predict the teachers, despite their fears, would also find their position enhanced by such a schedule.

Your truly,

Noisy Minority

Editor of The Graphic:

I had the eye-opening experience of sitting in on a recess session of the Newton School Committee last week and observing this body yield to a noisy minority in the city.

On May 13th, in good faith, the School Committee voted a working mothers' optional lunch program. They were told at last week's meeting that this was not good enough and responded by making further changes. The working mothers' committee is not yet satisfied and their representative, Mrs. Harry Brick, stated that they will intensify their pressure until they get a five day uniform day lunch program. She warned the Committee that she is unable to control her aroused followers and threatens trouble in the city.

At the recent meeting, Dr. Charles Brown stated as facts that our schools cannot philosophically accommodate, and will encounter great difficulty in finding additional part-time personnel to run such a program. The school personnel department must now take valuable time away from seeking teachers to finding baby sitters. Dr. Brown reminded us that our school professional staff is one of Newton's outstanding resources; against its considered advice, these parents are determined to have their way. Is education in Newton not endangered when a special interest group can over-ride the recommendations of our superintendent and staff?

Are we not establishing a disastrous precedent when educational priorities are determined by vigilante committee rather than by dedicated administrators?

The School Committee described the pressing problems with which they must now cope: seeking a new superintendent of schools, working with a new administrator, severe overcrowding problems, and completed contract negotiations with teachers which prohibit great changes in scheduling at this time. The working mothers claim to want the best in education for our children, yet their persistence has prevented the School Committee from dealing effectively with the many problems at hand.

Where will we find a new superintendent of schools to come into this hornet's nest? Dr. Brown is leaving? What man of his calibre will be found if the School Committee allows such group pressure tactics to dictate policy? Is not such interference one reason why we are losing Dr. Brown? Why is the School Committee afraid of the working mothers' group?

The noise and the disruptive tactics at the last meeting were disgraceful, but obviously noise counts and we who support good education had better make some noise of our own. The teachers must find stronger leadership in their own group because they are not being represented fairly to the public nor to the School Committee.

What will the working mothers want next since they are not satisfied with having achieved their original ends (an in-school lunch program)? How far will they go in reversing priorities in education? All of us who are waking up belatedly had better get together for true excellence before, as Dr. Brown said last night, "it goes down the pike."

Sincerely yours,
ZELDA F. RYTER
(Mrs. Daniel S.) Ryster

tween the new and old Nixons if, indeed, there really is any difference.

Nixon smiles a little more when he addresses groups, and he spices his remarks with more humor than he did in 1960.

He even sounds at times as if Bob Hope were helping to write his speeches. For example: "Everybody's in the Democratic race. Gene McCarthy's running for President. Bobby's got in. He's running for King. Hubert, he's running for foreman of the ranch."

Some observers say that Nixon hasn't yet felt the pressure of this campaign and that he may not do so until the Democrats unite against him in the campaign next fall or unless Rockefeller is able to mount a truly effective drive for the nomination.

At the moment Nixon looms as a very potent and capable candidate who would not be easily toppled either in the November election or at the August convention.

Robert Kennedy out of the field. But he's not considered strong enough to stand against Humphrey.

Nixon Has Made No Mistakes In This Presidential Fight

Richard M. Nixon is the old pro of this pre-convention Presidential campaign.

If he has made any major political mistakes, they have not been apparent to most observers.

The popular primaries are over, and Nixon appears to have his party's nomination for President pretty well locked up.

His principal opposition at the Republican national convention in Miami probably will come from New York's Governor Rockefeller.

But Rockefeller never really has got his campaign rolling in high gear.

He himself seriously injured his Presidential chances when he held one press conference to inform the nation he would not be a candidate for President and then called another a few weeks later to announce he had changed his mind and would run.

As a result of his shift, which Rocky himself never actually has explained away, many people don't take seriously his off-again-on-again candidacy, and this has hurt him grievously.

Rockefeller got his Presidential campaign off to a great start when he scored a surprise victory over Governor Volpe in Massachusetts on the day he announced his candidacy.

This quite obviously was a political coup engineered by Senator Edward W. Brooke, one of Rocky's big boosters, but the New York Governor's spectacular start began and ended in the Bay State.

A write-in campaign in Rocky's behalf got nowhere in Oregon — a state he had carried in the 1964 primary and where he was considered to be extremely popular.

An argument used effectively against Rockefeller by a newspaper in the Beaver State was that his name first had been placed on the Oregon ballot and then had been removed from it when Rocky submitted an affidavit declaring he was not a candidate for President and had no intention of becoming one.

Handsome, colorful Mayor Lindsay was unable to arouse any real enthusiasm for Rockefeller on his visit to Oregon although his politicking there drew the tart comment that Rocky "cared enough to send Lindsay."

While many of the Rockefeller adherents argue that of winning in the November election, some of the GOP leaders, who will control blocs of votes at their party's convention, make the damaging assertion that Rocky is seeking the wrong nomination and that he should be running in the Democratic party.

Rocky may be able to muster a real drive at the convention in August if enough of the Republican Governors rally behind him. Right now, however, it is difficult to see how he can hope to stop Nixon.

If Nixon has made any mistakes, it was in remaining out of the California and Massachusetts primaries in deference to the "favorite son" candidacies of Governors Ronald Reagan and John A. Volpe.

Nixon unquestionably could have topped the field in Massachusetts if his name had been on the ballot.

But he stood aside rather than offend Governor Volpe and his friends.

Both Nixon and Volpe were taken by surprise when Governor Rockefeller, backed by Senator Brooke, scored a startling write-in victory over Volpe and locked up the Massachusetts GOP convention votes for the first ballot.

Volpe could have defeated Rockefeller easily with a minimum campaign effort, but he did not consider any effort necessary, an error in judgment which may cost him the Vice Presidential nomination.

Political analysts now express the belief that Nixon could have defeated Reagan in the latter's home state if he had made a fight there.

In not making a fight for the big California convention vote, Nixon avoided the possibility of arousing ill will which might hurt him in the battle he expects to wage next fall for the Presidency itself.

Many columns and news stories have been written about "the new Nixon," and the question repeatedly is asked how the new Nixon differs from the old one.

This writer covered Nixon in his Vice Presidential campaigns of 1952 and 1956 and in his bid for the Presidency itself in 1960.

Except for appearing more mature and seeming much more relaxed and at ease than he was eight years ago, we cannot distinguish much difference be-

Sunday Services At 1st Church Of Christ Scientist

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The service at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, begins at 10:45 a.m. and is open to the public.

The Golden Text, which states the theme of the Lesson, is from Isaiah: "Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us."

Also included are selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. Among these is the following: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established."

Alderman Bauckman Given Testimonial Photo Album

A presentation of a leather photo album containing pictures and newspapers reprints of a recent testimonial dinner honoring Board of Aldermen President Wendell R. Bauckman's 25 years of service to the city was made Monday night by Photographer John Young.

The presentation was made at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

In addition, Bauckman was given a handsome gold watch engraved "To Wendell R. Bauckman for 25 years of devoted service to the city."

Still more money left from that occasion will be used as a prize to be awarded to a senior at Newton High School in Wendell Bauckman's name. The prize will be given to encourage young people to take of interest in civic affairs, Flaschner said.

Homes-

The state law requires that a relocation commission be established to provide assistance, but not money, when six or more homes are taken for public purposes.

The architects, Morang said, would like 12 other pieces of property. These will not be taken by the city, according to Morang, but if the owners wish to sell their property to the city, it will be receptive to purchasing them.

The owners of the properties to be taken have been given a year to find new homes, Morang said. All 18 property owners who may be involved met with Mayor Monte G. Basbas and were told that if they find homes before April or May of next year, when the construction schedule calls for the landtakings, the city will pay them for their property to aid in the new home purchases.

The reason for Monday night's public hearing was that two property owners had indicated an interest in buying new homes as soon as possible.

Both couples, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Silva of 39 Elm road and Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Fagan of 36 Kimball terrace, told the board however, that the city's offers did not nearly match appraisals by a real estate agent.

They said they were finding it almost impossible to replace their homes in Newton at the prices the city had offered.

Morang said the city is prepared to negotiate with both parties and "we feel it can be worked out on an amicable basis in a couple of months time."

Aldermen H. James Shea Jr. and Sidney T. Small expressed the opinion that the city should provide relocation assistance.

Alderman William H. Wolf pointed out that if a formal relocation commission were set up construction of the high school would be delayed by a full year.

"We are trying to achieve the same result without delaying the high school by giving the property owners the maximum amount of time to relocate," he said.

Headstart Program Seeks More Volunteers In City

Are you looking for an exciting and challenging experience?

The Newton Headstart Program needs volunteers to assist with the many facets of the program. In particular at this time, the program is in need of individuals to assist in the classroom. Volunteers must be ready to serve during the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. for at least one day per week. The work is hard but will prove stimulating and is guaranteed to provide a reward of satisfaction inherent in providing volunteer service.

Joan Mahoney of 68 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, is a recent graduate of the Pondville Hospital School of Practical Nursing. While there she received the Rawdng Award.

chairman of the board of trustees.

Rabbi and Mrs. Gordon were recently honored at a reception sponsored by Temple Emanuel Sisterhood at which Dr. Abraham Sachar, president of Brandeis University, was the guest speaker. The affair was in charge of Sisterhood President Mrs. Daniel Bloom.

Library Lists Paintings On Display Here

Painting a deux, which is not a new art form but which is not commonly attempted today, is exhibited in two of the paintings in Richard Wessell's one-man show during June at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre street, Newton Corner.

The two-man paintings are by Wessell and his fellow painter and poet, S. Manteca, both of Newton, and both students of the Art Institute of Boston.

The pair of works, Alice in Wonderland Page 43 and The Assassination of Thomas A. Becket, show an inventive spirit and interesting use of light by the artists.

Both canvases are huge and demonstrate diverse styles, though the viewer cannot really tell who painted what, as the two painters have achieved a harmonious blend.

These experimental works and others by Richard Wessell are on view until mid-June at the Main Library, with a complementary selection of art books including two brand-new ones, "Museum Without Walls" by Malraux and "Traveler's Guide to America's Art" by Norman.

Volunteers will be interviewed on Tuesday, June 11th between the hours of 10:00-12:00 noon and 3:00-5:00 p.m. Mrs. Lester Steinberg and Mrs. John Taplin are coordinating the interviews. Interested persons do not need appointments.

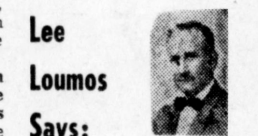

They are asked to come to the 1st Unitarian Society, 1326 Washington street in West Newton anytime during the specified hours above. Minimum age for applicant is 16 years of age.

In addition to this announcement, Mrs. Leston Havens, Advisory Committee Chairman has announced that the current committee list includes Anthony J. Bibbo, Executive Director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., delegate agency for the program; Mrs. Matthew Jefferson, Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, and Thomas B. Gerlach, Newton Community Action representatives; Mrs. Edward Landy, Miss Mary-Louise Eddy, Mrs. Gus A. Harter and Mrs. Lester Steinberg, Newton Community Center Representatives; and Mrs. John F. Taplin, Unitarian Church Representative.

Parent Representatives include: Mrs. Frances Gadsden, Mrs. Catherine Getman, Mrs. Joanne Houle, Mrs. Mary MacLellan, Mrs. Iola Merritt, Mrs. Sunnie Sabean, Mrs. Barbara Streight and Mrs. Althea Yancey.

Consultants to the program are: William Bount, Division of Instruction; Dr. Julian Sachs from the Newton Mental Health Center; and Leo Renaud, WEMBROC.

Phone inquiries on the program may be made by calling 527-6689.

Lee Loumos Says:

If I were a commencement speaker during this graduation season, I think that the most important single thought I would try to impart is that success in any undertaking is mainly achieved by hard work and desire. I believe that a great weakness of this generation is a tendency to being a dilettante — to employ the once-over-lightly technique and to rely on "gimmicks." If one has mediocre ability it can be enhanced by diligent application, and with natural talent one can reach the heights. And being a perfectionist, if not carried to excess, is an excellent fuel to feed the fire of success.

Miss Huston - Mr. Valle Wed at Marsh Chapel, B.U.

At a two o'clock afternoon ceremony in Boston University's Marsh Chapel, recently, Miss Beverly Jane Huston and Richard Francis Valle exchanged vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Llewellyn Huston of 39 Churchill street, Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peter Valle of 34 Auburn street, West Newton, are the groom's parents.

The Rev. John Kenny and the Rev. John Lilly officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception was held at Hillcrest Hall in Waltham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length empire gown of shantung designed with Chantilly lace bell sleeves. Her fingertip illusion veil was fastened to a becoming headpiece. She carried traditional white flowers.

Mrs. John Newell Provost of Framingham, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Cynthia Gallagher of Sudbury, formerly of Newtonville, and Mrs. Lynda Estes of Troy, N.Y., formerly of Newtonville were bridesmaids.

Richard Binell of Arlington, the groom's nephew, was altar boy.

Robert J. Valle of Walpole, brother of the groom, served as best man. Brian Lamagna of West Hartford, Ct., and Lino Binell of Arlington, brother-in-law of the groom, served as ushers.

After a honeymoon on Cape Cod, Mr. and Mrs. Valle will make their home in Newtonville.

The bride is a graduate of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Valle was graduated from Boston University.

Small touches make the big difference in decorating. A room grows dull if it has no subtleties to be discovered as you live in it. Accessories—that just-right lamp, the little table and, of course, the pictures on the walls—bring life to the big furnishings in the room. So do "little" objects that reveal the personalities of the people who live among them. The little things that turn a room into a success, aren't always tangible objects. The way the plants are arranged, the pictures hung, the braid trim used, etc., in the weeks and months to follow, we hope to make you aware of all the little subtleties that will enhance your home. Little subtleties are the "you" in your home. We welcome you to our column and hope that we will be able to help you turn your home into the castle of your dreams. Our experienced sales people will help you prevent those expensive decorating mistakes that are so easy to make without the right advice. Come in to FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard St., Brookline (568-8635) today for complete decorating service. Daily: 7-5:30, Wed. - open until 9:30.

MRS. ALDEN EAMES

Pretty Spring Bridal For Miss Mahoney - Mr. Eames

The Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, was the recent setting for the marriage of Miss Carmela Hillier Mahoney to Alken Eames.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dennis Mahoney Sr., of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter Eames of Reading are the groom's parents.

The Rev. Colombo Sullivan, S.J., officiated at the nuptials ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of ivory peau de soie designed with scalloped Alencon lace and seed pearls appliqued on the bodice, sleeves and hem. Her skirt was enhanced with a chapel length train.

A Dior peau bow was fastened with her tiered elbow length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of valley lilies with orchids.

Mrs. James Andrew Wescher of New York City was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown made of turquoise ottoman cotton and her flowers were yellow miniature carnations, white roses and ivy.

The best man was Carlyle Leicester Pearson. Ushering were John Dennis Mahoney Jr., of Cohasset, Rodman Heubach of Independence, Mo., and Robert Moffatt of Worcester.

The Eames, who left on a trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, plan to live in Franklin. (Photo by Picturesque studio)

3 Newton Women Serve With Nat'l Music Fraternity

Three Newton women are members of the Boston Alumna chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Professional Music Fraternity for Women, which recently presented a check for $150 to the Friends of the Cambridge Day Center, 650 Concord avenue, Cambridge, Mass. to apply to the purchase of a new stereophonic record player. A member of the S.A.I. alumna chapter conducts weekly sing-alongs at the Center.

Assisting the Boston Alumna chapter are Mrs. William Becknell of 79 Arlington street; Mrs. George Maranis of 192 Kirkstall road, and Mrs. David H. Reinke of 22 Fuller Hall, all of Newton.

The S.A.I. National Music Fraternity is composed of professional women musicians who donate time and money to the pursuit of music in America. It is the largest National Women's Music fraternity with chapters throughout the United States and Europe.

3 Newton Girls Receive Degrees At Conn. College

50th Commencement exercises at Connecticut College, New London, were held Sunday morning (June 6) at which time three girls from the Newton area received Bachelor of Arts degrees. Edwin O. Reischauer, former U.S. Ambassador to Japan, was the commencement speaker.

Naomi Lee Corman, A.B., Zoology, daughter of Mrs. Morris Corman of 11 Andrew St., Newton, participated in the junior and senior year honors program with a study on the enzyme Beta-Glucuronidase in sub-cellular particles in mice. She was a member of the Science Club, vice president of her dormitory and president of Jewish Fellowship. During the summers she worked at the Cancer Research Unit of Tufts Medical School, and, under the joint auspices of the Connecticut College zoology department and the New England Center Hospital in Boston, she worked as a research assistant for Dr. William H. Fishman. She is a graduate of Newton South High School.

Nancy Rose Finn, A.B., English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finn of 1364 Commonwealth Ave., West Newton, received the 1967 and 1968 Theodore Bodenwein Prize for English Composition in the Field of Newspaper Writing. She was co-editor of Conn Census, the weekly student newspaper, and a member of the Student Government Cabinet, the Campus Life Committee and the 1968 Graduation Committee. She is a graduate of the Girls' Latin School in Boston.

Linda Jane Danneberg, A.B., Italian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Danneberg of 478 Quinobeguin Road, Waban, was treasurer and president of the Italian Club and chairman of the People-to-People Club and the Student Travel Bureau. A graduate of Newton South High School, she also completed an independent study project this year on the works of Cesare Pavese.

Harvard Course For Newton VP

Vice-President of Dunkin' Donuts of America, Inc. David P. Segal of Newton, was graduated this month from the Harvard University Business Schools Program for Management Development.

Segal, who lives with his family in Newton, is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and has a master's degree from Columbia business school.

Participating with him in the 16-week course were 75 business executives, government and military leaders representing 22 states and 11 countries. The program was operationally oriented, designed to equip middle managers to handle day-to-day assignments with a broader perspective and to prepare them to assume increasing responsibility in the years ahead.

Lay Institute For Jewish Men's Clubs June 23-23

Layman's Institute, Chairman of Temple Emanuel, Newton, Henry Scheier, announces the New England Region, National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs' 22nd Annual Laymen's Institute (Kallah) is set for Thursday (June 20) to Sunday (June 23). To be held at Camp Tel Noar, Hampstead, N. H., seven miles north of Haverhill, the Institute is an experience in Jewish living. It will feature a three day weekend "Happening" of Torah, discussion, fellowship, entertainment and recreation.

This year marks the return to the faculty of the Kallah two world renowned scholars, Dr. Gerson D. Cohen, who holds professorships at Columbia University and at the Jewish Theological Seminary, and Dr. Abraham S. Halkin, Professor of Hebrew at the City University of New York and Professor of Jewish Literature and Institutions at the Seminary.

Dr. Cohen will lecture and lead seminars on "Protest and Dissent in Jewish History," and will again give his special Friday night no-holds-barred address, followed by a no-curfew question and answer session.

Dr. Halkin will lecture and hold discussions on the subject of "Deuteronomy," and he, too, will set aside one session for his special treatment of an area of vital Jewish concern, the scope of which will be revealed at the Institute.

The keynote speaker Thursday evening to launch the Institute will be Rabbi Samuel Kenner, Executive Director of the New England Region, United Synagogues of America.

The National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs consists of men's clubs and brotherhoods affiliated with Conservative congregations, but all men of the entire Jewish community of New England, affiliated and unaffiliated, are invited to attend and to participate in the Institute.

Curriculum chairman is Joseph H. Rosenshine, and chairman is M. Arthur Gordon. Members of the Institute committee include Leo Karas, co-chairman as well as President of the New England Region, Jack Sieve, Bernard Steinberg, Elihu H. Bell, Joseph Don Gusenoff, Sol White, Richard Berman, Stanley L. Saperstein, Melvin Sattler, George Laskoff, I. Morris Roseman, Mel Steinberg and David Kanter.

Reservations and requests for further information should be sent to Henry Scheier, 17 Jane road Newton, Mass., 02159, phone 332-5417.

To Museum Committee

Mrs. George Mason of Waban has been elected to the Museum of Fine Arts' ladies committee at its annual meeting recently. She is one of 70 women who donate thousands of hours annually as volunteers.

Mrs. Mason is active in the Florence Crittenton League and the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Oak Hill PTA Fair Set For Sunday, June 9

The annual School Fair by the Oak Hill PTA will be held on Sunday (June 9) from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school playground, Wheeler road, Newton Centre.

All children are urged to bring their parents and the whole family to this family fun day, to have dinner at the fair and give mother a day off from cooking. There will be booths, games, prizes, refreshments, cotton candy and all kinds of surprises.

The fair is sponsored by the Oak Hill School PTA, and games and prizes will be supplied by Fund Ways. Mr. Daniel Goldenberg, PTA president, has been working hard to assure a successful day. In case of rain, the fair will be held in the Oak Hill School gym.

Babson Appoints Genovese As Dean

Mrs. Leah Giardino of West Newton, is assistant to Dr. Frank C. Genovese who has been named to the new office of Dean of Continuing Education and Director of Research at Babson Institute.

Dr. Genovese has been serving as Associate Dean of the Graduate School. In his new position he will have the responsibility for developing programs both on and off the campus and to further expand the service which Babson provides to industry and commerce. He will also seek support for research from business, government and foundations.

RABBI ROTHMAN

Life Tenure Awarded To Newton Rabbi

At the recent Annual Meeting of Temple Shalom of Newton, the congregation, by an overwhelming vote, asked its spiritual leader, Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, to accept life tenure.

Under Rabbi Rothman's leadership, Temple Shalom has grown from a small suburban temple to an important entity in the life of the community and of Reform Judaism.

In 1949 Rabbi Rothman was called to serve with Dr. Solomon Frechhof at the Rodef Shalom Temple, one of the oldest and largest Liberal Jewish congregations in the United States.

In 1953 he completed two years of military service. He was a Navy Chaplain attached to the First Marine Division in Korea and was cited and decorated with the Navy Combat V by its Commanding General for "... expressing complete disregard for his personal safety ... and service in keeping with the highest traditions of the U.S. Naval Service." Since his discharge from the Marines, Rabbi Rothman has occupied the pulpit at Temple Shalom.

Rabbi Rothman, a past National Chaplain of the Jewish War Veterans, is presently President of the Massachusetts Board of Rabbis and a member of the Board of Jewish Community Council.

He is on the Advisory Board of the Community Relations Commission of the City of Newton, and the Administrative Committee of the Associated Synagogues of Mass.

In addition, he is a member of the Newton Fair Housing Committee, the National Committee of Alumni Overseers of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, the Executive Board of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, as well as a member of the Church-State Committee, Commission on Interfaith Activities, and an Area Board Member of the Mental Retardation Services Advisory Committee of the Community Mental Health and Retardation Area Board of Newton, Wellesley and Weston.

In accepting the honor which the congregation conferred upon him, Rabbi Rothman made reference to the Biblical Rabbi Moses, who, whenever he went forth to battle for his people and his faith, looked to his congregation to "uphold his hands." "When you uphold my hands," said Rabbi Rothman, "we can, together, help actualize the prophetic dream of peace for ourselves and for all mankind."

Rabbi Rothman, his wife Charlotte and their two daughters, Jo Amy and Lily Ann, reside in Newton Highlands.

Catherine Ann Horowitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Horowitz of 64 Clifton road, Newton, received her degree at Chatham College at graduation exercises Sunday (May 26) at Carnegie Music Hall in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Herb Abramson's Silver Lake Dodge scores another first!

FIRST NEW ENGLAND DEALERSHIP OF ANY MAKE EVER TO WIN THE BRAND NAMES RETAILER OF THE YEAR AWARD.

The award carries with it some other new firsts for Herb Abramson's Newton, Mass., Dodge dealership:

- FIRST Chrysler Corporation dealership in the country to win the coveted Brand Names first place award.
- FIRST New England dealership of any make ever to win the Grand National Benjamin Franklin Quality Dealer Award, presented by the Saturday Evening Post.
- FIRST New England dealership of any make in the U.S. ever to win both the Brand Names award and the heralded Grand National Benjamin Franklin Quality Dealer Award.

To win the Brand Names plaque, SILVER LAKE DODGE was chosen out of the 35,900 automobile dealers across the country and 259 finalists in the Automotive Dealers category. The plaque was presented to Herb in April and acknowledges SILVER LAKE DODGE'S outstanding brand name retail merchandising.

The Newton dealership's success is pointed out by its sales figures: since opening in 1960, sales volume has increased 6000%.

SILVER LAKE DODGE, we at the Chrysler Corporation are proud to be associated with you and we salute you.

3 GREAT STORES TO SERVE YOU

Losing Effort — Newton South second sacker Larry Kaplan tagged the base and threw to first, as the runner slid into second, for a successful double play in a game with Waltham. Unfortunately, South lost, 2-1. South got off to a fine start on the season but wound up with a 10-8 slate. Several members of the team will graduate but there are an equal number of good sophomores coming up. (Photo by Roger Belson)

Lacrosse Action—Jeff Newman of the Lions lacrosse team passes the ball up field as two Thompson Academy foes converge on him. South lost the game by the score of 5-2. Jim Spinks and Bill Rounselle, both seniors, scored South's only goals. Newman played football in the fall and basketball in the winter. The lacrosse team had a record of 3-5, not bad considering it was the first year South had a lacrosse team. (Photo by Roger Belson)

'Red Sox' Beat 'West Pirates' In Series Final

The Newton Central Little League Red Sox beat the Newton West Pirates 5 to 1 in the final of the Newton Little League City Series played Friday (May 31) at the Albemarle playground.

'Brad' Schiff pitched the team to its win, allowing five hits in five scoreless innings. Steve Gordon pitched the sixth and final inning retiring the side after a run had been scored. Paul Winnick in a three run homer in the first inning provided the Sox with a lead and they were never headed.

Newton Track Star To ICAA Competition

Co-captain Bob Aisner, of the Colby College track team and son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Aisner, Jr., of 1471 Beacon street, Waban, competed in the ICAA meet in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday (May 31 - June 1), along with five members of the Colby College state championship team.

Aisner, whose identical mark of 6-8 in indoor and outdoor high jumps are both Colby and State of Maine records, recently received the college's Mike Ryan Award as the team's outstanding field event competitor.

For his performance in the state meet which Colby won earlier this month, the lanky athlete topped the Frederick D. Tootell Memorial Trophy for excellence in field events for the second year in a row.

A senior this year, Aisner majored in economics.

Newtonite Wins Varsity Letter

Steven E. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Ward of 1446 Beacon street, Waban was awarded his first varsity letter in crew by Amherst College. Ward, a sophomore from Waban, rowed at the number five position in the JV boat.

"We had a successful trip to Florida, but competition for much of the regular season was over our heads," said Coach Henry Dunbar. "The JV, however, proved that they could hold with almost any boat in the post-season Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia."

Ward, a 1966 graduate of Newton South High School, was a member of the National Honor Society there and won six varsity letters. At Amherst, he won his numerals in football and crew as a freshman and is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Newton High Tennis Team Advances In Tournament

Newton High's tennis team has overwhelmed three opponents this past week to advance into the semi-finals of the EMass State Tournament and a shutdown with number one seed Newton South.

The two local teams were to have met last Monday at Weston High to determine who would play the winner of Winchester and St. John's in the final. South has beaten Newton twice earlier this season by 5-0 and 4-1 margins.

Newton's first tournament match was a week ago Tuesday against Archbishop Williams, the second place finisher in the Catholic League with a 9-3 record. The Tigers were victorious 5-0.

John Brman and Tom Graves, the first and third singles, won easily by scores of 6-0, 6-3, 6-3. Second singles player Leon Geller had a little more difficulty, but also prevailed, 6-4, 9-7.

The doubles teams of Paul Blazar and Capt. Don Bertsch, and Neil Cohen and Mark Brass also won in two sets; Bertsch and Blazar by 6-3, 6-4, and Cohen and Brass by 6-0, 6-2 scores.

Belmont the following Friday was a bit more trouble as Berman was matched against the number one singles player in Eastern Mass., Gil Fumald. Berman eventually lost 6-4, 6-4, but all the other members of the team were victorious, and Newton won the match 4-1.

After Berman had been defeated and Graves and Bertsch and Blazar had won, Geller clinched the win with a 10-8 second set triumph.

Belmont had been undefeated this year with a 10-0 record, including a 3-2 win over number two seed Winchester.

Newton's quarter-final round opponent was a Wellesley, which had upset fourth seeded Scituate the day before. Although the Tigers won 5-0, the match was close, with three individual matches going into three sets. A third set 6-4 victory by Cohen and Brass ensured victory after the first doubles and third singles had won.

Prior to the State Tournament, Newton had finished its regular season against Lexington on May 27. The Tigers squeaked by 3-2 as Graves won a third set 6-2 with the match at 2-1.

Other victors were Berman in first singles and Bertsch and Blazar are 12-2 in competition this year.

The golf team clinched its first North Suburban League championship with a 8½-½ decision over defending champion Brookline on May 27.

This avenged a loss on the last day of last season which gave the Welthy Towners the crown.

Pointgetters for Newton were Capt. Ralph Murphy and Dudley Cotton, and Paul Murphy and Robert Barry with three points apiece and Brian Quigley and Donny Gallagher with the remaining two and a half.

Quigley shot an excellent round of 71 on Brae Burn Country Club's par 66 course. Newton was to have met Waltham last Monday for the entire Suburban League championship. Newton has already defeated the Hawks twice this season; 9-0 and 5-4.

The lacrosse team finished its season with two successive wins which just about assured them of at least a tie for first place in Class C in New England. It finished with an overall 9-4-1 record.

Co-Capt. Bruce Baltimore scored four goals in his final Newton High game to lead the Tigers to a 10-3 victory over Milton Academy on May 29. The day before, Newton had beaten Framingham South 6-3.

Dean Foster finished as the team's high scorer with 17 goals and 18 assists. Co-Capt. Joe Picciarello, demonstrating tremendous hustle and long shooting ability, had 12 goals, while Bob Snyder had 10. With the exception of five players, the entire team is returning next year.

The track team finished another fantastic season with only five points at the all-class State Meet last Saturday at White Stadium. The points were garnered by a fourth place by Chris Quinn in the high hurdles and a third by the relay team.

The baseball team finished its year with a respectable 10-8 record and a five way tie for third place in the Suburban League.

Coach Ferguson's charges ended the season with a 5-4 win over arch-rival Brookline on May 27. Tom Chalmers delivered what turned out to be the game-winning run in the fourth inning.

The Newtonite sports staff has announced its top ten Tiger athletes of 1967-68 as being Robby Cohen, Ned Epstein, Chris Quinn, Bob Tennant, Ronnie Arcese, Bob Houghteling, Donny Gallagher, Jeff Hyman, Joe Picciarello and Bob Sweeney (in no particular order).

Six of the above were members in some capacity of this year's undefeated outdoor track team while four played football, two lacrosse, three cross country, one soccer, one baseball and one golf.

Newton South Tennis Team In Tourney

Newton South advanced steadily towards its goal of winning the Eastern Massachusetts Team Tennis Tourney for the second consecutive year. The Lions made short work of all three of their foes to date.

South drew a first round bye, but came back in the second round to destroy Salem High, 5-0. Bucky Adams, Gary Mescon, Andy Cornblatt, Bruce Cornblatt and Noah Bronson, and Bill and Alan Starr all erased their opponents quickly.

The Lions then pulverized Framingham South, 5-0, in the third round. Adams was the only competitor who had any difficulty, winning, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. The other Newton South netmen were all victorious in two sets.

In the quarterfinal round Newton toppled Lincoln-Sudbury, 4-1.

With only four teams left the final will be very interesting. Last year, Newton South defeated Newton High in an all city final, 4-1. At present, both the Lions and Tigers, St. John's Prep, and Winchester remain. An all Newton final, however, is impossible this year. The two schools are in the same half of the draw. The Lions would like to down their cross-town rivals in the semis and move on to beat Winchester, the team that spoiled South's unblemished slate.

Lion Athletes Get Letters At Sports Banquet

Newton South's annual sports banquet was held May 27. Boys from all the spring sports teams were presented with their varsity or junior varsity letters.

Director of Athletics George Winkler acted as master of ceremonies. Featured speaker was John Connelly, coach of the Northeastern University baseball team, and a graduate of Newton High. Each coach said a few words about his team and its season.

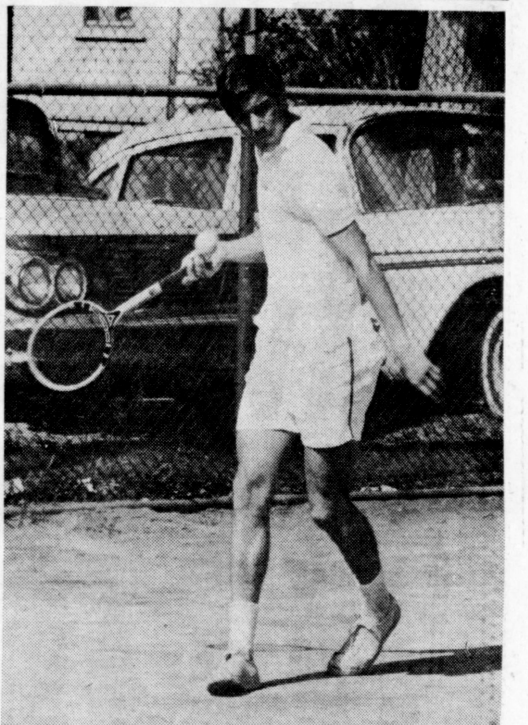

The surprise of the evening was provided by baseball coach Paul Linscott, who announced his retirement. Linscott's record was 47-43-1. Team representative Dave Rounselle presented gifts to Linscott and assistant coaches Joe Nathanson and Norman MacConnell. Nathanson also will step down this year.

South Lacrosse Team's Season Record Is 3-5

Captain Bill Rounselle led the way as Newton South chalked up its most impressive lacrosse victory to date, a 5-0 drubbing of Medford, in the season's finale. Rounselle tallied two of the five markers. Jim Spinks, Lou Wolfson, and Frank Vespa each chipped in with a goal.

The game was a rough one, but the Lion yearlings proved they could mix it when necessary. A total of 35 penalties were called as Medford was tagged with 23 of them.

The squad finished with a 3-5 mark, excellent for a first-year club. Coach Mike Schaffer looks forward to a better season next year with most of his team returning.

No 2 Singles Player—Leon Geller, the No. 2 singles player on the Newton high school tennis team, strokes a forehand shot during a match in the semi-finals of the EMass State Tournament. The team was scheduled for a showdown match with Newton South last Monday. South is top seeded in the tournament. South Track Team Ends Season In Fifth Place

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

Captain Stan Dolberg tallied 11½ points, but Brookline High still managed an 80-51 triumph over the Newton South trackmen in the last meet of the Suburban League season May 27. The Lions ended with a 1-4 mark for fifth place in the six-team league. The Indians were 2-3, a notch higher in the standings.

Dolberg ripped through the 440 in 53.4, outdistancing his opponents by over ten yards. He also copped the shotput with a heave of 41 feet 7 inches, and returned to the track to anchor the winning 880-yard relay team.

Dave Finch won his first race of the year with a 19.2 clocking in the 120-yard high hurdles. Robin Hirsch's 24.5 220 was strong enough for first place. Bob Hahn captured the discus with a toss of 118 feet for the final Lion win.

Seconds were taken by John Stahl, 120 highs; Paul Hackmeyer, shot; Tim Crim, broad jump; Justus Weiner, javelin; and Bruce Kopelman, 100-yard dash. Kopelman's race was disputed as it appeared to many observers that he broke the string. However, the official ruling went in favor of Brookline. Steve Finer grabbed third in the 180 lows, as did Rich Aron, 220; Tim Crim, 100; Steve Porter, 440; Ron Schriener, 880; and Stu Chasen, high jump.

The victorious relay team consisted of Crim, Hirsch, and Kopelman in addition to Dolberg.

After the meet the team voted for next year's captain. Coach Richard Geist announced the result at the sports banquet in the evening.

Captain elect is Bruce Kopelman. Kopelman is primarily a sprinter who ran the 100-yard dash and started the relay this outdoor season. He is also an occasional broad jumper. "Kopie" will co-captain the 1968 Cross-Country team.

Fireman Restuccia With Amphibious Forces

Fireman John Restuccia, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Restuccia of 56 Hawthorne street, Newton, is serving with Assault Craft Unit Two at Little Creek, Va. As a member of the unit he helps transport Marines and equipment ashore during amphibious operations. His unit is one of 87 commands in the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force.

Team's Top Scorer—Dean Foster, of Newton High School, scores during the soccer game between the Tigers and Framingham South last week which Newton won 6-3. Foster ended the season as the team's high scorer, with 17 goals and 18 assists. Co-Capt. Joe Picciarello had 12 goals and Bob Snyder had 10 during the short season. With the exception of five players, the entire soccer team is returning next year. (Photo by Joel Farber)

He said that the community spirit and the initial enthusiasms for "personal and institutional renewal" generated by the second Vatican Council "now seem in danger of changing to confusion and divisive tensions.

"All of the issues — doctrinal, moral, liturgical — which are currently shaking the Church and threatening her unity are intimately related and reducible to the fundamental question of authority within the Church."

"What think you of your bishop?" Father Sullivan asked the new graduates. "On your answer and how deeply it becomes enfleshed in your life depends the future effectiveness of your personal witness to Christ in the new life that lies before you," he said.

"If our minds and hearts are closed to the teaching and pastoral ministry of our bishops, then Christian renewal and transformation of the world are an illusion because discord, division and disunion will be the rule of our lives."

Newton College's president, Sister Gabrielle Husson, R.S.C.J., presided at the outdoor ceremony, and conferred bachelor of arts degrees on 183 graduates and bachelor of science degrees on seven more.

Prior to the Commencement, a Baccalaureate Mass was concelebrated in the College Chapel by Rev. Thomas P. O'Malley, S.J., Chairman of the Department of Classical Languages at Boston College's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; Rev. Joseph T. Nolan, liturgy columnist of the National Catholic Reporter, and Father Sullivan.

Newton's class of 1968 represented 17 states, Cuba, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Panama, the Philippines, and Scotland.

Honor graduates were: Maria M. Alvarez, magna cum laude, English; Joanne T. Dempsey, cum laude, English; Maureen E. Cawley, cum laude, history; Mary C. Hardy, cum laude, mathematics; Sandra J. Mosta, cum laude, history; Sister Mary Assumpta Marshall, F.M.M., cum laude, English; Margaret G. Smith, cum laude, psychology; Sandra A. Van Schoyck, cum laude, economics; Susan F. Lee, cum laude, psychology; Mary F. DePetua, cum laude, history; Leslie E. Talcott, cum laude, psychology; Maureen E. Murphy, cum laude, psychology; Sally D. Perreault, cum laude, biology;

Catharine M. Murray, cum laude, economics; Catherine M. O'Connor, cum laude, psychology; Carolyn A. Liebert, cum laude, psychology; Elizabeth A. Dolan, cum laude, philosophy; Donna E. Deeley, cum laude, mathematics; Dale Clement Heroux, cum laude, modern language; Carolyn M. Brady, cum laude, philosophy; Margaret E. Gaynor, cum laude, mathematics.

Four Newton girls were among degree recipients at the ceremonies on Sunday.

Miss Sheila McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McIntyre, 3 Nottingham st., received the bachelor of arts degree.

During her years at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, she was active in V.S.O., the yearbook staff, and varsity football. Miss McIntyre, who wrote her senior thesis on "The Role of Egon Heath in the Return of the Native" is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Newton.

Miss Rosemary Ford, daughter of Mrs. Raymond Ford, 181 Cabot st., also received the bachelor of arts degree.

At college, she was active in the Student Government, yearbook staff, Senior Day Student representative; social committee, Young Democrats, and the Psychology Club. She is a graduate of Newton High School.

Miss Andrea Marie Quigley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Quigley, 150 Church st., a bachelor of arts recipient, was active in V.S.O., the Guild for the Blind, Young Republicans, and Newton Mental Health Association. She is a graduate of the Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in Newton.

DONATES CHECK—Mrs. Domenic J. Saraceno of Newton presents a check for $10,000 to William S. Brines, director of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, as proceeds of the recent gala Valentine Ball sponsored by the hospital's Junior Aid Association. Mrs. Saraceno was chairman of the event. Proceeds help finance program of expansion and modernization now underway at the hospital.

Mrs. Gerard Fagan, 36 Kimball terrace, received a bachelor of arts degree.

During her college years, Miss Fagan was active in the Glee Club, V.S.O., Student Government, Young Democrats, varsity football, cheerleaders, and the Psychology Club.

She wrote her senior thesis on "A Study of Kohlberg's Levels of Moral Development in Children as Influenced by Racial and Socioeconomic Backgrounds." Miss Fagan is a graduate of Our Lady's High School, Newton.

N.H. College Graduate

Graduate of New Hampshire College, Manchester, N.H., this June will be Vincent Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hughes of 1335 Centre street, Newton. He is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Newton Centre, and attended Chamberlayne Junior College prior to attending New Hampshire College.

A candidate for bachelor of business degree, he has accepted a position with the Regional Administrators of National Banks, Boston. He was Senior Class President, resident dormitory counselor, board of governors of Sigma Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Newman Club member and member of the student senate. He was chosen as "student of the month" by the college newspaper.

ing with youngsters is one of the most rewarding experiences I have ever enjoyed."

The Fairway Day Camp begins its 9 week season on June 24th. In addition to basketball, expert instruction is offered in swimming, bowling, golf, baseball and arts and crafts. Boys and girls from 5 to 14 years of age are eligible to attend.

Sellew said that many enrollments are already in and that many good weeks still remain to be filled.

Complete information on enrollment and programs may be had by contacting Mr. Sellew at the Airway Sports World on Route 9 Natick.

TOGO PALAZZI

Palazzi Named Head Coach At Fairway Camp

Togo Palazzi, All-American and former Boston Celtic will head the basketball staff at the Fairway Day Camp on Route 9 in Natick.

George Sellew, head camp director, in making the announcement said, "Because of the tremendous interest shown by local youth in basketball, we have made this important addition to our staff."

Palazzi is certainly highly qualified. His career at Holy Cross is legend.

He played three years with the Celtics, later joined the Syracuse Nats in the NBA, where he still holds the record for more points in a quarter (23).

He has coached at both college and professional levels with Babson Institute and Scranton of the Eastern League.

Togo recently accepted the position to coach at St. Mary's High School in Worcester.

"I am looking forward to the summer at the Fairway Day Camp," he said. "Work-

Receive Degrees At Mt. St. Mary

Elizabeth Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kirk of 232 Franklin street, Newton, and Barbara Hosmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Hosmer of 18 Timson Path, Newton Centre, received their bachelor of arts degrees at commencement exercises on the campus of Mount Saint Mary College, Hooksett, N.H., Saturday (June 1).

Miss Kirk has been a member of the Glee Club for four years, serving as a librarian during her freshman year; the S.N.E.A.; and was a reading tutor in Hooksett during her junior year.

Miss Hosmer, who also attended Garland Junior College, was a home economics major at Mt. St. Mary. She served as president of the Home Economics Club on campus and was recording secretary for the College Chapter of the New Hampshire Home Economics Association. She will enter the Dietetic Internship Program at the Massachusetts General Hospital in September.

Waban Boys Are Bridgton Grads

Warren P. Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Mead of 56 Pine Ridge road, Waban, and Michael A. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Cooper of 45 Plainfield street, Waban, are members of the graduating class of Bridgton Academy, North Bridgton, Maine.

Mead has been editor in chief of the Yearbook, member of the Photography club, skiing, golf and Gold Key clubs. He will attend Rochester Institute of Technology this fall.

Cooper was Outing Club president, Photo-editor of the yearbook, and member of Skiing, Tennis and Photography Clubs. He will attend George Washington University this fall.

Honor Graduate At Lafayette C.

Among the 116 seniors who graduated with honors and prizes from Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., is Robert S. Bullock of 33 Risley road, West Newton, who received his bachelor's degree during the 133rd commencement program on Friday (May 31).

While at Lafayette, Bullock received honors in government and law; the Governor Robert B. Meyner Prize for outstanding work in government and law; The Eugene P. Chase Government Prize and second in the Barge Oratorical Prize.

Duke U. Graduate

Haring Jetse Walles Nauta, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. H. Nauta of 196 Kent Road, Newton, was among the more than 1,500 candidates for degrees at the 116th Commencement exercises at Duke University, Durham, N.C., on Monday morning (June 3). Nauta received the bachelor of science degree.

Four students from the Newton area received baccalaureate degrees at the Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, R.I., during the 85th Commencement Exercises held on Friday (May 31).

Receiving bachelor of architecture degrees were Carlos Caminos II of 83 Fairmont avenue, and Philip C. Gowen of 137 Wood End road, both of Newton. Gowen was a participant in the European Honors Program.

Sharon Lee Ryder of 293 Albermarle road, Newton, was awarded the bachelor of fine arts degree in interior architecture.

J. Peter Sollogub of 331 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, also a European Honors Program participant, received a bachelor of fine arts in interior architecture degree.

Morgan Memorial Auxiliary Elects Newton Officers

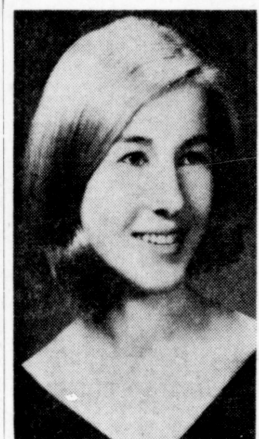

Three Newton area women were among the officers elected at the recent 69th annual luncheon program of the Woman's Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial held in the Goodwill Industries auditorium, 96 Berkeley street, Boston.

Mrs. Russell S. Broad, of Newton Highlands, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Frank H. Cousins, West Newton, and Mrs. Russell S. Broad, of Newton Highlands, were elected to the Board of Directors.

In addition to election of officers, the Auxiliary conducted its annual Charity Sale featuring home-made candies, pastries and crafts, and presented a projector and tape recorder to the Public Relations Department as one of its many service projects.

One of the Auxiliary's prime projects is providing "camperships" for some of the 400 State's disadvantaged children who will go to the Morgan Memorial Fresh Air Camp in South Athol this summer.

The Auxiliary has 800 members in the Bay State.

Musical Honors Mrs. Clarke At PTA Event Tues.

The final general meeting of the year for the Oak Hill PTA was held at the Meadowbrook Junior High School auditorium on Tuesday (May 28). Special feature of this meeting was a musical extravaganza entitled "Up, Up And Away" presented by most of the school children in grades 1 to 6, which was dedicated to Mrs. Edythe T. Clarke, who is retiring this year as principal of the Oak Hill School.

Although the entire staff of the Oak Hill School worked unceasingly in this production, special acknowledgment is expressed to Miss Mary Baker, Miss Thea Hosking, and Miss Jane Thompson. The program, a musical tour of the world, included:

We're Off — Ensemble and Grade One.

Top O' The Morn — Grade Two.

On To Scandinavia — Grade Three.

Shalom — Grade Four.

A Slavic Welcome — Grade Six.

Ole — Grade Five.

Home Again — Grade Four and Ensemble.

Preceding the program, the new PTA officers for 1968-69 were elected: President, Mrs. Theodore Madfis; 1st Vice-President, Dr. Milton Green; 2nd Vice-President, Principal, Oak Hill School; Treasurer, Mr. Leon Wisel; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Richard Chaffoff; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Coleman Bornstein; Oak Hill Representative, Miss Jean B. Ford.

David H. Locke Is Seeking Seat In State Senate

State Representative David H. Locke of Wellesley has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator in the Norfolk-Middlesex District comprising Wellesley, Needham, Dedham, Weston and Wards 2, 3, 4, 5, and 8 in the City of Newton.

"This district has been for many years ably represented by Senator Leslie B. Cutler, who recently announced that she would not seek re-election," said Representative Locke, in making his plans to seek the office. "In response to the many offers of support and encouragement which I have received since Senator Cutler's statement, I have determined that I should stand for election to fill the vacancy in this high office."

"It has long been my belief that effective public service required training and experience and my service in government at both the local and state level provides, in my judgement, the background required of a Massachusetts Senator.

"While public service is demanding upon those who hold public service, as well as their families, our system of government demands that we each contribute to the continuation of the democratic process.

"The many challenges facing our society today demands that we send to the Legislature the most qualified candidates available who will fight for efficiency and economy in government."

Representative Locke entered the service with the U.S. Marine Corps after graduating from the public schools of Wellesley. Following his military service he entered Harvard where he was awarded an A.B. degree with the class of 1951. He obtained his LL.B. degree from Harvard Law School in 1954 and has been associated in the practice of law in Wellesley with the firm of Jameson, Locke & Fullerton.

Applicants must be 17 to 22, unmarried, U.S. citizens and of good moral character. He should be in the upper fourth of his class in school. There is a five year service obligation after graduation from the Academy.

A letter should be written to the applicant's Congressman or Senator. Major Gluck will furnish individual help and will provide a format for applicants.

Camp Massasoit Openings Are Still Available

Newton Y.M.C.A. Camp Massasoit has several openings in all the camping periods according to Joseph A. White, Camp Director. Period I begins July 1 through July 12; Period II runs from July 15 to July 26; Period III from July 29 through August 9 and the last period from August 12 through August 23.

Camp Massasoit is located at the Newton Y.M.C.A., where it makes use of six acres of property, including archery ranges, tennis courts, baseball and softball fields, and one-half acre of wooded area. Also, the youngsters are taught to swim in a twenty by sixty foot heated, swimming pool within the "Y". Youngsters taught beginner through advanced level swimming by competent and qualified staff.

Other features of the Camping program include nature, arts and crafts, drama club, special trips and events, movies; and one sleep-out per camping period is also featured. Tentative trips have been scheduled to Sturbridge Village, Fenway Park, Franklin Zoo, Capron Park, and possibly Mystic Seaport in Mystic, Connecticut; also, possibly, Nantasket Beach.

All campers are required to bring their lunch to camp, while the Y.M.C.A. provides milk. Each camper is fully covered by camp insurance and will be under the direction of a fully trained counselor.

Boys and girls are eligible from ages eight through fourteen. A youngster who is now seven and who will be attending the third grade in the fall may also enroll. Parents are responsible for getting their youngsters to the camp at 9 a.m. and picking them up at 3:30 p.m. A reasonable tuition fee is charged per camp period. For further information call the Newton Y.M.C.A. at 244-6050.

Girl Scouts In Drive For City Beautification

Newton Girl Scouts of Bay Path Colonial Girl Scout Council are again actively assisting the Garden Clubs in beautifying the City.

Mrs. Bernard Cole's Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 492, Mason Rice School, planted flowers at Newton Centre Square in the horse trough.

This was under the sponsorship of the Newton Centre Garden Club, represented by Mrs. Harold R. Keller.

The girls participating were: Joyce Cole, Cathy Felton, Vivian Gelhar, Lynn Gochberg, Julie Levitan, Susan Myers and Annette Yuan.

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard Winslow of West Newton, the Cadette Girl Scouts have renewed their weeding project to restore the Tribute Foundation planting along Commonwealth avenue.

Sarah Kendall and Christina Ulrick of Troop 596, Warren and Day Junior High Schools, along with their Assistant Leaders, Mrs. Ralph Alsmeyer, worked on the plot opposite the fire station. Other troops are expected to join in the effort to keep the areas attractive.

Local Girls Are Garland Grads

Two Newton area girls are among the 161 seniors to receive the Associate in Science degree at Garland Junior College in Boston at the school's 95th commencement exercises on Tuesday (June 4).

Janet A. Leone is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Leone of 40 Oak street, West Newton. She majored in Child Study.

Margy R. Segal, also a Child Study major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron J. Segal of 117 Osborne Path, Newton Centre, education.

Compensation Increase Sought By Mass. DAV

J. Edward Theriault and John Bouchard both of Newton and Past State Commanders of the D.A.V. will attend the Executive Committee meeting of the Disabled American Veterans in Room 436, State House, Boston, on Saturday (June 8).

Plans will be made at this meeting to set a date to begin contacting the members of Congress by mail, telegram and personal contact asking support for H.R. 16027, a bill which would raise the compensation of totally disabled veterans by $100 a month.

"The plight of the total and unemployable veterans is serious. The DAV will use every method available, except to march on Washington to enlist the Massachusetts Delegation in Congress in the cause of justifiable increase in compensation," said State Adjutant Joseph R. Harold of Quincy. "A cost of living increase for service-connected disabled veterans is the major aim of our organization this year."

Lutheran Church Sunday Service

The Rev. Robert L. Griesse, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Newtons, will conduct the worship service at 10:30 Sunday morning. Sunday School begins at the same time, and nursery care is available for the convenience of parents attending the service. A coffee hour follows the service for fellowship and discussion.

The Lutheran Church of the Newtons will hold its second Vacation Bible School this summer for two weeks, August 19th through August 30th. Each session will meet from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. All children are welcome, not only those from our own parish, but those who have no church affiliation and might be interested in Christian education.

Lady Missionaries Are Assigned To This Area

Two new lady missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints have recently been assigned to the area. Sister Bonnie June Babel of Arlington, Va., and Sister Kaye Marie Arthur of Salt Lake City, Utah, will be acquainting people in the Newton area with the beliefs of the church.

These two missionaries are part of a world-wide missionary program of the church and are among the more than 14,000 full time missionaries throughout the world who have voluntarily left occupations and education and accepted a call to become missionaries for 1½ to 2½ years.

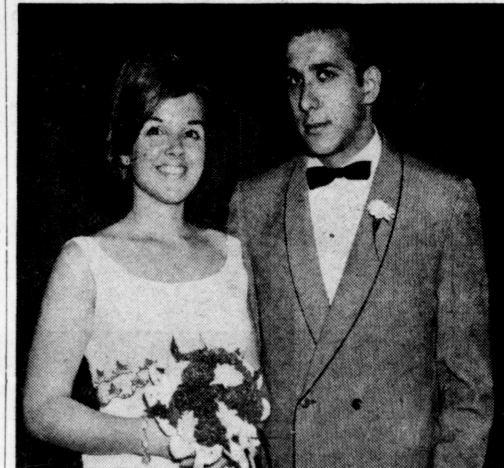

They serve at their own expense and when their service is completed, they will be released and return to their respective homes and their normal lives.

Sister Babel has been serving on her mission for nine months, and prior to her mission she was attending Brigham Young University as a senior majoring in radio-television communications.

Sister Arthur has recently arrived here and before coming to New England she was working as an ironer in Osborn Apparel Manufacturing Company in Salt Lake City.

Members of the church in this area meet at a chapel located on 4 Longfellow Park in Cambridge. Services are at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. every Sunday. Any individual, church, or social group interested in learning more about the church can call Sister Babel or Sister Arthur at 969-3266.

Barbara Selig Is Bride of Dr. Robert Lenox

At a recent 8:30 o'clock evening service in the Agudas Achim Synagogue, Leominster, Miss Barbara Susan Selig became the bride of Dr. Robert Howard Lenox.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mishael W. Selig of Leominster and the late Mr. Selig. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lenox of 46 Newtonville avenue, Newton, are the groom's parents.

Rabbi Murray Gershon officiated at the double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Social Hall in the Synagogue.

Mr. Peter M. Selig of Framingham gave his sister away. She was attired in an imported silk organza gown. The fitted bodice had a circlet neckline with re-embroidered lace appliques on English tulle marked with multi-pearls and crystal beads on her crescent waistline. Her smartly styled skirt was enhanced with a detachable chapel length train.

Silk roses and pearl loops formed the headpiece which held in place her French illusion veil. She carried her Bible topped with orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Britt of Amherst was matron of honor. The other attendants included Mrs. Peter M. Selig and Mrs. Edward L. Selig, both of Framingham and sisters-in-law of the bride, as well as the groom's sister, Miss Joanne B. Lenox of Newton.

Martin Gans of Brighton served as best man for his cousin. The ushers were Michael Kail of Merrick, N.Y., and Peter Goffin of West Babylon, N.Y., both cousins of the groom, and Edward L. Selig of Framingham, brother of the bride. After a honeymoon in Nassau, the newlyweds will live in Lexington, Kentucky.

The bride, granddaughter of the late Rabbi Harris L. Selig of Forest Hills, N.Y., was graduated from the University of Massachusetts. She is now a recreational therapist.

A graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Vermont Medical School, the groom will intern at the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Area Residents Serve BU Council

Three Newtonville women are serving on the Boston University Women's Council Planning and Advisory Committee, who have voted at their annual meeting to make a gift in excess of $500,000 to Boston University. The university's new nursing facility will be named Louisa Holman Fisk Hall in memory of Louisa Holman Fisk, founder and first president of the Women's Council in recognition of the gift.

Serving with the Council are: Emily Burdon, Mildred Hood and Marie Farrell, who is a former dean of the School of Nursing, all of Newtonville.

Jane Rabinow, of 19 Setaon Hill road, Newton, is among the 223 students who will graduate from Cazenovia College, Cazenovia, New York, at the commencement exercises to be held on Sunday, June 2.

Friday Exercises For Walnut Hill

Two Newton students are among the 68 seniors of Walnut Hill School of Natick who will be at the First Congregational Church, Natick, for the graduation exercises tomorrow (June 7). Following the program, a commencement buffet luncheon for the graduates, their parents and friends, will be served on the school's 45-acre campus.

Sue Ellen Collinson of West Newton, a sophomore at the 75 year old preparatory school for girls, will lead the class in the procession as one of the two honored marshals.

Graduating tomorrow are Lisa Funk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Funk Jr., of 11 Graydale circle, Auburndale, and Sarah Couzens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Couzens of 190 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton.

Break Ground For Another Milton's Of Quincy Store

Milton's of Quincy, renowned men's specialty store has broken ground for its newest store to be located on Route 9 in Chestnut Hill on the Brookline-Newton line.

Milton Katz, executive vice president says that the new store, the second in a planned series of expansion moves, is scheduled for a late summer 1968 opening.

The new store will encompass 13,000 square feet of selling space on 2 levels and will feature the apparel, haberdashery and footwear for which this 21 year old specialty store has been famous. Carrying the finest brand names in fashion and traditional men's wear styling, Milton's of Quincy brings its unique merchandising concept to Chestnut Hill.

Catering to the needs of fashion conscious men since 1947, Milton's of Quincy is known as the "individualist's" store. Placing special emphasis on fit and size, Nathan Katz, president of the company, pointed out that the new store will carry a comprehensive range of sizes, and merchandise will be stocked in depth to take care of all their customers.

He went on to say that Milton's of Quincy is noted for the fact that every clothing purchase made gets extra special attention from professional fitters.

The new store will be under the direction of the well-known Joe Cuddemi who has had a wide and varied experience in the men's wear industry with some of the outstanding specialty stores in New England.

Mr. Cuddemi by virtue of his experience, knowledge, and fashion and merchandising know-how is an expert in the men's wear retailing field.

Working to maintain in Chestnut Hill, the Milton's of Quincy success formula will be the professional management team consisting of Nathan and Milton Katz, president and executive vice president; James Hennessey, comptroller; Henry J. Allen, general merchandising manager; Walter "Buddy" Karberg, assistant merchandising manager and Arnold Gross, buyer.

His parents are William and Rita Cardinali, of Newton Upper Falls. They were told by the Green Berets officer who escorted the body that Cardinali, a paratrooper with a Special Forces airborne division, had been trying to save a fellow paratrooper when both drowned.

Born in Brookline, he had resided in Newton most of his life. He attended Emerson, Meadowbrook Junior High, and Newton Technical High School until he joined the Army three years ago.

He was first with the 101st Airborne Division, later being transferred to Special Forces with which he served in Vietnam.

He was on a second tour of combat duty, for which he had volunteered.

In addition to his wife and parents, he leaves two brothers, Donald W., 14, and Steven L., 10; a sister, Linda, 5, and his grandparents, Mrs. Marie Anastasi and Mrs. Marina Cardinali of Newton Upper Falls.

The funeral will be from the Martin E. Conroy Funeral Home, 439 Washington St., Newton, Friday, with a Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. in Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

mony marked both graduations. But for both the graduates and those who came to see them on this red-letter day in their lives, bright faces and smiles reflected a happiness that was shared by the officials and school personnel from the processions to the recessional.

The program at Cutler House Commons got underway at 5:30 p.m. That at Dickinson Stadium started an hour later.

Many of the graduates and members of their families were on hand early. The time was spent in congratulations and hundreds of cameras recorded the scene for the future. The day preceding and the hours which followed the rites belonged to the young graduates.

They were the guests of family groups, large and small, in private home gatherings and at public dining places reserved for his or her "graduation day."

There were a few tears, too. But the tears were tears of happiness shed by youngsters coming suddenly to know their high school days were behind them and by parents who "had so long waited for this day."

Principal speaker at the Newton High School exercises was Dr. Charles E. Brown, former Newton School Superintendent and now program officer for the Ford Foundation. The invocation was given by the Rev. Harold R. Fray of the Elliot Church of Newton.

Principal Richard W. Mechem of Newton High announced the award and prize-winners and former Mayor Howard Whitmore, N.H.S., '24, in his role as president of the Newton High School Alumni Association made the senior cup presentations.

On the stage as guests were Mayor Monte G. Basbas, School Committee Chairman Richard M. Douglas and President Charles W. Dudley of Newton Junior College.

The diploma presentation was made by Assistant N.H.S. Principal Richard C. Howland and the masters of the various houses: Norman A. Gaudet, Adams House; Manson P. Hall, Barry House; Richard M. Adams, Beals House; Rachel A. Johnson, Riley House; Michael B. Gradone, Palmer House; Orrin M. Brawn, Newton House.

Top Awards Go To 4 Graduates At South High

Luigi DiFazio and Deborah Morgenthal were awarded the Senior Cups at the graduation exercises last night at Newton South High. Cynthia Carol Keesan was presented the Phi Beta Kappa Book. James P. Barber received the Horace W. Orr Award. These were among the most coveted prizes awarded at the graduation rites.

James Barber will enter Harvard in September. Luigi DiFazio will continue his education at Wesleyan College. Cynthia Keesan plans to attend Radcliffe. Deborah Morgenthal will enter Lake Forest College.

Three Memorial Scholarships To Newton Boys

Three scholarships were presented at the Newton South High School graduation last night in memory of former students at the school.

The first of these is the Eric Morgenthal Memorial Award which was given to Robert W. Stearns. The second was the Steven H. Gootman Award given to Gerald Snider. Finally, the Robert C. Ferris Memorial Scholarship was presented to Barry J. Dichter.

ton Technical High director; and Helen M. Ryan, Bacon House.

The musical program at Dickinson Stadium was presented by the Newton High wind ensemble under the direction of Jerry Y. Gardner.

Robert William Tennant, president of the senior class, represented his classmates in making the senior class gift.

School Committeeman Alvin Mandell presented the diplomas to the graduating seniors at the Newton South High ceremonies.

Assisting him were Harold M. Hawkes, housemaster of Cutler House; Clifford Card, housemaster of Goodwin House; and Socrates Lagios, housemaster of Wheeler House.

A musical program was provided by the Newton South High School Chorus under the direction of David Arner.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard F. Boardman of the United Church Board of Homeland Ministries.

School Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith delivered the greetings of the Newton School Board to the new graduates.

The class gift was presented to the school by Jerome D. Levine, president of the senior class.

A summation of the Senior Week Symposium held last week was given in the form of two papers written by Harris E. Gershman and Deborah A. Rubin who were introduced by Newton South Principal William D. Geer, Jr. Mr. Geer also presented the Horace W. Orr Award given an outstanding young man in the senior class.

During the first two weeks, the swim facilities will be open from 2 to 4:45 p.m., and 6 p.m. to dusk. These weekend hours will prevail all season.

Starting Monday, June 24th, the two swim spots will be open Monday through Friday mornings from 10 to 11:45 a.m. and afternoons from 1 to 4:45 p.m. and 6 p.m. to dusk.

When Red Cross swim classes are scheduled, the morning opening hours will be advanced to 9 a.m.

Commr. Penny stated that he had hoped to be able to open the Gath Pool for public swimming at an earlier date but that this was impossible because qualified life guards are not available from college. However, the pool will be used this week for training Police Department training sessions, also the Newton Schools physical education department is making arrangements to schedule swim classes with their own personnel as instructors during the next three weeks until the school year ends.

The Public Building Department is making repairs at both swim facility bathhouses, Penny said. At the Gath Pool, a non-skid cement surface is being applied to the entire floor area of the bathhouse to alleviate the slippery condition of the original cement floor. At Crystal Lake bathhouse, the plumbing has undergone considerable repair work and the shower facilities will be operable. The bathhouse is scheduled to be painted inside and out this year.

Temple Reyim Official Is Honored For Long Service

Mayor Monte G. Basbas presented the official Key of the City of Newton to Reverend Abraham Hekler in ceremonies at City Hall this week.

In doing so, Mayor Basbas paid tribute to Rev. Hekler for his contributions to the Newton community and for his long-standing efforts in the service of Temple Reyim of Newton and the State of Israel.

In appreciation for the honors bestowed, Rev. and Mrs. Hekler have contributed to the Israeli reforestation program in behalf of Mayor Basbas. They presented him during the ceremony at Newton City Hall with a certificate attesting to the fact that several trees have been planted in Israel in his name.

Rev. and Mrs. Hekler and their three children live at Day street, in Newton, where he serves as Secton of Temple Reyim.

He has recently been honored by the Temple and Rabbi Philip Kieval for his outstanding service to the Temple, the community, and the needs of Israel. Rabbi Kieval, spiritual leader of Temple Reyim, has just been elected President of the New England Region of the Rabbinical Assembly and assumed office June 4.

Rev. Hekler has long been active in the Zionist movement and is currently serving as vice president of the New England Region of the Zionist Organization of America, as a member of the National Ex-

Rabbi-

Ohio, He spent the academic year 1964-65 in study at the Hayim Greenberg Institute in Jerusalem, Israel.

Mr. Shapiro is married to the former Eileen Lichtenberg. They have a son, David Ira. Mrs. Shapiro is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Lichtenberg, 31 West Lake Shore drive, White Meadow Lake, N.J.

Four Week'nd Breaks Net Little Loot

Four burglaries were reported in a 24-hour period in Newton during the Memorial Day holiday weekend and the thieves got little for their pains.

Rolls of pennies, office supplies and tape recorders were stolen.

A safe was opened early Saturday at the Newton Center Jenny Station, 1146 Centre St., Newton Centre. Police discovered a broken pane of glass in a front overhead door at 1:55 a.m. Police said the safe was opened by using the combination.

The owner of the station, Robert T. Timmerman, 30 Longfellow Rd., Needham, was notified and went to the scene of the break. He said four rolls of pennies were taken and it was undetermined whether other things were missing. Timmerman said the station was closed Friday at 10 p.m.

Friday night, William Sweetland, 32 Foster St., Arlington, told police his car was entered while it was parked in the Municipal Lot, rear of 1199 Centre St., Newton Corner. Missing are an eight-track stereo tape recorder and assorted tapes.

The home of Joseph B. Nathan, 566 Beacon St., Chestnut Hill, was entered Friday by opening an unlocked rear porch door and breaking a pane of glass in a bedroom window. Police said the house was ransacked, but it was undetermined what is missing.

Officials of Boston College reported Friday that the Philomathia Club, 86 Com-

Haverford Graduate

Robert E. Primack of 16 Stiles Terrace, Newton, was awarded a bachelor of arts degree from Haverford College during graduation exercises at the Pennsylvania school on Tuesday, May 28.

Primack, 23, majored in philosophy and earned varsity letters in football and baseball. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Primack and a graduate of Newton South High School.

Donald D. Kenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Kenney of 52 Central street, Auburndale, graduated from Tabor Academy this year and will attend Utica College in September. At Tabor Donald played varsity soccer, squash, and baseball. He was sports editor for the school newspaper.

Bentley Graduates

Robert J. Lally of 116 Crescent street, Auburndale, and James B. Downey of 1441 Centre street, Newton, were among the 500 Bentley College graduates who received degrees and certificates during the 49th commencement exercises on Sunday, June 2. They received bachelor of science in accounting degrees.

Livestock Status

Houston—Of the total Texas income from agriculture, about 45 percent is derived from livestock operations.

monwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill, was entered between 11 p.m. Thursday and Friday morning. Police said entering was gained by jimmying a rear door. Missing are a tape recorder, ironing board and a typewriter.

"Everyone wants a stadium, but they want it built in somebody else's back yard," one committee member remarked.

Persons residing in the vicinity of the Woodland Golf Course told the Graphic they would object to having a stadium built there.

They said tremendous traffic, congestion and commotion would be sure to develop on days when important football or baseball games were being held there.

"I'm not enthusiastic about the idea of 50,000 people attending a football game in my neighborhood," one resident of the area declared.

However, residents in other sections of Newton, especially those who are sports-minded, said they couldn't see anything wrong in building a stadium in Newton.

"I don't think we should object to it just for the sake of objecting," one Newtonite declared.

Another resident expressed the conviction that the stadium should be in Boston, not Newton.

The resolution approved by the Aldermen Monday night and presented by Alderman Edward C. Uehlein, listed these reasons for opposing the construction of a stadium on the Woodland course.

1. Erection of a stadium at this location would be totally inconsistent with Newton's comprehensive planning program.

2. The locus proposed is an close proximity to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital which is currently involved in a major expansion program.

3. The location is adjacent to a major house of worship, namely Temple Reyim.

4. The proposed legislation would impose this stadium on a prime residential neighborhood.

5. A stadium at this location would result in tremendous pressure for commercial rezoning in the immediate vicinity.

6. The construction of a sports stadium in this area would result in a big increase in both vehicular and mass transit volumes, which would place an unbearable burden on the local street system and cause a possible disruption and relocation of the transit system as well as a large and unjust increase in Newton's share of the cost of the transit system.

7. The proposed stadium would generate a need for a vast number of new city services, without just compensation.

Mayor Basbas yesterday sent the following letter to members of the Board of Aldermen, State Senators and Representatives and other concerned organizations in Newton.

"In view of the proposed legislation filed by Senator James A. Kelly, Jr., Chairman of the Joint Committee on State Administration relative to a new stadium proposal and having in mind that Sen. Kelly has publicly stated that his number one preference for a stadium site is the Woodland Golf Course, I am today calling an organizational meeting for Thursday (June 6), at 8 p.m., in the Aldermanic Chamber, Newton City Hall, of all Newton Aldermen, all State Senators and Representatives

AIDS ARMY RELIEF—Mrs. Lois Lindauer, founder and director of The Diet Workshop, is shown presenting proceeds of recent Second Annual May Celebration of the Workshop, to Lieut. Donald S. Baumrucker, representing U.S. Army Emergency Relief Fund, which assists Army servicemen, their families and dependents. Luncheon, held at Vallee's Steak House, Newton, paid tribute to 237 women who had managed a total weight loss of 5,674 pounds during the past year.

A Photography Show and "Photo Jamboree," featuring exhibitions and demonstrations of the latest advances in photographic equipment will be held Friday night and all day Saturday (June 7 and 8) at Caldor's Framingham discount department store. The Framingham Caldor is located on Route 9 next to Shopper's World.

Andrea Nunes, Miss Framingham State College, will attend the Jamboree on Friday between 6 and 9 p.m. to open the two-day celebration formally, according to Julius M. Golombik, Caldor photographic equipment buyer, who is in charge of arrangements. Miss Massachusetts, Maria-Lynn Chaffee, will attend the event from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Among the attractions at the show will be live models, wearing the latest Caldor swim suits and summer fashions, who will pose for "shutterbugs." Free color photographs who represent the area to be affected and representatives of concerned organizations and institutions which will be affected by this proposal should it be enacted. I have asked Alderman Edward C. Uehlein to act as Chairman of the Committee.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to organize the position of the city to said proposal. Although we are giving you short notice, I feel this is a matter of great emergency and urgently request that you make every effort to attend if at all possible or send a qualified representative.

The Photo Show will run from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Miss Mackowsky Is Officer With Teacher's Group

Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, the international honor society of women educators, held its initiation of new members and installation of new officers recently at a well known Framingham restaurant. Installed as treasurer of the chapter was Miss Elaine Mackowsky of 15 Caulfield Circle, Newton, a teacher of health and physical education in Watertown. She was also chairman of the initiation committee for the event.

As treasurer, Miss Mackowsky will assume responsibility for the financial transactions of the organization and will keep records of all receipts and expenditures. She was installed in this position by immediate past State President Margaret Jackson. Delta Kappa Gamma is an association founded to unite women educators of the world, to honor women educators who have given distinctive service to education, to improve the teaching conditions of women teachers, to aid women teachers pursuing graduate study and to support worthwhile educational legislation.

RECENT DEATHS

Florence Downing

A requiem Mass was celebrated in Sacred Heart Church, Newton, last Saturday for Miss Florence Downing, 93, formerly of 53 Central ave., Newtonville, who died Friday in Bellevue Hospital, Brookline, after a long illness.

A former employee of the Marine Laboratory, Woods Hole, Cape Cod, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Anna Young, of Newton Highlands, and one niece, Mrs. Virginia Ford, of Springfield.

The funeral was from the T. J. Lyons Funeral Home, 1479 Washington st., West Newton. Celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Michael F. Dooley. Dr. Leo G. Brehm was organist and soloist was Thomas Brehm.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery with committal prayers by F. Dooley.

Alexandra S. Zavelle of 314 Otis St., West Newton, will receive her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Colorado during commencement exercises Friday morning, June 7, on the Boulder campus.

12 Area Grads From U. Of Pennsylvania

The University of Pennsylvania awarded degrees to 12 students from the Newton area at ceremonies on Monday morning (May 20) in the Philadelphia Civic Center. William S. Paley, chairman of the board of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., delivered the Commencement address and received the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Robert M. Leff of 88 Crescent street, Auburndale received his Doctor of Philosophy degree (as of August, '67).

Graduating from Chestnut Hill were: Kenneth D. Narva of 60 Wachusett road, bachelor of arts; Wendy Pierrepont White of 29 Hilltop road, bachelor of arts; and Stanley J. Bernstein of 94 Hammondwood road, bachelor of laws.

From Newton the degree candidates were: Perer S. Lynch of 44 Salisbury road,

AJC Submits Plans For Action at Two Hearings

New England Region, American Jewish Congress President Laurence S. Locke of Weston presented a proposal for implementation of the Kerper Report at two hearings held this week in Newton. The Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination met at City Hall on Monday (June 3) and the Newton Community Council and Newton Community Relations Commission met jointly for a hearing on Tuesday (June 4) at Newton South High School. The plan presupposes new public commitment to extirpate and undo the effects of historic white racism.

Entitled "Toward A Suburban Caucus of Commitment," the report in outline form lists 73 sample courses of action to be taken by suburban cities and towns.

The report was prepared by a special committee of the American Jewish Congress. Among signers of the report were Richard Hackel of Brookline, Michael Lefkowitz of Boston, Daniel D. Levenson and Edward Richmond both of Newton.

The report classifies its recommendations in areas of action and levels of action. In action, seven areas are mentioned, viz: Employment, Housing, Education, Entrepreneurship, Health and Welfare, Culture, Police and Justice; levels of action, five areas: Municipal Government, Churches and Community Organizations, Business and other power centers, Individuals in their specialized roles and private citizens.

Briefly, the report makes the following recommendations: In employment — Municipal government should (1) adopt a plan of employing a specific number of outside residents, modifying existing rules and policies, and (2) scrutinize every contract to insure fair employment practices; churches and community organizations adopt "Project Equality" to use its power as purchaser or investor to require fair employment practices; Business and other power centers adopt a plan to make a self-audit of non-menial job opportunities, to seek an accounting from employers and/or parent entities to new employment policies, create a central employment opportunity bureau for direct liaison with the ghetto; individuals form a committee to negotiate a code of fair practices dealing with minimum wages, vacation allowances, patronizing use of first names and social security and as consumers to demand from every avenue an accounting of employment practices.

In the area of housing, the report recommends that municipal governments create a task force to adopt a plan for introduction of low-income residents by developing a low-income and moderate-income housing philosophy and arrangements by agreement with Boston realtors for existing relocation through rent supplement programs; community organizations create a non-profit housing corporation; business to seek a public pledge by every realtor to resist owner subterfuges in sale or rental; adoption of a policy to aid home ownership through liberalizing standards. Individuals are urged to revitalize Fair Housing Practices Committee, to pursue money-management policies that alleviate urban housing crises and request every owner of rental units to sign a public pledge in fair housing practices.

In education, the report goes on, municipal government should expand and strengthen METCO, organize adult education courses and participate officially in the new Community Council Educational Development pilot education program. Community organizations are asked to systematically review attendance patterns in educational institutions, promote greater participation in school affairs and develop a 1968 program of intensive self-education.

A proposal is made that a program of financial scholarships be adopted in the skilled professions and in business and industry, creating a skills bank of individuals to offer talents in training roles and serve as teacher-aides in educational programs, review purchase activities to encourage black suppliers to come forward, and to locate in 1968 five business opportunities for black businessmen or professionals.

It is recommended that local businessmen now operating unhappily in the ghetto be assisted in transferring or sale of their businesses and to assist community development corporations now mushrooming in poverty neighborhoods.

Several proposals are made in the area of health and welfare, including recreation programs, the METCO idea to camps, nursing homes and clubs; inventory unused skills of suburban individuals to make untapped energies available to inner city programs and to examine the myriad of health, social services and fund-raising activities to reorient them to the urban crisis. Ten proposals are made in the area of culture, including an arts festival with emphasis on black contributors, a cultural exchange with Boston schools, free tickets to suburban cultural events, support of Negro theatre groups and the Mass. Council on the Arts.

In the area of police and justice, municipal governments are asked to create by ordinance citizens advisory councils to develop a model of police-community relations, renounce any riot control role with military type equipment and create a citizens council to aid the court probation department.

The report concludes with

7 Newtonites Graduate From Brown University

Brown University held its 200th anniversary commencement program on Monday, June 2, awarding baccalaureate degrees to more than 800 graduating seniors, seven from Newton among them. Nearly 400 received graduate degrees and 12 honorary degrees were presented during the ceremonies on the College Green in Providence, R.I.

Graduates from the Newtons are as follows:

Richard Lawrence Narva is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Irving Narva of 60 Wachusett road in Chestnut Hill and a graduate of Sharon High School in Sharon. While at Brown, Mr. Narva served on the executive board of the Outing Club, as co-chairman of the Brown Charities Drive, and as a member of the Meiklejohn Society (undergraduate organization counseling freshmen). In addition Mr. Narva served as vice president and president of Hillel at Brown (undergraduate religious organization), and as president of the New England Hillel Council. Mr. Narva received a Bachelor of Arts degree in American Civilization.

Jerrold Solomon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray N. Solomon of 34 Hackensack Road in Chestnut Hill and a graduate of Boston Latin School. While at Brown, Mr. Solomon was a member of the Brown Marching and Pep Bands, of the staff of the Brown Jug (student humor magazine), and of Brown Youth Guidance (undergraduate organization counseling underprivileged children). Mr. Solomon, a member of Alpha Pi Lambda social fraternity, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science.

Carlos H. Caminos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horacio Caminos of 83 Fairmont Avenue in Newton, is a graduate of Needham Broughton High School in Raleigh, N.C. Mr. Caminos received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Art.

Henry Irving Katz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Katz of 6 Farina Road in Newton Centre, is a graduate of Boston Latin School. While at Brown, Mr. Katz was a member of Sock and Buskin, Brownbrokers, and Production Workshop (student dramatic groups), and the Yacht Club, as well as serving on the executive board of Hillel, undergraduate religious organization. Mr. Katz received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology.

Marc S. Alpert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Alpert of 6 Fairhaven Road in Newton, graduated from Newton South High School in Newton. While at Brown, Mr. Alpert has served on the staff of The Brown Daily Herald as news director and advertising director, and has served as president of his dormitory. Mr. Alpert received a Bachelor of Arts degree in mathematics-economics, and was named to the Dean's List in his Sophomore year.

Henry Edward Fradkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Fradkin of 86 Hyde Avenue in Newton, is a graduate of Newton High School. While at Brown, Mr. Fradkin was a member of the Brown Engineering Society, served as president of his dormitory, and did independent studies in his Senior year. Mr. Fradkin received a Bachelor of Sciences degree in materials engineering.

Dance Series At CH Country Club

The Safari Dance Club, a new organization of people who prefer the waltz or samba to a steady diet of the "bugaloo," has scheduled a series of four dances to be held this summer at the Chestnut Hill Country Club.

Al Natalie and his Orchestra will provide the music for the occasions and a buffet supper will be included in the nominal price of admission. A contribution will be made to a local health or service organization from the proceeds of each dance.

"Our dances are for singles and couples of all ages who really like to dance — people who are tired of crowded discotheques and nightclubs." said Al Natalie, founder of the organization. For information or advance tickets, he may be contacted at 727-3379. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Molly Sue Lichter, a student at Lesley College in Cambridge, has been elected Social Chairman of the Student Council there. Molly, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Feldberg of 34 Monadnock road, Chestnut Hill.

Mark B. Snyder, of Newton, a student at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., received his varsity baseball numeral according to announcement by Director of Athletics at Bowdoin, Daniel K. Stuckey.

Republicans List New Officers For 8 Wards

William A. Lincoln, chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee today commended the City's Administration and the Election Commission for its initiative in holding extra sessions for registration of voters.

Beginning this month the Election Commission office will be open the first and third Monday from 7 to 9 p.m., giving Newton citizens a convenient opportunity to register to vote, declare party affiliation, or to change their party affiliation. These hours supplement the regular office hours of the Commission.

Lincoln said that he anticipated that a number of so-called "Independents" will take advantage of the additional registration sessions to go to City Hall and enroll as Republicans.

"The Republican Party needs and welcomes the support of 'Independents', and encourages their participation in the selection of its candidates," he said.

Announcing that all eight wards had completed the reorganizations required by statute and had elected their officers, Lincoln released the names of the men and women elected to serve on the various Ward Committees. They are as follows:

Ward One: Miss Adelaide B. Ball, chairman; Herbert L. Shulman, Mrs. Dennis Myers, vice chairmen; Walter E. Brown, secretary; Mrs. Warren B. Manhard, corresponding secretary; Kenneth L. Yukes, treasurer.

Ward Two: William R. Horner, chairman; Miss Clara

Haffermehl, Douglas J. Howard, vice chairmen; Mrs. William R. Horner, secretary; Mrs. Nellie Clinton, treasurer.

Ward Three: Julius L. Masow, chairman; Henry J. Wilson and Mrs. Robert L. Tennant, vice chairmen; Mrs. Stanley Miller, secretary; Marshall D. Glen, treasurer.

Ward Four: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walsh, co-chairmen; Mrs. George Janes and George Michaels, vice chairmen; Phyllis Butler, secretary; O. Murray, treasurer.

Ward Five: Joseph Weinreb, chairman; David J. Palmer, Mrs. Ann Epstein, vice chairmen; Miss Vivian Baird, secretary; Arnold Garrison, treasurer.

Ward Six: William B. Dockser, chairman; Mrs. William Vinnicombe, vice chairman; Mrs. Arthur J. Taylor, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samuel Citron, secretary; Samuel Citron, treasurer.

Ward Seven: Melvin Norris, chairman; William P. Marchione, Jr., and Mrs. Benjamin F. Shattuck, vice chairmen; Mrs. Edward C. Becherer, secretary; Percy Trundle, treasurer.

Ward Eight: Melvin Clayton, chairman; Mrs. Maynard M. Slessinger and Marshall Palmer, vice chairmen; Bernard S. Rosser, treasurer; Mrs. Sheldon H. Stiegel, secretary.

Those designated to serve on the City Committee Executive body, Ward Finance Chairmen, and Ward Registration Chairmen will be announced within the next several weeks according to Lincoln.

22 To Graduate As Nurses From Junior College

Twenty-two graduates of the Nursing Program, class of 1968, at Newton Junior College, will be awarded certificates at a breakfast in their honor to be held at the Charter House Motel in Waltham, Friday, June 9. Miss Virginia O. Allen, chairman of the Department of Nursing, will conduct the informal ceremony.

Charles W. Dudley, president of Newton Junior College, will welcome guests and congratulate the nursing graduates on behalf of the Faculty and Staff of the College. Dr. Charles D. Merrill, Dean of the College, will offer the invocation.

Guests will include members of the Nursing Advisory Committee of the College and representatives from agencies used for student nursing experiences: The Waltham Hospital, Veterans Administration Hospital in West Roxbury, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and McLean Hospital in Belmont.

The Nursing Program of Newton Junior College, instituted in 1959, was the first two-year program of its kind in a public junior college in New England, a pilot program which has provided exemplary leadership in community colleges as well as in private junior colleges in New England.

Approved by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Board of Registration in Nursing, it involves two academic years and one summer session of six weeks. Students undertake liberal arts courses as well as nursing education and hospital experience.

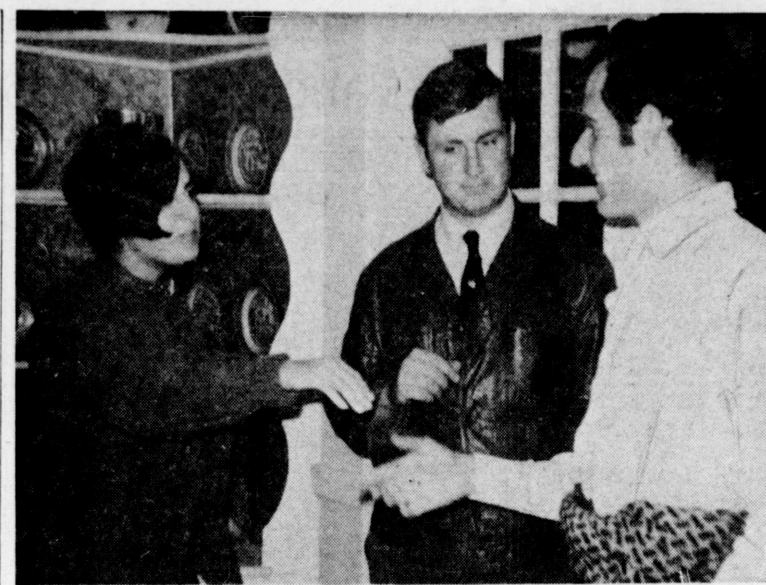

Since its inception, the Nursing Program at the College has attracted a number of married women with children and a number of male students. The Class of 1968 has eight married students and six male students, three of whom are Brothers from the Order of St. John of God.

Petition Gov't On Behalf Of Small Business

Edward H. Pendergast, Jr. of Newton and Mrs. Kenneth H. Crosby of Auburndale, were members of the delegation of small business executives who travelled to Washington, D.C. recently to make proposals to the Congress in support of small business. The proposals included, the strength of the dollar, procurement, patents, private pension plans, labor and taxation.

Senators and Congressmen from throughout New England and members of the House and Senate Small Business Committees, Banking and Currency Committees, Congressional staff members and key personnel from the Small Business Administration were among the audience that witnessed the Presentation.

The Smaller Business Association of New England is the only organization of its kind that makes a Washington Presentation on behalf of small business. Some 70 per cent of the proposals made have eventually been approved. SBANE is a private, non-profit organization of 600 New England smaller companies and its legislative programs on the national level are among the services it offers to its membership.

Karff To Israel To Attend World Zionist Congress

Abraham S. Karff, of Newton, a member of the Massachusetts and Federal Bars, left Monday (June 3) for Jerusalem to participate in the 27th World Zionist Congress and the Congress Tribunal which began this week preliminary to attending the Congress which begins June 9 and continues to June 21.

Summoned to Jerusalem by a cable invitation from the World Zionist Office there, Mr. Karff is a member of the Israel Bar. He successfully passed the Foreign Advocates Examination in 1936 and became a member of the then Palestine Bar.

Mr. Karff was President of the Brookline-Brighton-Newton Zionist District for three years, a member of the Inner Committee of the Zionist Organization of America, and for four years, Vice President of the Zionist Organization of America. Mr. Karff is now a member of the National Executive Council and a member of the World Zionist Affairs Committee.

He is a member of Temple Shalom of Newton and Brotherhood member of Temple Shalom and Temple Israel.

Mr. Karff is a associated with various Jewish organizations. He is a Vice-President of the New England Region of the American Jewish Congress as well as a member of the Greater Boston Jewish Community Council. In 1960, he was elected by the World Zionist Congress in Jerusalem, a member of the World Zionist Court. This Court consists of 21 members from all over the world, including two from the United States. Mr. Karff has been practicing in Boston since 1939 as a member of the firm of Karff & Goldberg.

Mt. Holyoke Graduate

Among the graduates of Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., are two students from Newton. Receiving their degrees at the 131st Commencement exercises held in the College amphitheater Sunday afternoon (June 2) were Virginia M. Lockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman M. Lockwood of 28 Bullock Park and Susan D. Rieger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Rieger of 226 Commonwealth Ave.

Italian Visitors Here See Closeup of American Living

Eight young Italian businessmen or JET's (Junior Executive Trainees) are currently living with families in Newton for a three-week homestay through the Experiment in International Living, prior to a six week intensive course in American business methods at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, beginning June 9.

The Experiment is an independent non-profit organization whose program is based on the conviction that the best means of achieving international understanding is through individual contact on a person-to-person basis.

During their "homestay" these visitors from other countries live as a member of an American family sharing all the experiences therein. Along with the home experience, this group is having tours of local commerce and industry as well as a wide range of cultural and social treats such as an evening at Boston Pops, guests of the Science Museum in Boston, Plymouth Plantation, Harvard Business School and University, an afternoon at the Foston State House with Rep. Theodore Mann and meeting Governor John Volpe, and a night game at the Boston Red Sox.

Although the individual family excursions such as mountain climbing at Tuckerman's Ravine in Mt. Washington, dancing at a discotheque at Harvard Square, or just gardening or playing tennis provide great enjoyment, the most enriching aspect of the program is the deep and lasting understanding and friendships that grow from the constant exchange of ideas between each Experimenter and his host family.

The Newton hosts and their Experimenters are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Asher, 34 Windemere road, Auburndale — Enrico Dal Pont; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boyd, 25 Old Orchard road, Chestnut Hill — Carlo Garis; Mr. and Mrs. David Dwell, 52 Myrtle street, West Newton — Giuseppe Enzo Brasca; Dr. and Mrs. Bud Fisher, 92 Garland road, Newton Centre — Giovanni Buzzatti; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Garfield, 95 Dudley road, Newton Centre — Andrea Martegani; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mark, 17 Larch road, Waban — Gabriele Pagan; Mr. and Mrs. Simon Scheff, 240 Greenwood street, Newton Centre — Antonio Sclavi (Leader); and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Schwartz, 170 Collins road, Waban — Mario Iolotto.

The Project Chairman of this JET group is Mrs. Arthur Karol of 25 Old Farm road, Newton Centre, and the Community Chairman is Mrs. Simon Scheff of 240 Greenwood street, Newton Centre. Anyone who is interested in participating in a similar program at another time may contact either of these women for further information.

Girl Scout Leaders Are Needed In Local Troops

Troop Organizers for the Westdale Neighborhood, Newton, of the Bay Bath Colonial Girl Scout Council met recently at the home of their Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. A. William Kunkel, to discuss plans for recruiting leaders, assistant leaders, and troop committee members.

The group includes: Mrs. William Kell, Burr School; Mrs. David Palmieri, Williams School; Mrs. Daniel Vecchione, Davis School; Mrs. Gordon Manter, Franklin School.

The Westdale Neighborhood, which consists of Auburndale and half of West Newton, has at present a total of 16 troops. Plans are being made to hold meetings for prospective Girl Scouts at the four schools, so that the Troop Organizers will know how many troops will be needed in the fall.

Qualified leaders and assistants are urgently needed. Volunteers may choose whichever age group they prefer. Brownies are 2nd and 3rd graders; Juniors are 4th, 5th, and 6th graders; and Cadettes are 7th, 8th, and 9th graders. The number one qualification is a liking for girls and their activities.

Mrs. Kunkel told the Troop Organizers, when recruiting leaders and assistant leaders, to stress that they will be backed up by their troop organizers, consultants, and neighborhood chairman.

It is not necessary to have a Girl Scout in the family to be a leader or assistant leader. Grandmothers, career women, and teachers are very welcome.

Every troop must also have a Troop Committee. When signing up for Troop Committee, a volunteer may specify her particular interest. For instance, a camping enthusiast may sign up for camping trips only.

A photographer may sign up as advisor for badge work. Drivers, telephoners, record keepers, and cookie bakers are needed as program consultants for Leaders. Fathers are welcome Troop Committee Members.

Meeting June 10

Fair Housing Group To Hear Jefferson

Matthew Jefferson of West Newton, president of the South Middlesex Chapter of the NAACP, and a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, will be the featured speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights, it was announced today by Arthur L. Lyman of Newtonville, chairman of the Committee. The meeting will take place at 8 P.M. on Monday, June 10, at Grace Episcopal Church in Newton Corner.

Mr. Jefferson, who lives at 15 Prospect Street, last month became the newest member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, and the first Negro alderman in the city's history, when he was chosen by the Board to fill a vacancy in its ranks.

A resident of Newton for 22 years, Jefferson is employed at the General Motors Corporation plant in Framingham. Among the many posts he holds in Newton community organizations is that of trustee of the Myrtle Street Baptist Church in West Newton.

It is expected that his address, which is as yet untitled, will point to some significant new directions for the future for Newton Fair Housing.

The business part of the Committee's Annual Meeting will consist of election of the group's officers, executive committee, and steering committee for 1968-69; a report from the outgoing chairman highlighting the accomplishments of 1967-68; and a projection of major goals for the organization for the coming year. In announcing the meeting, Mr. Lyman voiced the hope that a large turnout of members would be present on June 10 to help shape plans for next year's activities as well as to hear Mr. Jefferson's talk.

Newton Fair Housing has sharply stepped up the tempo and content of its work during the past two months, in response to the urgency of the domestic situation that it feels America is facing.

The Committee has been actively supporting a recent effort by a number of Newton groups and individuals to have the site of the old Bowen School reserved for low and middle-income housing, and it strongly backed the idea of the complete waiver of tuition for Newton's METCO students, established as a policy last month by the Newton School Committee.

The Committee convened approximately 100 persons — unofficially representing some 20 Newton civic and community organizations — on April 23 at Temple Shalom to hear Mrs. Helene Levine of the Massachusetts Fair Housing Federation present suggestions for new action programs that could be undertaken by suburban communities that would advance more rapidly the civil rights cause.

Out of this meeting came the conviction that joint efforts along the lines suggested by Mrs. Levine should be initiated by as many interested organizations and individuals in Newton as possible. Taking this consensus as a mandate to continue in its role of convener, the Fair Housing Committee called the same group together on May 8, at Grace Episcopal Church, to formulate specific plans for future joint action.

At that meeting, special task forces were set up in relation to nine fields of potential activity. These task forces have been recruiting members from the community and meeting by themselves during May. It is expected that they will be reporting back to the ad hoc community group shortly on specific ideas in relation to their assignments, and that priorities for future action among the nine fields will then be worked out by the parent body.

The nine fields of interest in which the task forces are working, and the names and telephone numbers of their acting chairmen, are: (1) listing of available housing in Newton, Mrs. Nancy Criscitello (244-6397); (2) cooperation with Newton realtors on enforcement of open-housing provisions, Mrs. Nancy Korman (969-3678 or 742-2100); (3) approach to landlords from the "inner city" who reside in Newton, Mrs. Dee Hand-spicker (244-2878).

Also, (4) fund-raising for the home ownership fund of Fair Housing, Inc., Alan Korman (969-3678); (5) legislative activity, Alvin Glazerman (527-7714); (6) membership, Mrs. Barbara Lillie, (332-0968); (7) cooperation with Newton officials on civil rights issues, Dr. George Hauser (332-4055); (8) employment practices, Charles Lewis (244-1664); and (9) policies of colleges and junior colleges located in Newton, Mrs. Dorothy Fleischman (332-2025).

"Black Messiah" By Auburndale Churches Tuesday

The churches of Auburndale are sponsoring the performance of "The Black Messiah", a historically-documented examination of white racism, which will have a single performance on Tuesday, June 11 at 8 p.m. at the Auburndale Club, Melrose ave. and Auburndale.

Written and directed by the Rev. Richard D. Waters and performed by the Fishermen's Players of Cape Cod, the play is a new exciting experiment in the use of drama as a vehicle for racial commentary. This "dramatic sermon" is based on an allegorical trial of Minister X before God and includes significant lines of black poets as well as words of historical figures such as John Brown, Abraham Lincoln and many others.

A discussion with the cast will follow the performance. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Resident Named Museum Officer

Boston Museum of Science, during the recent 138th annual meeting, elected new trustees and corporation members, including Frank R. Ingraham of 50 Spooner road, Chestnut Hill, who was named to the Corporation.

Ingraham is vice president and director of Endowment Management & Research Corporation and vice president of Omega Fund, Inc.

The Museum's $8-million expansion fund campaign has now passed the 75 per cent mark it was disclosed at this meeting. Plans for a new wing that will double present accommodations for visitors and triple exhibits space are in the final phase.

Week's Student 'Workday' To Be This Saturday

This Saturday (June 8) is the date set for the "workday" by the students of Weeks Junior High School who will assemble at the school and be available for odd jobs around the house between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

All prospective employers are requested to pick up the workers at the school and deliver them back again upon the completion of home jobs. The students will be pleased to rake lawns, wash windows, clean garages and similar type chores for homeowners and request a minimum wage of 50 cents per hour (all larger amounts and donations cheerfully accepted) which will be contributed to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Cooperation with the students in this worthy enterprise will be more than appreciated.

Local Youth Dons Third Uniform As BU Graduate

Donning another new uniform, Robin J. Robbins, 32 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, graduated with a B.S. degree from the School of Public Communication (SPC) at Boston University's recent commencement.

Rob wore three other uniforms before the cap and gown. Married and the father of a two-year-old son, Robbins is an ex-Marine sergeant, an ex-Army specialist 5, and an ex-Air Force staff sergeant. At 31, he is on his way to a new career.

Recalling the 10 years in the military, Rob says, "I was finding out what I didn't want to do." In the public relations field, he found out what he wants to do. Rob plans to couple his training in electronics from the military with his communication skills in PR. Robbins says, "As a result of going to SPC, I now feel I have sufficient training to go out and begin a new profession."

Rob calls himself a "scratcher," who earned 91 college credits in 17 months of off-duty study in the Air Force. In two years at Boston University, he completed 70 more credits and graduated in the top 10 per cent of his class. He also managed to perform his family duties and work part time to pay 50 per cent of his college expenses.

"I need at least two more degrees to do the job I want to do," Robbins says, "and I'll get them!" He plans to continue studying in night courses until he earns a master's degree in business administration. He would then like to study for a doctorate, but he has not decided yet on the field of concentration.

Robbins was not always so ambitious. He tried college after his tour in the Marines, but left after a semester and a half. Rob admits he did not settle down until he married his wife, Marion, in Sept. of 1964. Encouraged by his wife, however, Rob decided to attempt college again. "I always knew I could get through college, but I never had to prove it until I got married," Robbins says.

Coming from a poor farm family in Maine, the youngest of seven sons, Rob learned the lesson of self-reliance early in life. His self-confidence and "credentials," as Robbins calls his resume, brought him three attractive job offers on graduation.

Graduate From Models School

Three Newton area girls will receive diplomas from the Carol Nashe School, Inc., and Model Agency at exercises tonight in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler. Diplomas and awards will be made by Miss Nashe and Mr. Tom Russell (WEEI) co-owners and directors of the school.

Receiving diplomas and accepted to the model agency are: Joan Moran of 222 Spicers road, Newton; Gay Terrio of 165 Highland street, West Newton and Julie Walsh of 53 Trowbridge street, Newtonville.

LBJ MAKES SURPRISE VISIT TO UN

PRESIDENT JOHNSON paid a surprise visit to the United Nations Wednesday evening where he hailed the General Assembly for its approval of a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. The President pledged to support negotiations to de-escalate the nuclear arms race and reduce the existing stockpile of atomic weapons. He received a standing ovation before and after his nine minute speech. The world organization's General Assembly had given its blessing to the proposed treaty by an overwhelming vote and urged its members to ratify it. Johnson called the treaty "the most important international agreement in the field of disarmament since the nuclear age began." He said the United States will move rapidly to sign the treaty and seek its ratification by the Senate.

ROCKY STARTS NEWSPAPER AD BLITZ AGAINST NIXON

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER started his blitz-Nixon campaign in earnest Wednesday. The N.Y. governor placed full page advertisements in 40 daily newspapers in 35 cities across the country and said they were just the first of a series. One minute TV commercials based on the text of the newspaper ads appeared in the same 35 areas.

POOR PEOPLE'S MARCHERS ISSUE SPECIFIC DEMANDS

THE POOR PEOPLE'S marchers issued their first list of specific demands Wednesday and then started a round-the-clock vigil in the courtyard of the Agriculture Department to gain their top priority goal: food for hungry Americans. They placed priority in their seven-page statement on establishment of food distribution programs in the country's 1,000 poorest counties on the basis of need rather than income.

ATLANTA CONVICTS RELEASE HOSTAGES UNHARMED

FOUR CONVICTS ended a 27-hour siege at Atlanta's Federal Penitentiary on Wednesday by freeing 21 hostages and tossing their weapons from a window after a newspaper printed their grievances. Less than three hours after the convicts surrendered, FBI agents arrested Arlene Granito, 25, of Newark, N.J., the girl friend of one of the convicts. She was charged with sneaking two pistols, 50 rounds of ammunition and four hacksaw blades into the prison Sunday.

NEW RULING ON PARCEL POST SHIPMENT OF GUNS

THE POST OFFICE ruled Wednesday that all guns shipped parcel post must be labeled "firearms" and that they must not be delivered until the addressee's police chief is notified. The head of the National Rifle Association said he considered the order unconstitutional.

TWO PLANES CRASH IN FIGHT AT 9,000 FEET

A UNITED AIRLINES Boeing 727 jetliner with 63 persons aboard and a twin-engine propeller-driven Cessna brushed against each other at 9,000 feet Wednesday about 15 miles north of downtown Denver, Colo., while preparing to land. Both planes landed safely.

DEMONSTRATORS DEFY LATEST DE GAULLE ORDERS

PRESIDENT CHARLES DE GAULLE, seeking to stem the tide of violence in France, Wednesday ordered a ban on all outdoor meetings and demonstrations. But thousands defied the ban and marched through the streets of provincial cities. An estimated 2,500 marched in Marseille singing the communist "Internationale" and 1,500 others flocked into a public square in Toulouse. Smaller demonstrations were reported in Dijon, Bordeaux and other centers. In Paris a demonstration was called off after police reinforcements moved into the area.

U.S. SEEKS FORMAL EXTRADITION OF JAMES RAY

U.S. WARNING TO HANOI JUST SHRUGGED OFF

AMBASSADOR W. AVERILL HARRIMAN warned North Vietnam Wednesday that continuation of the Communist terror attacks on Saigon could jeopardize the Vietnam War talks in Paris. But Hanoi's negotiator Xuan Thuy claimed the rockets were aimed at strategic targets. In Saigon, radio broadcasts from Hanoi were heard to the effect that the bombardments would continue. Hanoi also said it had a right to call on its allies for aid in "both materiel and manpower." The nightly attacks have been going on for nearly two weeks. Harriman's accusation was delivered in a three hour and 50 minute meeting.

It's A Grand, Old Flag

"We meet to celebrate Flag Day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation."

"The choice is ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices whether in peace or war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and of the records they wrote upon it."

"We celebrate the day of its birth, and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people."

School Board Votes Return Of $100,000

The Newton School Committee voted unanimously Monday night to return $100,000 to city surplus funds.

This was the amount of money that had been set aside in the school budget to cover the costs of a full scale in-school elementary school lunch program if one had been approved.

At the time of passage of the city budget a controversy arose between the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen over just who should hold the money pending a decision on the lunch program.

Check Overcrowding At Some Schools

School Population In Line For Local Study

By SHIRLEY GOLDWYN

The Newton School Department may employ an outside agency to study population problems in the city's elementary schools and to recommend solutions to alleviate overcrowded conditions. These solutions could involve limited bussing and some redistricting.

The School Committee on Monday night unanimously authorized Superintendent Dr. James Laurits to seek proposals from outside consulting agencies for such a city-wide study.

When the proposals have been received and the cost determined the School Committee will again vote on the matter. Dr. Laurits estimated that a survey could cost between $7,000 and $10,000.

The superintendent told the board that several elementary schools are overcrowded while some have available space. Those listed as overcrowded were Angier, Beethoven, Burr, Cabot, Hyde, Lincoln-Eliot, Mason-Rice and Underwood.

Those described as schools which have space available and "would not suffer unduly from moderate increases in school population" were Countryside, Hamilton, Memorial, Oak Hill, Spaulding and Ward.

Dr. Laurits said that "we need alternative ideas of all kinds to consider." Some of the questions to which he would like some answers, he declared, are "Where do we need additions? Should we consider some redistricting or limited bussing? Should new grade combinations be considered for schools such as some containing classes from kindergarten through Grade 4 and others from Grades 5 through 7? Can some internal space changes relieve problems? How about the use of portable classrooms as a temporary measure?"

Schools that are being considered as having excess room might not agree, Dr. Laurits pointed out. They may claim they are using all available space, he said. For example, he noted, Memorial School used a classroom to set up a mathematics learning center. Others use space for

City-Wide Fight Against Stadium

Petitions containing the signatures of several thousand Newton residents who oppose the erection of a sports stadium on the Woodland Golf Course were presented to Governor John A. Volpe Tuesday by Mayor Monte G. Basbas.

Legislators who represent Newton in the State Senate and House of Representatives joined the Basbas contingent at the Governor's office and also arranged for Basbas to confer with lawmakers from other sections of Massachusetts.

State Senator Leslie B. Cutler, who represents Newton in the upper legislative branch, backed Mayor Basbas in his

Explore Ways To Shift Jr. College Reins

Steps were being taken this week by City Clerk Joseph Karlin to determine the correct procedure for Newton to follow in getting the Commonwealth to take over Newton Junior College.

Karlin made inquiries at the request of two aldermen, Edward C. Uellein and Joseph M. McDonnell, after Ald. William Hopkins, chairman of the Education Committee, reported that both Quincy and Holyoke Junior Colleges, run by the municipalities, sought inclusion in the Community College circuit.

Urges Quenching Of Flames Of Hate

A call for all to join in quenching the searing flames of hate, bigotry and violence that threaten to engulf society was issued last Sunday by Judge Julian L. Yesley at the annual Memorial Service of the Newton Fire Department.

The Newton district court justice told firemen assembled at Fire Dept. Headquarters that because "this is also a day of national mourning for the untimely, tragic death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it is fitting that we hold a joint memorial."

In his speech, Judge Yesley said:

I do have it on good authority that those whose business it is to rate fire services, rank the Newton Fire Department with the best. This is evidenced by an award given this year to the department by the National Fire Protection Association, of honorable mention in the category of cities of population of 50,000 to 100,000.

Such news will not surprise property owners in this city whose letters are often seen in the columns of the local press commending and thanking our firemen for a job well and humanely done when the call comes for their services.

I have used the word "humanely" advisedly, because even as a layman I recognize that there is more to putting out a fire than spraying streams of water.

It makes a difference whether the men swinging the axes and directing the hoses are doing the job "with heart." By that I don't mean bravery, because by the nature of their tasks all

Housemaster Retires; Feted At Reception

Miss Rachel A. Johnson, retiring Riley Housemaster at Newton High School, was honored at a faculty reception held Tuesday afternoon, June 11th. Her retirement takes effect this month.

Miss Johnson came to Newton in 1956 as a member of the Business Department. In January, 1959 she served as assistant to the Supervisor of Building II.

When the House Plan originated in the spring of 1959 she was appointed as one of the six housemasters. Miss Johnson is the only remaining Housemaster of this group at Newton High School. She has been in the Newton School system for twelve years.

Miss Johnson received her early education in the public schools of Rockport, Mass. She received her bachelor's degree from Salem State Teachers'

Ted Kennedy Will Be Urged To Run On Ticket With HHH

Senator Edward M. Kennedy not only will be offered the Democratic nomination for Vice President but will be urged and pressured by top members of his party to accept it.

That information comes from some of the best informed Democratic leaders in Washington who declare that the only thing that could prevent Ted Kennedy from becoming the nominee for Vice President would be his own refusal to accept second place on the Democratic national ticket.

This is not a case of Senator Ted Kennedy seeking the nomination for President or Vice President. It's a case of the highest Democratic chieftains seeking Ted Kennedy.

Sister, Brother Receive Degrees

Graduation was a family affair this year for the daughter and son of Mrs. Edith P. Roser of 268 Grove St., Auburndale, and the late Mr. John P. Roser.

Janet Fay Roser received her bachelor of science degree in medical technology from the University of Vermont in Burlington on Sunday (May 19) and her brother Steven Malcolm Roser received his degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine at ceremonies yesterday (June 12).

While at the University of Vermont, Miss Roser was a member of Alpha Chi Omega, Mortar Board and served as vice president of the Student Association. She will finish her practical work at the Vermont Medical Center during the summer in Burlington, Vt., and plans to work in a hospital laboratory in Boston.

Dr. Roger graduated Magna Cum Laude and was the recipient of the Harvard Dental Alumnae Gold Medal Award. He was recently elected to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, honorary dental fraternity. He will begin a three-year oral surgery internship and residency program at Massachusetts General Hospital. He is married to the former Susan Fay and father of a son, John Christopher.

PATRICIA FARRELL

Scholarship To Patricia Farrell

Patricia A. Farrell of Newton has been awarded the scholarship sponsored by the Social Science Club of Newton for the academic year 1968-69.

Miss Farrell is a 1968 graduate of Newton High School and will be attending Marymount College of Virginia in the fall. Patricia is the daughter of Mrs. John Farrell of 25 Washburn St., Newton.

"I checked with the city clerk in Holyoke and found the state has already taken over the junior college there," Karlin said. "I asked the clerk to send me the particulars of the procedure used, but, as yet, I haven't received the information."

Karlin said he also sounded out Quincy and found that Mayor James McIntyre, who is also a state senator, has filed a bill with the Legislature requesting the state take over the junior college there.

The City Clerk said Mayor McIntyre took the step with the approval of the School Committee of the Granite City. "The School Committee has autonomy in the operations of schools in a city, and any move Newton makes in regard to our junior college would have to have the approval of that body," Karlin said.

Last year the mayor's special committee recommended that the junior college be phased out and into a Community College supported by the state. At the time of the report, there was reason to believe the college would be so phased, especially since there were plans for a regional college in the area. It was pointed out that if the state should take over Newton's Junior College, admission priority given to Newton high school students and residents will no longer be in effect.

Basbas has indicated he is satisfied with the report issued last year.

Washington — Cost to the U.S. of the Virgin Islands was about $25 million, three times the price of Alaska. The islands cover 133 square miles while Alaska has 586,400 square miles.

Mayor Urges Universal Flag Display This Week

In his annual Flag Week proclamation, Newton's Mayor Monte G. Basbas called for a universal display of "Old Glory" from June 9 to June 15 and particularly on Friday, June 14, which marks the 191st anniversary of the Continental Congress resolution establishing the first American flag.

In his proclamation the Mayor deplors "increasing incidents in this nation and throughout the world expressing contempt for our flag and for the laws and system of government for which it stands." The proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS: The Flag of the United States of America stands as the symbol of 'one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all';

WHEREAS: June 14, 1968, marks the 191st anniversary of our first flag by a resolution of the Continental Congress;

"WHEREAS: We have been witnessing increasing incidents in this Nation and throughout the world expressing contempt for our flag and for the laws and system of government for which it stands;

"WHEREAS: With the situation in Vietnam calling for the continued sacrifice of American fighting men who are serving and dying for the ideals symbolized by this banner;

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Monte G. Basbas, Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby proclaim the week of June 9 through 15, 1968, as

NEWTON FLAG WEEK

"and urge every owner of a household or building within the City of Newton to proudly display the Flag during this week and especially on June 14, 1968, Flag Day."

Widow Is Honored As Laryngectomy

Mrs. Paul A. Doehler, of 26 Lombard street, Newton, has been elected the first Honorary Life Member of the International Association of Laryngectomees.

This announcement was made at the IAL's New York headquarters in the offices of The American Cancer Society.

The IAL embraces 128 clubs throughout the world with some 30,000 members who have lost their voices to cancer and who have recovered and learned to speak again by developing esophageal voices.

Mrs. Doehler, the Newton widow whose courage and guidance has helped 1600 New Englanders how to talk again, is director of esophageal speech at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston.

A former school teacher, she underwent an operation for cancer of the larynx more than 20 years ago. At that time, when such surgery usually doomed the patient to a life of silence, Mrs. Doehler was the sole survivor of three daughters and her mother.

Through sheer grit, Mrs. Doehler developed a method of converting controlled burps of air into intelligible sounds.

Under a grant from the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Doehler now conducts esophageal classes each week at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

pay aides and lunch room supervisors.

The point is, Assistant to the Superintendent Jonathan Daube noted, that the optional lunch program will be financed by users but their money goes into the city treasury. Approval of the School Committee's request would straighten out the technical problem.

In other business, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Business Services John E. Gilleland reported that the MBTA will ask for a renegotiation of its subsidy arrangement with Newton for school busing for next year.

This could have an impact on the School Department's financial situation, Gilleland said, but "we don't know yet what it will be. A year ago they were talking in terms of a 12 per cent increase. We hope it will be between 0 and 12 per cent," Gilleland concluded.

She is the founder and first president of the Boston Cured Cancer Club, a charter member of the International Association of Laryngectomees. She served as a director and first secretary of the IAL.

In addition to her busy teaching schedule, Mrs. Doehler has guided the Boston Cured Cancer Club in a fund-raising campaign, through semi-annual food and "white elephant" sales, which has netted more than $20,000 for the endowment of beds for needy cancer of the larynx patients at Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

determined battle to prevent the location of a stadium on the Woodland course.

Mrs. Cutler, who is to retire from office at the end of this year, said she would do everything possible to kill the bill to which Mayor Basbas violently objects.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has announced that its directors are opposed to any legislative bill which would allow the erection of a stadium on the Woodland course.

The Chamber maintains that construction of a stadium in Newton would not be in the city's interests.

Lewis B. Songer, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, was among those who accompanied Mayor Basbas to the Governor's office.

A weekend drive to obtain signatures on the petitions submitted to Governor Volpe by Mayor Basbas was spearheaded by Mrs. Florence Rubin president of the Newton League of Women Voters.

The legislative bill which has aroused all the furor does not actually mention either Newton or the Woodland Golf Course as a possible location for a sports stadium. It simply allows the State to take any land it desires for a stadium site.

However, Senator James A. Kelly of Oxford, chairman of the committee which drafted the bill, feels the Woodland course would be the best site in the Greater Boston area for a sports stadium.

Kelly observed that all the people agitating for the sports

Vacation Bible School To Open Monday June 24

On June 24th, the United Presbyterian Church will begin its annual Vacation Bible School, at 9 a.m. and ending at 11:30 a.m.

The church, located at Vernon and Park sts., just outside of Newton Corner, welcomes all boys and girls from age 4-16 to attend the school and advance registrations may be made at the Church office weekdays from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., or with Mrs. James Calderwood, 444-5646.

There is no registration charge, and classes will be held every day from June 24th-July 5th except for July 4th, the holiday. Experienced teachers will present Bible stories, and crafts, songs, and attractive workbooks which will belong to each child at the close of the school, insure a worthwhile and happy two weeks.

In the troubled world of today our children need the peace and security that only a strong faith in God can give them.

Michael Esposito Boy of the Year By Newton Club

The Boy of the Year Trophy of the Newton Boys' Club was awarded this year to Michael Esposito, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Esposito of 196 Adams street, Newton, during the club's 14th annual dinner recently at Our Lady's cafeteria in Newton.

Nearly 300 persons jammed the school cafeteria to see and cheer some 120 Boys' Club members who were awarded team and individual citations for their achievements in the 1967-1968 season.

George Winkler, athletic director of Newton South High School was the principal speaker. Himself product of Troy Boys' Club, he expressed the values and the guidance received that gave him the incentive to go on to college and pursue a coaching and teaching career.

Mr. Winkler congratulated the boys and praised the parents in attendance for the support of their boys and to the Boys' Club, urging their continued support of the many activities offered the youth of Newton through the Boys' Club.

W. Edward Wilson, general chairman of the dinner committee presided while Philip F. Cacciatore, president of the Newton Boys' Club welcomed the boys and parents to the affair.

Brother Thomas Lennon, O.M.I. of Washington, D.C., an invited guest of one of the award winners gave the invocation.

Aid Fund For Newton

Newton will receive $1,150,499.08 in the latest distribution of State monies from the Local Aid Fund, it was announced last week by Gov. John A. Volpe. Total subsidies for local communities from the Fund will amount to a little more than $190 million during 1968, the Governor said.

The Gourmet Adventures of

MARIO OF THE HIGHLANDS

Be sure to be at the HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT on Tuesday night, June 18, for a very special occasion—Spanish Night. Spanish food—Ole! Spanish wine with our compliments at every table—Ole! A wine and cordial tasting of our complete stock of Spanish liquor—Ole! Ole! Naturally, Tuesday night wouldn't be complete without our fashion show, and in keeping with the Spanish motif, we'll have a flamenco guitarist to entertain you while you watch the lovely ladies.

For dinner we'll be featuring Paella. The dish that says Spain in every delicate morsel. A taste-ful blend of rice with seafood and chicken that captures the spirit, color and character of Old Spain. But that isn't all. Several other equally tantalizing main courses on the menu say Spain just as well. And what Spanish dinner would be complete without Tortilla al Rum? Suffice it to say that this dessert alone is worth a trip to Seville. But all you have to do to enjoy it, is to come to Spanish Night, Tuesday, June 18, at the HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton. For reservations, call me anytime at 332-4400. See you then, amigo!

Major Posts Filled Here By GOP Group

Appointments to two major Committees of the Newton Republican City Committee were announced today by William A. Lincoln, City Chairman.

Those appointed to the Finance Committee headed by William B. Dockser are: Kenneth L. Yukes, Ward One; Joseph G. Hallett, Jr., Ward Two; Marshall D. Glen, Ward Three; Donald H. Magaw, Ward Four; D. Stuart Laughlin, Jr., Ward Five; Michael Lipof, Ward Six; Gerald G. Aransky, Ward Eight.

The vacancy in Ward Seven is to be filled shortly. Dockser who heads the Committee reported that the group is already actively involved in raising its quota of $30,000.00 from Newton Republicans.

The City-wide Registration Committee now headed by Mr. William L. Bruce, Vice-Chairman of the City Committee, was filled out with the following designated: Mrs. Dennis Myers, Ward One; Mrs. A. V. Jonah, Ward Two; Ernest Seyfarth, Ward Three; Mrs. George Jones, Ward Four; Mrs. Ann Epstein, Ward Five; Mrs. Malvin W. White, Ward Six; Mrs. Nicholas Dawson, Ward Seven; Mrs. Melvin Clayton, Ward Eight.

The Registration Committee is now conducting a continuing program of assistance for voters in conjunction with the Election Commissions supplementary special hours for the registration of new voters.

The Republican group will continue to distribute its revised "Voter Information" leaflet which has met with widespread public approval.

Chairman Lincoln announced that election activities are being stepped up rapidly with special emphasis being given at this time to the establishment of Republican Campaign Headquarters in Newton.

He appointed Julius L. Masow, vice-chairman and Henry J. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. William L. Bruce, and Anthony A. Tombascio to a special committee charged with the responsibility.

Reynolds with Bowen serving as the first chairman of the Board. Keating succeeded Bowen as Chairman followed by Chevarley from 1955 to the present.

Various communications were read from the Mayor, former Mayors and former Board members unable to attend the Dinner.

In his closing remarks, Watendorf made a plea for the preservation of all Board records and documents since they are an integral part of the history of the City.

On July 1, the Newton Welfare Department, as well as all others throughout the Commonwealth, will come under the jurisdiction and administration of the State.

The last meeting of the Newton Board of Public Welfare is scheduled for Wednesday, June 26, at 8:00 p.m. at City Hall. The public is invited to attend this final meeting of the Board.

Andrew I. Schafer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Schafer of 35 Simpson street, Newton, was recently initiated into The Academ, the Snortheastern University College of Liberal Arts honor society at its 31st annual banquet. Schafer is a third year student in Biology. He is on the dean's list and a member of Delta Sigma Theta fraternity.

Study

Staff resources within the school system cannot handle the task of the kind of in-depth study contemplated, Dr. Laurits asserted.

The superintendent reported that when the problem was brought to Mayor Monte G. Basbas, he said he would be glad to assist and have the city's Planning Department work with the School Department and an outside agency. Mayor

New York—The United Nations flag was adopted by the General Assembly Oct. 20, 1947.

Basbas agreed that the Planning Department is not adequately staffed to conduct such a large scale study at this time.

School Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith observed that he and the Mayor have asked the local parochial schools for information regarding their future plans for remaining open in the city. Their closing or even increases in their tuition rates would have an impact on the public school population, he added.

Committeeman Edwin Hawbridge expressed the opinion that the parochial schools will be forced to raise tuition rates but would not immediately make any long range policy decision.

Committeeman Vincent P. Stanton indicated that before any study is made members should explore their own feelings and their own willingness to go along with whatever recommendations result from an objective study.

Assistant to the Superintendent Jonathan Daube declared that "when space needs in the elementary schools are discussed, and new buildings, renovation and or redistricting are suggested, several factors have to be borne in mind."

"Among these are: population projections within districts, population and private school enrollments, possible impact of any change in the elementary school schedule, traffic patterns, neighborhood feelings, flexibility of spaces within buildings," he said.

Daube also noted that "unfortunately overcrowded schools tend to bunch together." Basically, he said, the south side schools are

"undercrowded," but the problems of readjusting school populations are complicated," he added. "There are always jittery feelings about moving district lines."

"We confess that we have been pretty poor—in fact, any expert who has ever tried it has been pretty poor—at projecting population figures within a district," Daube said.

It was pointed out that a Planning Department survey done some years ago showed a projected growth of the elementary school population on the south side of the city and a decline on the north. The situation has turned out to be exactly the reverse.

In the discussion period following the School Committee meeting, but before the Committee voted to authorize exploration of a study, Leonard R. Sweet, executive director of a recently formed organization called RISE (Responsibility in School Education) presented a fact sheet to the Committee.

The sheet was not discussed beyond expression of gratitude for the effort and the brief questioning of the accuracy of some statements. Chairman Beckwith said the committee would study the material presented and report on it at a later date.

In the fact sheet the patterns of elementary school construction in Newton was criticized on the grounds that empty classrooms exist in some schools where additions have been built within the last 10 years while other schools have remained overcrowded without additional building to meet pupil needs.

Solutions proposed included redrawing of school boundaries, pupil transportation,

Symbol of Freedom

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands: one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The nation observes Flag Day this Friday, and every American citizen should be proud to look upon the flag of the United States as the greatest national symbol ever unfurled from any standard.

It represents a nation formed on the unprecedented principle that the powers of government are derived from the people.

The U.S. flag exalts the individual and the constitutional guarantees which preserve his freedom.

It represents a people who have been generous, heroic and creative.

It is the symbol of freedom from political oppression, of opportunity to make a better life to which the oppressed of all nations have turned with hope which has been fulfilled.

Flag Day is a good time to get back to basics and recognize that a tingling up your spine when the Stars and Stripes go by is one of the surest signs that the vitality and genius of this nation and its capacity to achieve great things on the stage of history are still very much with us.

Despite our mechanized, computerized society, the fact remains that anything having to do with human endeavor rests upon an intangible quality of spirit in the individual. Some individuals have it in larger measure than others, and the same is true of nations.

The greatness of the United States is based on the spirit of her people. Let us remember in these complicated days of our history, there is need for simple patriotism, deeply felt and clearly shown.

Let us pledge allegiance.

A Question of Money

The capture of James Earl Ray, accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King, was a triumph of international police work and cooperation, patience and perseverance.

He ran free for 65 days, since Dr. King was struck down by an assassin's bullet in Memphis, Tenn., but during that time the forces of the law were grinding slowly toward him.

The American people owe the nameless men whose extreme patience turned up the photograph of Ray in the Canadian passport files a debt of thanks for their tenacity. All others concerned in the eventual arrest of Ray also deserve a heartfelt "thanks" from all of us.

And we'll owe more than "thanks" if an answer can be found to the motivation behind the crime of which Ray stands accused.

His brother, John Larry Ray, insists that Ray is not a member of any racist group. "He didn't do anything if it wasn't for money," he was quoted as saying.

When Ray was serving a sentence in Jefferson City, Mo., for robbery, he was quoted by a fellow convict as willing to kill Dr. King for $1 million. He escaped from prison about a year before the tragic slaying in Memphis.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lethal Hoax

Editor of The Graphic:

Today well intentioned and serious minded people go about asking "Why?" has our nation become tolerant of savagery. This is a normal result of the hysteria engineered by the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy. Yesterday it was Martin Luther King, and the day before that President John Kennedy, and every day because of rampant violent crime in the streets.

Psychologists are having a Roman Holiday prattling about hate and violence and mistrust, the necessity of confidence to support both a civilization and an economy, and the necessity for law and order, advocating stiff gun control laws. They seem obsessed about gun laws. One, when asked about the right of citizens, guaranteed by the Constitution, to bear arms, has replied, "To Hell with the Constitution." Law and order is necessary says he, but "To Hell with the constitution."

Psychologists rightly differentiate between crimes against the person, and crimes against property, but they seem to condone the latter, excusing it because it is a result of frustration. They appear not to comprehend that the rights of security, that of person and property are related and mutually dependent. Neither can be secure without the security of the other.

In spite of Senator Mansfield's televised statement that of all crimes committed with guns, 70 percent thereof are with stolen guns: Newspapers exhibit a snide attitude in accusing the National Rifle Association, The American Legion, and the Isaac Walton League, of propaganda influencing a "Gutless Congress," and accusing such statesmen as Senators Norris, Dirksen, and Tower of "shrieking loudest about law and order" and opposing some gun legislation. They fail to offer the Senators' considered reasons and usually fail to inform the public that the National Rifle Association has, for some time, supported a bill to regulate the sale of hardguns and control their movement from State to State, thus contributing to an unreasoned hysteria and brainwashing campaign.

Senator Eugene McCarthy says, "The nation bears a burden of guilt," and sociologists continue to peddle their theory that the victim, and society are guilty, never the criminal who inflicts the violence. All, in their estimation, is due to poverty and unemployment which spending ourselves into bankruptcy will surely cure — merely more of the same poisonous medicine that has continually worsened the sickness of our country. Overlooked is the fact that crime dropped appreciably during the depression with unemployment 3 times as high, and welfare spending one-eighth of current spending. Chinese and Jewish enclaves show low crime rates, our nationwide crime rate increased 16 percent in the last year. It is time to discontinue the false and theoretical nostrums and apply the medicine of proven reason.

Everyone agrees that savagery must be abolished, that violence is contagious, and law and order must be restored, even the clergy, a large segment of which has been purposely and wilfully demonstrating in violation of various and numerous established laws. Rev. Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, General Secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, speaking on behalf of the Council, blames television companies, advertisers and motion picture producers, asking when will they "reject financial gain through the cheap portrayal of violence," and "when will America stop relying on arms for defense against those it oppresses, and give them justice instead," implying that America is an oppressor instead of aiding in a just cause. Rev. Dr. Albert J. Penner, president of the Massachusetts Conference of the United States Church of Christ, said the attack on Kennedy endangers the free society of the United States, and "all must examine the reasons for such outrageous acts of violence." Rt. Rev. Anson P. Stokes, Jr., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts has said, "There must be law and we must find order but we must also recognize the deeper truth that we are in a time of trouble."

It needs pointing out to church authorities that a mere social gospel is not satisfactory to those seeking the spiritual food of the Christian Gospel, that an important contributing factor to the demoralization of church oriented people is church hierarchy and congregation support, instead of expelling for heresy, of clergyman who proclaim Christian doctrine in their pulpits and outside declare that God is dead.

All of the clergy who have participated in, or countenanced without objection, or advocated or glorified civil disobedience by others, need contemplate the mote in their own eyes rather than blaming everyone else for the abolition of law and order.

Not a little demoralization, particularly of the young, is attributable to those who glorify patriotism and devotion to our flag, substituting instead glorification of base self gratifications and anarchy, and whom society has, until now, accepted without serious objection.

Pseudo intellectuals, sociologists, supposedly learned bureaucratic commissions and the like will persist that common sense and logical reasoning is oversimplification.

For 20 years the pseudo intellectuals, sociologists and bureaucratic commissions have sown their theoretical chaff and thistles and today the harvest is being reaped.

Common sense and logical reasoning dictate a return to individual responsibility. Common sense and logical reasoning calls for rinsing our minds clean from 20 years of brainwashing, and a return to basic principles.

1. Criminals, with few exceptions, are responsible for their crimes.
2. Criminals are to be apprehended and suffer penalties prescribed by law for the protection of society. Those who abuse the penalties need only refrain from, for instance, arson, looting, or any violence to the person or property rights of others.
3. Advocates of a welfare state promote interests inimical to the well-being of the nation. The deplorable state of England is an example to contemplate, and such course must be avoided.
4. Willful advocacy of law violation, euphemistically termed "civil disobedience" cannot and must not be tolerated from any individual or group.

Universities bear a contractual relationship to teach prescribed and agreed upon courses within an agreed time period, and there are serious students whose rights are paramount to militant minorities. Student, or student and joint faculty, seizure of property or persons is intolerable and must be discontinued forthwith, expelling militants if necessary.

Television and motion picture glorification of crime, perversion, the prostitution of sex, etc., must be voluntarily boycotted by all persons possessing common decency, thus making such unprofitable.

The only method by which law and order can be restored, from the depths of degradation and degeneration prevalent today, is for the majority of citizens to insist and demand adherence by all to law providing imposition of penalties, and order, and decency.

It is that simple.

J. ELLIS BOWEN.

answers to questions which have many people puzzled.

Few people want a repetition of the Oswald case in which he was killed before he could answer any questions, and even fewer want the suspect in the Robert Kennedy murder to walk out of a courtroom because something which was said or written allegedly made it impossible for him to have a fair trial.

To return to the political picture and the problem which will confront Ted Kennedy, a great uncertainty exists as to whether he will consent to become the Democratic nominee for Vice President this year.

Many political observers in the last few days have expressed the opinion that Ted is too young to be President.

Their point is that as Vice President Ted would stand one heartbeat away from the Presidency itself. That is true, and Ted is young—extremely young—to assume the awesome and enormous duties and responsibilities of the President if he were called upon to do.

Ted Kennedy for the record was 36 years old last February.

But Edward M. Kennedy certainly has matured during the slightly less than six years since he was elected to the U.S. Senate.

He has been through the assassination of two brothers.

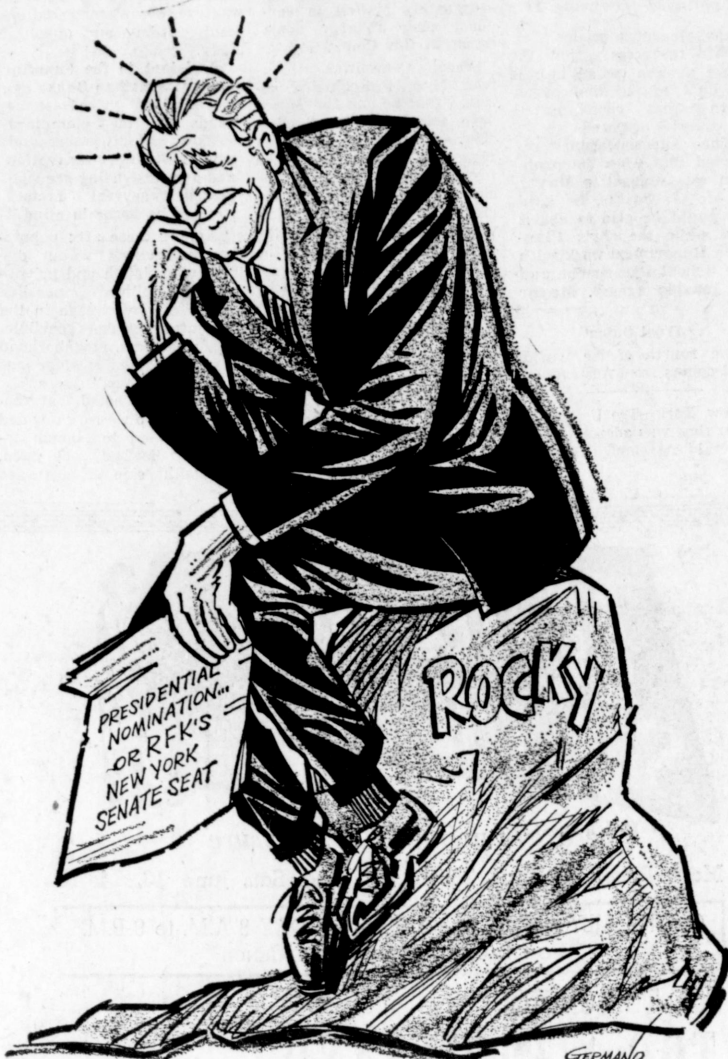

When President John F. Kennedy was slain in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963, Robert Kennedy assumed the role of leader of the big Kennedy clan.

When Robert Kennedy was murdered in Los Angeles a matter of days ago, it was Ted Kennedy's turn to assume the mantle of Kennedy leadership.

We suspect that there's nothing like an assassination or two in the family to cause a man to mature in a hurry.

The evidence at the moment appears to be that a great many people across the United States would be willing to take their chances with Edward M. Kennedy as Vice President and—in an emergency, as President, too.

THE THINKER

Smaller House

Editor of The Graphic:

Massachusetts has the second largest House of Representatives in the United States. I strongly favor a reduction in its size from 240 to 160 members. Such a reduction would increase the visibility and individual responsibility of each legislator. Sessions would be shorter, with greater opportunity for debate. Finally, the savings realized from a reduction in membership could be used to furnish the clerical and research facilities our representatives need to do an effective job.

On Wednesday, in Constitutional Convention, the Legislature gave preliminary approval to a bill that would reduce the size of the House to 160 members. Under the terms of this bill, each legislator would be elected from a separate district. In a single-member district it is obvious who is in charge and it is easy to fix responsibility. Each citizen will know his representative and each representative will know his constituency. The bill would also establish a 15-member non-partisan commission, empowered to re-district the Senate and the House into contiguous and compact districts every ten years. H3766 is designed to provide a House tailored to the needs of the 20th Century. It merits the support of every forward looking citizen of the Commonwealth.

I was pleased to note that three of the four state representatives from Newton supported this important reform measure, the exception being Representative Paul Malloy.

Sincerely,
William P. Marione, Jr.,

Will Rocky Name Himself To Bobby's Seat In Senate?

New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller is now confronted with the question of whether he wants to be a candidate for President or a U.S. Senator.

While Rocky is still officially a contender for the Republican nomination for President, it is becoming increasingly apparent that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon probably will emerge the winner from the GOP national convention at Miami.

Rockefeller is now serving his third four-year term as Governor of New York State. His present term will expire at the end of 1970. It is unlikely that he will seek or could win a fourth term as Governor.

But he can succeed the late Robert F. Kennedy in the U.S. Senate if he chooses to do so.

Rocky can do one of two things if he wants to be a U.S. Senator.

He can appoint himself or have himself appointed now as Senator.

That would involve his stepping out of the Governorship.

Or he can name a seat-warmer as interim Senator, complete his term as Governor and stand for election as Senator in 1970.

A number of political writers in the Empire State believe the latter course is the one Rocky will follow.

They may well be right. However, Rockefeller probably would have less chance of winning election as Senator in 1970 if he served as Governor until then than if he served as Senator for two years and then sought the office.

Humphrey Would Have Won If Bobby Kennedy Had Lived

The question is now being asked whether Senator Robert Kennedy would have won the Democratic nomination for President if he had not been assassinated.

In the emotional period which followed the shooting of Bobby Kennedy, his prospects of achieving the Presidential endorsement were pictured as being brighter than they actually were.

Vice President Humphrey probably had the Presidential nomination pretty well sewed up before the voters even went to the polls in California.

As he was receiving the returns which showed him winning in California, Bobby obviously intended to carry his fight on into the convention at Chicago.

But it was difficult to see how he could win there. Bobby could have made an interesting fight of it. But Humphrey had too many delegates riding his bandwagon.

Angier School Raises $500 In Memory of Dr. M. L. King

The Student Council of the Angier Elementary School in Waban, went over their pledge of $500 in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Student Council sent $505 to Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr. in fulfillment of their pledge on April 11.

Enclosed is the letter written by Josh Mann, President of the Angier Elementary School.

June 3, 1968
Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr.
Dear Mrs. King,

Following a Memorial Service at our school for Dr. King, the Angier School Student Council, along with the 567 pupils felt deeply moved. Our principal, Dr. Rita Emmlaw, brought out our feelings by proposing to carry on Dr. King's high ideals within our school by having a drive to get money for scholarships for poor children. The Student Council undertook the campaign in memory of Dr. King. We also decided to send the money we receive to you to give to the organization that would best suit Dr. King's and our purpose.

We held a rally during a school day to begin to get our campaign rolling. We did exceptionally well. The campaign continued after this rally and money trickled in. At this point we received a great boost. Printed tags were donated by a company. The tags read, "I CARE".

Our school had an open house night for parents. I spoke to them in an assembly that night and told them about our campaign. After the assembly we sold the tags to the parents. In addition to this, at the annual PTA Fun Fair, we sold more tags.

On Monday, May 27th, we decided to hold a used book sale and White Elephant sale on Wednesday, the 29th of May. Along with some other student council officers, we launched a strenuous, short-notice drive. We had an overflow of items for the sale. On Friday, we lowered our prices and sold what was left over.

All of our rallies and sales were run by student council officers and committee chairmen. Speeches at our rallies were all composed by the student speakers.

Our goal was $500. On behalf of Angier School, I proudly present $505 to you to fulfill our purpose.

Sincerely,
Joshua Mann
President, Angier School Student Council

3 More Students Get Scholarships

Scholarships have been awarded to three more graduates at Newton South High School who received their diplomas on Wednesday night of last week.

Grace Hope Muscarella received a scholarship from the Simmons Club of Newton, while awards from the Newton High Schools' Scholarship Funds went to Carol Fisher and Haroutioun Yaghmourian.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Miller, of Waban, busy volunteer workers at the New England Deaconess Hospital, are shown at hospital's Thrift Shop where Mrs. Miller works. Together they have contributed more than 1,550 hours of volunteer work.

Donate Many Hours To Hospital Works

It was the antiques that drew her to it, says Mrs. Florence Miller of Waban, as she described how she began her long and faithful service as a volunteer worker at the New England Deaconess Hospital Thrift Shop.

Mrs. Miller, who has been a hospital volunteer for seven years now, heard of the volunteer service program at the Deaconess from another Waban resident, Mrs. Cora Hiltbrand, who has done over 10 years of volunteer work for NEDH.

She decided to combine her hobby of collecting antiques with some work at the hospital Thrift Shop where donated pieces of antiques, books and clothing abound.

Her husband, Philip Miller, followed suit after his retirement three years ago, by joining the volunteer work corps and helping out in the mail room.

Mrs. Miller has accumulated over 900 volunteer hours as a worker at the hospital and seems to be relishing every minute of her work there. Mr. Miller has contributed approximately 650 hours to the hospital and says emphatically, "I like it."

It is really quite nice. Together they have clocked over 1,550 hours of voluntary service work. They come in to work together and leave together for home at the end of their work day.

Both seem to find the hospital a good place to contribute their time and valuable assistance. And both are happy to be a part of the vital hospital volunteer service.

In addition to his work at the hospital, Mr. Miller serves as acting vice-chairman of the Red Cross blood bank. He is also on the board of directors and the executive committee of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Smith Student Due For Summer Tour of Europe

Miss Amy F. Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scott of 41 Leslie road, Auburndale, a member of the class of 1969, is one of 45 glee club members at Smith College who with singers from Princeton University will tour the music centers of Eastern and Western Europe this summer.

The group, known as the Smith-Princeton Chamber Chorus, will present 14 concerts in seven countries over a period of five weeks.

Following a week of intensive rehearsals in Princeton and a farewell concert at St. James' Episcopal Church in New York City on Wednesday evening June 12, the Chamber Chorus will fly to Copenhagen. Their first concert abroad will be given on Sunday, the 16th, in the Lutheran Church in Helsingborg, just north of the Danish capital.

In Germany the Chamber Chorus will sing in Berlin and Nuremberg, then travel by bus through Czechoslovakia, Austria and Yugoslavia to sing in Prague and Bratislava, in Vienna and Graz, and at the Ljubljano Festival.

Several performances will be given in Italy, including two in Florence and one in Venice where the Chamber Chorus will sing the High Mass at the Basilica San Marco, replacing the regular singers of the Capella Marciana.

A recording session is scheduled for Paris in mid-July and the tour will conclude with a concert in the Cathedral at Chartres on the 18th. Some of the students will return to the United States by plane on July 21, others remaining in Europe on vacation until the middle of August.

"Pick Up A Book and Grow" Is Theme Of Library Event

Pick up a book and grow! The Newton Free Library invites its young adult readers to visit the flower bower on the second floor of the Main Library (414 Centre Street, Newton Corner) where a new, revolving collection is fairly leaping off the shelves.

The old, juvenile-type books have been scrapped, and a beefed-up, lop-sided browsing collection has been selected to match the strong though uneven interests of today's young adults.

Citizens Urged To Plan for Mail During Vacation

Newton postal officials, under the direction of Postmaster Ephraim Martin, have issued strong recommendations to the public that they make plans for their mail while on vacation in the coming months. Such arrangements can be made either with the letter carrier or at the local post office.

Postmaster Martin stated that mail which is permitted to accumulate in and around a home mail receptacle is a clear indication of absence. Depending upon the length of absence, the letter carrier can suggest how the various kinds of mail can be handled. Change of Address Cards are available at any postoffice.

In providing forwarding summer addresses to the post-office, the name of the post-office through which mail is received must be furnished. It is not sufficient merely to list the name of a resort and a local area designation.

Persons who are not away on vacation in the Summer months should make special plans to remove all mail from their mail box immediately after the delivery.

Senders of post cards from resorts are likewise reminded that the postage rate on a card within the United States is now five cents and not the rate which may be posted on some private stamp machines found at resorts. It is recommended that vacationers take along a supply of stamps before heading to the mountains or seashore.

Every postoffice, large or very small, has a Zip Code. It is important that this Zip Code be included as a part of your resort address, which may be that of a sectional center postoffice which sorts mail for a number of surrounding towns.

The new collection is top-heavy with fiction, and strong in non-fiction areas of sports, drugs, UFO's, biography, and space.

As new books with particular appeal for young adults come in to the Library, they will replace others which have served their purpose in the special second-floor browsing collection.

A second revolving feature of the YA corner is a paperback rack crammed with the latest in soft-cover books. Contemporary periodicals, too will be offered. Newsclips and special booklists are displayed on a new Young Adult bulletin board titled Tune In.

One feature of the older collection which will be retained and maintained for the high-school crowd is the large group of college catalogues.

Young adult readers are invited to make suggestions for the new collection at the circulation desk on the first floor.

Psychedelic decor of the flower bower has been created and carried out by a creative young adult of the Library Staff, Miss Jody Baker of Newton.

MRS. MICHAEL MARCUS

Pretty June Bridal Unites Miss Halpern - Mr. Marcus

The Hotel Berkeley-Carteret, Asbury Park, N.J., was the recent setting for the marriage of Miss Gali Bondi Halpern to Michael Jay Marcus.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Halpern of Long Branch, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marcus of 52 Greenlawn avenue, Newton, are the groom's parents.
Rabbi Albert L. Raab officiated at the double ring service in a setting of yellow and white flowers. A reception followed the ceremony.
Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a long sleeve gown marked with bands of jeweled Venise lace daisies over a sheath. The full Chapel length Watteau train was banded with similar daisies.
A coronet of crystal orange blossoms held in place her bouffant imported pure silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of orchids, stephanotis and valley lilies.
Mrs. Harvey Finks of Phoenix, Arizona, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow chiffon gown. Rosettes and bows of matching material was fastened with her short illusion veil. Her flowers were French feathered carnations and stephanotis.
Similarly attired, the bridesmaids were Miss Karen Horn and Miss Irene Platzblatt, both of New York City.
Barton Halpern of Long Branch, N.J., brother of the bride, served as best man.

PTA Council Creative Arts Committee Ends Its Season

The Creative Arts Committee of the Newton P.T.A. Council held its final meeting of the year on June 4 at the Division of Instruction.

Mrs. Sidney Greenleaf, continuing co-chairman, reiterated the committee's belief that "without exposure to excellence in the Creative Arts, education cannot achieve its goal of providing the total human experience." In support of this philosophy, the committee serves primarily as a clearing house and coordinator of materials and potential in-school programs relative to the arts.

The Creative Arts Committee auditions and submits for faculty approval all available programs on both the classroom and auditorium scales, thus enabling the Newton student to expand his world, or at the very least, expose him to the creative person.

In this capacity, committee members often find themselves in the role of entrepreneur, developing and refining new presentations by young artists for young audiences.

Among the programs most favorably received by both students and faculty this year were the Theatre Company of Boston's performance of selections by e. e. cummings and by Dylan Thomas, improvisations and theatre games; Rod Rodgers' demonstration of modern dance; Richard Lewis, reading selected poems for children; The Emmanuel College Opera Workshop's outstanding recital, and graphic demonstrations by Linda Janower and Elaine Eisenberg.

The Creative Arts Committee operates with two delegates from each Newton Public School plus members with special functions serving as liaison between school and community, as with the Youth Concerts at Symphony Hall, and establishing service corps of parents to work closely with teachers in classroom situations.

Mrs. Marlowe Sigal, outgoing co-chairman, announced a partial list of the committee for the 1968-69 season as follows: Angier School: Rena-

What do you tell your child about God?

Or, more important, what do you tell yourself about God?
Nothing has greater bearing on your well-being and your child's.
The confidence you have in God's love helps your child feel God's presence. It helps him gain confidence in good. And it creates an atmosphere of harmony, which is so important in any home.
The Bible, books, and periodicals in our Reading Room can help you research and prove for yourself the truth about God and man. And this can bless all the members of your family.

PTA Council Closes Season With Sen. Kennedy Tribute

Sixty fifth and sixth graders at the Clafin School in Newtonville sang and acted in a spiritual program, "The Family of Man," dedicating the final meeting of the Newton PTA Council to the memory of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Charlotte Howard, principal of the Clafin School, was hostess. Mrs. Barbara Carlson and Miss Mary Rowley, teachers at the school, directed the program, based on the theme, "every man is all men, and all belong to the family of man." Bernard I. Kaplan, retiring president of the PTA Council, urged the group of more than 300 to remain involved with relevant community issues.

Pointing to current violence, Kaplan said: "We must keep in mind that perpetrators of violence were influenced during childhood by their schools and their communities."

Kaplan reminded parents that the PTA is the only city-wide organization to cut across all ethnic, religious, and income level lines.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Gershen Rosenbloom, building committee; Sol Kaufman, liaison committee; Nomi Henes, treasurer; and Mrs. E. Philip Levine, co-chairman of the Regional Spring Conference.

Mrs. Marlowe Sigal reported on activities of the Creative Arts Committee and Robert Sandman and Mrs. Gary Loreda distributed literature about the findings of the Safety Committee.

A resolution that the building committee remain active throughout the summer was passed unanimously. Recommendations were made that the Liaison Building and Safety Committees become standing committees.

Peter Scott, president of the Weeks Junior High PTA, was elected third vice president of the council.

Newton Rabbi To Boston Conclave

Rabbi Bernard Bloomstone, Temple Beth Avodah, Newton Centre, will lead his colleagues in prayer at a workshop session on Interreligious Relations Wednesday morning, June 19, during the 79th annual convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis to be held June 17 to 20 at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston.

"Where Are We Now?" will be the theme of the meeting of the Rabbinic Association of more than 1,000 Reform Jewish leaders convening in Boston this year.

Boston Jaycees Present Top Honor To Newtonite

On Friday evening the Greater Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce elected Iain McAvoy of Newton Centre to the position of Senator of the Junior Chamber International in recognition of his outstanding contributions to the community and the nation.

Mr. McAvoy is the first member in the history of the Boston Chamber to be elected to this highest honorary position in their international organization.

In making the presentation, Mr. Sweeney, Boston president, quoted Gov. John A. Volpe who said of McAvoy, "his efforts have made a significant effect toward the creation of an improved image of the Commonwealth and the country abroad."

A sales manager with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, Mr. McAvoy's contributions to this community include serving as a member of the board of directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for four years; a member of the Mayor's Committee for the War Memorial Auditorium, assistant to the Commissioner of the Department of Public Works, in charge of coordinating their traffic safety program with state-wide voluntary groups; a member of the original committee formed to create legislation for the elimination of the archaic statutory powers of the Governor's Council; a member of the joint committee which helped draft the State's political campaign contributions laws; and as special assistant to both governors Peabody and Volpe.

Mr. McAvoy is especially identified in Boston with international understanding. In 1962 he organized and was chairman of the first and what has now become an annual International Student Day in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

For his work in the international area and his effort to enhance our image abroad, Mr. McAvoy was selected by the World Affairs Council and the Massachusetts Committee for the United Nations to receive their 1965 Annual Award as the "citizen of Massachusetts who has contributed most significantly to International Understanding and to the principles of the United Nations."

Mr. McAvoy lives at 43 Bow Rd., with his wife, the former Johnette Johnian of Winchester, and their daughter, Lorette.

5 Newton Girls Graduate From Vermont College

Vermont College Montpelier, a private 2-year college for women, awarded degrees to five Newton area students during Commencement exercises at the school on Sunday (June 2).

Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr., executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges and The Rev. Kathleen Weed, pastor of the Methodist Church, East Boothbay, Mr., were commencement and baccalaureate speakers at the ceremony.

Earning degrees in child study were Rosalyn Aronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Aronson of 32 Wessex road, Newton and Janie Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Eaton of 837 Dedham street, Newton.

Liberal arts majors to graduate were Victoria Lieberman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Lieberman of 209 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton and Jane Cherney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cherney of 6 Ferncroft road, Waban.

Barbara Ann Burman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burman of 11 Wessex road, Newton Centre received a degree in nursing.

All the girls attended Newton High Schools.

Martin Gilman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Gilman of 55 Ballard street, Newton, performed in the Annual Berklee Commencement concert recently held at the New England Life Hall. He has pursued a course leading to a baccalaureate degree with a major in Music Education at Berklee and will be qualified for a career as a teacher, musician, arranger and composer.

Reimburse City On Anti-Trust Salt Overcharge

The City of Newton will shortly receive its share in the recent recovery of $151,000.00 in anti-trust overcharges on highway salt, it was recently announced by Attorney General Elliot Richardson.

Bernard I. Kaplan, Newton attorney, was counsel on behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and a number of cities, towns, and state agencies in the suit against Morton Salt Company of Chicago. International Salt Company of Clark Summit, Pennsylvania, and Diamond Crystal Salt Company of Detroit. Brought before the Federal District Court in Boston, the case involved price-fixing in the sale of rock salt for de-icing purposes to public bodies in the state of Massachusetts.

Newton's share of the recovered funds, amounting to $2,731.35 is now being processed by the office of the State Treasurer.

Norwich Honor To Dr. Pearson

The Rev. Dr. Roy Pearson, president of Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree by Norwich University at the Vermont college's annual commencement exercises.

Dr. Pearson was honored for his many contributions as a clergyman, author, educator and school president, General Barksdale Hamlett, USA (ret.) told the commencement gathering. The Andover Newton head served as the baccalaureate speaker at the Norwich exercises.

Spend Weekend At Conn. College

Two Newton area residents, alumnae of Connecticut College returned to the campus Friday (June 7) for the annual reunion weekend and alumnae college. Weekend activities included, academic sessions, a stag luncheon for husbands, tour of the Naval Submarine Base in New London, Ct., banquets, and worship services.

Mrs. John L. Ray of 90 Garner st., Newton and Mrs. G. Harrison Ainley of 79 Fountain st., West Newton, attended from this area.

One of 65 graduates of Vermont Academy, Saxton River, Vt., is Robert L. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loring W. Powell of 50 Hinkleley road, Waban. He was a cheerleader, member of the Outing Club and has earned a J.V. letter in skiing and a varsity letter in tennis. He will enter the University of Denver in the fall.

Lee Loumos Says:

As an activist, I find it repeatedly difficult each year to understand human nature. Not that I think it is bad, just peculiar. I have sent out reminders to my regular clientele to anticipate their air conditioning purchases and servicing needs, and as usual the vast majority have waited until the first hot spell before taking action, and some still don't understand why we can't give them our normal prompt service. Fortunately, a few cool days of rain have let us catch up, but you know that any day it's going to get hot and humid again. So why not call us now, just after you read this, and put in your order without further delay!

Cash Balance is Dwindling Says Treasurer Crane

Massachusetts' cash balance for May was $45.6 million a drop of nearly $10 million, State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane noted in his latest report on the financial condition of the Commonwealth.

The decrease in the cash balance, Treasurer Crane pointed out, resulted from the fact that total disbursements for May exceeded receipts, with expenditures hitting the mark $382,432,051 as against total receipts of $372,774,232. Treasurer Crane reported the May cash balance as $45,682,457 as compared with April's cash balance of $55,350,277.

The Commonwealth's bonded indebtedness, Treasurer Crane reports, is $1,049,848,000 as compared with $989,449,000 at the start of June, 1967.

Harry Hauser Named VP With Hotel Chain

Harry R. Hauser of Newton Centre, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary for Hotel Corporation of America, has been elected vice president of the corporation according to an announcement by President Roger P. Sonnabend.

Hauser, prior to joining HCA, was attorney in the law department of the Sperry Rand Corporation, and has been associated with Hotel Corporation of America since 1961. He was elected secretary there in 1965 and general counsel in 1967.

A native of Great Neck, New York, Mr. Hauser, who is 36 years old, attended the Great Neck public schools and is a graduate of Brown University and Columbia University School of Law. He received his LL.B. degree in 1959 and was admitted to practice in the State of New York in that same year and in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1963.

Mr. Hauser is a Director of the Brown University Club of Boston, Inc., a member of the American Bar Association, the Boston Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association, and he is active in the American Society of Corporate Secretaries and in the Educational Program of the American Management Association, having been a guest lecturer in the Corporate Secretaries Course and Co-Chairman of that Course, as well as the Seminar, "Administering the Corporate Legal Function."

Hauser joined the Navy in 1954 and, following his graduation from Officers Candidate School at Newport, Rhode Island, was assigned to the Navy's famed Hurricane Squadron. As an air-borne officer, he was part of a crew whose job it was to fly into the eye of storms to determine their size and velocity.

He is married to the former Deborah Marlowe and they have four sons: Mark Jeffrey, 12; Joshua Brook, 9; Bradford John, 5; and Matthew Milton, 7 months. Their home is in Newton Centre, Massachusetts.

Optometry Office Open in Needham By Dr. Leavitt

Dr. Harvey W. Leavitt has announced his opening for the general practice of Optometry at 1116 Great Plain ave., Needham.

Dr. Leavitt is a graduate of the University of Maine and The Massachusetts College of Optometry.

Following his graduation from the Massachusetts College of Optometry, he became a laboratory consultant for the Wesley-Jessen Contact Lens Co. in Boston and was a member of the refracting staff at the Boston Medical Dispensary.

Dr. Leavitt has been practicing optometry in Boston for the past seven years and has been active in contact lens research. He has lectured in contact lenses at the Massachusetts College of Optometry and has been certified in contact lenses by the New England Council of Optometry.

Dr. Leavitt is a member of Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity and the Pi Omicron Sigma Optometric Fraternity. He is a member of good standing with the Mass. Society of Optometrists and the American Optometric Association.

Dr. Leavitt plans to give special emphasis in his practice of optometry to children's vision and contact lenses.

Report On Flood Control Of Charles Is Submitted

The plan for the new Charles River Dam in the lower basin is in Washington now for top level review. The report was submitted with the strong recommendation of Governor John A. Volpe and the Metropolitan District Commission.

The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, the Chief of Engineers, Massachusetts U.S. Senators and area Congressmen received the recommendation for the $26.5 million structure from Colonel Remi O. Renier, head of the Corps of Engineers New England Division. The plan represents an interim report prepared by the Corps on its study of the Charles River Watershed. This report relates to the Charles between the Moody Street bridge, Waltham, and the Boston harbor limits.

Approval and Congressional authorization will clear the way for construction of a modern, multiple-purpose dam to be built at Warren avenue, Boston, 2250 feet downstream from the existing 58-year old structure at Leverett Street.

As agreed to by the Governor and MDC Chairman, Howard Whitmore, Jr., and Associate Commissioners, the Corps will build the dam with the Federal Government contributing $18.6 million and the Commonwealth $7.9 million.

The new dam will include three navigation locks, a large pumping station and four-dation for an overhead traffic viaduct. Conduits will discharge excess basin inflow to tidewater under normal conditions. Pumps would accomplish this need during a flood threat. Lowlands and sewer flooding would be eliminated. A fish ladder in the dam would afford immediate access to the spawning habitat between the new dam and Moody Street, Waltham, in anticipation of eventual full realization of the fishery potential of the river. Saltwater intrusion into the basin would be virtually eliminated.

Preservation and enhancement of the highly prized urban environment created by the Lower Basin is a prime engineering consideration.

"The new dam is the initial element in a comprehensive development program to meet the overall water resources needs of the watershed," Colonel Renier said. He pointed out that in a recurring flooding and the breaking of navigation and transportation bottlenecks.

Colonel Renier gratefully acknowledged the continuing coordination and interest provided the Corps by the Charles River Coordinating Committee, including the Federal Water Pollution Control Commission and the Fish and Wildlife Service, both of the Department of Interior; the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the Department of Transportation and the Metropolitan District Commission. He singled out for special accolade the Charles River Advisory Committee for their constructive contribution in the continuing study of the entire watershed which is scheduled for completion by 1971 at an estimated cost of $660,000.

Postponed last week, the Photography Show and "Photo Jamboree," featuring exhibitions and demonstrations of the latest advances in photographic equipment will be held Friday night and all day Saturday (June 14 and 15) at Caldor's Framingham discount department store. The Framingham Caldor is located on Route 9 next to Shopper's World.

Andrea Nunes, Miss Framingham State College, will attend the Jamboree on Friday between 6 and 9 p.m. to open the two-day celebration formally, according to Julius M. Golombik, Caldor photographic equipment buyer, who is in charge of arrangements. Miss Massachusetts, Maria-Lynn Chaffee, will attend the event from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Among the attractions at the show will be live models, wearing the latest Caldor swim suits and summer fashions, who will pose for "shut-bugs." Free color photographs will be available from the Caldor "Polaroid Girls," and black and white photos will be distributed during an "Instant Minox" camera demonstration.

The Photo Show will run from 6 to 10 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Stop reading The Way They Did 100 Years Ago

100 years ago, people read the way you're reading right now.

Word by word. About 300 or so words a minute.

And 100 years ago, that kind of reading didn't cause any problems. You could keep up with what was happening pretty well.

But today, our knowledge is exploding so fast that people who want to keep ahead are actually falling behind. There's simply too much to read. Too much homework. Too many books. Too many reports and memos.

What's the solution? Learn how to read faster and better.

You can do it, too. So far over 300,000 other people have done it. People with different jobs, different educations. Students, businessmen, housewives.

These people have all taken a course developed by Evelyn Wood, a prominent educator. And all of them have at least tripled their reading speed with equal or better comprehension. Most have increased it even more. Some have increased it 10, even 20 times.

Think for a moment what that means.

All of them — even the slowest — can now read an average novel in less than two hours. They can read this ad in 15 seconds. They can read an entire issue of Time in 15 minutes.

They don't skip or skim either. They read every single word. Nor do they use machines. Instead, they let the material they're reading determine how fast they read.

And — mark this well — they actually understand more and enjoy more than when they read like you. That's right. They remember more. They enjoy more.

You can do the same thing — even if you're a relatively slow reader now. In fact, if you don't at least triple your reading ability, the course won't cost you a thing.

This is the same course President Kennedy had his Joint Chiefs of Staff take. The same one Senators and Congressmen have taken.

It's eight weeks long, 2½ hours a week, with classes held regularly in Boston, Andover, Lexington.

Shouldn't you find out more about it? You can, simply by coming to a free one-hour demonstration.

We'll show you a film. Explain the course more fully. Answer any questions you might have.

You'll be under no pressure to enroll. If you don't want to, fine. But do come. It could change your life.

REARING BACK — Newton South fastball hurler, Frank Hurvitz, rears back and fires the ball during the late innings of a game against Waltham. The Waltham runner takes a cautious lead off first because Hurvitz is a skilled picker-offer. In three innings he picked off two men. The extra legs in the photo belong to first baseman Dave Roberts. Despite Hurvitz' valiant effort, South lost the game in extra innings, 2-1. — Photo by Belson

Brandeis Sport Honors Go To Nine Newtonites

Nine Newton residents were honored by Brandeis University recently at the Varsity All-Sports Banquet. Junior Mike Fradkin was chosen the Most Improved Player in Soccer by Coach Alan Grayson to head the letter-winners list. Kevin Anderson of 29 Glenwood avenue, Newton, received letters in basketball and baseball. The 6-1 sophomore played high school ball at Catholic Memorial. Bruce Singal of 31 Bruce Lane, Newton, was also awarded a letter in basketball. A 6-4 forward, Singal saw much action during the latter part of the season for Coach K.C. Jones' basketball squad. George Frost of West Newton headed the list of baseball winners. Frost, senior captain of the Judges, proved an inspirational leader for Coach Hubie LeBlanc's nine. Barry Freedman of 51 Mt. Alvernia road, Newton, also won a letter in baseball. Junior Howie Beckman of 40 Schofield drive, Newton, received a letter in lacrosse as did Elliot Goldberg of 95 Beekman road, Newton. Beckman is captain-elect of the 1969 Brandeis lacrosse team. Other letter-winners are Dan Ravin of 144 Upland road, Waban, in track and cross-country and Dave Lillienfeld of 98 Collins road, Waban, in golf. President Abram L. Sachar addressed the banquet and more than 150 athletes were honored.

Openings Still Available At Comm. Service Day Camp

Anthony J. Bibbo, Executive Director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., announces that there are still a number of openings in the agency's Kinder & Day Camp Programs. Key staff for the programs includes: Miss Edith A. Babkey, Kinder Kamp Director; Miss Bonnie Algeri, Kinder Kamp Program Director; Mr. James C. Callahan, Day Camp Director; Mrs. M. Karen Wright, Day Camp Program Director; Mrs. Stanley Aston, registrar; and Mr. Anthony Quintiliani, transportation coordinator. Mr. Robert Jackson will serve as a general coordinator for special events. The Day Camp, located on a private camp site located at the Sever Hale Reservation in Westwood, includes 30 acres of tree covered land, swimming facilities, cookout and accommodations and 300 acres of long winding nature trails. The activity is varied with swimming (free swimming and instruction) arts and crafts, hikes, sports, cookouts, and trips included. Children bring sandwiches and are served milk. Day Camp serves boys and girls 7-12 years of age. Kinder kamp for boys and girls 3 and one-half to 6 years of age, is located on the beautiful grounds to the rear of the Warren Jr. High School. Facilities available, make this an all-weather Monday through Friday week. Boys and girls will find a carefully selected program ready for their daily activity. It will include supervised play, varied games, stories, trips to farms and other points of interest such as zoos and play areas, cookouts and use of a wading pool. Children bring their own lunches — milk and a morning snack time of crackers and juice are provided. For additional information, please call the Centers at 244-2260 or 244-5614. Registrations will be taken at 429 Cherry st., West Newton, Monday-Friday 9:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m.

Lions' Tennis Team Seeks Championship

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

Newton South continued on its merry way to its second consecutive state tennis championship. In the semi-final round of the Eastern Massachusetts team tourney, the Lions battered cross-town rival Newton High, 5-0. This marked the third time this season that South triumphed over the Tigers.

Singles players Bucky Adams, Gary Mescon, Andy Cornblatt and the doubles team of Alan and Billy Starr rolled to easy victories. It took a little more effort for the first doubles duo of Bruce Cornblatt and Noah Bronson to subdue their foes. But they triumphed, 12-10, 7-5, to record their 42nd straight win as a team.

On June 5, South gained revenge over a tough Winchester squad — the only team to defeat the Lions this season. The 4-1 victory gave Newton the EMass title. Andy Cornblatt absorbed the only loss, a 3-6, 6-2, 6-1 decision.

South, now 19-1, advances to the state tournament where it will meet Western Massachusetts runner-up, Doherty High. Winchester also advances, to battle Western champion Longmeadow.

Aerobatic and Parachute Show At Hanscom AFB

The Air Force Thunderbirds and the Army's Golden Knights will perform for the Open House observance at Hanscom Field, Mass., this Saturday, June 15. The jet aerobatic demonstration and the free-fall parachute show, plus the displays are expected to attract a crowd of some 150,000 people.

To handle the anticipated heavy traffic in the vicinity of Hanscom Field, special details of state, local, and Air Police will be on duty to facilitate the flow of vehicles entering the base.

Inside the field, special parking areas have been set aside to handle some 30,000 cars.

Snack bars and refreshment stands will be set up on the flight line.

Gates will open at 10 a.m. for six hours. Entrance to the field will be off Route 2A between Concord and Lexington. Visitors using Route 128 should take turn off at the 45W Exit and follow the signs.

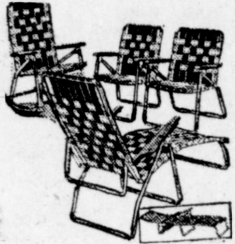

The heaviest flow of traffic is expected to be about noon. To avoid this, visitors are advised to come early. Photography will be permitted anywhere on the flight line.

Carroll School Names Officers At '68 Meeting

At the recently held annual meeting of the corporation of The Carroll School, West Newton, Dean E. Roberts was elected a trustee. Mr. Roberts is completing his first year as headmaster of this 83-year-old school, which changed its curriculum last fall to specialize in helping children with developmental dyslexia.

During the year, enrollment increased from 18 to 39 pupils in Grades 1 through 5. Next year a sixth grade will be added with enrollment estimated at 50 students.

Samuel L. Lowe, Jr., of Newtonville, was re-elected treasurer and Noah T. Herndon of Weston was elected clerk of the corporation.

At its organizational meeting, the trustees made several changes in the officers: F. Gorham Brigham, Jr., of West Newton, a vice president of Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, was elected chairman of the board succeeding Loomis Patrick, Esq., also of West Newton; Dr. Edwin M. Cole of Lincoln was elected vice chairman, a new position, and Noah T. Herndon was elected assistant treasurer.

Newton Girl Is Valedictorian At Commencement

The naming of valedictorians, one from Newton marked the completion of final preparations for the 39th commencement exercises of the Hebrew Teachers College and graduation exercises of the Hebrew High School.

The ceremonies will take place Sunday, June 16, on the HTC campus, at 43 Hawes street, Brookline.

The college valedictorians, according to HTC President Philip W. Low, are Marc Rotstein, of Malden, and Paula Tarutz, of West Newton. Serving as High School valedictorians will be Philip Kraft of Chelsea and Thelma Brier of West Roxbury.

Miss Tarutz, who will deliver the English valedictory address, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leo Tarutz, of Washington street, West Newton.

Many Newtonites Donate To Heart Fund Memorial Gifts

Late friends and relatives of Newton residents honored by memorial gifts to the Heart Fund during the past five months were announced recently by Dr. James A. Bougas, president of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

"Heart Fund memorial gifts are fitting tributes to our friends and loved ones who have passed away," Dr. Bougas said. "It is particularly appropriate to recall that such gifts not only express remembrance and love for those who have gone, but also spell hope and longer life for others in the future through continuing support of the research, education, and community service programs of the Heart Association."

Any sum may be given as a memorial through the Greater Boston Chapter of the Heart Association at 677 Beacon street, Boston 02215.

Raphael Soyer To Exhibit In Newton June 15 to July 12th

As he enters his second half century of printmaking, Raphael Soyer will be honored with a one-man exhibition of recent etchings and lithographs at the Berman-Medallie Gallery, Center for the Graphic Arts, 10 Austin St., Newtonville Square, Saturday, June 15, through Friday, July 12.

Few of the leading American painters in this century have maintained a lifelong interest in printmaking. Of the painters who began making prints in the 1920s, and the 1930s, Raphael Soyer is one of a handful with a consistent production throughout the decades.

As a painter and printmaker, Soyer's work is deceptively simple and straight-forward. He depicts the world around him. His subjects are himself, his friends, men and women, derelicts, dancers — in their immediate surroundings: shops, street, subways, etc. To that extent, his art is realistic. As expressed by Jacob Kainen, Consultant on Prints and Drawings, National Collection of Fine Arts,

Washington, D.C.: "Breadth of drawing lies at the heart of Soyer's prints, as of his paintings."

"His drawing is direct, expressive, and without rhetoric. It suggests rather than describes; it gives the sense of structure without being anatomically explicit. His lines are loose, caressing and spontaneous. Light spreads over his forms in a gentle shimmer that modifies tones and textures, creating intimate shadows and half-shadows. The mood is soft and tender."

Born Christmas Day, 1889, in Tombov, Russia, Raphael Soyer studied at Cooper Union, National Academy of Design, and the Art Students' League, New York.

From 1926, and his first group exhibition, he has exhibited at museums and galleries through the length and breadth of the United States. His one-man exhibitions have included the Daniel Gallery, L'Elan Gallery, Curt Valentin Gallery, Frank K. M. Rehn Gallery, Associated American Artist Gallery, all New York;

Double Honors To Women's Club Of Newton Centre

The Newton Centre Woman's Club received double honors this month. Mrs. F. Earle Conn, Club President, announces receipt of a Citation to the Club from the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation "for effective community action through The Community Improvement Program 1966-1968."

The Club entered this effort for a two-year period and successfully submitted its projects in report nationally.

CARE also sent the Club a Citation for "100 per cent participation" for the year past. CARE donations and gifts come under the direction of the Veterans' and World Service Committee, headed by Mrs. Al Leslie Harwood, Jr., and the late Mrs. William T. Stensieck, both of Newton Centre.

Watershed Members To Cruise Charles

A flotilla of pleasure boats from the Watertown Yacht Club will take members of the Charles River Watershed Association on a tour of the Charles River Basin on Saturday, June 15. Departure will be from the W.Y.C. floats at 1:30 p.m.

Following the tour, MDC Chairman Howard Whitmore, Jr., will address the Watershed Association to discuss the proposed Warren Avenue Dam, the new Cambridge sewage withholding tank, and related Charles River problems.

Spaulding PTA Fair To Be On Sat., June 15

The Spaulding School playground (off Brookline street) is the place chosen for the Spaulding PTA "Field Day" to be held this Saturday (June 15) from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Feature of the Fair again this year will be the delightful Traveling Zoo from Franklin Park with some wild and woolly animals on exhibit. Numerous and exciting games will give everyone an opportunity to try their luck and skill. Prizes will be awarded to every player at each game with special prizes to the experts.

The usual delicious franks, donuts, soda and ice cream will be available. All are invited. Organizers of this year's events are Mrs. Renee Joseph and Mr. George Buffington with their many willing assistants.

Final Meeting For Bowen PTA Held on May 21

The Parent Teacher Association held their annual meeting at the Bowen School Tuesday evening, May 21, which included a Spring concert by the students. Performing for the parents were the Bowen Ensemble, directed by Vincent J. Marotto; the Glee Club directed by Helen Taylor; the Drama Club, directed by Aline Shader and the Recorder Ensemble.

Highlights of the evening were excerpts from "Oliver" by the combined Drama and Glee Clubs. A short message from Principal Clark preceded the evening's entertainment.

Following the program a message of thanks was delivered by the outgoing president, Mr. Meltzer, and the slate of officers for the 1968-1969 season was presented as follows:

President — Mr. and Mrs. Peter Morehouse; vice president — Mr. and Mrs. Jason Kirshen, Miss Carol A. De-Cross; corresponding secretary — Mrs. Leon Gammern; recording secretary — Mrs. G. Octo Barnett; treasurer — Mrs. Alex B. Wallace.

Newtonites On European Tour

Two students from the Newton area are members of the Kenyon College Choir Tour of Europe, the first in the 144 year history of the Gambier, Ohio school.

Robert P. Fine of 45 Gralynn road, Newton Centre, and Joseph B. Mick of 82 Carver road, Newton Highlands, are among the 40 members of the choir who are now in Germany, enroute to Brussels, Belgium, for another concert during the three-week tour. They will perform in France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and England, returning home on Wednesday (June 26) after a total of 20 appearances.

Philadelphia Art Alliance. His group exhibitions have included the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts; Phillips Gallery, Washington, D.C.; Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh; Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond, Virginia; the Art Institute of Chicago; California Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

In 1967 he was honored with a Retrospective Exhibition at the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York.

Three times the winner of the Carnegie Institute Honorable Mention Award (Pittsburgh), Soyer has a long list of awards and commendations. They include the Norman Wait Harris Gold Medal of the Art Institute of Chicago, 1932; Carol H. Beck Gold Medal, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, 1934; 1943 Joseph H. Temple Gold Medal; 1951 William A. Clark Prize and Corcoran Gold Medal; 1959 ART USA first prize.

Soyer is a member of the National Academy of Design and the National Institute of Arts and Letters. His abilities as a teacher are hailed by those on whose staffs he has served, viz. Art Students' League, American Artists School, New School for Social Research and National Academy of Design, New York.

Soyer prints are found in the collections of the Addison Gallery of American Art, Andover, Mass.; the Boston Museum of Fine Arts; the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York; Butler Institute of American Art; Philadelphia Museum of Art; Whitney Museum of American Art, New York; Museum of Modern Art, New York; the Brooklyn Museum, and many more.

The artist has produced two full length publications, and at least three illustrated works have been written about him.

The etchings and lithographs of Raphael Soyer will be on view at the Berman-Medallie Gallery, Center for the Graphic Arts, 10 Austin St., Newtonville Square, Saturday, June 15, through Friday, July 12, on a Tuesday through Saturday schedule of 10:30-5:30 and Wednesday to nine.

Former Newton Resident Author Of New Handbook

Mrs. Gretchen S. Sanderson, formerly of Newton Centre is author-artist of the new handbook just published by the Instructor Publications in New York.

The book is titled Art Magic with Paper Bags & Flat Papier Mache. It covers over 100 projects designed for the elementary level but contains many useful ideas for scouts, home, camps and parties.

Linda and Eric Carlson of West Newton, pupils at the Peirce Elementary School in West Newton, Grades 3 and 6, worked with Mrs. Sanderson on numerous projects and posed for photographs in the book.

Mrs. Sanderson is presently teaching art at the Belmont Senior High School.

Student Revolts Offer Little Positive -- Dean Guest Declares

"Let me remind you graduates again that you will be surprised how quickly you will reach thirty and become part of the mistrusted generation yourselves," Dr. Francis H. Horn, President of the Commission on Independent Colleges of the State of New York, declared in his commencement address to the graduating class of almost 300 Dean Junior College seniors this morning in Dean's Louis A. R. Pieri Gymnasium.

In developing his theme "The Student Revolt: A Defense of the Older Generation," Dr. Horn asserted that "even if young people tend not to trust their elders collectively, they do trust them individually. I urge you graduates not to cut yourself off from contact with your elders, but to listen to them and learn from their wisdom and experience. Of course, young people really do this. The 'sage of the New Left,' for example, Professor Marcuse, is 70. He, of course, is also in revolt against contemporary society.

"This leads me to my second point in defense of the older generation. Its members may be part of the Establishment against which youth is rebelling, but many of the older generation, probably most of us, are unhappy over aspects of the society we inhabit. . . the young do not have a monopoly on idealism or social consciousness. They did not discover justice and love, as TIME points out in this week's cover story."

At another point in his remarks, Dr. Horn ascribed a certain short-sightedness to the current crop of student revolutionaries: "Unlike those of their elders who recognize the ills of society without despairing of society itself, yet are trying to do something about these ills, the student-revolutionaries have little by way of a positive program, no specific blueprint for the better society they envisage, except a demand that students be in on decision-making. The older generation has tried to make a better world, not by pulling society down, but by working at reforming it and remaking it closer to the heart's desire. And American society today with all its faults, constitutes the best society the world has seen in its long history."

"Surely we elders must respect our students, try to understand them, learn to work with them to improve our educational institutions and our society in general. . . Somehow, together we must find the way to bridge the generation gap and to join forces to work for the better world which we all desire."

Dr. Horn's commencement address marked the climax of Dean's annual alumni reunion-commencement weekend, a program of events which witnessed the return of more than 900 alumni, parents, and friends of Dean to the 102-year-old institution. For Dr. Horn himself it marked a return to familiar territory since he served with great distinction as the President of the University of Rhode Island from 1958 through part of 1967.

Donald E. Deyo, President of Dean Junior College, presented the diplomas to the graduates at the commencement exercises and also conferred the Associate degrees in course.

Included among this year's graduates were students from such foreign countries as France, Belgium, Austria, and Thailand as well as others from some of the more distant of the United States such as Florida and Colorado.

Founded as an academic institution in 1865, in recent years Dean Junior College has compiled an enviable record in transferring its graduates into the junior year of this country's better four-year colleges and universities.

This Week's Best Buy

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture

June has been tabbed variously as Dairy Month, wedding Month, graduation month, with good reason, but local farmers seem to be out to make it Salad Month, judged by the heavy receipts of salad ingredients from nearby fields.

The Massachusetts Department of Agriculture reports 14 different vegetables useful for salads as in good supply at economical prices this week. They include asparagus, beets, green beans, collards, greenhouse cucumbers and tomatoes, dandelions and leeks. Lettuce lovers can go "rabbit" in a big way with five varieties to munch: Boston, Iceberg, Romaine, Bibb and Salad Bowl.

Mustard greens, scallions and rhubarb are plentiful and low-priced. Spring dug parsnips, broccoli, rabe, spinach, controlled atmosphere McIntosh and Red Delicious apples are all in supply deemed adequate for demand.

Eggs are low-priced, with mediums, jumbos and extra large the best buys.

A delicious hot weather main dish for homemakers to try is Boston Baked Ring Mold, with native spinach and eggs:

Cook and drain a half pound of spinach. Chop fine. Mix with: 3 beaten eggs, one-quarter cup melted butter, one-quarter cup heavy cream, one and-a-half cups soft bread crumbs, one teaspoon instant minced onion, one and-a-half teaspoons seasoned salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon flavor booster. Pour into greased six-cup ring mold. Put in pan of hot water, bake in 350 degree oven one hour. Unmold on hot platter. Fill center with your own favorite recipe for creamed eggs. Serves 6.

Today's Agri-Fact: Strange as it seems, water flows upward against gravity from the underground lake, or water table, below your land. Lawns, trees, shrubs — all plants — benefit especially from this phenomenon of nature after a series of heavy rains. Even though a hot dry day may make the grass look parched, a history of prior rains usually means the water table is high enough to reinstate upward flow the next heavy soaking.

Harry Lamb To California For Convention

Harry J. Lamb, 292 Waltham st., West Newton, was a delegate to the 10th Biennial Convention of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE) in San Francisco, Calif., this week (June 10, 11 and 12). He is president of the Watertown Chapter of the local organization of this group.

NARFE is regarded as "The Champion of Retired Federal Employees" and all retired employees of the United States Government are eligible for membership.

Watertown Chapter meets at 2 p.m. on the 3rd Tuesday of each month (except July and August) in the Watertown Administration Building. Applications for membership may be obtained by contacting the Secretary, Richard M. Hill, 112 Washington avenue, Waltham.

More May Be Eligible For Disability Benefits—SS Head

Arthur H. Birkett, Jr., district manager of the Norwood social security office said that social security has protected insured workers and their families from the loss of earnings that accompanies serious disability since 1954. These benefits have been very important in keeping families together and helping them during the period when the family income has been seriously depleted because of the disability of one of its working members.

The people that work in the Norwood district office almost daily see the value of disability benefits to a worker and his family. However, 1954 was a long time ago to people who are ill presently and the benefits paid them would not serve the current need. The Social Security program is a dynamic one, so there have been several liberalizing changes in the law.

The most recent changes increased the amount of monthly benefits, made more young workers eligible for disability benefits, and most significantly made benefits available in a reduced amount for disabled widows and disabled widowers at age 50 or later.

Mr. Birkett said, "If you believe that you or any member of your family can qualify for disability benefits you should contact the Norwood district office located at 17 Cottage Street East, Norwood."

The office is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, with extra office hours until 7 p.m. on Tuesdays.

DON'T LOSE YOUR "COOL" IN A HEAT WAVE!!

New for you cooling comfort...

The Biggest Breakthrough in Central Air Conditioning in 20 years

Executive AIR CONDITIONER

Now, from the people who are famous for making people comfortable, comes the great new EXECUTIVE CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONER. Here's the unit that adds up to everything engineers have been striving for . . . the perfect balance of Efficiency, Economy, and Beauty with its new Champagne color that blends with surroundings.

Reliable

General Electric's exclusive Climatuff Compressor is sealed-in-steel—built to prevent motor failures. Quality components assure unequalled dependability. Proven 99% reliable.

Economical

Super-Sized Coils assure the efficient cooling performance which results in lower operating costs. Saves you money! Up to 18% over ordinary units... most desirable value feature.

Quiet

Two-Speed Fan... operates on low speed most of the time to maintain a low noise level. Only on very hot days (over 90°) is it automatically switched to high airflow.

Five years of in-home service protection to keep the system operating at no cost for parts (except filters, exterior panels or grilles) during the entire five years, no cost during the entire five year period for compressor replacement or leak repairs and no cost for labor on covered parts during the first year. Labor to repair and replace parts other than compressor and sealed system leaks during last four years will be purchaser's responsibility.

On School Problem

Editor of the Graphic:
The problem of rehabilitating the Newton High School buildings is of deep concern not only to the parents whose children for three short years study there, but also to the taxpayers whose suffering is of longer duration.

It is conceded that the buildings are somewhat crowded and are also in need of improvements in spots, but it is admitted in administrative circles that the student population will not increase in the future.

This is also borne out by data obtained from the Planning Director and disseminated by R.I.S.E., so there is no growth problem.

Heads and publicity seekers among the parents have made a lot of noise about the alleged bad condition of the school buildings, and the School Committee has issued a voluminous "educational" specification for what they want to have done with the school.

This specification is so extravagant that if followed it can only be satisfied by tearing down all present buildings no matter in what condition they are — and build an entirely new high school campus. This appears also to be the underlying purpose and desire of the Committee.

Under the cloak of "education" the School Committee appears to have trespassed on the authority of the Mayor and of the Board of Aldermen as well.

The Board of Aldermen has made several attempts to obtain from the Architect definite, concrete data of the design alternatives he has considered. The best the Board has obtained so far is a report dated May 13, 1968, entitled "Development Study." This study is in my opinion not satisfactory.

It appears that the Architect tries to persuade the Board to accept his Alternative A (Totally new High School) by differential comparison of the four considered alternatives without furnishing a true, checkable cost estimate of any of them, so that he can go ahead with his preferred alternative undisturbed and let the total cost come as it will.

This is an unsafe situation, and for the sake of the over-taxed, poorer half of our citizens, the Board of Aldermen should not accept it. In these times when the nation's economic and political welfare is in grave danger, when the inflation is becoming daily worse, the construction financing costs and interest rates are sky-high, and the Government is daily pleading with us to cut expenditures to a minimum — we should limit the expenditures to what is absolutely necessary, keeping in mind that it is not the apparatus, but the teachers who make the school, and that the students' achievements are its only reputation.

Let us stop bragging about our school system. If the teaching is good, let us make it better.

TORGIER KVALE,
Consulting Engineer,

Persuade Ted

Editor of The Graphic:
It is the responsibility of free press to persuade Cardinal Cushing to persuade Senator Ted Kennedy to run for President.

Many political organizations have the visible resources to lead our country. But only the Kennedy family and organization have the true understanding of tragedy necessary to bring Martin Luther King's Dream down from Heaven to this Earth.

Only Cardinal Cushing can certify that now is God's time for this to happen. Only the power of the press can give the American people the chance to vote their acceptance and approval of a politics of courage to overcome tragedy.

Girl Scouts And Float Make Hit In Memorial Day Parade

Participating in the annual Memorial Day Parade of Newton were Girl Scouts from all four Newton neighborhoods of Bay Path Colonial Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Frederick J. Casey was parade chairman. Mrs. Newton Teixeira, chairman of the All-Newton Neighborhoods, led the group, along with Cadettes Priscilla Nichols and Eve Teixeira of Troop 596.

Highlight of the Girl Scout procession was a float depicting various aspects of Scouting around the national theme, "Values to Hold, Worlds to Explore." The float was decorated with evergreens and scattered carnations, symbolizing the Girl Scout colors of green and yellow.

The girls who represented the four levels of Scouting are as follows: Senior — Anita Hartstone, Troop 585; Cadette — Linda Gassett, Jane Brunner, Marlen and Terry Mayer, Troop 475; Joyce Cole and Julie Levitan, Troop 492; and Lillian Spatz, Troop 842. Junior — Nanette Clark and Theresa Antonellis, Troop 620; Harriet Warshawer and Sheri Werner, Troop 696. Brownie — Carol McNulty, Ellen Katzett, and Neddy Gold, Troop 564; Anne Tyler, Constance Fitzpatrick, and Rochelle Feldman, Troop 606; Heather Morrill, Ursula Brandon, and Sally Mermelstein, Troop 880.

Chairman of the float was Mrs. Julius Feldman; co-chairman was Mr. Jack Crosby. Their Committee included: Mrs. Edward Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Paul Gold, Mr. Julius Feldman, Mrs. L. W. Gassett, Mrs. French Brandon, Mrs. Kenneth Spilman, Mrs. Clinton Shannon, Mrs. Worshard Kern, Mrs. Agnes Mayer, and Mrs. Lester Warshawer.

Trefoils and signs were by Richard Hartford. The truck was donated by Di Carlo Bros. and driven by Paul Quaranto. Dedicate New Lasell Library Here Saturday

Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, will dedicate its new library in ceremonies at Winslow Hall, Saturday afternoon, June 15, at two o'clock. The occasion is part of reunion festivities for 200 alumnae who will join faculty, students, trustees and friends of the College in witnessing the ceremonies.

The dedication address will be given by the Honorable Kevin B. Harrington, Senate Majority Floor Leader of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Senator Harrington (D) of Salem was first elected in 1958 and has made education his prime interest for what will soon be a decade of service in the State Senate.

A former schoolteacher, he served as Chairman of the Education Commission and has recently proposed a gigantic, state-financed scholarship program to pay in whole or in part the tuition for thousands of Massachusetts students in private colleges and universities. Senator Harrington will file legislation for this program.

Also expected to attend Lasell's dedication ceremonies are Dr. Eino A. Johnson, Director, Higher Education Office of the U.S. Office of Education and Edward F. Bock, Sr., Executive Director, Higher Education Facilities Commission, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Special greetings from the City of Newton will be brought by the Honorable Monte G. Basbas, Mayor, and Lasell President Vincent C. De Baun will give the formal welcome.

Lasell's new library, with a 100,000 volume capacity, has three floors and contains an audio-visual room, typing room, auditorium, seminar and individual study rooms, Board Room, and extensive facilities for processing books and periodicals. Architect Edwin T. Steffan, who also designed Lasell's newest dormitory, and Trustee Chairman Wilder N. Smith will perform the ceremony of dedication. Immediately after there will be an open house in the new library.

Also part of the dedication ceremonies will be a welcome from Lasell Alumnae President, Mrs. Bruce B. Bredehoff, Westwood. Five alumnae will receive the Lasell medalion for distinguished service.

Coordinator of the Lasell event is Mrs. John S. Van Etten of Wellesley, student counselor. Other members of the Library Dedication Committee include: Miss Frances Atwood, Newton Highlands, Head Librarian at Lasell; Miss June Babcock, Dean of the College; Miss Cynthia Rardin, Needham, Lasell '68 and in charge of student ushers. Also, library staff members Miss Marie Haas, Framingham and Mrs. E. Sanford Ritter, West Newton; Miss Marjorie MacClymon, Alumnae Secretary at Lasell; James W. Stanley, Winchester, Director of Development; Arthur Hicks, Natick, Director of the Physical Plant; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Waltham, Director of Food Service.

Reunion activities will include a morning tour of Lasell's new dormitory under the direction of Mrs. Theodore James, assistant dean at Lasell. She and Mr. James are the college's first resident couple to occupy a suite COLLEGE HONORS NEWTON PARENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Sobin, of 54 Valentine Park, West Newton, at right, receive plaque from Dr. Don A. Oron, Lesley College president, as charter members of the Lesley Lord Newark Associates, an association of parents, alumnae and friends formed to assist the college in achieving its long-range goals. The Sobin's daughter, Nancy, is a Lesley College sophomore.

Hamilton PTA Reception For Mrs. Danielson

A special announcement was made at the final meeting and Pot Luck Supper of Hamilton School PTA.

Mrs. Hope Danielson, principal, is leaving Hamilton School to accept an appointment as Assistant Director of Personnel for Newton Schools. The PTA is planning a reception for Mrs. Danielson at the school Monday night, June 17, at 8 p.m.

The Pot Luck Supper, always a part of the final meeting, this year was under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Kent and her committee of home room mothers.

The supper was followed by a business meeting at which the following officers and committee chairmen were elected for the year 1968-69: president, Mr. Jeff Troy; vice-president, Mr. George Mathis; treasurer, Mr. John Hurney; recording secretary, Mrs. Fred Love; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elliott.

Committee chairmen: ways and means, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rakov, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shean; program, Mrs. Donald Budge; nominating, Mrs. Morton Gelles; library, Mrs. John Hurney, Mrs. Charles Pierce; book fair, Mrs. Irving Goodman; publicity, Mrs. Howard Dean; creative arts, Mrs. David Rolben, Mrs. Nathan Krasnig, Mrs. Donald Cullison; hospitality, Mrs. Alfred Kent; home room mothers, Mrs. Martha Eastman; community council, Mrs. Edwin Bikofsky; recreation, Mr. Hugo Arrese, Mr. Ed Jones, Mr. Richard Chalmers; safety, Mr. Fred Levens.

Drew Degree To Newton Native

Geoffrey H. Barger of Madison, N. J., received the B.A. degree from Drew University's College of Liberal Arts at its annual commencement recently.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Barger of 22 Howard street, Newton, and is a 1964 graduate of Newton High School. While at Drew, he was a member of Rugby Club, Circle K, and the Orientation Committee. Mr. Barger's vocational plans are in the field of business.

In the new dormitory. An alumnae luncheon will precede the library dedication. The Rev. Robert W. Golledge, Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, will give the invocation and pronounce the benediction at the ceremony.

Local Chairmen for Lasell's Alumnae Reunion include Mrs. Wilder N. Smith, and Mrs. R. Emerson Sylvester, Auburndale; Mrs. R. Alan Chesebro, Newton Highlands; Miss Lillian G. Bethel, Waltham; and Mrs. Douglas Mitchell, West Newton.

Retirement For Warren Teacher C. F. Tower

Science teacher at Warren Junior High School for the past 40 years, C. Francis Tower, was honored guest at a retirement dinner held at the 1812 House in Framingham on Tuesday (June 4). Born and educated in Newton, Mr. Tower received a bachelor of science degree from Dartmouth and a master of education degree from Boston University. He has occasionally served as band instructor during his teaching tenure at Warren Junior High. Mr. and Mrs. Tower reside in Wellesley. Their son, Peter, teaches at the Choate School in Wallingford, Ct.

Sees Reasonable Compromise For Single Sessions Groups

Dr. Seymour Bellin told the group now known as the United Parents for Single Session, who met at his home May 28th following the School Committee meeting that "a reasonable compromise has been reached by the School Committee for this year."

Dr. Bellin, Associate Professor of Preventive Medicine at Tufts University, represents a coalition of single session parents, working mothers and parents who have not previously been affiliated with either group.

At the School Committee meeting, Dr. Bellin proposed that an optional lunch program be self-supporting on a user-cost basis. Costs should be assessed by family rather than by number of children and that the estimated maximum costs could range from $1.00 to $1.50 per week per family, he said. A major factor influencing cost will be the number of families taking advantage of the program, it was pointed out.

The School Committee voted for an optional lunch program with a shortened school day on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and with Tuesdays and Thursdays extended to 1:30. The program will be supervised by lunchroom personnel. In February the subject will be reopened for discussion by the School Committee.

The United Parents for Single Session felt that a questionnaire should be sent home as soon as possible so the School Administration can anticipate how many families will take advantage of the optional program.

In discussing the costs of the program, Dr. Bellin remarked that any costs affixed to the program at this time are tentative and would not necessarily be the final costs attributed to the program. It was understood that any such program would be subject to a rigorous public cost accounting.

The group felt that the greater the number of parents who take advantage of the maximum program the lower the family costs. It was felt that current projected costs should not deter parents from signing up for the program, and that those financially unable to participate should receive proper consideration from the School Administration in this regard.

The Committee voted to send a letter to the School Committee thanking them for reconsideration and expressing the view that their compromise has laid the ground work for a program this year that should satisfy all groups.

Plans Set For Fall Musicales

The advertising committee for the Boston Morning Musicales met recently at the home of Mrs. Arthur John Lockhart in Chestnut Hill to form plans for the first concert of the series being planned for next fall. The first concert is scheduled for Wednesday (Oct. 23) and will begin the 41st season for this group.

Members of the advertising committee from this area are Mrs. Miles Nelson Clair of Waban, Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard of Newton Centre and Mrs. Thomas S. Woods of Chestnut Hill. The executive committee met for tea at the home of Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard on Dudley road on Tuesday (June 11). Plans were formulated for the apres-Musicales luncheons, to follow each concert in the Sheraton-Plaza's glamorous Oval Room.

Gospel Chorus Sings June 20 In West Newton

The Gospel Chorus of the Myrtle Baptist Church will perform at 8 p.m. next Thursday (June 20) at the First Unitarian Society in West Newton.

The 21-voice chorus will sing 16 selections, including the Negro spiritual "This Little Light of Mine" and Martin Luther King Jr.'s favorite "Take My Hand Precious Lord." King was at one time a member of the 100-year-old Baptist Church.

The chorus is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Turner. Mrs. Turner accompanies the chorus on piano and organ. She also sings with the group as a soloist.

Mr. Turner formerly taught at the Williams School in Auburndale, and has been principal of schools in Glastonbury, Conn., and in Hingham. He will return to Newton this September as principal of the Oak Hill School.

Members of the chorus are Louise Triplett, Janet Turner, Ruth Turner, Nellie Scott, Ada Fontes, Joan Banks, Jesse Banks, Carol Robinson, Jane McGlaston, Michelle Evans, Clarence Nichols, Elizabeth Nichols, Onita O'Neal, Pearl Meredith, Cynthia Hill, Priscilla Nichols, Carol Garrett, Oscar Carter Jr., Ellen Carter, Ruby Berry and Adele Banks.

The performance is open to the public and admission is free. An offering will be taken for the benefit of the Myrtle Baptist Church building fund.

Begins Navy Career

Steven W. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young of David road, Newton is now taking basic training with the Navy at the Great Lakes Naval Training Base. He is a graduate of Newton South High and Mass Bay Community College.

He will continue schooling in the Navy and intends to make a career of the service.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson Rated Highly Popular First Lady

Editor's note: Even her husband's more vociferous critics rarely have a harsh word about Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Here in a human closeup of the nation's first lady by a reporter who has covered Mrs. Johnson's activities since she moved into the White House.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I feel as if I'm suddenly on stage for a part I never rehearsed. But I will do my best."

Lady Bird Johnson spoke those words to a reporter-friend on Nov. 22, 1963, shortly after her husband was catapulted into the Presidency by the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Four and a half years later, she's in the last act of her unrehearsed performance as first lady of the land, looking forward with unabashed eagerness to retiring to private life next Jan. 20. There is widespread agreement that she has done an outstanding job in the role she stepped into so unexpectedly.

The favor she has won with Americans of all parties and persuasions is doubly noteworthy in that she had, as people in show business say, "a hard act to follow." Her predecessor, Jacqueline Kennedy, dazzled the public with her beauty and grace while her husband lived, and captured its heart with her dignity and courage following his tragic death.

Relentless Campaigner
Mrs. Johnson has won public esteem in part because she is a good wife, a good mother, and a gracious lady. But hering the rapids of the beautiful but treacherous Snake River of Idaho.

Like her husband, Mrs. Johnson is a seasoned political pro. During the 1964 presidential election campaign which LBJ won by a landslide, she made a grueling "whistle-stop" tour in which she made 47 speeches in only four days.

Amid all this activity, she also managed to keep close watch on her daughters, Lynda Bird, and Luci, and their romances. When they became White House brides, she tried valiantly to make the weddings simple "family affairs."

But her girls had more spectacular wedding plans, and they prevailed.

Not Grandma Type
When Luci Nugent, whose husband Pat is serving in Vietnam, made her a grandmother last June, Mrs. Johnson was frank to say being called "grandma" was not her cup of tea. She is more detached toward grandson Lyn, now nearly a year old, than is her doting husband.

With her gift for lyrical expression, Mrs. Johnson has become a polished public speaker while retaining the full flavor of her Texas twang and "yalls." Iron self control enables her to look younger than her 55 years. She keeps a trim size 10 figure by passing up canapés, candy and other fattening foods. She also is a devotee to bowling, swimming and regular massages.

Born Claudia Alta Taylor, she made peace with the nickname, "Lady Bird" long ago. She also is resigned to being unphotogenic. "You're prettier than your picture," strangers tell her. And they're right — she is.

Much to her own surprise, she was named one of the 10 best dressed women in the world a couple of years ago, after she began to buy high fashion designer clothes, with active encouragement from her husband.

A Cautious Spender
As a woman whose business acumen helped her husband become a multimillionaire, Mrs. Johnson has always been a cautious spender. Frugality is considered a virtue in her family. But it has long since ceased to be necessary.

Of all tributes she has received, the one which means most to Lady Bird is the obvious and unstinting admiration of her husband.

"I don't know how I deserve a lady like Lady Bird," Johnson often is heard to remark. In the loneliness of the White House, he steps off the elevator and immediately asks: "Where's Bird?"

As man and wife, their devotion is profound with mutual affection openly expressed. She is at his side, spurring him on in all his endeavors. When he makes an important speech or holds a news conference, she is there. And she is the first to run up, hug him and tell him how well he did.

But she also can offer helpful criticism when it's needed. During the 1964 presidential campaign, when Johnson seemed to be talking too long, Mrs. Johnson would pass him a note saying: "Speech excellent. Time to stop."

She can read her husband like a book. She knows his moods and how mercurially they can change. When he goes into a towering rage, she tries to calm him with soothing words.

Although her husband often seeks — and respects — her views on public problems, Mrs. Johnson has displayed relatively little concern with some major issues. Her interest in the poverty program has been peripheral at best. Her awareness of the intense feelings aroused by the Vietnam War has often seemed slight.

In the beginning of the Johnson administration, some White House aides hoped she would acquire a public image as another Mrs. FDR, deeply committed to the cause of poor

All Newton Music School Annual Meeting on May 27

The Corporation and Board of Trustees of the All Newton Music School met for their annual meeting on Monday (May 27) at the school, 321 Chestnut st., West Newton. Accomplishments for the year were reviewed and projected plans discussed. The new officers for the 1968-69 year were presented at the meeting.

The Director of the All Newton Music School, Mrs. Anne Gombosi, highlighted several new ventures in her annual report to the members of the Corporation. Mrs. Gombosi pointed first to the emphasis on chamber music playing and explained that during the course of the year, representatives of the All Newton Music School, the Newton Public Schools, and the Newton Civic Symphony had met to explore the musical needs of the community. It was agreed that the public schools and the Civic Symphony as well as the various regional youth symphonies provided a very adequate orchestral experience for Newton students. The school is stressing chamber music training and provides this valuable enrichment for its students with a grant from the Friends of the All Newton Music School for a chamber music coordinator.

The Lincoln-Eliot project, which began in April, represents another new direction for the school. "In an attempt to reach children who are unable to come to the music school," Mrs. Gombosi explained, "we are providing piano and violin lessons at the Lincoln-Eliot School on Saturday mornings. The project has been most enthusiastically received by the parents," she added, "and we hope to expand next year with lessons for other instruments and possibly explore other areas in the city."

A further contribution to the community has been the school's participation in the Newton Headstart program. Mrs. Rovin, the pre-instrumental teacher, teaches there one morning a week and conducts a seminar for the Headstart teachers on music for pre-school children.

son was not sure he'd go through with it until she actually spoke the words over nationwide television.

More Relaxed Now
Since then, she has been filled with a tremendous sense of relief. She is more relaxed, less wary, her smile is freer.

As she put it: "I feel 10 pounds lighter, 10 years younger and full of plans."

Since March 31, members of the First Family appear to be concentrating on completing their historical legacy in the White House. Movies are constantly being taken, and Mrs. Johnson has been bringing up to date her tape-recorded memoirs of the White House years.

She also is driving full speed ahead to complete the Lyndon B. Johnson Library at the University of Texas, which will preserve a historical record of her husband's career.

"Even when she returns to her 'heart's home'—the LBJ Ranch on the Pedernales River near Johnson City, Tex.—she will go on being the First Lady emerita of beautification."

"We're going to keep working on the programs we believe in," she said recently. "I guess I'm hooked for life."

Mr. Roland MacDonald presented a progress report on the projected fire alarm system for the building, and also on the new ballet studio now rapidly nearing completion. The alarm system will be installed during the summer months. New specially constructed studio will permit an expanded ballet program next year, and also liberate more studio space for music students.

Mrs. John Reichard, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of new members and officers to the Corporation and the Board of Trustees. Officers elected for 1968-69 are Mrs. F. Dow Smith, president; Mr. Richard Mintz, vice president; Mrs. Bruce MacDonald, clerk; and Mr. Albert Horton, treasurer.

The following Corporation members were elected for a two year term: Miss Cornelia Anderson, Mrs. Alan Bennett, Mrs. Charles E. Brown, Miss Mary Louise Eddy, Mrs. Champe Fisher, Mr. John Malloy, Mrs. Loomis Patrick, Mrs. Joseph Pittman, and Mr. Frank C. Taylor. Trustees elected for a three year term included: Mr. Albert Horton, Mrs. Bruce MacDonald and Mrs. John Reichard.

Rev. Dr. Daniel Bliss Is Promoted With AMER, Inc.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Bliss, of West Newton, has succeeded Dr. L. Emmett Holt, Jr., M.D., President of the American Middle East Rehabilitation (AMER) as President and Chairman of the Executive Committee of that organization. Dr. Holt becomes chairman of the Board of Directors and will continue to be active in its policy formation.

AMER, Inc. was founded in 1948 in Boston as American Middle East Relief, and devoted its first 14 years to direct relief, which was changed to Rehabilitation as AMER focused its attention to vocational training for Palestine refugee young people.

Dr. Bliss, grandson and namesake of the founder of the American University of Beirut (in 1866), is active as a member of the Boards of Trustees of the American University of Beirut, International College (Beirut) and of the Near East College Association. He also serves on the Board of Directors of Union Theological Seminary (New York).

Dr. Bliss obtained his B.A. from Amherst (Mass.) in 1920, his B.D. from Union Theological Seminary (New York) in 1924, and his D.D. from Amherst in 1950. In addition to teaching at the American University of Beirut in the early 1920's, prior to World War II Rev. Bliss served as a Congregational minister in Wyoming, Massachusetts and Connecticut. He was minister of the second Congregational Church in Greenwich (Conn.) from 1935 until 1957 except between 1943 and 1946 when he served as a U.S. Army Air Force Chaplain (Captain).

Trust Moves Offices

The developers of the air rights project over the Massachusetts Turnpike at the Newton interchange, White and Walcott Trust, have moved their offices to 313 Washington St., opposite the air rights development site.

Construction of the project will be directed from the office, where Mark J. Walcott of the Trust will have his headquarters.

University of Beirut and International College as well as the commencement exercises of both institutions. AMER is fortunate in that Dr. Bliss will be able to allow about one week of his busy schedule in the Middle East to a comprehensive survey of the plight of the Palestine refugees in the vicinity of Amman (Jordan) under the guidance of UNRWA officials and representatives of the Jordanian government.

Dr. Bliss is flying to Beirut today (June 13) to attend meetings of the Board of Trustees of the American Jewish Seminary Awards Degrees To Newtonites

Rabbi Zev K. Nelson of Temple Emeth, Chestnut Hill, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity and Barry S. Rubin of Newton received the degree of Master of Hebrew Literature at ceremonies in the Park Avenue Synagogue, New York City on Sunday, June 9. The occasion was the 74th annual commencement of The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, academic center of Conservative Judaism.

Mr. Rubin, a graduate of Tufts University is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Rubin of Newton. He has been serving as a Hebrew Teacher at Beth El Congregation in New Rochelle while studying toward Ordination. He and his wife, Liora, live in New York City.

3 Graduate From Wheaton College

Among the degree candidates at the 133rd annual commencement exercises at Wheaton College on Saturday (June 1) were three greater Newton girls.

Awarded a bachelor of arts degree in French was Elizabeth Howard Pauler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Pauler of 67 Randlett Park, West Newton.

Psychology major Nancy Hope Kurson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell B. Kurson of 14 Greylock rd., Newtonville, received her bachelor of arts.

Linda Marilyn Winn also received a bachelor of arts in French. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winn of 92 Deborah road, Newton Centre.

Trinity Graduates

Two Newton area residents graduated from Trinity College at 142nd commencement exercises at the Connecticut college on Sunday (June 2). Howard L. Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Shaffer of 116 Rangely road, received his bachelor of science in biology. James L. Kaplan, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Kaplan of 250 Dorset road, received a bachelor of arts in government and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Tribute To Sen. Kennedy At College Commencement

President Charles W. Dudley of Newton Junior College paid respectful tribute to the memory of the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy at the Twenty-first Annual Commencement exercises held Sunday, June 9, at Meadowbrook Auditorium in Newton, Massachusetts.

Quoting Seneca, famous stoic philosopher and senator of 2000 years ago, President Dudley said, "In brief, this is what we can expect of a man; that he be useful to other men; to many of them if he can; to a few if he but a little; and if he can but a little, to those nearest him; and if cannot to other, to himself."

Senator Kennedy, Mr. Dudley said, "was useful to other men, for his friends and his concerns were legion; he was useful to a few in his abiding concern for minorities and for the forgotten and for the ignored; he was useful to those nearest him as a devoted son, father, husband, brother, and close friend; and he was useful to himself as a leader with warm, human understanding and intellectual insight."

Dr. William C. Gage, Director of Research, Advisory Council on Education, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, delivered the Commencement Address. Speaking on "The Generation Gap," he told the graduates that they were stepping into "the continuous stream of life, and that will enjoy the benefits of the greatest progress in the history of man. But," he said, "you will struggle with the known and the unknown, and strive for a better life. . . . The generation gap," he added, "is this struggle to make a heaven on earth and, at the same time, to avoid total annihilation."

Distinguished platform guests included Dr. James D. Laurits, Acting Superintendent of Schools, who brought the greetings of the Newton School Department; Mr. Wendell R. Bauckman, President of the Board of Aldermen, who brought the good wishes of the City of Newton; Mr. William D. Geer, Jr., Principal of Newton South High School; Mr. Jonathan M. Daube, Secretary to the School Committee; Mr. Manuel Beckwith, Chairman of the School Committee; Mr. Francis P. Frazier, Mr. Edwin Hawkrig, and Mr. Alvin Mandell, members of the Newton School Committee; Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mr. Mario DiCarlo, Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, Mr. Philip J. McNiff, and Mr. Norman B. Krim, members of the Board of Directors of the College.

Dr. Robert C. Senior, Department of Social Science of the College, offered the Invocation and Benediction. Dr. Charles D. Merrill, Dean of the College, was the Commencement Marshal, and Mr. John Barrett, past President of the Student Council, was Student Marshal.

Members of the Class of 1968 are:

Associate in Arts Degree: from Newton — Richard Daniels, Eric Falkoff, Virginia Kosma, Ernest Mihalopoulos, Kathleen Pate, Philip Ruputz, Michael Silberman, John Sinclair, Geoffrey Vanepps, Anthony Verhulst.

Associate in Science Degree: from Newton — Nancy Acheson, John Barrett, Jr., Joan Berkowitz, Richard Bono, Susan Carolan, Nancy Cassidy, William Colella, Lawrence Coletti, Janice Dangelo, Paul Farrington, May Flannigan, Elaine Hough, Rachel Keville, Russell Lightman, Vincent Marini, David McGuire, Paul Moriarty, Thomas O'Day, Jane Parhiala, Bente Parker, Kimball Roberts, Kenneth Sugarman, Ziporal Traum, Constance Turner, Robert Webster, Paul Welch, Sandra Wickson.

Also: Charles Weaver, Judith Barrett, Brother Paschal Barry, Brother Ambrose Carr, Brother Edward Smink, Edw. Murphy, Patricia Anderson, David Mahoney, Dorothy Martin, Beverly Giddings, Diane Belanger, Lucille Martel, Mary Ewald, Bernard Smith, Norma Stinson, Russell Millholland, Daniel Webster, Jane Lewitus, Charles Towle, Ellen Corson, Marie Murray, Kathleen Gaudet, Susan Skerry.

Hyde School Art Exhibit Features Original Works

A group of fifth and sixth grade cameramen succeeded in contributing an interesting dimension to a unique display of art work at an exhibit held at the Hyde School last week.

Enlarged and mounted photographs illustrated particular techniques in photography including exaggerated angle and suspended motion shots.

The young photographers included Wade Sylvester, Brian Kelly, Deborah Tompkinson, Priscilla Bennett, Kevin Smith, Ruthanne Miller, Nancy Vassili, and David Lipworth. David deserves special credit for several hours of work in printing the enlargements.

Under the guidance of Miss Janet Trapp, art teacher at Hyde, fourth, fifth, and sixth graders spent several months working in a variety of art media in preparation for this colorful exhibit.

Children's work was professionally matted and displayed providing an opportunity for children and parents alike to view the work in its best possible setting.

The exhibit also provided an opportunity for children to view the work of others thereby providing an incentive for broadening their own experience in art.

As part of this unusual exhibit there were abstract sculptures mounted on wood blocks, batiks, plaster wall plaques created from clay molds, many creations mixing a variety of media in each individual piece of work.

Wide selection of oil paintings done by Wade Sylvester, David Lipworth, and Rupert Newton were very much in the spot light.

A large psychedelic cardboard tube sculpture painted with phosphorescent spray paint created quite a stir, as did a plaster abstract done by Nick Sealey.

Miss Janet Trapp comes to the Hyde School from Pittsburgh, Pa. She is a graduate of Penn State. She believes that by knowing each child as an individual, she is able to bring out the maximum creative potential in the child.

Miss Trapp will attend a Fine Arts workshop at the Cummings School in the Berkshire Mountains this summer and will attend graduate school in September at the Museum School of Philadelphia.

JUSTICE ISSUES CALL — Judge Julian L. Yesley of Newton district court urged Newton firefighters and all citizens to join in the fight to quench the "searing flames of hate, bigotry and violence" last Sunday in an address at the annual Memorial Service of the Fire Department. Seated behind the Judge at Fire Headquarters are, left to right, Ald. Andrew Magni, Former Fire Chief John E. Corcoran, Mayor Basbas, Fire Chief Fred Perkins, Chaplain James Keating and Chaplain John Balcom.

Newton Boy Is Roxbury Latin Honor Graduate

Richard M. Bargar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold M. Bargar, 5 Sharpe road, Newton Centre, graduated magna cum laude from the Roxbury Latin School last Friday, June 7.

During the ceremonies, Richard was awarded the Richard and Lomb medal "in recognition of outstanding academic achievement, good character and superior intellectual promise in the field of science." The N. Henry Black prize in Science and the Islay McCormick prize in Mathematics.

Richard, who is a National Merit Finalist, was also honored this spring by the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society and the Actuaries' Club of Boston for his performance in examination competitions held in high schools throughout the area. He will be attending Harvard in September.

Democrats Of Ward 7 Meet On June 18th

The Ward 7 Democratic Committee will meet Tuesday, June 18, at 8 p.m. in the parish house of Grace Episcopal Church, corner of El-dredge and Church streets, Newton Corner.

The agenda will include the issues of low cost housing, liaison with elected officials and selection and support of candidates.

It was announced that the meeting is open to all. The members of the Democratic Ward 7 Committee will welcome everyone interested in actively participating in good government.

RETREAD Reunion

Newton area RETREADS (Veterans who served in World War I and again in World War II) who wish details of the forth-coming 21st Annual National Convention and Reunion to be held in late September at the Deauville Hotel, Miami Beach, Fla., should write John E. Bouchard, Dept. of Mass. Commander and National Vice Commander, 56 Elmwood st., Newton, Mass. 02158.

Flames-

courage. What I refer to is that sneeze of consideration firemen must be men of that prompts a fireman to act in such way in fighting a blaze as will spare the homeowner unnecessary loss of valuable possessions or precious objects that could result from careless or indiscriminate methods.

For that extra "bit of heart" put into a very hazardous occupation, "I thank you," and I think I speak for all citizens of Newton when I say that.

We are also justly proud of the high morale and fine sense of discipline that characterize our fire-fighting force, of the eagerness with which it keeps informed of and adopts the most advanced techniques of fire fighting, and the attention it gives to education of the community in fire prevention. The saving in human suffering and property losses by these measure is incalculable.

Which all adds up to the inevitable conclusion that in Frederick Perkins Newton has as able and dedicated a fire chief as serves any municipality in this state, and if I weren't so conservative in speech, I would say, in this nation.

However, we have not assembled here today to praise the living. Rather, we are gathered to honor the memory of firemen who have responded to the last call. By coincidence, which every person here would have done all in his or her power to prevent, this is also a day of national mourning for the untimely, tragic death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. It is fitting that we hold a joint memorial.

Just as our departed firemen stood on the ramparts fighting against the fires that destroy material possessions, Robert Kennedy also took his stand as a fireman fighting against the fires of hate, bigotry and violence that would seek to destroy the soul of this beloved nation of ours.

We should rightly honor the memory of these fire fighters for their service to the community, their devotion to duty, their love of family — and for all those qualities that bespeak the good man — possessed by the humble and the exalted of those we remember today. But is it enough simply to give lip service to their memory?

Would we not do them far greater honor if we resolved, in their honor, to join in the struggle against those searing flames of hate, bigotry and violence, that threaten to engulf our society today? These are not as easily quenched as those that threaten our material possessions. They cannot be put out simply by playing a hose on them.

First, we must no longer assume that we have done our part if we can honestly say to ourselves that our hearts are free of hate and prejudice. That undeniably is the first step. But the walls of our society that bar the Negro's way to equal opportunity for a good education, a job and decent housing, will not come down simply because people are well-meaning.

Those walls will come down only when these well-meaning people become concerned and insistent that justice be done. They must march around those walls, with trumpets blowing, led by leaders such as Robert Kennedy. Then, as in the case of the walls of Jericho, in biblical times, will the walls of hate and prejudice crumble.

Of all the fires that threaten the inner core of our society, none contains a greater threat than the flames of violence which have already taken from us, in the past five years, three great leaders in the prime of their lives — one, a great president of the United States, who by his vibrancy, integrity and vision electrified the youth of the entire world; — the second a consecrated man of God striving to lead his people to the mountain top, not by the sharp edge of the sword but by the even sharper cut of conscience; and now the third, whose loss we mourn today, a United States Senator, a candidate for president of the United States, a leader in whom the underprivileged of this country put their trust to bring to them the promise of America.

Yet we must not say in this moment of grief that we are by nature a violent nation. Let us, as has President Johnson in his speech last Wednesday night, reject the thesis that violence is interwoven in the fabric of our way of life. The vast majority of Americans deplore violence and are sickened whenever it rears its ugly head.

What should shock us is that so few men, driven to violence by whatever madness, have the power virtually to affect the course of history, — that they can deprive millions of people of their leaders. What gives mad violence such terrifying power is the gun.

How long are we going to tolerate the road-blocks that are put in the way of attempts to bring the traffic in guns under reasonable restraints? Let us unite behind the president in his efforts to introduce some sanity into our gun laws. Until we learn how to remove the cancer of violence from our society, we must pass such laws as will limit the sale and availability of guns to purposes consistent with the safety not only of our leaders but of all of the public.

"Led me read you some prophetic words: 'Where is the public outcry for more effective gun laws? Every year thousands of Americans are killed by firearms — 5,634 in 1965 alone. During the last six years, 278 law enforcement officers have been killed by criminals — and of these 96 percent died because of wounds from firearms. Of the weapon-users responsible for these deaths, 66 percent had been convicted of crimes before acquiring the murder weapon. Each year, over one million inexpensive mail order weapons pass unchecked across state lines. Many of these guns go to juveniles, individuals with criminal records, and emotionally unstable persons. How many mass murders by firearms will the public need before it demands stronger national and local legislation to control their sale and possession.'

"Those are words spoken by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in a speech at Columbia Law School. "By your actions to promote justice, to remove from our society the abominations of hate, prejudice and violence, by your insistence that guns must be put out of reach of those who have lost their reason — far more than by any words of mine — will you truly honor the memories of our departed members and of Robert F. Kennedy."

Other invited guests at the simple ceremony were: Mayor Monte G. Basbas, Ald. Andrew Magni, Former Fire Chief John E. Corcoran, Chief Frederick C. Perkins and Chaplains James Keating and John Balcom.

Sixteen Men From Newton Rescued After Boat Sinks

Sixteen Newton residents were aboard the charter boat "Rusty" that apparently hit a sandbar and sank last Sunday off Plum Island. In all, 26 members of a private fishing party out of Newburyport went into the water and were saved by Coast Guard.

Only two of the 16 men from Newton required treatment for immersion at Anna Jacques Hospital in Newburyport.

They were Leslie Spaulding, 54, of 69 Webster park, West Newton, and Edward Nugent, 33, of 117 Elm street, West Newton.

"We had no warning — the boat just started sinking," said Paul Fitzpatrick, 25, of 167 Derby street, West Newton. He said the 40-foot boat went down so quickly there was no time to get life-jackets before he and his companions were in the rough water.

"We had to break open the box containing the life-jackets in the water and pass them around," he said.

About eight of the men had climbed into a lifeboat and the others were floating around wearing life-jackets when Coast Guard arrived. One man who had begun to swim to shore was picked up by a helicopter.

John Melnick, 26, of 88 Lexington street, Newton, who authorities said had booked the boat for the fishing excursion, commented: "One cod and three sharks were all we got; what an experience."

The craft went down about 4:30 p.m. during a thunder squall. Rescue units from the Coast Guard Merrick River Station were on the scene 10 minutes later.

Other Newton residents identified as being aboard the boat were:

George Setian, 37, of 5 Ben-cliffe circle, Newton; Rupan Ceytoundgian, 5 Bencliffecircle, Newton; Richard Malone, 25, of 33 Cherry place, West Newton; Lucio Marini, 400 California street, Newton.

Rabbi Goldstein To Speak At Banquet For Rabbi Here

Principal speaker for the testimonial dinner to Rabbi and Mrs. Albert I. Gordon, Tuesday, June 18th, in the Community Hall of Temple Emanuel of Newton, will be Rabbi David A. Goldstein, Rabbi of Har Zion Temple, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and one of the leading rabbis in the Conservative Movement of America.

Rabbi Goldstein's tribute will have a special significance for he also was the principal speaker at the ceremonies marking the installation of Dr. Gordon as Rabbi of Temple Emanuel in 1950.

The testimonial dinner is being tendered by the Congregation in honor of Rabbi Gordon's retirement and elevation to Rabbi Emeritus and in recognition of the completion by the Rabbi of thirty-nine years of service in the Conservative Rabbinate.

Extending greetings will be Abraham I. Kaye, President of Temple Emanuel; Harry J. Greenblatt, immediate Past President, Temple Emanuel; Rabbi Zev K. Nelson, Past President, Massachusetts Board of Rabbis and Rabbi of Temple Emet, South Brookline; Dr. Herbert J. Gezork, Past President, Andover Newton Theological School, the Honorable Monte G. Basbas, Mayor, city of Newton; Bernard Grossman, President, Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Greater Boston; the Most Reverend Eric F. MacKenzie, Pastor, Sacred Heart Church, Newton.

tending greetings on behalf of the constituent arms of Temple Emanuel, the Brotherhood, Couples Club, Parent Teachers Association and Sisterhood, will be Mrs. Daniel Bloom, President of Temple Emanuel Sisterhood. Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will present a brief musical interlude. Judge David A. Rose is dinner chairman.

Newton Free Library Exhibits Works of Olga Bonnell, 72

72-year-old great-grandmother Olga Bonnell of Waltham is having her first one-man show at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre street, Newton Corner, from this Monday (June 17) through early July. An art student at the Newton YMCA, Mrs. Bonnell has been painting all her life.

Last year, after her retirement from working at the Fernald School, she joined the Newton "Y" adult education art class taught by Hiroko Dennis to benefit from working in a group with other painters. Mrs. Dennis says they paint not so much as teacher and student, but together; that Mrs. Bonnell has her own basic, primitive style.

Olga Bonnell uses oils, acrylics, pastels and water colors. She has recently been experimenting with statements in black and white. Two of these new paintings are small in size and extremely strong in feeling. One, "A Drifter," is a powerful capsule scene of a derelict in a doorway. The other is "Washday," wind-spanked clothes out on the line.

Clowns are a particular fancy of this grandmother, and she has painted some great-granddaughter, Kim-berlee Scalia of Newton Centre.

A complementary selection of art books will be displayed with Mrs. Bonnell's paintings, including a pair of books about another grandmother-painter, Grandma Moses.

Registration For Summer Courses At Boston State

Newton area students interested in summer courses will note announcement of summer registration dates for the program of Continuing Studies at State College at Boston as announced by Thomas F. Dungan, Director of the Program.

The dates are June 26, 27 and 28 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. In addition there will be a limited period of late registration on July 1, 2, and 3 from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. Classes will start on Monday, July 1, 1968.

Registration fee is $2.50. No registration will be accepted after July 3. Tuition for residents of Massachusetts is $18 per semester hour of credit. Non-residents' tuition is $25. Auditor's fee is $11.

If you are registering for the first time or have not taken a course since the summer of 1966 you are required to fill out an IBM card in Room 109A two weeks prior the registration dates.

The Nation

CHEERFUL SUPPORT FOR NATION'S POOR

THOUSANDS of black and white Americans assembled Wednesday in Washington in a cheerful show of support for the nation's poor. The crowd appeared to be middle-class and more white than black. It was termed "a happy crowd" by police and its numbers at about 50,000 — one quarter of the number which gathered on Aug. 28, 1963 for the march of Rev. Martin Luther King. The crowd heard his widow accuse the government of abandoning his dream of 1963. Coretta King declared that "racism, poverty and war" had combined to make matters worse for black and white poor alike. A security force of 1,700 city policemen and 1,150 national guardsmen had little to do. More than a score of marchers from Greater Boston called on House Speaker John W. McCormack whose home is in Dorchester. McCormack greeted them, shook hands and gave a progress report on bills relating to housing, hunger and welfare.

LBJ SIGNS CONTROVERSIAL ANTI-CRIME BILL

PRESIDENT JOHNSON signed Wednesday evening the controversial anti-crime bill saying that despite its shortcomings it will help lift the "shadow of fear from American communities." Johnson said he decided to sign the measure because it "contains more good than bad." But he harshly condemned a provision which permits wiretapping in criminal cases by federal and local law enforcement officials as "unwise and potentially dangerous step."

INCREASE DRAFT CALL FOR AUGUST

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT issued a draft call Wednesday of 18,300 men for August — up 3,000 over July. All August inductees will go into the Army.

HOUSE KILLS FUNDS FOR MAINE POWER STUDY

THE HOUSE on Wednesday rejected a $671,000 appropriation in a stunning setback for supporters of the proposed Dickey-Lincoln Public Power Plant in Maine. Money for the project was defeated in the House three times last year.

IKE SUFFERS OCCASIONAL HEART IRREGULARITIES

FORMER PRESIDENT Eisenhower has experienced occasional irregularities of his heart beat at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, doctors reported Wednesday, since his fifth heart attack Saturday. But the doctors added he is responding to treatment.

AMA OPPOSES LEGALIZING MARIJUANA

THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION opposed legalization of marijuana at its convention in San Francisco but called current penalties "harsh and unrealistic." The AMA, speaking for some 250,000 doctors in the United States, labeled marijuana "a dangerous drug." It rejected outright arguments that "pot" is no worse than alcohol.

MORE THAN 30 PERISH IN PERUVIAN EARTHQUAKE

AN EARTHQUAKE followed by a series of shocks early Wednesday rocked the sparsely settled mountains and jungles of northern Peru. Fragmentary reports said between 30 and 40 persons died, at least 100 were injured and hundreds were left homeless.

PARIS 'PEACE' TALKS CONTINUE GOING NOWHERE

NORTH VIETNAM'S chief negotiator termed "absurd" in Paris on Wednesday an American plan to halt the communist shelling of Saigon, and vowed there would be no letup. The ninth session of the five-weeks-old talks was laced with accusations by both sides and left the stalemate firmly intact.

RIOT POLICE BREAK UP NEW DISTURBANCE IN VENICE

TRUNCHEON-SWINGING riot police Wednesday night dispersed a band of Italian and foreign students marching in the rain to protest the "capitalist" Venice Biennale Art Show.

NASSER PLANS TALK WITH COMMUNIST LEADERS

EGYPTIAN PRESIDENT Nasser will visit Moscow and Belgrade early in July for talks with Communist leaders, it was announced in Cairo Wednesday. He was expected to discuss the deadlocked crisis in the middle east. In Jerusalem, an explosive charge broke windows along a side street but caused no casualties.

US MAKES PROPOSALS TO NORTH KOREA

THE UNITED STATES has made unspecified proposals to North Korea on the release of the USS Pueblo but has received no reply, the State Department disclosed Tuesday. The ship was seized in January. A spokesman declined to comment on the substance of the proposals.

Funeral Homes Ordinance O.K. In Some Areas

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night approved a new ordinance which will permit the establishment of funeral homes in certain residential districts on large lots bordering business areas.

The new ordinance, which was modified after it was returned to the Land Use Committee following its original presentation two weeks ago, will allow funeral homes to be constructed on lots containing at least 24,000 square feet in Residence D districts and 20,000 square feet in Residence E districts.

In addition, the funeral homes can be built only within 500 feet of a business or manufacturing district.

Land Use Committee Chairman Franklin N. Flaschner noted that there are only 12 lots in the city in Residence D and 3 lots in Residence E which would qualify under the new ordinance.

"We wonder whether it's worth all the trouble we've gone to," Flaschner remarked.

No parcel of property on Watertown St. meets the needed requirements, Flaschner said.

Army Services Ahead For 3 Newton Boys

One of the smallest draft contingents in years left Newton last Tuesday to begin their services with the country's armed forces.

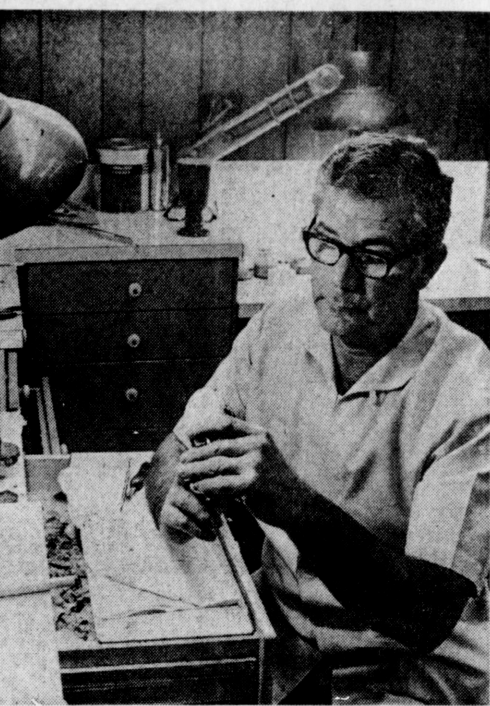

Reporting at the Boston Army Base were Kenneth J. Barry, of 148 Lexington st., Auburndale, Thomas Clarke, 21 Columbus rd., West Newton, and Kevin J. McNamara, of 126 Derby st., West Newton.

Prior to leaving Newton, the youths were feted by the City Send-off Committee and were the recipients of gifts given to them by Francis Howley, chairman of the committee.

On hand at the ceremony, also, were Mrs. Jeanette Tice, clerk at Local Board 116, and Mrs. Mary Corbett, clerk at Local Board 107.

The youths were driven to the Army Base by John Foran, of the Send-off Committee.

Hinman Medallion Awarded Newtonite

R. Sheldon Stein, D.M.D., Associate Clinical Professor of Graduate Prosthodontics at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, is the recipient of the prestigious Hinman Medallion.

The award was presented to Dr. Stein for leadership in dental progress at the annual Thomas P. Hinman Dental meeting held recently in Atlanta, Georgia.

Other recipients this year include Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston cardiologist, and General Robert B. Shira, Chief of the Army Dental Corps.

Dr. Stein, who resides in West Newton with his wife and two children, has served as secretary, vice president, and president of the Greater Boston Dental Society.

Public Housing Issue Holds Up Sale Of School

Sale of the old Bowen School property on Langley rd. in Newton Centre was delayed through use of a charter objection imposed by Alderman H. James Shea Jr. at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Under consideration by the board was a petition to authorize Mayor Monte G. Basbas to sell the 32,600 sq. ft. parcel of property to the highest bidder for construction of 12 garden apartments.

In resorting to the parliamentary device of a charter objection which automatically shuts off discussion and delays a vote until the next meeting, Shea declared that "the city of Newton does not seem to be meeting its responsibilities in the area of public housing."

He also claimed that an aldermanic committee listed the old school property as one of four sites presently available in the city for public housing.

There has been a proposal to create some low-income housing at the Langley rd. site, and petitions both for and against such a move have been filed with City Clerk Joseph Karlin.

Acting Aldermanic Finance Committee Chairman Adelaide B. Ball reported that at a committee meeting last week representatives of several groups spoke.

The Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights and the Sacred Heart Interracial Council appeared to oppose the sale of the property for garden apartments and favored construction of low rent housing, Alderman Ball said.

The Newton Taxpayers' Association opposed the use of the Langley road site for that purpose, but said they were interested in low rent housing elsewhere in the city. The Taxpayers favored construction of garden

Electronic Voting To Get Third Trial

Approval of the use of electronic voting machines for a third trial in the Sept. 17 state primary squeaked by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a 13 to 8 vote, and as a result the permanent future use of the machines seems uncertain.

Legislation Committee Chairman Melvin J. Dangel told the aldermen that the Secretary of State had to be notified by June 19 about the city's decision on voting methods for the September primary.

He also reminded the board that the rental contract with the Seiscor Corp., which supplies the punch-card machines included the September primary.

Several aldermen, who questioned whether the use of the machines had improved either the accuracy or speed of the ballot counting, expressed the fear that approval of electronic voting for September also meant, in effect, approval of the system for another year.

The reason they gave for this fear was the fact that the Secretary of State must be notified about voting methods for the November election before the machines can be tried again in September so that results of the third attempt could be

Students Get $1000 To Aid Peace Corps

Last week at a Student Council Assembly at Warren Junior High School a check for $1000 was presented by Charles Stone, Student Council President, to Wignome A. Pierson, Peace Corps School Partnership Program Representative.

The money will be used by a community in Latin America, Asia or Africa for materials to build a badly needed school only after the village chosen by the Peace Corps has agreed to donate the land, the labor to build the school, and at least 25% of the cost of the school.

The students of Warren Junior High School raised the money by washing cars, holding cage sales and dances, and donating their money earned

Fight Stadium Site In Hospital Locale

Rep. Paul F. Malloy (D-Newton) has filed an amendment with the Clerk of the House of Representatives which will prevent the erection and construction of any stadium or recreation facility within a one-mile radius of any hospital facility.

Representative Malloy stated he has taken such action because of a widespread rumor that the Woodland Golf Club is being given consideration as a possible stadium site, if a bill being filed in the Massachusetts Senate by Senator Kelly is adopted by the Massachusetts legislature.

Rep. Malloy commented that the close proximity of the Woodland Golf Course to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital requires the adoption of his amendment in order to insure and preserve the quiet a hospital dictates.

Rep. Malloy said the refuting of the Woodland Golf Course as a potential site by the adoption of his amendment will prevent the use of Woodland Country Club as a site since it is situated within a one-mile radius of the hospital.

The Newton solon also reiterated his conviction that the logical and sensible site for a sports stadium has been set forth in legislation which he filed for the construction of a 50,000 seat multi-purpose stadium, H.3877.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Ted Sounded Like Young Man About To Make Big Decision

As Senator Edward M. Kennedy delivered his moving thank-you address to the nation, he sounded very much like a young man who intends to pick up the political banner dropped when his brother Robert was felled by an assassin's bullet in a Los Angeles hotel.

"To those who began the campaign and carried on the campaign for the ideals in which Robert Kennedy believed, that dream still remains, and those hopes still remain," Ted Kennedy told his listeners across the 50 States.

"And each of us will have to decide in a private way, in our own hearts, and in our own consciences, what we shall do in the course of this summer, and in future summers, and I know that we shall choose wisely," he asserted.

Ted voiced his gratitude to President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey. They deserved the

Miss Myrtice L. Fuller, R.N., B.S. of Natick, director of the school and the hospital's nursing service, will present the 1968 class. The invocation will be given by Rev. Cecil Rice, the hospital's Protestant Chaplain and Chaplain Coordinator.

Ten members of the 1918 class of the School of Nursing expect to attend the graduations exercises. The school was established in 1888 and has graduated more than 2,000 nurses.

The 1968 graduation is the first, in recent years, to occur in June. Formerly, commencement took place in September.

The change results from a re-designed curriculum, providing a more intensive course of studies and virtually eliminating all unassigned student time. The change permits the course to be shortened from 152 weeks to 135 weeks in length.

Graduation in June also permits a nurse to take her State Board examinations in July and to become employable sooner.

Road Salt Suit Brings Award Of $2731 to Newton

Newton has received a check for $2,731.35 from the Department of the Attorney General. It was announced yesterday by Mayor Monte G. Basbas. The amount is Newton's share of the proceeds from the settlement of an anti-trust suit against three suppliers of road salts to Massachusetts cities and towns.

In the suit brought by Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson on behalf of Bay State municipalities, it was alleged that the three companies had conspired to fix the price of road salt furnished to the communities.

A Newton resident, Bernard I. Kaplan, was among three Assistant Attorneys General who represented the State in the case.

A similar action has been brought by Richardson on behalf of the cities and towns against 29 publishing houses which supply children's books to schools and libraries in the various cities and towns.

It is alleged in this action that the publishers conspired to force School Departments and Libraries to purchase at a higher cost so-called library-bound editions of children's books instead of "trade" editions by making it increasingly difficult to obtain the trade editions.

Since Newton school and library departments purchase many thousands of dollars worth of children's books each year, this action is being followed very closely by the Mayor and the School and Library Departments.

45 Years Service With Gas Company

Harold O. Mulock of (17 Scribner Park) Auburndale, was presented with an engraved gold wristwatch and a portable television set in appreciation of 45 years of continuous service with Boston Gas.

National Recreation Group In Newton In Fund-Raising

The National Recreation and Park Association is currently engaged in a fund raising campaign in Newton under the sponsorship of the Newton Committee for the NRPA. Mr. Hirsch Sharf, 143 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill, is the committee chairman, and other members of the committee are: Alderman Ernest F. Dietz, former Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, former chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen John P. Nixon, Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney, former Alderman William P. Ripley, former Alderman Benjamin F. Shattuck, Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb, and chairman of the Recreation Commission Mrs. Worthing L. West.

The NRPA is an independent non-profit, non-governmental organization dedicated to the advancement and enhancement of the opportunities for meaningful use of leisure time, the conservation of natural resources, and the beautification of the total American environment. The NRPA brings together concerned laymen and dedicated professionals in a common effort to develop and expand this country's recreation potential.

Active in the National Recreation and Park Association are: citizens interested in recreation, parks, zoos, and conservation of natural resources and wildlife; parks and recreation commissioners and board members; zoological societies; professional park and recreation leaders; zoo executives; government and private recreation and park agencies.

As a service organization, NRPA works closely with public and private park and recreation agencies at National, State and local levels to foster the progressive development and wise administration of resources, facilities, programs and personnel. The Newton Recreation Commission is a member organization, and benefits from its services.

The NRPA is financially supported entirely through public contributions, endowments, grants and membership fees.

Usen To Serve As Chairman Of June 30 Event

Irving Usen, of Ledge road, Newton, internationally known head of O'Donnell-Usen Fisheries and widely known Hub civic and philanthropy leader, will serve as chairman of the annual dinner of the New England Jewish National Fund on Sunday night, June 30, in the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Over 1,000 prominent leaders in the organization will attend. Keynote speaker will be Shimon Arad, Israel's ambassador to Mexico.

Committee are concerned for the lack of recreation, park and conservation leadership in our country today. In the constant din of necessary coverage given Vietnam, higher taxes and the ghetto many people are unaware of the crisis facing America in the general area of leisure time opportunities because of the dwindling supply of open space and recreation land and the lack of trained leadership to serve the increasing needs of children, youth, senior citizens and handicapped.

Newton Author To Attend Vt. Writers Event

Newton author Diana Huss Green will be spending this summer in Vermont's Green Mountains at the Breadloaf Writers' Conference, Middlebury College.

Mrs. Green, author of "Lenny's Surprise Piano" and "Ski Country," is the recipient of a Breadloaf Fellowship "for the writer showing the most outstanding promise in American literature for children, 1967-68."

Diana Green has taught in the Writers' Workshop of the Newton Public Schools (Weeks Jr. High), and also has been an instructor at Boston University. She says of her first book, "Lenny's Surprise Piano," that "it nearly wrote itself as my thesis for the Master of Education degree I earned at B.U. in 1959."

A Tufts alumna, Mrs. Green is the wife of Newton psychiatrist Dr. Sidney Green and mother of two teenagers. She has dipped into her experiences as a teacher and with her own children to develop the characters of Will Pinto and his brothers in her forthcoming book, "The Lonely World of William Pinto" (Atlantic Monthly Press), based on an actual family who lived in New Haven during Revolutionary times.

Will Pinto's brothers interrupted their studies at Yale to serve in the New Haven Militia during the Revolutionary War. Will, who did not join up until the war was nearly over, intrigued Mrs. Green, and "The Lonely World of William Pinto" is the imaginative result.

Mrs. Green is author also of numerous stories and articles in magazines and school anthologies. In her new role this year as faculty member at Breadloaf, Diana Huss Green will actually be returning to a familiar scene where she participated in the 1962 Breadloaf Conference led by author-poet John Ciardi.

$200,000 Hospital Gift By Newtonites

A gift of $200,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Max Wasserman of Newton will enable Beth Israel Hospital to meet its urgent need for expanded medical research facilities, it was announced by Stanley H. Feldberg, Chairman of the Hospital's Golden Anniversary Fund.

The fourth floor of the Slosberg-Landay Research Center, now under construction, will be designated in honor of Jacob and Ethel Wasserman, parents of Mr. Wasserman, according to Mr. Feldberg.

It will house laboratories of physicians working in such areas of research as cancer, endocrinology, renal diseases and diabetes.

"This is a gift that has been prompted because of the outstanding work that has been done by Dr. A. Stone Freedberg and Dr. Herrman Blumgart," Mr. Wasserman said.

"Their studies struck at areas of great medical importance and we felt that the addition of the physical facility to the hospital would give others the opportunity to continue with their work."

In addition to the supportive research building, the development program envisages the construction of a new patient building and a clinical research and therapy structure.

Irving W. Rabb, Hospital President, and Dr. Mitchell T. Rabkin, General Director, pointed out that "the addition of these facilities to the Hospital will provide the arena for medical research activities appropriate to our position as a major teaching hospital."

"By remaining in the forefront of the pursuit of medical knowledge, and by continuing to attract physician-scientists of the highest calibre to Beth Israel Hospital, we thereby give our patients the ultimate benefit of these pursuits — the best possible care."

In making the announcement, Mr. Feldberg expressed the Hospital's deep gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Wasserman for their gift, and for the generosity and alertness to human need which prompted it.

'Y' Officers Installed At Meeting Here

The annual Board of Directors installation meeting took place recently at the local YMCA under the direction of Charles E. Smith, president.

The installation ceremony was conducted by Wilbur W. Bullen, immediate past president of the Newton YMCA.

Officers of the Newton YMCA installed were Charles E. Smith, president; Cooper Eastman, vice-president; Eldred Peterson, clerk; Robert B. Nickerson, treasurer; Sidney A. Marston, assistant treasurer.

Directors re-elected for a three-year term were: Nathan D. Bugbee, Wilbur W. Bullen, Dr. Herbert G. Dunphy, Newton G. Hinckley, Leon F. Marsh, Charles H. Myers, and Robert B. Nickerson.

Jack C. Hoover was elected as a new member of the Board of Directors to serve a three-year term.

Alex R. Miller, executive director, introduced the YMCA Staff to the Board of Directors: Arthur Perkins, Youth Director; Allan Peters, Associate Youth Director; Leonard Garfield, Adult Program Director; Joseph A. White, Physical Director; Joseph C. Santy, Associate Physical Director.

Pastorwill become Minister Emeritus.

He came to Newton from the First Unitarian Society in Chicago, which he had served for eighteen years. While there, he was the inspiration and one of the organizers of the Hyde Park-Kenwood Community Conference.

"This made history in the acceptance and integration of new Negro neighbors into every phase of community life in the area, creating a genuinely open, integrated, inter-racial community of high standards." This took place in an area which had formerly excluded Negroes.

The clergy of nearby churches and synagogues and the faculty of the University of Chicago shared the work. This movement saved the University District from the blight of over-crowding, the exploitation of the Negro market, and urban decay.

Last September, Dr. and Mrs. Pennington were invited to take part in the dedication of a new building addition of the Chicago Church which has been named the Leslie Talbot Pennington Center. At this time, he received a plaque with a citation of appreciation for his service to the Church and the Community.

Since coming to Newton, Dr. Pennington has continued his work in the fields of Fair Housing, Mental Health and the ecumenical movement. He also was one of the organizers of the Newton Mental Health Center.

In the early 1960s, he inspired and organized the first religious service in the state of Massachusetts to include clergy of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish faiths.

Among other positions, Dr. Pennington has been a member of the Newton Fair Housing Committee, was one of the founders of the Boston Interfaith Housing Committee of Boston, and has been a member of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, which serves people all over the world.

Auburndale 2nd Concert To Be Held Tonight

Auburndale's second free "Concert in the Park," sponsored by the Auburndale Community Association, will be held tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock, at Lyons Playground on Commonwealth Avenue.

The concert features the Framingham "Music Masters," a noted group that has specialized in re-creating the sounds of the "Big Bands" of the 30's and 40's—Goodman, Dorsey, Miller, Basie, and all the other greats of the era.

In case of rain—the concert will be held the following evening. Everyone is welcome.

The Gourmet Adventures of

Braising a beef—cooking a roast in its own juices with stock or wine, in a covered casserole in the oven—is a useful technique for every cook to master. It takes time, which serves to tenderize the tough, range-fed beef of some countries. It also turns a second, dry cut of meat, such as chuck, into a main dish that will impress and please any dinner party. In England and in the United States, cooks often bring the roast to the table as the center of attention and serve the vegetables separately, but the French present the meat on the same platter with the vegetables that have been cooked with it. Next time—braise beef "the French way."

For a dinner that will impress even the most discriminating palate come to THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton, 332-4400. This Week's Best Buys

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture

The first native cabbage of the season and the first cauliflower are making a debut in good supply at moderate prices, heading a long list of produce rated best buys this week by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Of better than a dozen salad vegetables, iceberg lettuce is rated the very best buy of the group, as a heavy supply is reaching produce counters at economical prices.

Asparagus, while still available, needs a break in the weather to have one last final fling of the season at money-saving prices. Controlled atmosphere McIntosh are in fair supply at prices considered reasonable with Fourth of July just around the corner. Bunched beets and beetroots, broccoli and broccoli rabe are in adequate supply at moderate prices. Iceberg, salad bowl, Bibb, Romaine, and Boston lettuce are all plentiful and prices are right. Greenhouse tomatoes and cucumbers along with watercress are abundant and priced economically.

Other native vegetables at budget-pleasing prices include chichory, Swiss chard, bunched collards, Italian dandelions, kale, leeks, radishes, spinach and rhubarb. Medium size eggs are the best egg buy with extra large next in line.

Turkey Demand
Americans tripled their demand for turkeys since 1930.

ALLARD M. VALENTINE

Valentine Heads Proposed New Wellesley Bank

A prominent Massachusetts financial executive and civic leader has been named president of the proposed new First Bank and Trust Company of Wellesley, the board of directors announced today.

He is Allard M. Valentine, Jr., 42, who lives in Wellesley, with his wife, Ruth, and his daughter, Carol.

The proposed new bank expects to open in October of 1968.

As president of the First Bank and Trust Company of Wellesley, Valentine will bring a wealth of financial experience and know-how to the residents and business firms of Wellesley and adjacent towns and cities.

His background includes top executive positions in several well-known financial institutions and in key civic, charitable and political organizations. Prior to accepting the presidency of the proposed First Bank and Trust Company of Wellesley, Valentine was vice president of the Safe Deposit Bank and Trust Company of Springfield.

From 1950 to 1966 he was with the Wellesley National Bank, where he was made vice president in 1961 and following Wellesley National Bank's merger into the Quincy-based South Shore National Bank he became a vice president of that bank.

Valentine is a graduate of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, and of the Institute for Financial Management at the Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University. He has also earned two graduate certificates from the Boston Chapter of the American Institute of Banking.

Prominent in Wellesley Republican activities, Mr. Valentine has served as chairman of the Wellesley Republican Town Committee, and as president of the Wellesley Republican Club. He is active in many local civic enterprises.

The Town of Wellesley has also benefited from Valentine's services through his role as a Town Meeting Member, and his membership on the Library Building Committee. He is an army veteran of World War II.

In 1960, the new First Bank and Trust Company president received the first "Young Man of the Year" distinguished service award from the Wellesley Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Valentine is the former Ruth E. Schofield of Connecticut. Daughter, Carol, attends Endicott Junior College.

49-Year Old Dad Overcomes Broken Back; Earns Degree

Kenneth Paul Seltzer of 21 Elmore street, Newton Centre, received his Master's Degree on Friday, recently from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Twenty-seven years ago, 1941, Mr. Seltzer received his Bachelor of Science Degree from the Institute.

Mr. Seltzer, the father of three children, Ruth, the oldest, graduated from Brandeis University on Sunday morning the 9th of June, and was married at 5:00 p.m. at the Berlin Chapel on the Brandeis Campus.

His second daughter, Laurie, just finished her first year at the Boston University School of Nursing.

His third child, Stephen Mark was confirmed (Bar Mitzvah) on May 25th, 1968.

While Mr. Seltzer was working on his thesis which he started in February, 1967, he had to take a leave of absence from his job. He works for Cabot Corp., 125 High street, Boston. Mr. Seltzer works in the R and D Division of Cabot Corp. which is located in Billerica.

Taking a leave of absence was necessary as it is a prerequisite of the Institute that one must have residency for six months while working on a thesis.

On May 3, 1967, when Mr. Seltzer left his class and was returning to his lab, he fell

When the ordinance was proposed two weeks ago it specified that lots in Residence D district were required to contain 20,000 square feet of land to qualify as the site for a funeral home.

Alderman Ernest Dietz opposed this restriction, saying that construction of garden apartments in the down the stairs at the Institute and broke his back. He was hospitalized for eight weeks and in a steel brace for six months.

After getting back on his feet, he started working on his thesis again and he received his degree in January of 1968.

This was quite a feat for a man of forty-nine.

same zone requires 24,000 square feet.

As a result, he said, property owners who wished to sell parcels containing less than 24,000 square feet would almost be forced to sell to funeral home operators. For this reason the proposed ordinance was changed to require 24,000 square feet for funeral homes.

The new ordinance also requires that the owner of the funeral home live on the premises to assure adequate maintenance.

Alderman Alan S. Barkin opposed the funeral home ordinance, declaring that a petitioner could go before the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance to construct a funeral home. The zoning laws should not be tampered with for such a limited use, he maintained. There are not enough lots involved to change the laws, he argued.

Alderman Harry L. Wallen also opposed the new ordinance, asserting that, in his opinion, it infringed on residential neighborhoods. Also opposed was Alderman William H. Wolf.

In another action the aldermen approved an appropriation of $54,750 for the first of land damages for takings for the new Newton High School.

They awarded $30,750 to Leslie and Kathryn Shea of 39-41 Elm Rd. and $24,000 to Gerard C. and Marie F. Fagan of 36 Kimball Terrace.

Gun Control Law

A strong and sensible gun-control law which would apply to the 50 States of the Union should be enacted as speedily as possible by Congress.

It is difficult to understand how any member of Congress or of the National Rifle Association could offer any reasonable objection to the recommendations by President Johnson.

The President has proposed that the mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition be outlawed and that over-the-counter sales of long guns be limited to persons over 21 who reside in State where the purchases are made.

Those two recommendations, if enacted into law, would be a step in the right direction.

Actually, they would not go far enough, but they would help.

Some Congressmen and many members of the National Rifle Association argue that such actions would be too drastic. It is impossible for us to follow their reasoning. Their logic escapes us completely.

No gun law, however strict or rigid, will guarantee that a President or other public figure will not be assassinated in the future any more than will the assignment of Secret Servicemen to guard such public leaders.

A deranged would-be assassin may still be able to figure out how to buy or steal a rifle or pistol.

Professional criminals unquestionably will still be able to get the firearms they use in plying their nefarious trade.

But even if the only thing the law accomplishes is to get fewer rifles and pistols into the hands of law-abiding citizens, it should result in a sharp reduction in murders and fatal and serious accidents, the number of which is staggering each year.

Worthwhile gun legislation will not be a swift or certain panacea for violence made possible by firearms. However, with proper enforcement, it can offer the first long stride toward sanity.

The National Rifle Association comprising about a million members, virtually all of them respectable and respected citizens in their communities, apparently will oppose the enactment of even the most moderate gun control law.

While a sane gun control law may inconvenience gun and rifle collectors, the overwhelming evidence is that such a law is needed and that no small group, however well organized, can be permitted to keep it off the statute books.

Summer Time

Very shortly that midyear period known as summer, which starts officially this Friday, June 21, will be upon us. For many, it holds a threat of the impending tragedy of riots and strife. One can only pray that these forebodings will prove baseless, that summer will once again be as it should — a time when the land is in full bloom.

In thousands of communities throughout the nation, people can look forward to a traditional summer. The lemonade stands operated by the small fry will make their appearance, along with the backyard hammocks and charcoal broilers. The incomparable scenery of America will draw the usual millions to seashores and mountains.

In the days of dusty roads, barefoot boys and the old swimming hole, few were able to enjoy pilgrimages to faraway vacation spots. Those who do so now bear a heavy share of the responsibility for preserving the purity and beauty of our environment.

Actually, summer is no different now than in the days of Mark Twain, and we should enjoy it to the fullest.

Linda Sones In Cast Of 'Emily' On TV June 25th

Linda Sones of 19 Holden road, West Newton, has a leading role in the Channel 2 special "Emily," Tuesday, June 25 at 9 p.m.

Telecast simultaneously by WGBX-TV, Channel 44, this dramatic documentary is the story of one of America's most enigmatic and fascinating poets — Emily Dickinson.

"Emily" is performed by students from the Theatre Division of Boston University's School of Fine Arts, among them Miss Sones, who portrays the wife of Charles, the man Emily Dickinson loved.

Written by Evangeline Machlin of the Boston University faculty, and based on the poet's personal letters and poems, "Emily" is seen as a child, young, nature-loving and unorthodox; as an awkward teenager for whom school is an unnecessary discipline and boys are the most important thing in the world; and as a mature woman, by turns serene, majestic and passionate.

Christopher Sarson of WGBH produced and directed the production for television, and it will be seen nationwide as part of the Eastern Educational Network's "Summer Festival."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Anti Lunch Program

Editor, The Graphic:

My husband and I have just bought a home in Newton and in a few weeks we will be residents of your city. I have been following with the utmost interest your controversy over the proposed school lunch program in the elementary schools. As we will have six children in your public school system as of next September, one in the Junior High School and five in the elementary school, I wish very much to ask a few questions and hope that I will receive some satisfactory answers, for I am truly bewildered!

How the latest adoption by the School Committee is an "optional" five day lunch in school program giving parents their choice of having their children eat lunch in school or go to their homes for lunch as they desire. I would like to know the reasoning and thinking behind such a program in view of the following:

1. The School Committee has adopted a five day optional lunch program and yet only three days a week is there a full day of school. What is the purpose of a lunch program on Tuesdays and Thursdays when there are no classes after 12 o'clock on those days?

2. If this program is to really keep "working mothers" (and by working mothers I mean women who must work out of real necessity) then why is there only three full days of classes a week? The 5 day lunch program does not help these women when they must pay a baby sitter for 2 afternoons or try to find a concern that will allow them to work only 3 days a week.

3. Why can't Newton adopt a five day single session (with lunch in school) like practically every other surrounding community? Believe me, the children, the parents, the teachers and the entire School Administration would all survive and flourish very happily! In this way women, who must work, women at home with busy schedules, women who wish to pursue a career or further their education can count on regular schedules for their children and themselves and plan their time accordingly.

4. Why on earth should any parent be asked to pay a weekly fee to have their children eat a homemade sandwich in school? Is there any other community that asks this of its citizens? The tax rate in Newton is such that luncheon assistants can be paid substantially well without asking parents to pay for what is a normal service in any other school system. This request is absolutely unjust and unreasonable!

Newton Turmoil

Editor, The Graphic:

It is with a feeling of profound relief that we find ourselves uninvolved in the present controversy over school lunch programs and single sessions. For 12 of the 14 years we have lived in Newton, this sort of turmoil was a very real part of our daily life.

When we moved here in 1954, a hot lunch program,

Shelters a Sham

Editor, The Graphic:

Most readers of this paper have by now received the Home Fallout Protection Survey Questionnaire issued by the federal Census Bureau, acting as agent for the Department of Defense, Office of Civil Defense, and endorsed by a covering letter from Governor Volpe.

We strongly urge all residents to RETURN THE HOME FALLOUT PROTECTION SURVEY QUESTIONNAIRE UNANSWERED.

Merely to advise us of the amount of fallout protection in our homes is a sham; a pretense of effective official action. Such action seems pitifully inadequate alongside the conclusions of a group of Boston doctors that there could be no ultimate survivors from a nuclear attack on Boston, and that shelters could make absolutely no difference in the long run. The doctors' findings, collected after exhaustive research, were published in articles in the New England Journal of Medicine (226; 1126, 1962).

To pretend that we can sustain a nuclear attack may actually lead one to occur, by lulling us into a false feeling of security and thereby sapping our collective will to find the kind of solutions to world problems that will eliminate the possibility of nuclear warfare.

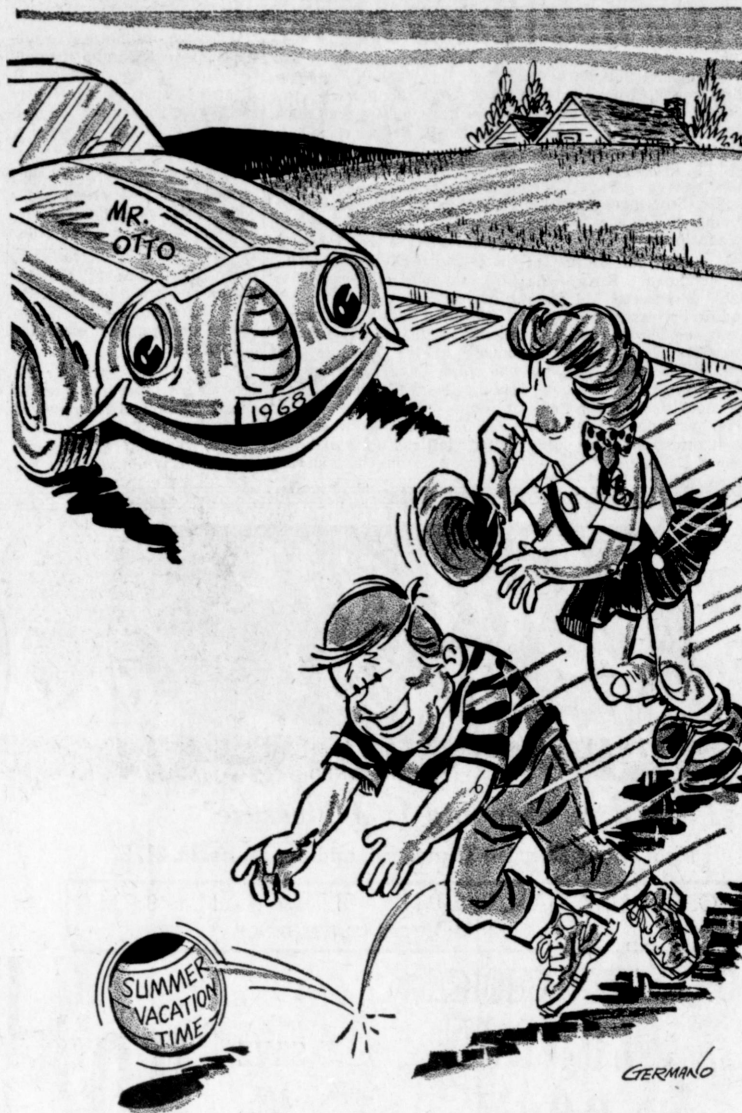

May we again urge all residents to return the questionnaire unanswered.

FLORENCE CHERNER, President, and Members of the Newton Chapter, Voice of Women, N. E.

In conclusion, I hope someone will come to my aid and tell me just what is the resistance to conform to a school and lunch program that is uniform daily? Traditions are to be cherished and preserved I realize, but many times they must step aside for change—for change is progress, especially when the change represents intelligence, usefulness and safety for our children.

MRS. J. M. SEGARRA, 71 Barnard Avenue, Watertown.

SCHOOL'S OUT, SO WATCH OUT!

A Time To Act

Editor of The Graphic:

We, a group of parents, are extremely concerned about television programming for children. Television has become an intrinsic part of most children's experience. Nationwide statistics show that young children spend more time in front of the TV screen than in any other activity except sleep. What they see helps form their attitudes toward the world and inevitably influences their behavior in that world.

When a child is exposed to violence in cartoons and serials, as he is day after day, will his reaction to the real thing be shock—or acceptance?

When a child is shown a world of stereotypes, as he is day after day, will he come to judge individuals by their own worth—or with prejudice?

When a child is subjected to situations where everyone is relatively wealthy or white, a world unknown to millions of this nation's young, will he look at his own environment with appreciation—or shame?

When a child is presented with performers who sell as they entertain, as he is day after day, will his reaction be one of trust—or frustration?

Robert Kennedy was assassinated. Suddenly, we are hearing talk of a society made sick by a diet of blood and warfare. Suddenly, people are saying, "Something must be done to limit the amount of violence on TV."

But something has already been done. In January of this year, a group of concerned men and women organized Action for Children's Television to accomplish through the force of numbers what we failed to do through isolated protests—a change in the nature of television for children. Our purpose is:

- (1) To communicate our feelings on children's television to advertisers, television stations and networks, and the Federal Communications Commission.
- (2) To strengthen the FCC by encouraging the appointment of staff members committed to excellence and by working for increased annual appropriations for its operations.
- (3) To establish an enforceable code of ethics governing children's programming. Children's programming can be changed! For further information write now to: ACT, Newton Centre, Mass. 02159.

Peggy Charren, Lillian Ambrosino, Action for Children's Television.

Doesn't make much sense, does it?

Sincerely yours,
Peggy Williams

JFK Would Be Nearing End Of Service If He Had Lived

It was just about eight years ago that we boarded a jet airliner at Logan Airport with the big, confident, happy Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic national convention in bustling, smoggy Los Angeles.

What suddenly seems unusual is that John F. Kennedy—if he had lived out his life and had been reelected in 1964—would now be serving the closing months of his second term as President.

If JFK were still alive, he would be preparing to retire from public life, possibly to accept the presidency of some university. His public service would end next January.

John Kennedy probably would be hand-picking the Democratic nominee for President. His choice might be Lyndon Johnson or his brother Robert or one of his Cabinet members.

A sniper's bullet on a November day in Dallas ended all that. One can look back and dream of what might have been. But it seems strange to contemplate that John Kennedy might be about to enter the final six months of his public service if the course of history had been slightly different.

Rocky Counts On Pollsters To Swing GOP Delegates

Governor Nelson Rockefeller is counting on the reports of the pollsters to swing delegate votes to him at the Republican national convention to be held at Miami in early August.

That's why he is publishing full-page advertisements in Boston newspapers when the Massachusetts Presidential Primary is a matter of history and he is assured of the solid Bay State vote on the first convention ballot. If the GOP fight goes to a second ballot, Rocky may be in business.

Yet, he is working to shine up his image with the rank and file of voters — Republicans, Democrats and Independents.

His only slim prospect of getting the Republican Presidential nomination is to convince the GOP delegates at Miami that he is a lot stronger than Richard M. Nixon — so much stronger that he could win election in November and Nixon could not.

Unless the surveys made by the pollsters produce returns to support and substantiate such a claim by Rocky, Nixon will carry off the nomination without even a real battle.

As matters presently stand, Nixon needs to sew up only a relatively small number of delegates in order to assure himself of a victory at Miami before the convention is even called to order.

Those last few votes needed to win a fight always come hardest, but there's an excellent chance that Nixon can get them and go into the conclave with a majority of pledges in his pocket as Barry Goldwater did in 1964. His bandwagon appears to have a winning rumble.

Rockefeller is beginning to fight, but it's probably too late. The odds are heavily against him.

He injured his prospects badly by his on-again-off-again campaign, by announcing first that he would not run, then changing his mind and deciding that he would.

That Rocky can undo damage he has done to his own candidacy between now and the time of the Republican national convention is highly unlikely.

His newspaper advertisement on Vietnam, incidentally, was an intriguing one.

His message was that we should profit from the hard lesson we have learned in Vietnam, that the peace talks give us time to right the errors we have made in Vietnam, that we should work patiently and persistently in Paris for peace, and that we should have candor and trust at home.

"I say we can make this Vietnam the last Vietnam," Rockefeller declared. "And this is one reason why I run for President."

If Governor Rockefeller has any ideas on how we can get out of the mess in Vietnam, he did not divulge them.

Hatch To Challenge Curtis For Republican House Post

A number of Republicans are planning an attempt next January to oust Representative Sidney Q. Curtis of Sheffield from his position as GOP Leader in the House of Representatives.

Exactly what Curtis has done or not done to displease a group of his fellow House Republicans is not clear.

Most observers consider that Curtis has done about as good a job as it was possible to do with the small number of Republicans he commands in the House and in view of the overwhelming numerical superiority of the Democrats.

However, Representative Francis W. Hatch, Jr., wealthy, young aristocratic law-maker from Beverly, reportedly is planning to make a run against Curtis when the Legislature convenes for the start of its 1969 session.

Hatch was the Republican legislator who challenged Francis W. Sargent for the GOP nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1966 but was beaten when top party leaders rallied behind Sargent.

Curtis, who is well liked and respected by most of his House colleagues, should be able to retain his post as Minority Leader. However, the November election could make a number of changes in the makeup of the House.

DAV And Auxiliary Delegates Entertained At Newton Party

Commander Frederick Kent and Auxiliary Commander and the delegates of both the Chaplain Wm. J. Farrell No. 23 and its Auxiliary at the City Hall cafeteria assisted by both Senior Vice Commanders, John J. Sturniolo and Rose Sturniolo with a tasty collation.

Junior Vice Commander Lewis Maffiola and Teras-Adj. Dorothy Maffiola, furnished the entertainment and music for dancing at the affair.

The Commander of the DAV invited members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, (who were holding their meeting at adjoining quarters) to join in the festivities.

Attending this last of the season event, were the elected delegates to the D.A.V. State Convention which is to be held on June 27-28-29, 1968 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

They were as follows: Cmdr. Frederick Kent; SVC John J. Sturniolo; JVC Lewis Maffiola; Chaplain Stanford Ackers; P.C. Joseph Volpe; P.C. Victory Gorgone; P.C. Edward DeCoste, Officer of the Day; P.C. Edward Edmunds D.S.C.; Treas. Joseph N. DeLoff; Joseph Lechiaro; Adj. Michael Riccio; Sgt.-at-Arms John Young; Alternate Delegates, P.C. Ralph Maddocks; William McTavish and also P.D.C. J. Edward Theriault, Judge Advocate; and P.D.C. John E. Bouchard, Historian of Chapter No. 23 and Chairman of the Dept. Recreational Area Program, both of whom will be attending the Convention by virtue of their State Dept. Offices. For the Auxiliary: Cmdr. Mary Ann Gorgone; SVC Rose Sturniolo; JVC Frances Edmunds; Adj.-Treas. Dorothy Maffiola; State Executive Committee woman, P.C. Margaret G. Sharron; P.C. Etta Twombly, and Alternate Delegates, Norma DeCoste; Marie Riccio; Marie Volpe and P.C. Ethel Oppen.

The Delegates will attend the State Dept. Convention Banquet on Thursday, June 27th and participate in a Memorial Exercise Friday at 2:00 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church, honoring General of the Army, Douglas MacArthur, and again at the Dept. Special Memorial Service at 8:00 p.m., to honor deceased members of the Dept. of Mass.

Business activities, such as hospital programs and plans will be acted upon. Reports of all Standing Committees will be read such as Membership, (which has reached an all time high) Americanism, Ways & Means, Legislature, and Recreational Area Program.

The Convention Chairman, Secretary of State, John F.X. Davoren, promises the liveliest Convention in years with a hotly contested Department Election for a new State Commander and Officers.

All members of the Disabled American Veterans are invited to attend, irrespective as to being a Delegate, but with no voice in the proceedings. The public is invited to the two Memorial Exercises.

R.N.'s Meet In Newton June 12

Mrs. Louise M. Miller of Newton, staff nurse at the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Brighton, was a panel member in a discussion of the responsibilities of registered nurses in the performance of their profession during an all-day meeting on Wednesday (June 12).

The Massachusetts Nurses Association met at the Holiday Inn, Newton, for consideration of the ultimate responsibility of R.N.'s for nursing service to patients. Attorney John E. Fenton Jr., a professor of law at Suffolk University, spoke to the assembly.

The Massachusetts Nurses Association is the professional association of registered nurses and a state constituent of the American Nurses Association.

Voting-

evaluated before a further decision must be made.

It is expected that the matter will be brought up again in a report by the Legislation Committee at the board's next meeting on July 1.

The aldermen said they want to be able to make a decision regarding the November election as soon as possible to allow enough time for the hiring of the necessary 400 ballot counters if a return to hand-counted paper ballots is voted.

Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell voiced the opinion that there are too many unresolved questions concerning the machines to give the go-ahead for their further use. Until the questions are answered, he said, approval of further use of the machines would not be in the best interests of the city.

He claimed that the differences in results between a first and second counting of ballots after last November's municipal election revealed significant changes amounting to from 2 to 5 votes in many precincts. In a close contest he said, these votes could be crucial.

Executive Secretary of the Election Commission Alan L. Carie said that differences between the two countings were very slight and that accuracy of the computer counting was certainly as great or greater than the hand method.

McDonnell also claimed that there were a significant number of unpunched ballots.

In addition, McDonnell said, if an election is in doubt and the matter goes to court, a judge can look at disputed paper ballots and render a decision. This cannot easily be done with the punch-card system, he maintained.

Dangel pointed to the increasing difficulty of finding a sufficient number of people from both political parties willing to count paper ballots. He also expressed the opinion that the aldermen seemed to be in a hurry to discard a system before it has been determined whether there really were problems that cannot easily be solved.

He also noted that the city would be "throwing $15,000 out of the window" if the system were scrapped before the September primary since it is included in the contract.

Newton Minister Officiates . . .

Ancient Church Open For Regular Service

When Rev. Thomas D. Newman of 84 Adella avenue, West Newton, minister at Christ Church Unity of Boston, conducted services of worship Sunday morning in beautiful Sears Chapel on Colchester street, Brookline, it marked the first time in over a century the chapel has been open for public worship.

From now on the Chapel will be in regular use and in final fulfillment of the wish of David Sears, who more than 100 years ago, sought to build a church "where all faiths could worship together."

Rev. Newman and his wife Louise J. Newman, also an ordained minister, are both associated with Christ Unity Church, and they have been invited to take over the Sears family Chapel by Richard D. Sears of Exeter street and Prides Crossing, who heads the Chapel Trustees.

Christ Church Unity will continue to hold services in New England Life Hall at 10 o'clock each Sunday morning, with services in the new church edifice an hour later — 11 a.m. Rev. Tom and his wife Rev. Louise will conduct both services.

It was David Sears, a direct descendant of Gov. Winthrop, the inheritor of one of the richest estates in the country, who had the idea of a church "which should be a gathering place for all men without reference to creed and dogma . . . a temple for the worship of God and not a place for the display of learning, reciting of creed and wrangling over doctrines."

David Sears' dream, "far ahead of his time," seemed impossible of reality, though the pastor who officiated at his funeral services, the Rev. Henry A. Miles, spoke prophetically of Sears' vision.

"Hundreds of years hence," Rev. Miles said after Sears died in 1871, "some may be curious to know all about the man who had these large grand thoughts in advance of his age, that man who gave a noble portion of his wealth to realize an idea."

A descendant, Richard D. Sears, now retired, and father of Suffolk County's Sheriff John Sears, attended the Christ Church Unity's interdenominational services in New England Life Hall where the 700 member congregation of Rev. Thomas D. Newman and his wife has been meeting. Ing. He then invited Rev. Sears, now impressed with the service and decided he had found what his ancestor David Sears was seeking. He then invited Rev. Newman and Unity to take over the family chapel for regular services.

Last Sunday was the first service and both Richard part in scripture readings, and later greeted the hundreds of Sears and his son John, took churchgoers as they left the edifice.

The chapel, known officially as Christ Church Longwood, is adjacent to Longwood Towers. The beautiful gracious structure, built of Roxbury puddingstone, with square bell tower, is a replica of The Church of St. Peter in Colchester, England. It seats nearly a thousand, with oak box cushioned pews and balconies.

Stained glass windows surround the building and the floor has a new red carpet. A beautiful Rose Window in the center contains Catholic and Hebrew inscriptions, surrounded by Protestant verses.

The wallpaper of the sanctuary is hand-painted, and "The Lord's Prayer," the Ten Commandments and The Creed are hand lettered on the walls.

The last regular pastor left in the 1860's and except for one brief interlude in the late 19th century, the church has been mostly a massive headstone for members of the Sears family buried in vaults below.

For a time the only public service of the church was the ringing of its bells on the occasion of a fire. While that eventually stopped, a faithful caretaker regularly cleaned and aired the church, dusted the pulpit and pews and wound the clock. Aside from that, the only time the massive front doors swung open was for a family funeral or wedding.

For the past two Saturdays more than 50 members of the congregation gave freely of their time as "work parties" to put the church in order for Sunday's initial Unity service. Stained glass windows were cleaned, the oak pews washed and polished, the cushions aired and brushed, and the brass lights polished. The only time work stopped was for a picnic lunch, provided by church women, and served on the sloping banks of nearby Muddy River.

The headquarters for Christ Church Unity is located at 175 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, where mid-week services, classes, and special courses are held. Both Mr. and Mrs. Newman work in close harmony on all ministerial duties.

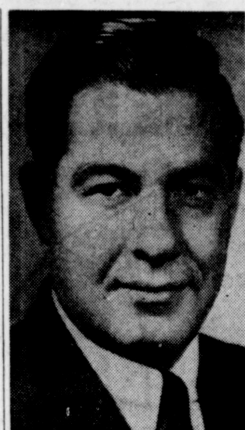

In their West Newton home professional radio station equipment is installed for taping his two five-minute radio broadcasts a day. Each morning at 7:55 a.m. his daily lesson may be heard over WBCN, 104 FM and WRYT, 95.0 AM. The Unity Sunday Lesson is broadcast each Sunday from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. on WBCN, 104 FM. DIAL-A-PRAYER may be heard by calling 536-4240 and 244-5441 day or night.

Rev. Tom, a short, dynamic Briton, gave up a business empire and a fortune in his native England 10 years ago to become a minister of Unity. Rev. Louise, a native American, competently combines her busy life as a minister and housewife.

Newtonites At Pharmacy Group Banquet Event

Louis Cohen, 88 Selwyn road; Domenic F. Lombardi, 14 Murphy court; Jacob N. Newstadt, 131 Langdon Street; Samuel M. Shriberg, 39 Longwell road, all of Newton; Howard Smolar, 31 Danna road, Newton Centre; Jon B. Margolis, 74 Eliot avenue, West Newton, and Mrs. Milton Falkson, 398 Lowell road, Newtonville, were among some 650 members and guests who attended the 99th Annual Alumni Reunion Banquet of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy on June 5, at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

Alumni Association President Dr. William E. Hassah, Jr., Class of 1945, of 18 Joseph road, Newton, was toastmaster.

GEORGE E. KANE

Garden City Trust Elects New President

George E. Kane was elected president and chairman of the Board of Garden City Trust Company at the June 1 meeting of the directors of the bank.

Mr. Kane is president and treasurer of Kane Financial Corporation and has been active in the financial world since 1935. He is also chairman of the Board and treasurer of North American Nursing Homes, Inc., Boston; and treasurer of Massachusetts Capital Corporation, Boston.

Long interested in boys' club affairs, Mr. Kane is past president and currently a director of the West End House, Inc. He was honored by the Boys' Clubs of America with their Keystone Award for "Outstanding Service to Boys."

Mr. Kane is a graduate of Bentley College and a resident of Boston.

Housing-

apartments on the old school property. The site is too small to be practical for any worthwhile project, Alderman Ball quoted the Newton Planning Director as saying. Fewer than 20 apartments could be built there, she declared.

According to Alderman Ball, the Planning Director revised a previous statement in which he had said four sites in the city were desirable for low rent housing — the Bowen School, Victory Field in Nonantum, the Stearns School now being used for the Newton School Administration headquarters, and the city infirmary land.

He no longer considers the Bowen School site to be large enough, Alderman Ball said.

A lone bid of $32,070 was received for the property after it was advertised for sale, Alderman Ball reported. The bidder agreed to abide by restrictions imposed by the aldermen, she stated.

The restrictions included a minimum price for the property of $30,000 and the provision that the property be used only for construction of garden apartments.

In addition the aldermen required that the old school be razed within 90 days after completion of the sale and that the foundation excavation be filled in and the land rough graded. Construction of the new apartments would have to be completed in 18 months after sale of the property, according to the restrictions.

8 Newton Boys Graduate From Roxbury Latin

Henry W. Bragdon, retired teacher, prominent historian and writer, gave the address at the 323rd Roxbury Latin School commencement held on Friday, June 7th.

Among the 32 seniors who graduated were eight local boys: Richard M. Bargar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold M. Bargar of 5 Sharpe road, Newton Center; Timothy R. Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman T. Byrnes of 175 Waverly avenue, Newton; Silvio A. Calabi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Calabi of 9 Moreland avenue, Newton Center; Samuel Z. Goldhaber, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Goldhaber of 56 Devonshire road, Waban; Mark E. Jacobs, son of Mrs. Leo Jacobs of 511 Ward street, Newton Center; Peter L. Myette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger P. Myette of 171 Sargent street, Newton; Samuel N. Seskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel A. Seskin of 450 Waverly avenue, Newton; and Charles L. Sidman, son of Mrs. Jean Sidman of 12 Indian Ridge road, Newton Center.

Richard Bargar received the Bausch and Lomb Medal for scientific aptitude, the Islay F. McCormick Prize for excellence in mathematics, and the N. Henry Black Prize for excellence in science.

Samuel Goldhaber won the Albert W. Kelsey Prize for debating; Samuel Seskin received the Class of 1913 Award for a significant contribution to some school activity; and Charles Sidman received a prize for excellence in French.

Robert Bender, a junior, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Bender of 17 Grace road, Newton Center, received the Harvard Club of Boston Prize book as the best all-around member of his class in character, academic excellence, and extra-curricular activity.

Judge Frank J. Murray stayed execution of the sentence until an appeal by defense counsel Edward L. Richmond is heard. Stoppleman contended he was a conscientious objector and argued that his Watertown draft board refused to classify him as such.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wall recommended a three-year sentence and Atty. Richmond requested a suspended sentence.

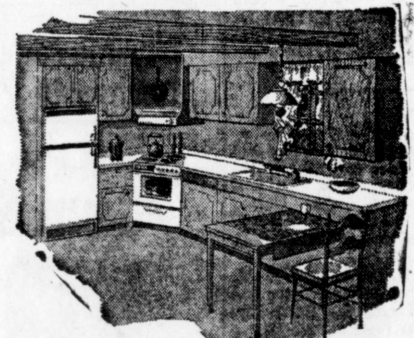

He said Stoppleman had a job at the Metropolitan State Hospital in Waltham where he worked as an attendant in the children's psychiatric ward. He said Stoppleman would continue working there in lieu of military duty.

MRS. EDWIN WALLACE KETLER

Waban Church Scene Of Ketler-Stobo Wedding

At a recent 5 o'clock ceremony in the Waban Union Church, Miss Carolyn Gail Stobo and Edwin Wallace Ketler were married.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Stobo Jr., officiated. A reception was held at the Longwood Towers in Brookline.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory peau de soie and Alencon lace fashioned with a wedding ring neckline, long sleeves, empire bodice, and sheath front skirt with a full shirred back terminating in a chapel length train.

Similar lace outlined her elbow length mantilla accented with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses and Stephanotis with a shower of ribbons.

Miss Elaine C. Zeronda of Delmar, N.Y., was honor maid. Her full length pearl pink crepe gown was made

Local Women On Committee For Reunion

Some 500 Simmons College alumnae included in their usual reunion activities two days of an Alumnae College concerned with discussions of our urban society, an examination of the war on poverty, and a look at riots, protests and the law. The reunion was held on the Simmons College Brookline campus last Thursday through Sunday.

The keynote speaker for Alumnae College was Mark I. Solomon of Watertown, an instructor of History at Simmons College and a specialist in Afro-American and American Intellectual History. He discussed "Our Urban Society: An American Imperative."

This was followed by a panel on "What is the War on Poverty?" led by Hubert E. Jones, director of the Roxbury Multi-Service Center. On the panel was Steven Diamond of the B.R.A.; William Goldsmith, professor of Politics at Brandeis; and Robert G. Henne-muth, vice president for Industrial Relations at Raytheon.

with a wedding ring neckline, bell-shaped sleeves accented with satin inserts at the waistline and a back bow. She carried a bouquet of red roses with a matching headband.

Identically attired, the bridesmaids were Mrs. John D. Stobo of Baltimore, Maryland, Miss Joan C. Ketler, sister of the groom, Mrs. Jonathan N. Ford of Syracuse, N.Y., and Miss Susan Kirshen of Waban.

Charles Pai of Waltham served as best man. Dr. John D. Stobo, brother of the bride, William Ketler, brother of the groom, Donald Costley of Boston and Thomas O'Connor of Scarsdale, N.Y., were the ushers.

After a trip to the Virgin Islands, the couple will live in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Green Mountain College.

Mr. Ketler was graduated with high distinction from Cornell University where he received his master's degree in Engineering and he belonged to Theta Chi fraternity. (Photo by Allen Lee)

Sum. Schedule At St. John's

The Summer schedule of services at St. John's (Episcopal) Church in Newtonville will begin with the service of Holy Communion and sermon on Sunday (June 23) at 9 a.m. and continue through September 8, according to announcement by Rev. Edwin S. S. Sunderland Jr., Rector.

Services will be taken by the Rev. David Nicholls, Ph.D. who teaches Political Science at the University of the West Indies in St. Augustine, Trinidad, during the month of July.

Visitors to the city as well as parishioners are always welcome at the services.

General chairman for the reunion was Mrs. G. H. Gowdy of Winchester. Chairman for Alumnae College is Mary Jane Doherty of Belmont. Included on the committee were Mrs. Robert Marney of Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Maurice Levenberg and Mrs. Sydney J. Allman, both of Newton Centre; and Bernice Poutas of Newton, Simmons Director of Alumnae Affairs.

MRS. ROBERT A. MAYVILLE

Miss Smith-Petersen Wed To Robert Anthony Mayville

Bouquets of spring flowers and candelabra decorated the altar of the Lindsay-Crossman Chapel at Baldwin-Wallace College, Ohio, recently for the marriage of Miss Susan Cushing Smith-Petersen to Robert Anthony Mayville.

Dr. and Mrs. Morten Smith-Petersen of West Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Mayville of Strongsville, Ohio, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Francis Penko and the Rev. John Patterson officiated at the one thirty o'clock afternoon service. The Coach House Inn, Strongsville, was the scene of the reception.

Given away by her father, the bride's long sleeved lace cage gown, made with a scalloped neckline and hemline, fell over peau de soie.

Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms. Her star shaped bouquet was styled of shasta daisies and marked with white ribbon.

Miss Nancy Smith-Petersen of West Newton sister of the bride, was the sole attendant. She chose a long sleeved gown of yellow organza with a matching Dior bow. Her flowers were yellow and white daisies.

SALLY DAY

Sally Day, Roger Brown Plan Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holden Day of Newton Lower Falls announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sally Jean Day, to Roger Davis Brown. He is the son of Mrs. Harold Frederick Brown of Newton and the late Dr. Brown.

Miss Day is a graduate of Newton High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society, and the University of Maine with highest distinction. Her sorority is Alpha Omicron Pi.

Now teaching English at Milton High School, Miss Day is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hobben Day Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilder Dearing, all of Newton Centre.

Mr. Brown, who was graduated from Brown and Nicholas School as well as Harvard College, received his master's degree in Education from Harvard University, where he is in his final year in the doctoral program.

He is administrative assistant to the director of Pupil Personnel Services in the Newton public schools, as well as a former guidance counselor at Newton High School.

Trip To France Followed Gallagher - Swainson Bridal

At a four o'clock service in the Newtonville Methodist Church on Saturday, June 15, Miss Karen Leslie Swainson of Boston became the bride of William Withington Gallagher 3rd.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leslie Swainson of 59 Gay street, Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gallagher Jr., of Weston are the groom's parents.

The Rev. John R. Lilly officiated at the afternoon service which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of shantung linen. The molded bodice had a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves designed with a wide border of Venice lace to match the hemline of her skirt as well as her detachable train.

A matching lace cap was fastened with an imported illusion veil. She carried a cascade of daisies.

Mrs. Stephen C. Lush of Wayzata, Minnesota, was her sister's matron of honor. She wore yellow linen styled with Venice lace on the sleeves as well as the back panel. Her headpiece was made of flowers.

Radcliffe Honor Grad To Study At Oxford, England

Leslie Suzanne Claff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Claff of 144 Austin St., Newtonville, received the bachelor of arts degree on Wednesday (June 12) from Radcliffe College, summa cum laude in history and literature (English).

Elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year, she also received the Oliver Dabney Award given to the member of the junior class showing the most promise.

Miss Claff, travelling with a group of history students, nationally selected by Oberlin College, spent the summer of 1967 in the Soviet Union where she completed the University of Moscow's six weeks' summer session.

At Radcliffe, she was a member of the Bach Society, playing flute.

Chosen a Fulbright Scholar and a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, she was awarded a Lady Henry Fellowship for study at Oxford University.

She will begin her studies at Somerville College, Oxford University, Oxford, England, after mid-September of this year. She will live at the Margery Foy and Elizabeth Nuffield House.

The Wheaton College Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa announced today the election of Linda Marilyn Winn as a Member-in-Course. She was one of ten members of the graduating class of 1968 initiated into the honor society.

Miss Winn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winn, 92 Deborah road, Newton Centre.

Sum'er Schedule On June 23rd At Lutheran Church

On June 23, the Lutheran Church of the Newtons will change to their summer schedule and add two more services each week.

The weekly program will be as follows: Holy Communion service at 8:30 a.m., a brief 30-minute Communion service for those who wish to worship early. The regular worship service at 9:30 a.m. will be identical to the usual 10:30 a.m. worship.

There will be a midweek service on Wednesday evenings during the summer at 8 p.m. This devotional service will have no music, but will repeat the sermon and scripture readings of the Sunday previous. It is for those who are unable to attend the Sunday service.

On June 23, William Scar, a son of the congregation and a student at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, will preach for the first time in his home church.

Vacation Bible School will be conducted at the Lutheran Church of the Newtons the last two weeks in August, from Aug. 19 through Aug. 30 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday. Bible stories, arts and crafts, singing and recreation will be provided. No charge will be made except for a free-will offering during the opening worship. All children are welcome.

Diplomas were presented by Irving Rosenbloom, chairman of the School Committee; and Ruben Brown, Vice-President of the Temple.

A class gift was presented by Janice Blauer to Temple President John Silver.

Sunday Services At 1st Church Of Christ Scientist

The topic of the lesson to be read in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Sunday (June 23) will be "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" The service will begin at 10:45 a.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Golden Text, from Proverbs, states the theme of the Lesson: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens."

Among passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "God creates and governs the universe, including man."

Newton Junior College Places Six On All Stars

Massachusetts Junior College Baseball League play off champion Newton Junior College placed six players on the League All Star Team. They are pitcher, Warren Dean, Newton; catcher Tom Arbuckle, Newton; 2b, James Curley, Watertown; 3b, Dick Paulino, Newton; utility, Tony Cicca, Newton; and outfielder, Joe Johnson, Newton.

Dean, a 6-4 righty won 2 and lost 1 with 4 saves to his credit. In 36 innings pitched he had 51 strikeouts and an ERA of .973. A first-base man when not pitching, he led the Bears in fielding with a .962 fielding percentage.

Arbuckle, a good solid catcher is rated by his coach Dick Rollins as one of the finest receivers in the area. A dependable hitter, though he didn't duplicate last year's effort of .316 batting average and a .527 slugging average, Tom was still a factor in the Bears success.

Jim Curley, Co-captain of the Bears and a two-year veteran is rated by the coaches in the League as an excellent pivot man. Curley led NJC in stolen bases with 17, had a .360 batting average

Garden Clubs To Help Needy Through CARE

The Auburndale Garden Club has joined with others across Massachusetts and the nation in support of the World Gardening Program to assist needy people overseas, according to announcement by Mrs. John G. B. Palen, president. Working through the international relief agency, CARE, the National Council of State Garden Clubs program will provide all types of agricultural assistance to needy people.

Mrs. Palen stated that clubs across America hope to provide thousands of dollars worth of seeds, fertilizer, garden tools and agricultural equipment to assist people overseas in improving their standard of living.

"Massachusetts clubs have generously responded to this program in the past," Mrs. Palen said, pointing out that Bay State clubs ranks fifth in the nation in support of this program.

She pointed out that a two dollar donation to CARE will provide enough seeds to grow 1,000 pounds of vegetables, and that a twenty dollar donation to CARE will provide enough seeds, tools, fertilizer and other items to allow a family to grow its own food for an entire year.

Officer in Federation
Mrs. C. Campbell Patterson of the Chestnut Hill Garden Club has been elected corresponding secretary of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., during their recent annual meeting.

Home-Owners Petition OK'd By Aldermen

A home-owners petition, signed by more than 40 residents of Newton Centre and expressing "hope and desire to be joined in the city by black people" has been endorsed by the Board of Aldermen.

The resolution endorsing the petition was submitted to the Board by Ald. Sidney T. Small after the home owners requested that the board take some action on their petition which was submitted to the city clerk.

The petition asked that special efforts be made to make listings of homes for sale available to Negro customers, stating that "we feel our city can benefit a great deal by having black people among us." The petition ended by saying "we welcome our black brethren to share in the bounty and building of our city."

Rights Guide
WASHINGTON (UPI) — "New World A'Coming," a study-discussion guide on human rights, has been prepared jointly by Church Women United, a Protestant group, and the National Council of Catholic Women, for Distribution and use during the International Year of Human Rights, 1968.

The book, published in paperback by Council Press and Paulist Press, is intended for use in local community and church groups, college and high school international and community relations clubs, and ecumenically organized gatherings. It is described by its editors as "a timely catalyst in the very necessary present involvement of every citizen in the business of human rights."

A Fellow of the American College of Dentists as well as a member of the International Association for Dental Research, Dr. Stein is a recognized authority in crown and bridge prosthodontics.

Two years ago he published the most comprehensive survey recorded in the dental literature detailing the relationship between pontics (artificial teeth) and their effect on adjacent tissues.

At Tufts Dr. Stein has for a number of years engaged in research dealing with health problems primarily affecting the oral tissues.

After graduation from the dental school at Tufts in 1944, Dr. Stein began his long and productive academic career, first appointed Lecturer in Postgraduate Prosthodontics in 1957.

Since that time he has authored several distinguished scientific papers, designed a manual of laboratory procedures currently used by a number of dental schools, and has been elected to a half dozen dental professional societies.

Tips For Outdoorsmen

Fly rod fishing can be one of the most enjoyable and productive forms of the sport, according to the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game. Fancy or expensive equipment is not necessary. The important thing to consider when buying fly fishing gear is to balance the line to the rod. The reel is actually of little consequence since it acts merely as a place to store the line. Competent salesmen at any sporting goods store can help you select a balanced outfit to suit your needs.

To hold your boat securely against wind and water, the length of anchor line you put out should be at least three times the depth of the water in which you anchor. Use of a good line of adequate size and length and the proper type of anchor for the bottom conditions will make the difference between holding fast and dragging along, according to the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game.

Looking for some challenging wing shooting to keep your eye in shape in the off-season? The Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game suggests you try crow hunting. Guns, shells and an inexpensive call will open the door to some of the trickiest wing shooting you've tried.

New Curbside Racket Costs Residents $7

Newton Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt warned home-owners this week of a new racket in town.

He asked police and residents to be on the watch for anyone painting house numbers on the curbing, and then asking for a payment of $7.

Pratt said that neither he, nor the street commissioner, nor the mayor has authorized anyone to paint numbers on the curbing.

He said that so far, the practice has been restricted to the Oak Hill section of the city.

Fashionettes

By United Press International

All those women shopping in men's wear stores are buying apparel for husbands, sons or boy friends. Right? Wrong, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. A survey of men's stores in London and New York shows that a high percentage of women, and particularly in the "boutique" type of operation, are on the lookout for apparel for themselves. They come away with slacks in small sizes most often. After that they seek shirts and sweaters. They're also raiding the men's jewelry counter now that necklaces are "in" for him.

New for men: a silk square pocket handkerchief printed with a calendar.

Knits have benefited tremendously from bonding. Knit dresses, skirts and suits tend to lose shape, sag and stretch. Now knits bonded to lightweight fabrics keep their shape and appearance. Bonding also gave new life and new end-uses to shetlands, hopsacks, metallic fabrics and otherwise itchy woolsens.

Given a bit of time, the average male will take as good care of his face and hair as a member of the opposite sex. Some of the products now available and in use: face bronzers, blemish coverups, facial packs, eye pads, bath powders, coverups for gray hair, face moisturizers, lip salves.

Watch for the turban with finger-tip length tails of matching fabric attached. Folds of such were wrapped around necks of models in the fall-winter Christian Dior-New York collection. Sometimes they were wrapped just once and the shortened tails were flung either both to back or front or one down the front and one down the back.

WHY A HOME FALLOUT PROTECTION SURVEY WHEN THERE COULD BE NO PROTECTION FROM FALLOUT?

There could be NO ultimate survivors from a nuclear attack on Boston, and shelters make absolutely no difference to this terrible fact.* Pretending that we can survive an attack will weaken our resolve to prevent nuclear warfare.

We urge you to return the HFPS questionnaire unanswered, and to tell Governor Volpe to use our resources to seek other solutions to world problems so that nuclear warfare will not be a possibility.

Seniors Play Key Roles In Intra-murals

Newton South's diversified intra-mural program came to an end just before graduation, with many seniors playing key roles.

A Goodwin House team, paced by senior Ken Isaacs' 16 points, swept past Wheeler House, 48-28, in the finals of the basketball playoffs for the championship. Senior Herb Snyder led the losers with 10 points, while seniors Dore Gilbert and Stewart Gluck complimented Isaacs with 10 points apiece. Isaacs also led the league in scoring with 150 points. Snyder was second with 123. The only other participant to top 100 points was senior George Goldsmith of Goodwin House with 106.

Junda	54

While seniors dominated the basketball scene, the underclassmen did all the scoring in the first Newton South intra-mural swimming meet. Goodwin House emerged as the easy victor with 32 points, to 17 for Cutler, and 0 for Wheeler.

Events, winners and times: 8-yard medley relay, Cutler House, 38.6; 20-yard backstroke, Paul Eisenberg, 11.8; 40-yard breaststroke, Bob Schiller, 27.3; 20-yard butterfly, John Scheff, 10.6; 40-yard freestyle, Paul Eisenberg, 20.9; 160-yard freestyle relay, Goodwin House, 1:43.3.

Another addition to the intra-mural program this year was a tennis tournament. Ned Morse emerged as the singles champ, and the senior team of Morse and Carol Bonner was the mixed doubles winner.

Tufts Graduates 15 Newton Area Students June 9

15 Newton area residents were among the 1250 students awarded degrees on Sunday (June 9) at Tufts University's 112th commencement. Two of the students graduated magna cum laude.

Lions Are Tennis Champs For Second Year In A Row

By LEWIS FREEDMAN
For three days it rained and the state tennis tournament was postponed. Finally, last Thursday, a semi-final round between Winchester and Longmeadow was squeezed in, with Winchester advancing to the finals with a 3-2 victory. But it was not until Friday morning when the second semi-final round was played.

Newton South pulverized its western opponent, Worcester Doherty, 5-0. Bucky Adams started things rolling with a 6-1, 6-3 conquest of Gerry Levitsky. Gary Mescon followed with a 6-0, 6-3 trouncing of Mark von Maryhauser. Third singles player Noah Bronson and the doubles teams of Bruce Cornblatt and Bill Starr and Al Starr and Andy Cornblatt followed suit, disposing of their foes in two sets apiece.

Representative to the Student Council, A Dean's list student, he was a member of the Tufts Mountain Club and the Radio Club.

Steven Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Emery of 44 Norwood avenue, Newton Centre, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering. He was a member of the American Institution of Electrical Engineers.

David Enegress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Enegress of 80 Hanson road, Newton, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical Engineering. A Dean's list student, he was Treasurer of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Suzanne Wasserman Levine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wasserman of Newton, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Occupational Therapy from the Tufts Boston School of Occupational Therapy. She was a Dean's list student. Mrs. Levine and her husband reside in Cambridge.

Ronald Matloff, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jay Matloff of 758 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in History. A Dean's list student, he was active on the Varsity Tennis Team.

Newton High Golf Team Wins State Championship

A four-man aggregate of 318 strokes was enough recently to carry the Newton High School golf team to the state championship for the fourth time in the tournament's 34-year history.

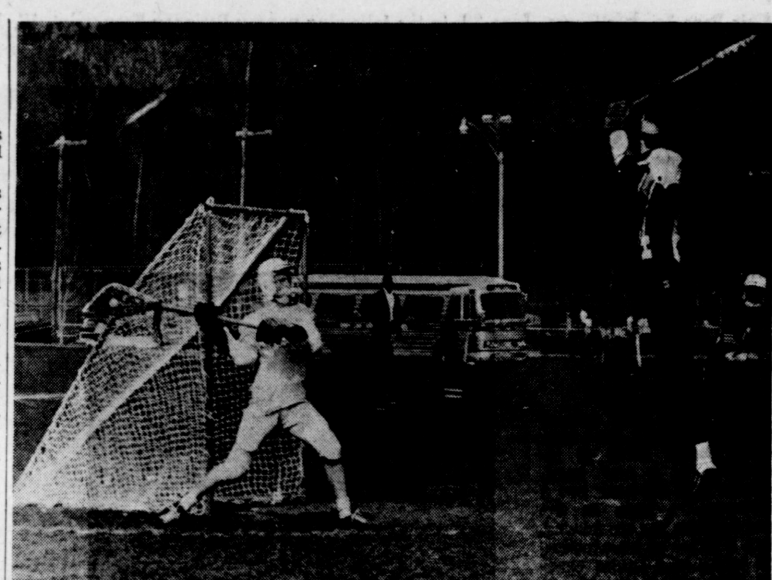

The suburban League champions finished five strokes up on St. John's Prep, of Danvers, and Bartlett High School, of Webster, both tied at 323 strokes.

The match was played at rain-soaked Putterham Meadows in Brookline and "team balance" was credited with bringing home the win for Newton.

Newton got plenty of help from the players in the lower end of its six-man lineup to win for the first time since 1960.

Leading Newton was junior Harry Karp with a seven-over par 78. Karp was playing at Newton's fourth spot. Each school was allowed six players, the low four scores counting toward the trophy.

Following Karp was captain Ralph Murphy, 79; junior Brian Quigley, 80; Paul Murphy and Dudley Cotton, both 81 and Don Gallagher 82. "The biggest thing for this team this year has been its balance," said winning coach Jim Ronayne. "It didn't mat-

This Week's Best Buy

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture

June has been tabbed variously as Dairy Month, wedding month, graduation month, with good reason, but local farmers seem to be out to make it Salad Month, judged by the heavy receipts of salad ingredients from nearby fields.

The Massachusetts Department of Agriculture reports 14 different vegetables useful for salads are in good supply at economical prices this week. They include a s p a r a g u s, beets, greens, chichory, collards, greenhouse cucumbers and tomatoes, dandelions and leeks. Lettuce lovers can go "rabbit" in a big way with five varieties to munch: Boston, Iceberg, Romaine, Bibb and Salad Bowl.

Mustard greens, scallions and rhubarb are plentiful and low-priced. Spring dug parsnips, broccoli rabe, spinach, controlled atmosphere McIntosh and Red Delicious apples are all in supply deemed adequate for demand.

Eggs are low-priced, with mediums, jumbos and extra large the best buys. A delicious hot weather main dish for homemakers to try is Boston Baked Ring Mold, with native spinach and eggs:

Cook and drain a half pound of spinach. Chop fine. Mix with 3 beaten eggs, one-quarter cup melted butter, one-quarter cup heavy cream, one and a-half cups soft bread crumbs, one teaspoon instant minced onion, one and a-half teaspoons seasoned salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon flavor booster. Pour into greased six-cup ring mold. Put in pan of hot water, bake in 350 degree oven one hour. Unmold on hot platter. Fill center with your own favorite recipe for creamed eggs. Serves 6.

Today's Agri-Fact: Strange as it seems, water flows upward against gravity from the underground lake, or water table, beneath your land. Lawns, trees, shrubs — all plants — benefit especially from this phenomenon of nature after a series of heavy rains. Even though a hot dry day may make the grass look parched, a history of prior rains usually means the water table is high enough to rehydrate upward flow the next heavy soaking.

Paul Selby, Jeff Newman, Bob Bakerman, Emmons Levine, Steve Stockman, John Corcoran, Steve Porter, Tom Rezzutti, Bob Rich.

Both teams will start their respective seasons the week of June 24.

Summer Playground Tennis Program Opens Wednesday

The summer playground tennis program will open Wednesday, June 26 at 10 a.m. at Newton High School courts. Lessons will be given by staff members of the Youth Tennis Foundation of New England under the direction of area administrator Harrison F. Rowbotham, and by Miss Carolyn Carder of the Recreation Department. Any Youth of playground age can attend these lessons when they are held in their areas.

Lessons will be held Monday through Friday mornings and afternoons at different playgrounds. There will be no charge for lessons.

The following schedule will apply to the summer playground tennis program:

Summer League Track Season Starts At South

The Newton South summer league track team began its season before the end of school. The team is led by Captain Mike Coleman, a former Newton South star who ran Cross-Country and was a fifth place finisher in the Class A 440 in his senior year. Coleman is a member of the Northeastern record-holding indoor mile relay team. He is also a member of the Northeastern track club. Many of the boys who ran for Newton South during the regular season are competing.

In the first meet, in Holyoke, Bruce Kopelman was the star representative, placing third in the 100-yard dash and second in the 220. Lew Freedman finished fifth in the 880 and fifth in his heat in the mile.

On June 5, in Danvers, Kopelman was the only participating South runner. He sped to victory in his 100-yard dash trial heat, but placed fourth in the finals.

In North Easton, June 15, Kopelman was again the star. Although he did not place in the 100, he came back to grab a third place trophy in the 220 with a time of 23.7. Lew Freedman lowered his best mile effort by one second. Ron Schneider and Tim Crim assisted in the meet's officiating.

The team is planning to enter a multitude of meets this summer, with the locality varying from Beverly, to Boston, to Natick, Waltham, Needham, and Canton.

Sidman One Of Youngest Holders Of Judo Black Belt

Ken Sidman of the Bay State Judo Club became one of New England's youngest holders of the coveted Black Belt, designation of the judo expert. This award was the culmination of intensive training, competition and service over a span of more than five years and the direct result of a two day test by the New England Board of Judo Examiners.

It is unusual for a seventeen-year-old to win the Black Belt but based on Ken's all around excellence and his outstanding tournament record, he truly earned his rank.

Ken became the first member of the Bay State Judo Club to come up through the junior ranks to Black Belt but his dad was there before him. Sol Sidman was the first senior promoted to Black Belt since the inception of the Club and he stayed one step ahead of his son by qualifying for Second Degree Black Belt at the same promotional examinations.

The Judo Club, sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department and directed by Third Degree Black Belt Mr. Oliver Bochem, now has eight Black Belt instructors to staff their Tuesday and Friday Night classes as well as their Saturday afternoon juvenile sessions at the Tyler Field House.

Frank Mariner, a another junior on his way up readily qualified for Second Class Brown Belt with good technique and impressive tournament credentials. Karen Richardson, Bruce Hall, Ralph Zimmer, Mark Chandler and Fernando Calvo were promoted from white belt to Brown Belt while Kathy Taylor was advanced to Yonkyu white belt.

Appoint Levine Brandeis U's Aquatics Director

Norm Levine, Brandeis track and cross-country coach, has been appointed assistant professor of physical education and director of the University's aquatics program, effective July 1. Brandeis Athletic Director Nicholas Rodis announced today.

Levine, a Newton resident, will continue as track and cross-country coach as well as coordinate the swimming and aquatics program at the year-old Linsey Sports Center.

A graduate of Bates College, Levine coached swimming, track and football at Moorestown (N.J.) High School from 1958-63 while serving as a chemistry teacher. His swimming squad compiled a string of 65 successive dual meet victories, five South Jersey championships and five New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association (NJISAA) championships.

Levine helped revitalize the Brandeis track program in 1964 and last season his cross-country team had its best season in school history. Norm was a four-year veteran in Track and football while at Bates.

Levine replaces Dr. Lew Ringer, who is taking a teaching position as associate professor of health and physical education at Youngstown State University.

GRADUATES AT VASSAR
Judith Arbetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Louis Arbetter, 270 Islington Road, Auburndale, and Melody Lloyd Allen, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, 212 Chestnut St., West Newton, received the A.B. degree from Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., at its 104th Commencement on Sunday (June 2). The Commencement speaker was the Honorable John V. Lindsay, Mayor of New York City.

A graduate of Brookline High School, Miss Arbetter centered her studies at Vassar in English. She was a member of the Glee Club during her first two years of college. Miss Allen, who prepared for college at the Winsor School in Boston, chose Political Science as her major field. In her first two years of college she was a tutor in Horizons Unlimited, a college volunteer program of cultural and educational enrichment for underprivileged children.

Donors To Beth Israel Campaign

Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Mark of Newton are participants in a gift of $25,000 made to Beth Israel Hospital's Golden Anniversary Fund by members of the Wyner family in memory of the late Mrs. Rudolph H. Wyner of Brookline. Stanley H. Feldberg, chairman of Beth Israel's $8.7 million development campaign, expressed the hospital's deep appreciation for the Wyner family's support of this program and for their constant efforts on the hospital's behalf throughout the years. Dr. Mark is eDean of the Faculty of Northeastern University School of Engineering. Mrs. Mark and Mrs. Justin L. Wyner are both life members of Beth Israel's Women's Auxiliary and Mrs. Wyner is a Friend of the Surgical Intensive Care Unit.

To prevent kitchen plumbing from clogging, once a week pour three to four table spoons of washing soda down the drain and run the hot water until the granules dissolve. A dash of washing soda added to dishwashing water daily also acts as a tonic for sluggish plumbing and leaves dishes sparkling.

Fourth of July Pet Dog Show Set for Norwood

There will be a pet dog show for children under the age of 14 years and their dogs. This dog show will take place in the Civic Field adjacent to the Norwood Hospital starting at 10 a.m. on July 4. Classes are: Costume parade, Trick Dogs, Youngest Boy Dog, Youngest Girl Dog, Oldest Boy Dog, Oldest Girl Dog, Dog with the Longest Tail, Dog with the Longest Ears, Smallest Dog, Largest Dog, Best Groomed Dog. Best of Show: The best of show will be picked from the dogs that win first place ribbons in all the other classes. Remember ALL DOGS MUST BE KEPT ON LEASH so as to conform to the Norwood Leash Law.

This show is sponsored by the Major Obedience Dog Training School of Norwood. Prizes and ribbons will be awarded for the first place. Ribbons and trophies will be awarded for second to fourth place. All dogs entered will receive a surprise gift.

Juvenile Book Reviews

By Dorothy Ingram

BEES, A Junior Nature Book, by Ray W. Pearson, drawings by James E. Seward is a brief, compact and very inexpensive paperback book that is one in a Junior Nature Series by The Saalfeld Publishing Co., Akron, O. and New York. One learns the difference between "bugs" and insects in the beginning of the book (learning that a bee is an insect). The book further tells of the various kinds of bees, how they live, the different parts of their bodies, such as interesting facts as bees see and distinguish all colors except red, for instance, and that bees never close their eyes, not even to sleep. One of the important aspects of this book, as with all in the series, is that it increases the child's desire for learning and thus collecting, experimenting, observing and further reading usually follow.

Summer is usually a good time for poetry, especially when trips are involved and amusement is often necessary with young children. Two delightful anthologies which are really suitable for the whole family and full of amusing poems, are HUMOROUS POETRY FOR CHILDREN, edited by William Cole, and A LITTLE LAUGHTER, by compiler Katherine Love. Among the jumbo anthologies for everyone is TIME FOR POETRY, Selected by May Hill and FAVORITE POEMS OLD AND NEW, selected by Helen Ferris. Among the less bulky ones, SILVER PENNIES, edited by Blanche Jennings Thompson; I WENT TO THE ANIMAL FAIR, edited by William Cole. Among those poets who have endeared themselves to children are Dorothy Aldis, Rachel Field, Sara Teasdale, Robert Louis Stevenson, Robert Frost, Water de la Mare and Harry Behn. Also, Margaret Wise Brown, Laura E. Richards, Rowena Bastin Bennett, Rose Fyleman, Beatrice Curtis Brown, William Brighty Rands, Ogden Nash, Edward Lear and Mildred Plew Meigs... and but of course, A. A. Milne. Poetry by anyone of these, and there are many others, too, are sure to delight any child... and the young at heart!

For such isolated "needs" or individual "problems" that children may have to deal with from time to time, the following books just may be useful and enjoyable: for the young girl bothered by her plain face, Becky Reyher's "My Mother is the Most Beautiful Woman in the World" may be just right; for the little girl who thinks she has no one to play with may find comfort and fun by reading "Play With Me," by Marie Hall Ets. An older handicapped boy might enjoy "Johnny Tremain," by Esther Forbes; children in a broken home may be comforted by "Half Magic" by Edward Eager which tells of the household of four children with a working mother and how everyone recognizes his responsibilities, etc. The timid child will probably respond to the humorous "A Hero By Mistake," by Anita Brenner which is about how a frightened Indian became brave. For the "middle child," "And Now Miguel," by Joseph Drumgold or "The Middle Moffat," by Eleanor Estes. Books that deal with learning to know other people, especially those of different ethnic backgrounds, Crow Boy, by Taro Yashima is good, as is The Hundred Dresses, by Eleanor Estes, and is about a little Polish girl who wears the same faded blue dress each day. There are children's books for about any need, joy, comfort or just plain fun that one can choose from in the libraries or book shops throughout the area.

FOR PARENTS ONLY: May I suggest A Parent's guide to Children's Reading, by Nancy Larrick which comes in paperback form and can be purchased in most any drug store or place that has pocket books for sale. This is especially useful to new grandmothers and new young readers or pre-schooler mothers. The book not only makes book suggestions, but also offers guide lines to the entire literary approach with children which has been valuable to the thousands and thousands of people who have already throughout the years made use of this nifty book which is revised from time to time.

Baking soda can be used to remove odors on a chopping board, from cooking utensils or hands. Use enough water to dampen a paper towel, sprinkle the towel with soda, and rub the board or utensils. Rinse.

Hair, which fashion ordered short and curly for spring and summer, appears to be going the short and straight route for fall and winter. At least half the models in one major designer's show wore theirs that way.

Drug Mixing Can Result In Harm

By ISABELLE McCAIG
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dorothy Kilgallen, the popular "What's My Line" TV panelist and journalist, died when she took sleeping pills barbiturates after having drunk some liquor. She neither drank too much nor took too many sleeping tablets. But the combination was fatal.

At the inquest into Miss Kilgallen's death, a coroner said the same set of circumstances probably accounted for a large, unknown number of deaths each year. Many might be reported as heart attacks or death from natural causes.

Dr. James L. Goddard, retiring commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, FDA, has proposed a new class of medical specialist—the therapy adviser—to help fill the gap in this area.

The magazine American Druggist recently reported that nearly one billion new and refilled prescriptions were purchased last year—five drugs for every man, woman and child in America.

DESPERATE NEED
"This tells me that we desperately need professional intermediaries in drug therapy — pharmacists who understand patient attitudes, reactions, responses, and other physiological as well as psychological effects," Goddard says.

His proposed new member of the medical team "would keep therapy records on the patient," Goddard explained. "He would be the last person the patient sits down with after the doctor has prescribed a drug. He would correlate its effects with certain foods and alcohol... with other drugs."

Newton Library Rules Relaxed For the Summer

New, liberal loan rules have been announced for summer vacation readers by the Newton Free Library according to City Librarian Henry E. Bates Jr. The vacation loan period is from June 1 to October 1 and during that time library patrons may take with them as many books as they wish, provided they leave a mailing address on file at the library.

With a few reasonable exceptions, all library books are on the Take Books Along list. The exceptions, which are solely for the convenience of all readers, are as follows.

Seven-day books, pay books, reserve books and books on games and sports may not be included in your vacation loan. Books published since January, 1968, are likewise not available under the summer program.

Under the new, relaxed-rule plan it is hoped that an unprecedented number of Newton Free Library books will be treated to extended summer vacations away from the library.

Leslie Silverman Award Given To Newton Resident

Dr. Melvin W. First, of 259 Upland Avenue, Newton, associate professor of Industrial Hygiene, Environmental Health Engineering at Harvard, was named the recipient of the Leslie Silverman Memorial Award recently at the annual meeting of the New England Chapter of the American Industrial Hygiene Association.

The award, announced at the Holiday Inn on Route 9 in Framingham, was made to Dr. First for "outstanding scientific achievement." Specifically, the award is for the Harvard professor's work on a variety of industrial hygiene problems for many years, particularly in the field of air cleaning.

More than 75 members of the Regional Industrial Hygiene Chapter were in attendance.

Dr. First received his Bachelor Degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, his Master's Degree from Harvard University, and his Sc.D. from Harvard University.

He has been associated with the Harvard School of Public Health since 1947 and a member of the staff since 1961.

Parents Warned Of Danger From Bootleg Fireworks

Bootleg fireworks either sold or smuggled into Massachusetts from out of state resulted in two boys having eyes removed because of fireworks accidents occurring during June and July of 1967, according to a study released today by the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc.

The Society sent questionnaires to 175 Board certified ophthalmologists in Massachusetts of whom 74 replied with the following data:

Number of injuries due to fireworks: 2—loss of an eye (enucleation); 1—loss of sight of an eye; 5—serious injuries to eye; 23—less serious injuries to eye.

Both cases of enucleation were due to injury by illegally procured cherry bombs. These patients who had to have an eye removed surgically were boys aged 12 and 15, and live in the Greater Boston area.

Another 12-year old boy still has his eye, but has lost all vision (including light perception) in one eye due to a cherry bomb injury last Fourth of July in the New Bedford area.

Cause of injuries are: 19— from sparklers, 7— from cherry bombs, 10— from other fireworks including 11 from debris from community fireworks display.

6 were admitted to hospital and 30 were treated and sent home.

It should be pointed out that this study covers eye injuries only and only those injuries serious enough to prompt a parent to seek care from an eye specialist.

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc. pointed out that these figures might have been much higher but for the action of the Massachusetts Legislature in rescinding a law passed in 1966 which would have legalized some sparklers. The Massachusetts Legislature in June, 1967 restored Massachusetts to the Model Fireworks law which it has followed for 25 years.

Moreover, Gov. John Volpe placed an emergency pre-emptive on the law banning sparklers to make the law effective immediately and not in 90 days which is the usual practice in Massachusetts. It is hard to estimate how many children may have been saved from eye injury and blindness.

by the Governor's action in spite of great pressure to the contrary, according to the Society.

The struggle to save youngsters from injury and blindness due to fireworks has been spear-headed by Mass. Safety Council, National Fire Protection Ass'n., National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., Mass. Commission for the Blind; and the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., urges parents not to permit their children to buy fireworks through the mail, nor to buy any fireworks from illicit dealers who may sell fireworks in violation of the law. Also, parents are urged to teach their children that fireworks are dangerous.

Five Local Youths Receive Dartmouth College Degrees

Five Dartmouth College seniors from Newton, were among the 700 members of the graduating class to participate in the 1968 commencement exercises held here Sunday, June 16.

Those receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree from President John Sloan Dickey were: William D. Bridge, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Bridge of 9 Stetson way, William H. Ellis III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ellis Jr. of 64 Prospect avenue, and John F. Sherman III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sherman Jr. of 63 Windsor road in Waban, Mass.

Also receiving their degrees from President Dickey were: Michael J. Zavelle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Zavelle of 314 Otis street, and Donald S. Hayden, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden of 8 Eden avenue.

The commencement address was delivered by Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York. Bridge, a 1964 graduate of Newton South High School, majored in geology. He was active at Dartmouth with the cross country team, the track team, the Outing Club, and the Geology Club.

Ellis, a 1964 graduate of W. Coffey, superintendent of equipment for the city of Newton.

City Treasurer Theodore Scafield led a group from the Newton city treasurer's office.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery and committal prayers were said by Fr. Doocy and Fr. Gleeson, S.J.

Boston College High School, majored in psychology. He was active with the crew team, Newman Club, the Rowing Club, Naval ROTC, and Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Sherman was a 1964 graduate of Newton High School, and he majored in English at Dartmouth. He was active in the Dartmouth Christian Union.

Zavelle graduated from Council Rock High School in 1964, and his major at Dartmouth was economics. He was active with the wrestling team, the College radio station, and Kappa Kappa Kappa fraternity.

Hayden, another 1964 graduate of Newton High School, majored in English. He participated with the Ski Patrol, the Outing Club, Dartmouth Religious Liberals, and Bones Gate fraternity.

Graduation honors: Bridge — graduation with distinction in geology; Ellis — graduated with distinction in psychology; Sherman — graduated cum laude, with high distinction in English.

Lee

Loumos

Says:

I see some stores have stopped selling guns and ammunition completely and another claims to be restricting sales only to "authorized" people which includes those with hunting licenses, which is meaningless as practically anyone can get a hunting license. I would rather see a police permit necessary for the purchase of any gun, and that all gun ownership be registered at local police headquarters. It would also seem feasible to have all guns sold through government stores, as liquor is sold in many states, but that concurrently something be done to lessen the apparent awesome power of the national gun lobby. But all this will be meaningless in curbing crime unless the police are strengthened and our courts back them up in the proper execution of their duties.

LILAC TROUBLES: If the twigs or leaves of your lilac bush suddenly turn black and dry up, it means trouble, probably phytophthora blight. Not much can be done to check it once an entire bush is affected, but since lilacs sucker freely, there's a good possibility only part of the bush will be affected. You can cut out the diseased portions, way down to healthy tissue (never let your pruning shears cut into the diseased wood itself, as you only spread the infection). Burn all twigs cut off.

Spraying the bushes with bordeaux mixture will help in some cases. Another problem of lilacs is the San Jose scale. Spray with lime sulfur in spring before growth starts. Or you can spray with malathion now (earlier would have been better).

Pretty soon lilac leaves will take on a powdery coating, disfiguring the foliage. This is powdery mildew and it is not too damaging. Spraying with an antibiotic known as Actidione is helpful, or you can use a mildew killer known as Karathane, also called Mildex. If you won't have time to spray, ignore the disease and nothing too serious will happen to the lilac.

ASPARAGUS TROUBLES: Many wondered what chewed the shoots of their asparagus this year. The villain: asparagus beetle. It not only chews the shoots but also lays brown eggs on them. A dusting of Sevin, or rotenone, is the proper treatment for the spears. You might want to dust the fern growth with rotenone or Sevin. If this is the second year of your asparagus, not more than 2 or 3 spears should be cut per plant. The third spring the spears can be cut for a short period of three weeks. After that, harvesting may continue through late June. After the tops have been killed by frost, they may be cut and added to the compost pile. If your neighbor happens to have a riding pony, see if you can get some rotted manure and apply it in fall at rate of 3 to 4 pounds per 100 sq. ft.

FREE: Send ME self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my bulletin, HOW TO GROW ASPARAGUS AND RHUBARB. Write to: George Abraham, Naples, N. Y.

GREENTHUMB CLINIC: A reader writes "I here there is a material you can put in the ground and kill birch leaf miner and other pests. Does it work for vegetables as well?"

Answer: You're referring to systemic Pesticides, absorbed by plant tissues, roots, bark, and leaves. The materials are usually spread on the ground underneath the tree, then watered in. There is no residue to bother birds or people, as in the case of plants sprayed on the outside. Systemics are available as granules, dusts and liquid concentrates. Granules are usually broadcast under the tree and watered in.

Area Residents Win At Charles River Art Center

Twenty-two residents of area towns were prize winners in the recent exhibition of paintings by students of the Charles River Art Center. Representative works done by the adult students in oil painting, watercolor, and portrait classes were judged by two former exhibitors at the Art Center, artists Ruth Brandt and Lonni Schiff. A list of the prizes awarded in the different categories follows:

Oil, Still Life: First prize, Francine Tissot, Norwood; 2nd, Dr. David King, Needham; 3rd, Margaret Wood, Needham; Hon. Men., Susan Lambert, Needham, Eileen Berray, Westwood, Emily Sheehan, Newton.

Oil, Landscape: 1st prize, Marian Shea, Newton; 2nd, Olivia Carlson, Dedham; 3rd, Mary Whittaker, Wellesley; Hon. Men., Barbara LaPlante, Needham; Doss Wellins, Needham; Paul Sally, Dedham.

Portraits: 1st, Elsa Alexander, Newton; Marilyn Gordon, Newton Highlands; Evelyn Turco, Needham.

Watercolors: 1st, Fred Jackson, Needham; Maxine Hegsted, Wellesley; 3rd prize, Janice Woodcock, Needham, and Mrs. H. Janson, Dedham; Hon. Men., Rosalie Wentworth, Dorothy Turner, both of Wellesley, and June Clay, Westwood.

While the students were exhibiting their work, two faculty members of the Art Center were winning awards also. Martha Nickerson and Dorothy Gilpatrick, exhibiting in the Wellesley Chamber of Commerce Art Show currently on view in the Wellesley merchants' windows, won prizes for their portraits and abstract oils.

Registration for summer classes at the Art Center will continue during the next two weeks. Summer courses will run from July 8 through August 9. The Charles River Art Center is located at 1361 South Street, Needham.

Radcliffe Club Tea Fetes Fifty Freshmen Students

More than 50 Greater Boston girls were entertained at Alumnae House, Radcliffe College recently at the annual Incoming Freshman Tea, sponsored by the Radcliffe Club of Boston.

Mechem Elected Director Of Harvard Alumni

The principal of Newton High School has been elected one of the six directors of the Associated Harvard Alumni. Richard Watson Mechem will serve a three-year term in the alumni post. A resident of Newtonville, he received a bachelor's degree from Harvard in 1945 and a master's of education degree from Harvard in 1950.

On TV Show

Participating in last night's hour-long color musical special, "The Greater Bostonians," on WHDH-TV, Channel 5, were six Newton high school students. The Newton participants were members of a cast of nearly 80 high schoolers from 20 cities and towns in the Boston area.

The local residents were Beverly Bruce, 934 Beacon street; Ellen Cutler, 944 Centre street; Ruth MacCloskey, 124 Allerton road; Stan Schertzer, 186 Woodward street; Richard Stich, 209 Spiers road and Karen Weiner, 42 Vineyard road.

The music program was a public service presentation for the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp.

2 Newtonites Attend Nursing Home Event

Dr. A. Daniel Rubenstein of Newton Centre, Director of the Bureau of Hospital Facilities, Massachusetts Department of Public Health, will be the luncheon program speaker on Tuesday (June 18) during the three-day 19th annual convention of the Massachusetts Federation of Nursing Homes to be held Tuesday through Thursday (June 18 to 20) at the Sheraton Plaza, Copley Square, Boston.

Also taking part in the activities at the convention is John Silver of Newton Highlands.

Jamin F. Shattuck, Mrs. Earl P. Stevenson.

30th Reunion For HS Class of '38

Newton residents who are members of the Brookline High School class of 1938 are requested to call Mrs. Erwin Katz at 469-0166 (after 5 p.m.) or William McGrath, 20 Appleby Rd., Wellesley, reunion chairman, in the event that their names and addresses are missing from the class files.

The 30th reunion of the class is planned for October 26, at 1200 Beacon St., Brookline. Members of the classes of 1937 and 1939 will also be welcome.

K. Diedre McGlame, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McGlame Jr., of Burnham road, West Newton, has returned to her home for the summer from Penn Hall, Junior College and Preparatory School at Chambersburg, Pa.

Rome — The Adriatic sea is about 500 miles in length and its width averages about 60,000 square miles more or less.

NEW CORCORAN FORD of Wellesley general manager is James Canaris of Needham, 30 year veteran of the automobile business. Canaris, married and the father of a 21-year-old daughter who has just graduated from Boston University and an 18-year-old daughter going to Garland Junior College this fall, recently sold his Back Bay Rambler dealership to return to Ford sales. He formerly was 15 years with Eliot Ford of Boston.

NEW FURNITURE WAREHOUSE and distribution center for Barbo's, Inc. is now under construction at the Wilmington Industrial Park. Completion is expected by Oct. 1.

Barbo's Building New Furniture Warehouse

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held June 11 to mark the beginning of a new 110,000 square foot furniture warehouse and distribution center for Barbo's, Inc., a business conducted by the Barbo family since 1933. "This expansion is necessitated by our continued growth and our customers' acceptance of Barbo's as a leading furniture retailer," said Albert D. Barbo, president.

4 Graduate At Junior College

Among the 500 students at Bryant and Stratton, Boston, who recently graduated at the school's 103rd annual graduation ceremony were four Newton students.

Receiving their diplomas on Friday evening, June 7, at the War Memorial Auditorium, Boston, were Leonard B. Hills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hills of 40 Hinckley Rd., Waban; Thomas D. Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Connolly of 19 Ridge Rd., Waban; Donna M. Caminiti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Caminiti of 138 Tolman St., West Newton; and Patricia Farina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farina of 63 Dearborn St., also of West Newton.

An award for Outstanding Achievement in the field of Public Service was received by Robert M. Rosenberg, president of Dunkin' Donuts, Inc., of Newton.

Veterans Administration provided prosthetic devices to 407,000 veterans in 1967.

The new all-in-one building will be operated with the latest IBM location and stock control system. According to Barbo, this means "Our customers will receive a wider selection, better service, and faster deliveries."

A mezzanine of 30,000 square feet will be built over the finishing room, receiving room and shipping room. This area will be used for periodic warehouse sales.

First Railway

Montreal — A railroad line from LaPrairie to St. Johns, Quebec in 1836 was the first to be operated in Canada.

You'll continue to have a choice in skirt lengths for fall and winter. The range: from the well-bred just-above-the-knee to the floor, and anywhere in between. Midi's and maxi's make their move, usually on the evening scene or in storm coats. The midi length is 14 inches from the floor; the maxi, 11 inches from the floor. The mini continues, of course. Continued with it is the proliferation of patterned hose and tights.

Construction of the new building is in Wilmington Industrial Park, Exit No. 27, off Interstate 93. Completion will be October 1, 1968.

"We even plan ahead," said Barbo, "we have reserved enough land for future expansion."

MRS. RONALD STEWART FLEISCHMAN

Pretty Spring Wedding For Miss Lewe, Mr. Fleischman

Miss Janis Claire Lewe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lewe of 125 Woodbine circle, Needham Heights, was married to Mr. Ronald Stewart Fleischman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fleischman of Bay Harbor Islands, Miami Beach, Florida, at a recent evening ceremony in Temple Reyim, Newton.

Rabbi Philip Kieval officiated at the 7 o'clock, double ring service.

For her wedding, the bride wore a full-length gown of white linen trimmed with Venetian lace. Her headpiece of matching lace held in place a shoulder length illusion veil and a double cathedral-length veil. She carried a white Bible adorned with orchids.

Miss Ronna Faye Lewe of Needham was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Holli Daytz of Newton, Mrs. David Greenberg of Brookline, Miss Constance Mack of Needham Heights, and Mrs. Edward Pearlman of Newton.

Mr. Geoffrey Smart of Yonkers, N.Y., was the best man, and sharing usher duties were Mr. Theodore Cosmo, Mr. Walter Deertz, and Mr. Arthur Margolin, all of Yonkers, N.Y., and Mr. Edward Slane of Miami Beach, Florida.

A reception followed at Temple Reyim, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Europe. Their future residence will be in Miami Beach, Florida.

The bride is a graduate of Needham High School and of Mount Ida Junior College in Newton. Her husband attended the University of Tampa and is a graduate of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical Institute, Daytona Beach, Florida. (Photo by Stan Kaplan)

YMCA Camp Day Has Openings in First Session

Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Y.M.C.A. residence camp in East Brookfield, has several openings in the two to four week periods. The camp features group living, enabling a boy to get along with others. Program wise the camp gives a total experience in camping ranging from swimming lessons and boating to nature and camp crafts.

The camp is under the direction of Edward Poskitt, physical education instructor at Newton South High School. Mr. Poskitt has 20 years of camping experience as well as a knowledge of working with youth.

Since 1916 Camp Frank A. Day, has given boys 8 to 16, the opportunity to enjoy camping experiences on Lake Quacomassett.

The camp which starts on June 26th has 12 openings in the first session.

As a pioneer in the conduct of boy's camps, the "Y" realizes that the most important feature of every camp is the quality of its leadership. No one can have too high a moral character and be too well trained to guide your son twenty four hours each day.

Every precaution is taken for the safety of the camper. No boy is allowed to swim except at regular specified periods, and only when life guards are on duty. All boys including non-swimmers are given special swimming instruction each day. For further information call Mr. Alex Miller or Miss Mary Visco at the Newton Y — 244-6050.

Ghetto Exchange Students Find Suburbia Has Faults

By KATHLEEN NEUMEYER LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fifteen Negro local ghetto area teen-agers were "foreign exchange" students this year at a school less than 50 miles from home. For one week they lived in white homes and went to classes at suburban Chatsworth High School.

The Negro boys and girls were participants in an experiment called "operation live-in" which came into being early this year when administrators of two predominantly Negro Los Angeles high schools decided that with race relations the nation's most pressing domestic problem, their students might profit from exposure to an all-white community.

Those selected were paired with Chatsworth families according to sex, age and interests of the youngsters, as well as similarity of class schedules.

Carrying suitcases and $10 spending money apiece, the students were taken to Chatsworth on a Sunday afternoon and turned over to their host families in the school parking lot.

STUDENTS SURPRISED The Negro students were surprised to discover classes were more crowded at Chatsworth, and they felt the students didn't have as much school spirit as their own classmates.

Fremont students felt vocational classes at the suburban school were inferior to their own, and in many cases they found they were ahead of the Chatsworth students in their textbooks. However, they found class discussions more stimulating at Chatsworth, and said Chatsworth classes used books and materials they didn't have.

The youngsters agreed family relationships in Chatsworth weren't much different from those at home, except "their mothers don't work. They spend more time with their children, and read to them. At the house where I stayed, the four-year-old had a bigger vocabulary than I do," Michael Duette said.

Nancy Ruth Kimmel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimmel of 48 Farquhar road, Newtonville, received her associate in science degree at Fisher Junior College on Saturday afternoon (June 1). She is a graduate of Newton High School and majored in the executive secretarial program at Fisher.

A recent graduate of Centenary College for Women, Hackettstown, N.J., is Ellen Palais Braude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Braude of 45 White Oak road, Waban. She received the associate in arts degree at the 93rd Commencement exercises of the College on Saturday (May 25). She was a member of the Art Club and Delta Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Willoughby Is Vice-president At Newton Bank

Keith G. Willoughby, formerly second vice president of Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City, was elected Investment Officer and a Vice President of the Newton Savings Bank at the quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the bank, President Frederick C. Ober has announced.

Seven years with the Chase Manhattan Bank in their Correspondent Bank Portfolio Advisory Department, Mr. Willoughby was elected a second vice president in 1966. Prior to that time, he was associated with William R. Pollock & Company in New York City, a government bond house, and Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., New York City, in the bond department.

Born and raised in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Mr. Willoughby graduated from the University of Wisconsin and received his Master's Degree in Economics from that University.

He is a Navy veteran and a graduate of the Storer Graduate School of Banking, has been an instructor in economics in the University of Wisconsin and in the New York School of Banking and a thesis examiner for the Storer Graduate School.

Mr. Willoughby's home in recent years has been in Ridge-wood, New Jersey, where he has been active in community affairs.

He has been a vestryman of St. Bartholomew's Church in Ho-Ho-Kus, New Jersey, is married and has two sons.

Katherine Finucane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Finucane of 35 Church street, Newton, an English major at Regis College, Weston, received her bachelor of arts degree during graduation exercises there on Tuesday (June 4). She was active in the Glee Club, the Service Society and the Athletic Association.

Among the 166 candidates for graduation from Northfield School, East Northfield, Mass., was Wendy D. Wilkins of West Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Wayne Wilkins Jr. of 110 Highland street.

Maureen Morrissey of 680 Beacon street, Newton Centre, was awarded a diploma by Newmam Preparatory School, Boston, at Commencement exercises in New England Life Hall on Thursday (June 6).

Wayne Newton Sees TV and Movies as Future Career

(UPI Hollywood Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD — Wayne Newton is the last of a vanishing breed — not because he's half Indian but because he may well be the last of the great nightclub entertainers.

Newton sings to multitudes whenever he appears in clubs, piping his Al Jolson style, working himself to a frenzy over such standard hits as "Swanee," and thrumming away at the guitar. At age 26 he is an old-timer.

He has no gimmicks. He's untainted by the cuts. Newton gets out on that floor, or stage and sings his epigrams out in that curious, haunting voice of his.

PROUD OF HERITAGE The tall, guileless native of Norfolk, Va., is proud of the fact he is half Indian, part Cherokee and Powhatan.

Though he specializes in clubs and concert dates, Newton has cut 16 record albums with total sales of more than 9 million, helping to make himself one of the youngest millionaires in the country.

Although he's been singing since he was 6 years old,

Newton was discovered by the American public virtually overnight when he made his national television debut on the Jackie Gleason show six years ago.

Asthma forced Newton as a child to move with his family from Virginia to Phoenix. Now he makes his permanent home with them in Las Vegas, in a Spanish-style house only seven minutes from the gaudy, neon-lighted "Strip."

WED JAP GIRL On June 1 he married Elaine Okamura, a Japanese girl he met returning from a tour of Vietnam, and Newton therefore is building a home for his parents less than a block away from his own pad. Newton did not star in his own television special until April of this year, although he had made musical appearances with Ed Sullivan, Lucille Ball and others. He also made three acting appearances in the same role on "Bonanza."

HELD OFF "I held off doing my own show because I didn't know if I was ready for it," Wayne explained. "And I was looking for the right producer so we could attempt something really different."

"Now I'd like to do another. But obviously the problem is trying to top yourself every time out."

Newton is not content to cut records, tour the nightclub circuit or appear on occasional television shows, traveling in his own 12-seat private jet plane.

He dreams of movies and his own video series.

"I think a weekly TV show is inevitable for me," he said. "I've played most of the major clubs in the world. And television holds out a promise of longevity. At least I hope it does."

Million Dollar Club Gets Newton Member

Henry L. Bikofsky, of 191 Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, will be cited by The Travelers as one of the leading life agents producing over one-half million dollars of individual life, accident and health insurance.

Mr. Bikofsky represents The Travelers through the Boston office. He will be admitted to membership in The Travelers Inner Circle Club, an agents' honorary organization, at the annual conference July 17-21 at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Mark T. Young, a member of the varsity football and track teams at Yale University, graduated with a bachelor of arts degree at commencement exercises on Monday (June 10). During his senior year he was captain of the varsity track team and anchored the mile relay team which set an all-time Yale record. He lives at 646 Saw Mill Brook Parkway, Newton Centre.

Mrs. Robbi Stern Toll, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Stern of 35 Vernon st., Brookline, recently graduated from Beaver College, Glenside, Pa., where she received a bachelor of science in education degree, earning departmental honors. She is a graduate of The Walnut Hill School, Natick.

Bates Is Elected Vice-chairman Of Advisory Council

Henry E. Bates, Jr., City Librarian of Newton, was elected this month as vice-chairman of the Eastern Regional Public Library System Advisory Council.

The Eastern Regional Public Library System joins together in a cooperative service structure some 188 public libraries in an area extending from New Hampshire border on the north to Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket on the South. Under this regional library system, a library may borrow a book it does not have from a larger regional library.

In addition to book requests, reference questions, and film borrowing, an advisory aid is offered by the staff of the Eastern Regional System, located at the Boston Public Library. Administrator of the system is A. William Kunkel, former Librarian of the Newton Free Library.

5 Newtonites Are Mass. Bay Grads

Among the 290 students receiving degrees at the sixth annual commencement program of the Massachusetts Bay Community College in Watertown are five Newton area residents. Dr. John W. Ryan, Chancellor of the University of Massachusetts, Boston, was the principal speaker at the exercises held in the Sheraton-Boston Hotel on Sunday (June 9).

Newton South High graduate Nelson R. Holt, of Newton Highlands, received an associate in arts degree. Rosemary P. Stackhouse of Newtonville, also receiving an associate of arts degree, is a graduate of Newman Prep School.

GRARC Group Presents Book To Libraries

The Newton Chapter of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children has recently presented copies of the newly published book, Our Jimmy, by Mrs. Ruth Dooley, to the eleven branch libraries of the city.

Mrs. Dooley, a special class teacher of educable and trainable children in Westwood for the past eight years, has written this book to help normal children understand what mental retardation is. It is intended to be read aloud to young children, and is specifically intended to help parents explain what brothers and sisters can do to help a handicapped sibling.

The book is illustrated by Kenneth Boudreau, now 15 years old, legally blind, and one of Mrs. Dooley's special class pupils for five years.

Early this year Mrs. Dooley spoke to the Newton Chapter of GBARC telling of some of her experiences as a special class teacher. She presented a copy of her book to the Chapter; and under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harvey Chansky, the Newton Chapter decided to present copies of the book to local libraries so that it could be widely available to parents wishing to help their children understand mental retardation, be it in a sibling, a neighbor, or the children in the "special class."

The Newton Chapter hopes that local parents will make use of this interesting book, and that through this gift a contribution will be made to the better understanding of children who are mentally handicapped.

The Chapter recently held its final meeting before the summer recess. Guest speakers were Robert Flynn, M.D., Director of the Community Evaluation Clinic at the Fernald State School in Waltham; and Allen C. Crocker, M.D., Director of the Development Evaluation Clinic at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

The topic of this well-attended meeting was "The Evaluation of the Retarded Child." Meetings will resume in the fall at a date to be announced later.

Recent graduate at Vermont College, Montpelier, Vt., is Roberta Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Schwartz of 31 Delwyn rd., Newton Highlands. A graduate of Newton High School, she earned her degree in liberal arts at the private two-year college for women.

Countryside Cubs Conclude Season With "Olympic"

Countryside Pack 227, cub scouts, closed the season with an "indoor olympic" at their final meeting recently. Each den contributed a boy to compete in exciting feats of skill (such as pie-eating, balloon throwing and bean tossing) to the delight and merriment of all present. Mrs. Irving Gersmaise, ably assisted by a group of den mothers, honored the winners with blue ribbons.

In the absence of cubmaster Harold Lowenstein, James Hendrix was in charge of the meeting. He awarded wolf badges to Ricky Schwartz, David Todrin, Mark Vand Der Walde, Kevin Bianco, Jeffrey Ernst, Jim Hendrix, Paul Pichetti, Greg Volpe, Stuart Sklar, Jonathan Colton, Larry Sloan and Andrew Krassin.

Bear badges went to Neil Grossman, Jeffrey Karp, Edward Tompkins, Eric Bauer, Michael Boenisch, Harold Cohen, Martin Cole, Brian Gordon and Kevin Pichetti.

Dr. Alfred Lanes spoke, welcoming the Webelos into the Boy Scouts. He presented certificates to Merick Berson, Jules Brayman, Joseph Cohen, Mark Epstein, Larry Gropen, Mark Kwatcher, A. George Volpe, Ira Weinman and David Wolf.

The boys are all looking forward to a fine season next year.

Garfield Appleyard Funeral Services

Funeral services were held at the Everett Funeral Home, 4 Park St., Natick, on Tuesday for Garfield Appleyard, of 171 Jackson st., West Newton, who died Sunday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness. He was 72.

A native of Lawrence, he had lived in Newton since 1921 and was employed in the maintenance department of the Newton Fire Department until his retirement five years ago. He was a World War I veteran and a member of Newton Post 48, American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, Grace O. (Parks) Appleyard; two sons, Garfield, Jr., of Natick, and Charles, of Waltham, and a granddaughter, Cremation was at Newton Cemetery.

Hospital Career Overtures Made To Young People

Newton students 14 years of age or older may explore hospital careers while they make a contribution to the community by participating in the Faulkner Hospital Volunteer Service.

Boys and girls who wish to register for the summer program of the Volunteer Service should report to Halliwell Hall at the School of Nursing Building, Monday, June 24 at 10:30 a.m. Entrance is through Chaplin House.

Following registration, Mrs. Clayton E. Herbert, Director of Volunteer Services, will welcome the students and describe the training program.

Stephen Frye To Intern In Calif.

The M.D. Degree was issued to Stephen H. Frye by the George Washington University School of Medicine, Washington, D.C., at commencement exercises of the 147 year-old school on Sunday (June 2). Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frye of 1913 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, Dr. Frye received his A.B. degree from Boston University in 1963.

A member of the William Beaumont Medical Research Honor Society, Dr. Frye held three scholarships while a student at GW. He was active in the Student American Medical Society, serving as President '66-67, Regional Assistant Vice President '66-67; and as a member of various committees.

His paper, "Comparison of Psychiatric and Non-psychiatric Patients Resident in Nursing Homes," was published in the Journal of the American Geriatric Society, 1967.

After internship at San Francisco General Hospital, California, Dr. Frye plans a residency in psychiatry and neurology, with ultimate teaching and research.

U.S. Progress

Editor of The Graphic:
As I read, listen and watch these days, I am growing more and more concerned that in this time of national sorrow and anguish, we lose sight of the very positive side of the progress we have made in this country over the past 20 years.

We have, or may have had, more deaths by gunshot than any other country in the world . . . but let us not lose sight of the equally important fact that the American conscience and its sister "Apathy" have been aroused as in nowhere else in the world, today.

We are beginning . . . if only scratching on the surface of the beginning . . . to deal with our mammoth problems. But this is more than can be said for England for instance, where "class distinctions" and its resultant poverty is both pitiless and pitiable; it is so unreasoning and yet so unescapable. And on the Continent, where the miseries of the last century have been merely heightened by two World Wars fought on its own soil . . . and there is no true social reform in sight.

We are a Continent. And we have the problems of a vast Continent. And whilst it must ever be to our shame that our parents and grandparents through their greed and apathy let these problems and conditions grow around them; this should be no sufficient reason for 1968 to collapse in a welter of conscience-stricken horror of past and present enormities.

We might well stop every- one from doing anything.

In the years following Lincoln's assassination — blood- shed, cruelty, revenge, and harsh punishment seem to have been the natural way of life. There is not one voice who raised itself powerfully enough to say "Let him not have died in vain" . . . and meant it. Can we not take heart that WE have come further?

We have awakened. The whole country has. Now it is just not the Church alone who hands-out-mission-money-to-the-deserving-poor; not the very rich Rockefeller's donating their millions; nor a few trying, earnest do-gooders . . . it's EVERYONE!

We are not likely to sit back and do no more, because of such an admission of progress. Instead, it should give us a "lift." No one can go on chanting "Mia Culpa" for weeks, living in sorrow and in dread, agonizing over the past, without the stuffing being oozed out of them. After all, if we "beat our breasts" long enough, and take con-

Dean Graduates 3 From Newtons

Among the more than 290 seniors who were graduated from Dean Junior College, Franklin, Mass., were David A. Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Foley of 93 Nonantum st., Newton; Norman J. Kaswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kaswell of 118 Clark st., Newton Centre and Ronni B. Polansky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Polansky of 88 Clifton rd., Newton.

Associate degrees were conferred at the Sunday morning (June 9) exercises which brought to a close the 102nd academic year of the school.

sidered pride, in extreme cases, in the quality of our hair shirts . . . there are amongst us those who will feel that that is quite sufficient!

Having written all that . . . don't we need two things? One factual and one spiritual . . .

Don't we need to know just how we, as ORDINARY BUSY people can help? And help NOW, this summer, not in some far off distant time. We are constantly being warned, nay, terrorized, of the perils to come, but never are any of us told specifically what there is that WE, the humdrum-h-o-u-s-e-wif-e, the man-in-the street, the concern and the anxious, can do to help.

Many, many of us have given, and will give again, to the full extent of our sometimes-meagre ability, and we can read well-thumbed earnest and logical reports, until the moon is blue . . . but that is in no way the commitment we want. We are asking how we can . . . HELP. And no one tells us.

And is it too much to ask that we look for a moment on our own goals, our missions accomplished . . . our few successes, both personal and national? So that we can go forth into that Long Hot Summer with a slightly more purposeful, slightly encouraged heart and spirit?

I may be wrong—but I hope I'm not—but I do believe that Genocide of New York stabbing fame could not die alone in the streets today with no one to help her. And the outrage of the newspapers, mirroring the country's concern, would clamour within half a day. Thanks to the examples of a new and growing generation (not just of a particular age, but those of a very particular outlook), things are being DONE.

Not enough, of course not. Not by a long chalk.

But if you doubt that we have done anything, go anywhere . . . then read some history. And it will quickly be seen that this country has done more "growing-up" in the past 15 years, than at any other time in her history. Which is a lot. The rest of the world can stand by, can stand from afar and throw their stones, sling their mud and hurl their invective and superior criticisms. We admit that we deserve them. But one day they, too, will start looking to their own house-cleaning. We have, albeit behind the times, started our own.

Rightly or wrongly, rich and poor, famous and unknown alike . . . all have awakened in this new generation. And physically, spiritually, mentally, they are living and dying for the very same thing which is being called a hundred thousand different names in as many tongues . . . progress . . . freedom . . . rights . . . liberty . . . happiness . . . security . . . peace.

ANDY MARSHALL, (Mrs. Malcolm Marshall) 21 Waterston Rd., Newton

Install Officers At Temple Beth Avodah Services

Congratulations are extended by Temple Beth Avodah of Newton Centre to its seven Hebrew School graduates who read from the Torah during a recent Sabbath Service. The participating students were: Robert D'Angelo, Nancy Fisher, Audrey Goodman, Nancy Leavitt, Heidi Ratner, Joel Rubin and Andrew Schmidt.

Friday evening (June 14) following a service conducted by the Brotherhood, the newly-elected officers and trustees of the Temple and of the Brotherhood were officially installed. Congregants were privileged to have as their guests speaker, Attorney Harold Katz of Boston, who discussed the situation in Israel—based upon recent visits to that country and extensive knowledge of the same.

After the stimulating and thought-provoking program, the Congregation was invited by Rabbi and Mrs. Edward M. Maline to be their guests at the Oneg Shabbat in honor of their new daughter, Pamela Rose, who was named during the Sabbath Service.

To Colorado AFB

Technical Sergeant John Pallotta has been assigned to a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command at Ent AFB, Colo., having completed training as a radio equipment technician at the U. S. Air Force technical School at Keesler AFB, Miss. Sgt. Pallotta is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Pallotta of 25 Herman terrace, Newton, and has recently completed a tour of duty in Southeast Asia.

AID KIDNIE KAMP—Mrs. Irving Busny and Mrs. Lawrence Schlager, left to right, both of Newton, were chairmen of ushers, and ably assisted in the success of the Ladies State Committee Kidnie Kamp annual luncheon held recently. The luncheon and year book raised $10,000 to be used to send needy boys to camp this summer.

Wrong To Indict All Because Of One, Says Curtis

"Two hundred million people in the United States should not be indicted for the maniacal action of one unbalanced individual," former Congressman Laurence Curtis declared at a recent meeting of the Ward 2 Republicans of Newton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Horner, 15 Grove Hill Park. He spoke as a candidate for Congress from the third district.

He quoted from a letter of Theodore Roosevelt written after he was shot and wounded when speaking in Milwaukee in October 1912 as a Bull Moose candidate for president:

"Prominence in public life inevitably means that creatures of morbid and semi-criminal types are incited thereby to murderous assaults," Curtis asserted.

"It will be recalled," Curtis said, "that it was the assassination of President William McKinley in September, 1901, that had brought Theodore Roosevelt to the White House. When he made the above remark, he must have had that assassination in mind as well as the attack on his own life."

"But Theodore Roosevelt regarded his attempted assassination as the individual act of an unbalanced man," Curtis declared. "He did not blame the American people as a whole for this act of madness. He did not attribute it to any sickness of American society or to an atmosphere of violence."

Curtis said that everyone was horrified by the dastardly assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and felt the deepest sympathy for his family, "but decent Americans find it hard to accept the extreme condemnations that have been heaped on them."

Major Powers On Thailand Duty

Major Joseph G. Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey E. Powers of 206 Franklin street, Fredericktown, Mo., is on duty at Ubon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

His wife, Judith, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dillon of 18 Hunnewell circle, Newton.

Major Powers, an F-4C Phantom II aircraft commander, is a member of the Tactical Air Command in support of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Thailand, he was assigned at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

The major was commissioned in 1953 through the aviation cadet program.

Major Powers, who attended Festus (Mo.) High School and Farmington (Mo.) High School, received a B.A. degree in 1966 from San Francisco State College.

and on American society."

"The triumphs of American civilization cannot be overlooked," he said, "and America is still a land to be proud of."

"Doubtless there has been in recent years an atmosphere of violence and lawlessness. That must be corrected. It has been suggested that even more important than political programs would be a return to the fundamental beliefs of our religious heritage—that hatred breeds violence, and that hatred violates the fundamental tenet of enlightened religions 'Love thy neighbor'; that lawlessness is an abuse of the freedoms purchased for us by the countless sacrifices of our forebears," he said.

"The travail of the past week must awaken us to the challenge ahead—the need for dedication to a better and more disciplined way of life," Curtis concluded.

Seven Girls Are Honor Students At Framingham

Among the 151 undergraduates who earned places on the academic honors list during the second semester at Framingham State College are seven students from the Newtons.

First honor students maintained a score of at least 3.50 (in a possible 4.0); second honors required an average between 3.40 and 3.49 and a score of 3.20 to 3.39 was required for third honors. Not included in the list are part-time students or members of this year's graduating class.

Listed alphabetically, the honor students are: Susan M. Aries, 963 Boylston St., Newton Highlands, junior, first honors; Jane E. Block of 107 Park St., junior, second honors; Judith Gilleland of 67 Hancock St., Auburndale, junior, first honors; Joanne P. Havery of 316 River St., West Newton, junior, third honors; Gail J. Howard, 162 Charlesbank Rd., junior, first honors; Kathleen D. Rourke of 263 Lake St., Newton Highlands, junior, second honors; and Phyllis C. Vaccaro of 150 Islington Rd., Auburndale, junior, third honors.

A NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

"DAILY INTEREST" ACCOUNT is for you

... it earns interest day after day after day and every day at the rate of 4 3/4%.

If you make frequent deposits (or withdrawals) in your savings account, especially at unplanned times, our DAILY INTEREST ACCOUNT IS FOR YOU.

Every dollar earns full interest from the day you deposit it until you take it out. This can make daily interest accounts more profitable for you than regular accounts even when regular accounts are compounded quarterly or monthly.

At least $10 must be kept on deposit until the next dividend date.

Interest or dividends compounded and paid semi-annually January 10 and July 10.

Pan-fried eggplant has crunchy coating. Sift together 1/2 cup each of enriched corn meal and sifted all purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Stir in 1/2 cup of grated parmesan cheese. Combine 1 beaten egg and 2 tablespoons of water. Cut 1 2-pound eggplant into 1/2 inch slices; roll in breading. Dip into egg mixture, then roll again in breading. Pan-fry in butter over medium heat, about 5 minutes per side. Turn only once. Makes 6 servings.

Young Folks Buy Most Sewing Machines

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four out of five American teenagers sew. So it's not surprising that the highest annual consumer expenditure for sewing machines is for the age group under 25, according to a sewing machine company executive.

The youngsters turn out more than 70 million pieces of clothing and 2 million items for the home each year, says Giuseppe Manidi, managing director of Necchi Sewing Machines of Italy. The garments they make, in order of popularity, are: skirts, dresses, blouses, shorts, aprons, slacks, jumpers and jackets.

Simon & Sons New Store Now At So. Shore

South Shore residents can now take advantage of "in town" fashions, as Boston's famous Simon & Sons opens its seventh clothing store, in South Shore Plaza. The new store carries both men's and women's fashions, with wide selections in keeping with their downtown offerings, touched off by Simon & Sons traditional penchant for perfect tailoring.

Women may choose among one of the area's finest arrays of suits, separates, dresses, slacks, blouses, minis, accessories, and boutique-type items, styled along town-and-country lines.

For men, the new store features suits, slacks, shirts, sport coats, blazers, sweaters, shorts, and rainwear by the country's leading manufacturers, all in the understated "traditional-with-a-flair" styling that keynotes Simon & Sons menswear.

Customers can enter the new store from either the Mall or a parking lot.

Simon & Sons stores were founded in the 1930's by Leo Simon, and are managed by his sons Harold, Arthur, Saul, and Nathaniel. Besides the new South Shore Plaza location, there are six other Simon & Sons stores in Boston, Cam-

Speed Reading Courses Made Available Here

Adults and High School students can now take speed reading here in Newton. The Scholastic Achievement Center of 825 Beacon street, Newton Centre, offers the best of speed reading techniques, adjusting from sophisticated mechanical aids to complete independence from such. Today business expects its executives to be thoroughly informed and well read. Schools give more and longer reading assignments.

Most individuals find their reading skills are not sufficient to meet the increasing demands rising from the growing bulk of printed material they are expected to read.

Through proper training an individual can double or triple his reading speed, and find that invaluable "time stretch" needed to keep pace with the present volume of written communication.

GALLERIES

The Copley Society, 158 Newbury st., Boston is featuring an exhibition throughout June of the Barbizon "school" artists, and a showing of this type is rarely shown in a gallery because of the high insurance premiums required. This show has been arranged with the cooperation of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and some of the paintings are for sale. Many of the artists of this "school" are in permanent exhibitions at the M.F.A. as well as the Rhode Island School of Design's Museum. . . they include such artists as Millet, Diaz, Troyon, Corot, Rousseau, Jacques and a dozen or so others, and are constituting a most noteworthy showing in Boston art circles.

At the Shore Galleries, 179 Newbury st., Boston is a June exhibit of the watercolors and drawings of DeWitt Hardy, a 27-year-old newcomer to the Boston art scene. Currently residing in Ogunquit, Maine, Hardy has enjoyed a fine reputation in and around New York City and his native Midwest. Although this is his first Boston Solo, Hardy is by no means a sophomore. He has been a prize winner and is in several permanent exhibitions throughout the country. Interesting to note that this young artist has had no formal art training. . .

In line with these aforementioned gallery showings, is an exhibit organized by French Ministry of Cultural Affairs that is touring five major American museums, including, through June 23, Boston's Museum of Fine Arts entitled "Paintings From France: 1900-1967" and consists of more than 100 works including Bonnard, Matisse, Vlaminck, Picasso, Braque, Gris, Chagall, Miro, Ernst, Masson, Tanguy, Derain, Rouault, Dufy, Renoir and Degas. There has been much ado and this exhibition has been considered one not to miss. . .

WGBH-RADIO

An intimate portrait of the "generation gap" will be aired on Sundays at 9:30 p.m. during June in a series entitled "Society's Children." The programs seek to show how today's young people are honestly attempting to improve our world of today. Subjects consist of drugs, protest, politics, civil disobedience, etc.

Also on Sundays (and Thursdays) at 4 p.m. a series of lectures by world-wide scholars which were presented at Expo '67 are running throughout June. Eighteen of these outstanding lectures have been selected to be presented by WGBH and some of the topics include social

R. Rosenberg Is Honored At Texas Banquet

Among those honored at the seventh annual Golden Plate Awards banquet by the Dallas-based American Academy of Achievement last Saturday (June 15) was Robert M. Rosenberg, president of "Dunkin' Donuts," a Newton resident. At 29, he is the youngest person to serve as director of International Franchise Association.

The Academy, meeting this year at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas, hosted some 200 top high school honor students from across the nation. A number of them will be awarded the "Golden Eagle Award for the Promise of Greatness." Purpose of the organization is to inspire youth to raise their sights high, to excel in their endeavors, through the dramatic annual gathering of, and salute to, men and women of exceptional accomplishments in the great walks of life.

Among the honorees were such notables as Stan Musial, baseball great; James A. Lovell, astronaut; author Harry Golden; heart transplant pioneer Dr. Denton Cooley; Dr. Joyce Brothers, psychologist; Dr. Wm. H. Goetzmann, U. of Texas professor and Pulitzer Prize winner in history.

and economic trends in our changing world, man and his world and management systems in socialist countries.

The Rhode Island Summer Theatre Festival will be presenting the Theatre Company of Boston at the U. of Rhode Island, Kingston, opening on July 4 with Robert Lowell's Benito Cereno. Opening July 18, Gunter Grass' The Plebeians Rehearse The Uprising. Special Experimental performances Tues. & Wed., July 9 and 10 and 23 and 24. Regular performances held on Thursdays.

Beverly (Mass.) Tercentenary Year Celebration will include an Arts Festival in Lynch Park daily from 12 noon to 10:00 p.m. July 1-5. Also included in the festivities will be an Ocean Festival and a Historical Festival. Added information may be obtained through contacting the Beverly Tercentenary Committee, Cabot st., Beverly.

Castle Hill Festival Series, Crane Estate, Ipswich, Mass. opens with Jan Curtis, mezzo soprano on Friday, June 28. July 5, The Composers String Quartet; July 12, Frederick Jagel, tenor; July 19, the Berkshire Boy Choir from Lenox, Mass.; July 24, 26 and 27, Così Fan Tutte, Mozart's comic opera will be presented featuring New England Conservatory of Music students; Aug. 2, John Ogdon, British pianist; Aug. 9, An Evening of Early Music, featuring Conservatory students; Aug. 16 to be announced. Concert times: 8:30 p.m. in the Great Barn or Italian Garden. In addition of the above series, the Summer School will offer a series of Chamber Concerts in the Drawing Room at the Crane Estate on Wednesday evenings at 8:30.

One Man—One Wife Law Set For Hong Kong

By MAX VANZI

HONG KONG (UPI) — One place in the Orient where concubines and many old, outmoded family practices have never been legally banished is Hong Kong, despite its British rule.

NEW LAW AHEAD

The colonial government has wanted to legislate in the realm of Chinese family customs for some time. Officials now say they will finally write a new marriage law sometime this year and that it will, among other things, outlaw unions involving concubines.

One man who will be affected is Mr. Wong, and he is not sorry about it. Wong, a 57-year-old businessman, has a wife and a concubine whom he began keeping 25 years ago. He has nine grown children by his wife and four by the un-official Mrs. Wong.

In Wong's case, the concubine is maintained outside the home he makes with his wife. In other families, all live under one roof.

Turtle Tip

FLAMINGO, Fla. (UPI) — Junior can't pocket any of the turtles residing rent free in Everglades National Park but he's bound to ogle soft-shell, box, mud and red-bellied turtles, to name a few. These reptiles sometimes plop across the major highway bisecting the Park, and motorists en route to or from the Flamingo recreational complex can perform a good deed by stopping to help a little old turtle across the road. Place the turtle on the side of the roadway where it's headed, otherwise it will attempt to cross again, diminishing the chance for survival.

May Building Permits Total $6,292,270

A permit for $6 million for an addition to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital boosted the total cost of 46 building permits issued in Newton in May to $6,292,270.

Single dwelling permits continued to rise, with five issued at a total cost of $131,000.

There were three permits issued for signs at a total cost of $385; four for swimming pools at a total of $17,375, 30 for alterations to residential buildings at a total of $105,510.

Three other permits were issued for alterations to non-residential buildings (besides the Newton-Wellesley Hospital) at a cost of $38,000.

So far this year, some 176 permits have been issued at a total cost of $8,752,569, compared to the same period last year when 175 permits were issued at a cost of $8,382,775.

During the same five-month period in 1966, some 219 permits were issued at a cost of $1,854,140.

Wheat. Alumnae Attend Reunion

Five women from the Newton area recently attended Wheaton College's annual reunion weekend along with 250 alumnae and their husbands. Weekend events included campus tours, a special program for husbands, the annual association meeting, lectures and a talk by President of Wheaton Dr. William C. H. Prentice whose subject was "The State of the College."

The local alumnae attending were: Mrs. Howard G. Hobbs of 24 Duncklee street, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Gilbert Phillip Steil Jr., of 264 Grove street, Auburndale; Mrs. Stanley W. Mack of 245 Otis street, West Newton; Elsa D. Wilde of 22 Park street, Newton and Mrs. Edward B. Roberts of 101 Carver road, Newton.

Two Elected To Phi Beta Kappa

Of the 104 senior students at Harvard College who have been initiated into the Harvard University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic society during commencement week, there are two Newton students.

P. Alfred Shapiro, applied mathematics major, of 6 Grace road, and Richard A. Stone, chemistry major, of 46 Greenlawn avenue, both of Newton Centre are new members of the Greek-letter honor fraternity. They are also graduates of Newton High School.

Literary Exercises of the Harvard Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa were held on Tuesday (June 11) with Edward J. Logue, former head of the Boston Red development Authority and current Visiting Maxwell Professor of Government and Consultant to the Metrocenter at Boston University as the orator.

Rep. Bradley In D.C. Poor March

Representative Joseph G. Bradley of Newton participated yesterday in the poor people's march in Washington.

Bradley said it gave him an opportunity to talk "to these poor people and to their leaders." He added that his talks gave him a greater understanding of their hopes for the future.

Bradley is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the third congressional district which includes Newton.

from doing various jobs for people in the community.

In accepting the check for the School Partnership Program, Pierson commended the students for completing the fund raising in only six months—a task which is normally expected to take two school years.

In his remarks Pierson reminded the students of their obligation to continue what he termed "your trip to understanding the underdeveloped world around us by exchanging letters, tapes, pictures, art, and artifacts with the people of the community chosen to receive your donation."

"I accept your contribution to aid in the building of a school and I charge you to continue your trip toward greater world understanding," Pierson concluded.

Others leading the School Partnership Program at the Warren Junior High School in addition to Charles Stone were Faculty Advisers James Walline and William Franklin. Ann Gross, secretary; Martin Cohen, boys vice president; and Alicia McManmon, girls vice president.

Churches Set Weekday School For September

The Weekday Church School of Newtonville is sponsored by Central Congregational Church and St. John's Episcopal Church and is open to all students in the community in grades five through twelve.

Enrollment for grades five and six will take place at Newtonville United Methodist Church on Tuesday, September 17, at 1:45 p.m. with regular classes starting the same time the following Tuesday. Enrollment for grades seven and eight will be held at Central Congregational Church on Monday evening, September 16, at 7 p.m.

Grades nine through twelve will enroll the same evening, at the same time at St. John's Episcopal Church. Classes will continue on Monday evenings at 7 p.m. throughout the school year.

Though the participating churches will contribute to the expenses of the school, parents are asked to pay a minimal enrollment fee of $5, for the first student, $3, for the second and $2, for the third with a family maximum of $10.

Serving on the Committee for Weekday Church Education are Mrs. Karl Arabian, Mrs. E. Lawrence Chamberlain, Mrs. Herbert Duway, Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, Mrs. Howard Ferguson, Rev. Robert Harding, Mrs. Warren Hunt, Mrs. Dean Laird, Mrs. Elizabeth Latona, Rev. John Lilly, Mrs. Frank McKenna, Mrs. Leon Slayton, Mrs. George Strandberg and Rev. Edwin Sutherland. In the capacity of director, Co-ordinator and teacher-parent consultant, Mrs. Walter H. Dietz, Jr. will serve the school.

Further information may be obtained from the Director at Central Congregational Church.

City Sends Message To Kennedy Family

A resolution expressing sorrow at the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy and extending condolences to the members of his family was adopted by the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

It was introduced by Aldermen Joseph M. McDonnell, H. James Shea, Jr., Franklin N. Flaschner and Sidney T. Small.

Summer Season For Newton Playgrounds Opens Monday

Newton Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney, announced the start of the summer season on Newton Playgrounds next week.

Monday afternoon, June 24th at 1:30 p.m. thirty play areas will be opened under leadership for an eight week season. An organizational meeting of the playground staff will be held that morning at the Childs Recreation Centre on Hawthorne Playground where seasonal plans, administration policy, personnel matters, assignments, etc., will be gone over with the staff members.

An all day training session for new recreation leaders assigned to Newton Playgrounds for the first time this year will be held Friday, June 21st.

This training program will concentrate on active and quiet games leadership, crafts, and first aid. Instructors will be recreation supervisors and experienced recreation leaders from the Newton Recreation Department staff.

The regular playground hours will be 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Five playgrounds are also open for an evening session from 6:00 p.m. to dusk: Newton Centre, Burr at Newton Corner, Cabot and Carr School in Newtonville, and Auburndale. Auburndale, Newton Centre, and Burr have regular leadership coverage on weekends also.

Games and activities for school-age children from 5 to 15 years will be planned during the playground season at the following areas in Newton: District I, Miss Lillian Swartz Supervisor; Albemarle, Boyd Park (Lincoln - Elliott School), Carr School, Charlesbank, Hawthorne, Newton High School, District II, Mr. William J. Barry Supervisor; Auburndale, Davis School, Franklin School, Burr School, Pierce School, Wellington, West Newton Common, Williams School; District III, Mr. Robert Doherty, Supervisor; Burr (Bigelow Jr. High) Cabot Park, Farlow Park, Highlands, Memorial School, Thompsonville (Bowen School), Ward School, Hyde School; District IV, Mr. James E. Newton Youth On Glee Club 3-Weeks Tour

Dana A. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lee Jackson of Newton Highlands, a member of the class of 1969, is one of 41 glee club members of Ohio Wesleyan University who is on tour for three weeks to South America.

The group will present 14 concerts in Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia. Performances will be given in Universities, on TV programs and in City Halls.

The main purpose of the tour is to widen the students' experience and promote good will and understanding. Many of the students are being housed by Spanish-speaking families.

Accompanying the group are the glee club director, Gordon M. Almstead and Charles E. Thompson, Professor of Music at the university.

City Receives Information On Teachers Corps

Anthony J. Bibbo, Executive Director of the Newton Community Service Centers, Inc., reports that the agency has just received a number of fact sheets and brochures on the Teaching Corps from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Teacher Corps is a two year work-study program that trains college graduates to teach in poverty schools. Interns earn a master degree in education plus $75 per week. They serve in the Teacher Corps for two years during which time they receive on-the-job training in poverty schools, study for a graduate degree, and work in the poverty community.

For those interested, the pamphlets are available at the Community Center building, 429 Cherry street in West Newton. Supply is limited, therefore, they will be distributed on a first come, first served basis as long as they last.

Schneider Gets B.A.

Jeffrey H. Schneider of 23 Mignon road, West Newton, was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree on Sunday, June 16, by Ohio Wesleyan University as the university conducted the 124th annual commencement.

ACTIVE DUTY—SSG6 Richard Condon, 687 Grove street, SP4 Barry Canler, 47 Carlson avenue, SP5 Murray Cohen, 204 Dedham street and PFC3 Joseph Leonard, 18 Nardone road, all of Newton, take a moment out from their active duty training at the Military Ocean Terminal in Brooklyn, N.Y. The men, all members of the U.S. Army Terminal Unit (1169 Army Reserve) from the Boston Army Base, spent two weeks recently on active duty at the Brooklyn facility.

Nine million hours were donated last year by 113,000 veterans hospital volunteers.

LONE WOMAN ATLANTIC RACER PLUCKED FROM ROUGH SEAS

THE WEST GERMAN freighter Magdalene Vinnen on Wednesday night plucked trans-Atlantic sailor Edith Baumann of Aachen from her trimaran Koala III in tossing seas. The 26-year-old woman set out with a pet dog to cross the sea. Her battered boat was spotted by a U.S. Air Force rescue plane which radioed her position. Last week a French sailor was picked up by a Norwegian freighter — also one of the racers from Plymouth, Eng., to Newport, R.I.

RUSK WARNS REDS ON FURTHER AGGRESSION

U.S. SECRETARY of State Dean Rusk warned in Bonn on Wednesday that further interference by the communists with West Berlin's traffic lifelines could lead to a "very grave situation." He expressed President Johnson's "solidarity" with the West Germans in the crisis. Rusk flew to Bonn from Iceland where he attended a meeting of NATO ministers.

SEE POSSIBLE NEW COMMUNIST ASSAULT ON SAIGON

U.S. INTELLIGENCE sources said Wednesday some 26 communist battalions are massing for an expected attack on Saigon within the next two weeks. Such an assault could send as many as 8,000 red troops, some of them battle-hardened North Vietnamese on a new attempt to invade Saigon for a possible victory to enhance the communist position in the Paris talks.

SAME STORY FROM PEACE TALKS—NO PROGRESS

NORTH VIETNAMESE chief delegate Xuan Thuy offered Wednesday to discuss settlement of the Vietnam War on the basis of the 1954 Geneva peace agreements in Indochina. But he coupled the offer with conditions unacceptable to the United States. Both sides reported no progress in the 10th meeting which lasted four hours and five minutes. They meet again next Wednesday.

NEW LITERARY SCANDAL ROCKS RUSSIA

ALEXANDER SOLZHENITSYN, a famous Soviet novelist whose book is based on 14 years spent in Stalinist prison camps to become a world best seller, was denounced Wednesday in Russia's greatest literary scandal in 10 years. The official Soviet literary newspaper attacked the author of the sensational "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich" as a writer of anti-Soviet books and a renegade.

NOW SURE BONES OF APOSTLE PETER FOUND IN BASILICA

AN EXULTANT Pope Paul VI announced Wednesday that years-long investigations have produced convincing evidence that the bones found beneath St. Peter's Basilica were those of the Apostle Peter. Scholars as well as Catholics and Protestants have disputed for years over the question.

HOSTILE GOP COMMENT ON SUPREME COURT APPOINTMENTS

PRESIDENT JOHNSON nominated Justice Abe Fortas, his oldest Washington confidant, to be the 15th Chief Justice of the United States on Wednesday. He also named a long-time Texas friend, Judge Homer Thornberry, to serve on the high court. Johnson submitted both nominations to the Senate where a bloc of hostile Republican opposition was developing to the "lame duck" appointments. The Republicans want the appointments delayed until a new president takes over. The appointments were made possible by the retirement of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

SENATE GROUP ASKING WHY AUTO INSURANCE COSTS $10.8 BILLION

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE cost the American public $10.8 billion last year and a Senate subcommittee began Wednesday to find out if the public got its money's worth. "We must learn whether state regulations can cope with the steady stream of applications for rate increases by insurers," said Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.). The subcommittee soon learned that if you live out of wedlock, keep a dirty house or reside in an undesirable neighborhood you may have trouble buying auto insurance.

WHAT'S A FEW MILLION? — IT'S ONLY MONEY

THE HOUSE voted Wednesday to cut $136 million from President Johnson's $1.1 billion request for special educational aid to poor children. But the House Agriculture Committee voted to increase the food stamp program by $20 million to expand the total to $245 million. Strikers and college students are forbidden to buy food stamps.

CRACK HUGE INTERNATIONAL SMUGGLING RING

AUTHORITIES in New York and in Paris Wednesday cracked an international narcotics smuggling ring and seized a record $22.4 million worth of pure heroin. Federal officials said the heroin was found in a French car imported to the U.S. One man was arrested in New York and four others in Paris.

VOLPE URGES PROMPT ACTION TO RETAIN COMMUTER SERVICE

GOV. JOHN A. VOLPE Wednesday night called on legislative leaders to act "quickly and favorably" to permit continued commuter railroad service into Boston. His appeal came after he was informed by Robert Blanchette, general counsel of the New Haven Railroad, that service would end on the Franklin and Needham lines at midnight Sunday without a subsidy. Subsidy agreements with the New Haven and the Boston & Maine expire at midnight Sunday.

HOUSE PASSES BILL CREATING STADIUM AUTHORITY

LEGISLATION calling for creation of a Greater Boston Stadium Authority passed its first test in the House Wednesday night. On a 114-104 roll call, the House substituted the bill for a Ways and Means committee measure and brought it up for debate. The authority made up of 78 communities that comprise the MBTA, would build a $42 million stadium in the Boston area.

X-RAY TECHNICIANS REPORT SICK AT BOSTON HOSPITAL

TWENTY-TWO of the 33 X-ray technicians scheduled to work at Boston City Hospital called in sick Wednesday. Dr. Jerome Shapiro, director of the radiology department, said "patient care has not been impaired" by the absence. Commissioner Andrew P. Sackett of the Department of Health and Hospitals told a news conference "this is clearly a concerted action on the part of these technicians to stop work. . . they have a contract with the City of Boston which was arrived at by collective bargaining and in good faith."

POLICE OFFICIALS FOUND GUILTY OF PERJURY

POLICE CHIEF Arthur Pellegri and Sgt. Dino Geromini of Worcester were found guilty Wednesday of perjury in connection with their testimony during a bank robbery. They testified in behalf of one of four defendants in an $86,000 bank robbery trial. Superior Court Judge Francis Lappin sentenced Pellegri and Geromini to one year each in the house of correction and they appealed.

INCREASE UNITED FUND GOAL BY $750,000

THE MASSACHUSETTS BAY United Fund goal for its fall drive has been set at $14 million, the campaign chairman said Wednesday night. This is an increase of $750,000 over last year's goal.

RED SOX DROP SECOND GAME TO ORIOLES, 6-2

BALTIMORE Orioles pitcher Dave McNally had things pretty much under control as the Boston Red Sox went down to defeat for the second night in a row in humid Baltimore and the final score was 6-2. The Sox only runs came in the seventh as Scott doubled and came home on Howard's 400-foot homer. For Baltimore both Robinsons and Powell homered. Ken Harrelson got one hit to push his average to .314 while Carl Yastrzemski was zero for four and dropped to .311. The Sox open against Cleveland in a home stand Thursday evening.

School Board Moves To Improve Race Relations

By SHIRLEY GOLDWYN

Greater efforts will be made by the Newton School Department to improve race relations and to eradicate racism, according to a report presented to the Newton School Committee on Monday night.

Dr. J. Bernard Everett, assistant superintendent for instruction, said that school officials are looking at materials already being used with an eye to building into them more race awareness.

Efforts will also be made, Dr. Everett said, to locate good new materials that are already available and to develop new materials.

Edward Martin, social studies coordinator, said that plans include work with curriculum materials and teacher orientation.

Federal funds to spend on the program will be sought, it was reported. However, it was generally acknowledged that some sort of program could be begun even if those funds are not available. The School Committee also agreed that, if necessary, a half-time person could be hired to begin teacher training in September.

Some of the curriculum additions on the elementary school level to increase race awareness will include the use of books, films and other materials on past and present Negro leaders.

A unit on the fourth grade level on the heterogeneous society in America exploring how diverse groups work well together has been developed, Martin revealed.

Curriculum materials will be added to present social studies units aimed at helping children to deal with the heterogeneous society in which they are growing up, Martin noted.

A unit on cultural regions outside of the United States will include studies of people of different races and this could also deal with the issue of skin color, he said.

A unit in the fourth grade on Cape Kennedy can indicate that there are black and white scientists.

A ninth grade course which deals with heterogeneous America contains a unit on the Afro-American.

Teachers will be acquainted with materials available and seminars will be held to help

Mann Praises Move To Fight Stadium Here

Rep. Theodore D. Mann today gave high praise to the citizens of Newton, its press and officials, for their unity and effectiveness in opposing construction of a stadium in Newton.

Evaluating the current situation, Rep. Mann observed that the kind of mobilization of community forces and the demonstrated concern for the public good deserves special note and should not be taken for granted.

"We are very fortunate," Mann said, "to have a community that is so responsive, able, and resourceful."

Newton's representatives in the State Legislature, he added, worked closely with Mayor Monte G. Basbas, Alderman Edward C. Uehlein, and the Board of Aldermen to meet the threat to the city.

Giving a large share of the credit to Mayor Monte G. Basbas for his leadership and to Alderman Edward C. Uehlein of Ward Five, Mann paid high tribute to the civic, religious, and business organizations which together with the city's newspapers rallied to Newton's cause.

Special note, Mann declared, must be taken of the extraordinary service rendered by the League of Women Voters when it col-

Doctor's Hero Son Gets Bronze Star

A man can receive no high accolade than that received by the son of a Newton physician:

"He gallantly gave his life for his country."

Lance Cpl. Robert T. Steinsieck Jr., of the Marine Corps, gave his life last Dec. 3 near Phu Bai in South Vietnam just two weeks before he was to have returned to the United States.

He gave his life in an action for which the President conferred on him the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" posthumously for heroic achievement.

Cpl. Steinsieck, 22-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert T. Steinsieck, of 17 Berwick rd., Newton Centre, gave his life while serving as a fire team leader with Co. F, 2nd Bn., 26th Marines, 3rd Marine Div. His squad was assigned the mission of establishing an ambush position near Phu Bai.

It was hot, humid and Steinsieck deployed his squad near a pagoda. Then, to insure the ambush was complete, he personally replaced deadly claymore mines near the perimeter defense to cover all approaches to his squad's position.

George Wallace Could Shift Alignment in Election Race

Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon appear to be inching steadily, week by week, toward the Presidential nominations of their respective political parties.

The contests in which they are now involved probably will be all over before the two national conventions are even called to order.

As it appears more and more likely that Nixon and Humphrey will be the opponents in next November's Presidential election, political analysts now are attempting to determine what effect former Governor George C. Wallace of Alabama would have on a Humphrey-Nixon fight.

Wallace conceivably could carry enough states

Area Residents Still Hostile To Newton Corner Renewal

The controversial proposal for Newton Corner urban renewal was up before the City Planning Committee last Monday night and met with same hostility displayed at a similar meeting last year.

The Planning Committee met with the Redevelopment Authority and a citizens committee from Newton Corner, and the confrontation left the group "Right where we were a year and a half ago," in the opinion of Ald. James Sacks.

One citizens' committee member, Anthony Prucker, said that the urban renewal in Newton Corner is a "deal" with the core city for low income housing on the fringes of Boston, and that the current Senate stadium bill, in which Woodland Golf Club is mentioned, is a threat.

"The deal will be," he explained, "that we either lose Woodland or we get urban renewal in Newton Corner."

Before any urban renewal can take place, the city has to file an application for study funds ($300,000) with Washington. From that, a 12 to 18 month study will commence, and it is during that time, the Redevelopment Authority explains, that a detailed plan, in conjunction with the residents' wishes, will be worked out.

A Newton Lower Falls Improvement Asso. member explained that community's dealings with the Redevelopment ment Authority and the city Planning committee. The Lower Falls is in the midst of urban renewal.

Most citizens present (about 50) felt that the Lower Falls program was entirely different from Newton Corner where it is reported about 70 homes will be cleared.

Chairman Bruce explained that the city does not have to go forward with the urban renewal even if the study money is granted, although the city, on any future Federal program will be in the 'red' to the Federal government for that amount.

Most persons in the area want specifics but the only specifics available is the general area involved, the possibility of 70 homes being taken and a possible ring road.

One alderman, H. James Shea, said that the ring road proposed by the Wilbur-Smith Associates traffic study should be incorporated into the urban renewal plans or at least talked about in conjunction with the plans.

But Casselman said that the Authority will not discuss the ring road until the Board of Aldermen and the citizens' committee gives that authority permission to file the application.

Alderman William E. Hopkins said that the ring road should be worked out as part of the urban renewal program and not left as a separate project.

Bruce noted that there will be those persons whose homes are taken who will never go along with the renewal program and there is nothing we can do about that.

"We have to accept the fact that some persons will be relocated. About that we can do nothing except ease the pain by making re-location adjustments."

It was determined at the meeting that three more members will be added to the citizens' committee, one of them a businessman in the area.

Chamber of Commerce executive vice-president Lewis B. Songer said that a vote will be taken by the directors of the Chamber to either support or oppose the program.

He added that no businessman in the Corner was intentionally excluded from a meeting held there last week to discuss the business problems of the area and the proposed redevelopment.

Youthful Fund Raisers

"Gypsies" from a fortune-telling booth at the Hamilton Elementary School of Newton carnival bring good news and a check for $100 from the school to Newton-Wellesley Hospital director William S. Carnival Closes School

Hospital Fund Gets Assist From Pupils

Just before the 200 students of the Hamilton Elementary School in Newton Lower Falls headed for vacation last week, they presented a $100 check to the building fund of Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The presentation was made by student council officers and class representatives at the school. The school principal is Mrs. Hope F. Danielson, and the student council advisor is Mrs. Nancy Swidler.

Accepting the check in behalf of the hospital's building fund was the hospital director, William S. Brines of Wellesley.

The Lower Falls youngsters raised the money during a carnival held at the school on June 11th.

Student Council officers who participated were Judi Harding, president; Rosita Penzer, vice president; Patty Feig, secretary; and Amy Gaoian, treasurer. Class representatives included Raymond Budge, Norman Budge, Douglas Prince, Mark Rubin, Susan Wolf, Betsy Schoenberg, David Bikofsky, Susan Greenberg, Carolyn Dean, Tony Morales, Chris Terranova, Robin Robinson and Eileen Lynch.

Robin Robinson and Eileen Lynch were prize chairmen for the carnival. Numerous stores in the Lower Falls-area donated prizes for the affair, in response to the work of the prize chairmen.

vacancies — five in the senior high schools, 10 in the junior highs and two in the elementary schools. It is expected that these positions will be filled in the near future.

The rise in the number of candidates for jobs was attributed to several factors — more young people going into the field of education although there is still a preponderance of women, especially on the elementary level; the fact that the post World War II baby boom is beginning to be reflected in those now graduating from colleges; and the increased mobility of teachers.

There are increases of personnel in seven elementary schools and decreases in ten, O'Connor said. This is a result of population, the assistant personnel director commented.

In other business, two changes in next year's school calendar were approved by the School Committee for the coming school year. The changes result from the new law which will cause some holidays to fall on Mondays.

Memorial Day will be celebrated next year on May 26, and school will be closed on that date. The February vacation was moved back one week so that it will now run from Feb. 17 (next year's date for the celebration of George Washington's birthday) through Feb. 21, 1969.

The School Committee also approved a request from the League School of Boston for use of the Bigelow House near the Peabody School.

Assistant Supt. for Pupil Personnel Dr. Edward Landy pointed out that the League School needs larger quarters and has offered to bring the Bigelow House into good repair if a five-year

Inter-Faith Classes To Be Held In Fall

A class for adults of all faiths entitled, "The Individual and Rapid Change" will be offered next fall by an inter-faith organization with headquarters in Newton.

The class will meet every Thursday evening for six weeks beginning Oct. 10, (with the exception of Oct. 31) in Stuart House on the Centre street campus of Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

The purpose of the course will be both to describe and analyze the major forces for change in our time, and to help the individual to become creatively involved in shaping the future through his religious commitment.

The major forces for change that the course will deal with are: black consciousness, student dissent, business humanism, the technological revolution, the new politics, and changing cultural styles.

Each evening session will be two hours long and will include a talk by a leading interpreter of each change area, a panel discussion of its religious significance, a small group discussion on key questions, and a final "free-swinging plenary" — a focusing on one major question proposed by each group.

lease on the property can be secured.

Dr. Landy said the school which provides for severely emotionally disturbed children serves as an avenue of referral for Newton schools and thereby removes an expensive burden from the school system.

The League School is a non-profit, independent group which now accommodates 15 children from several communities. The school would like to increase its enrollment to about 24. There will be no cost at all to the city of Newton, Dr. Landy reported.

The School Committee approved a motion by Edwin Hawkridge endorsing the request of the League School and asking the mayor and the board of aldermen to permit use of the Bigelow House.

The School Committee on Monday also approved the lengthening of the school day at Day Junior High School. Starting in September school will begin at 8:30 instead of the previous 8:50. Dismissal time will remain the same.

Basbas Maps Fight Against Aid Formulas

Area representatives in the Legislature were contacted by Mayor Monte G. Basbas this week and asked to join him in opposing two proposed formulas for distribution of Local Aid funds which he said will take money away from the city.

Basbas said that under one of the formulas, supported by Gov. Volpe, the city would lose about $970,000 in revenue which would mean an increase of approximately $3 on the tax rate.

Under the second formula filed by the Joint Committee on Taxation, the Mayor said that Newton would lose more than $1.6 million, $5 on the tax rate.

The Mayor said both formulas are "unrealistic" and it "would seem that Newton, which provides with its own tax funds an outstanding educational system as well as other unusual benefits to residents, is being penalized unjustly and being made to bear the burden of less provident communities."

Under the bills, Newton "seems" to be getting just as much local aid as before. But, the mayor pointed out, under the Nesdick Formula for education, Newton's share of the proposed added aid to education would be a minimum because the city already spends as much as any other community in the state on education.

He said that only about 60 communities will benefit from the next tax bills, but those are the communities that pay a minimum for education from municipal funds.

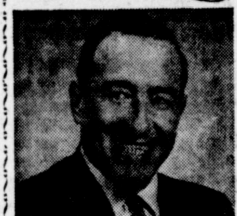

The letter from the Mayor calling for opposition was sent to Reps. Theodore D. Mann, David Locke, Edward D. Dickson, Irving Fishman, Paul Malloy, Joseph G. Bradley and Sens. Beryl Cohen and Leslie Cutler.

DAVID J. BAGLEY

Bagley Enters Candidacy For Representative

David J. Bagley of 151 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative in the 12th Middlesex District in Newton. The district is comprised of Ward One, Newton Corner; Ward Two, Newtonville; Ward Three, West Newton, and Ward Seven, Newton Corner and Newton Center.

Bagley, who attended the Newton Schools and Boston University, has been a resident of Newton for 22 years. He is a veteran of World War II, and served with the Yankee Division in the European Theater of Operations.

He is a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks, the Newton Kiwanis, Waltham Loyal Order of Moose, American Legion Post No. 48 and the Newton Chamber of Commerce. The candidate is married to the former Marie Schlaich, and has two children, Diane and David, who attend the Clafin School in Newtonville.

Bagley has been active in the real estate and fuel oil business in this district for 21 years, and has offices at 727 Washington street, Newtonville. Although he has been interested in politics and close to what was happening on the local scene for many years, this is the first time Bagley had sought public office.

In making his announcement, Bagley said, "I feel strongly that men in business should become involved in politics. Because of their broad experience and their close association with many of the problems facing the community today, businessmen have a great potential for community service."

Bagley emphasized that, "Today, as never before, we need men who have the foresight, the ability and the courage to attempt to solve these problems."

"I pledge, if elected," Bagley said, "to oppose the plan for a stadium in Newton, and I will support measures aimed at raising the quality of public education and establishing equal opportunity for all. I intend to fight for a strict gun control bill and, on the local scene, I will support measures which will ease the present, real estate tax burden."

stand supporting the junior college.

The School Committee chairman pointed out that although a study committee appointed by Mayor Monte G. Basbas recommended that the junior college be absorbed by the state, the committee did not take into consideration the fact that the state has abandoned its plan to build a west suburban community college.

The School Committee, Beckwith reported, has sent a letter to the president of the state board of regional community colleges stating that at the present time it wishes to maintain the junior college.

Phone Co. Parking Lot Wins By 1 Vote

A Telephone Co. petition for a parking lot at 91 Court st. in Newtonville was approved by the Board of Aldermen last week by one vote.

The vote was 16 to 7 with one member absent. The petition needed a two-thirds vote to pass.

Some aldermen felt that the parking lot, placed in the middle of a residential street, was not the best in permissive uses.

The company sought the petition because a proposed extension of their present building will take away at least 25 present parking spaces in the lot behind the building.

Land Use Committee Chairman Franklin N. Flaschner said that the restrictions put on the lot and use "were not at all favored by the phone company."

Those include a 65-foot setback from the street of parking for vehicles and lights, use only from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. with lights (except for standard security lighting) out at 6:30 p.m., with the lot entrance locked by a chain at night and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

The lot is only to be used for privately owned vehicles belonging to company employees. The seven voting against the

Unsung Naval Units

Disease can be as deadly as an enemy soldier. No one knows this better than the sanitation and health forces now working in Vietnam, among which are the Preventive Medicine Units of the U.S. Navy.

Recently, one of the units was called upon to assist nearly 30,000 refugees who fled from Red-held sectors during the battle to drive communists out of the Vietnamese city of Hue.

Refugees camped in school yards, on hospital grounds or wherever they could find room. The Navy officer-in-charge reported, "Sanitary conditions were miserable. Whenever that many people are thrown together in crowded, temporary living conditions, the possibility of an epidemic becomes acute." So, approximately 70,000 cholera and typhoid inoculations were given to about 35,000 Hue residents in less than three weeks.

As the communists were driven out of what was called the Citadel area in northwest Hue, approximately 40,000 refugees jammed into five new camps, further increasing the threat of disease.

Naval personnel sprayed insecticide and worked with refugees to establish sanitation measures. Through their efforts, disease, especially infectious disease, was kept to an absolute minimum.

The annals of the U.S. Navy record many outstanding achievements, but the work of the Preventive Medicine Unit in Hue will rank with the best of them.

Vital Merchant Marine

Once again, we are learning that the United States must have merchant ships. Not so long ago, armchair theorists were arguing that the U.S. Merchant Marine was expendable — an obsolete remnant of the pre-nuclear age.

How those armchair theorists have been shown up is illustrated by two recent reports. One is by Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, chief of Naval Operations.

He says: "There is now established an unending lifeline which extends from the Mekong River Delta literally to the Mississippi Delta, to New York, the Great Lakes and our entire West Coast. As in every previous war, these sea lines of communication carry approximately 98 per cent of the complex material of war, and most of the combat personnel of all services. Each month ships transport to Vietnam one long ton of food, clothing and ammunition per man ashore."

The other report is an "in depth" study of the impact of the Merchant Marine on the U.S. international balance of payments deficit. Now, most people find it difficult to understand the balance of payments deficit, gold drain, etc., and we'll be the first to confess ignorance in that field.

However, that's one of the reasons we're about to get nicked for 10 per cent more in income taxes. Everyone understands that.

The study was conducted by the staff of Harbridge House of Boston, a nationally known management research firm, with assistance from faculty members of Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A few facts from the study tell a startling story, which is timely in this critical period when a vital factor in international monetary stability lies in finding ways to remedy the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

It reveals a $7.3 billion payments contribution by the Merchant Marine in the 10-year period of 1957 to 1966. Total U.S. payments deficit during the same period was $23 billion.

In those years, the payments deficit would have been 30 per cent larger without the significant contribution of U.S. vessels. It requires no great stretch of the imagination to picture the plight of U.S. gold reserves if there had been no U.S. Merchant Marine plying the sea lanes of the world.

The study also showed that the impact of subsidized U.S. liner ships was considerable. It showed that the balance of payments return from U.S.-flag shipping is as high as $3 for every subsidy dollar spent by the government.

In both war and peace, this nation needs a second-to-none Merchant Marine. The U.S. is, always has been, and always will be a maritime nation.

School Board Returns $100C For Lunches

In an unexpected action, the Newton School Committee has asked the Board of Aldermen to take back $100,000 appropriated last March for a school lunch program.

No aldermanic opposition is expected and the money will be placed in the city surplus fund.

Three months ago the Aldermen tried to cut the $100,000 from the school budget but the Committee refused to yield its legal right and it remained.

The $100,000 meant 30 cents on the tax rate.

Now the city is getting back the sum because it was determined that children using the school lunch program would pay for it themselves.

THE VIEWS SEEM DIFFERENT

- POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS -

and pick up enough electoral votes to throw the election into the national House of Representatives if the Humphrey-Nixon battle were an extremely close one.

That, however, is a rather remote possibility. The question to which political experts will be giving more time and attention is the degree to which Wallace may change the political alignment in states where he polls a substantial vote.

Indications are that Wallace's name will be on the ballot in most of the 50 states, and he probably will make a much greater impact upon the election than did Senator Strom Thurmond in 1948 although he may not get as many electoral votes as did Thurmond who received 39.

Thurmond carried Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina and picked up a single vote in Tennessee to give him a total of 39 electoral votes.

On the surface it would seem that Wallace would be stronger than Thurmond and that the people in the old Confederacy are angrier about civil rights today than they were 20 years ago.

Only time will disclose whether that is correct. Racist voters in the deep South may feel even more bitterly than they did in 1948 but may realize they will be wasting their votes in casting them for Wallace.

As matters now shape up, Wallace probably will carry at least three southern states with a total of 23 electoral votes.

It is possible that he might capture a fourth state with another 10 electoral votes. It is conceivable but unlikely that Wallace might carry still two other states and boost his total to 53 electoral votes.

If Wallace should carry six states with 53 electoral votes, there is a very good chance he would throw the election into the House. That would be a highly improbable turn of events, however.

The three states it is generally agreed Wallace will carry are Alabama with 10 electoral votes, Mississippi with seven and Arkansas with six. That would give him 23 electoral votes.

The fourth state Wallace might carry is Louisiana which has 10 electoral votes.

Two other states which he conceivably could carry are Georgia with 12 electoral votes and South Carolina with eight.

Apart from those six states which Wallace himself claims will all wind up in his column when the returns are counted on election night, he is virtually certain to roll sizeable vote totals in several other southern states.

An important political question is whether Wallace will pull more votes from Nixon or Humphrey.

This observer would surmise that Wallace would hurt Nixon more than Humphrey. Some political pundits, however, sharply disagree.

A national magazine recently polled top strategists in the Nixon and Humphrey camps on who they thought would carry which states in the event of a Humphrey-Nixon-Wallace Presidential battle next November.

Leaders in the Nixon campaign conceded Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas to Wallace. Those four states have 33 electoral votes.

They listed Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia as doubtful.

In 1960 Nixon carried Virginia, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky and Oklahoma.

His supporters presently are claiming Florida, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Kentucky along with New Mexico, Texas and Missouri, but they list Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Georgia as doubtful.

Humphrey backers give only Alabama, Arkansas, and Mississippi to Wallace.

They claim Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee and Texas for Humphrey and classify Louisiana Oklahoma, South Carolina and Virginia as doubtful.

Some political experts believe that Humphrey could do that well in the South only if Wallace pulls more votes from Nixon than from Humphrey in the old Confederacy.

An interesting sidelight was that the Nixon forces agreed Humphrey is likely to carry Massachusetts.

A recent survey by the Christian Science Monitor, however, indicated the Bay State could go either way. This was one instance where the Nixon chieftains apparently were being conservative in their appraisals.

Other states the Nixon adherents believe Humphrey has a good chance of carrying are New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Minnesota, and West Virginia along with the District of Columbia.

With Massachusetts, they have 89 electoral votes.

The Humphrey supporters listed 11 states with 92 electoral votes which they feel Nixon would carry as of now.

They are Arizona, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska New Hampshire Ohio, Oregon, Vermont and Wisconsin.

States which the Humphrey and Nixon camps both claimed for their candidates are Alaska, Colorado, Hawaii, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Both sides agreed that Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Virginia are doubtful states.

How Humphrey expects to carry a state such as Georgia and at the same time draw the bulk of the Negro vote in the north is far from clear to this writer. The answer probably is that what HHH expects and what he will succeed in doing probably are two entirely different things.

It would seem that Humphrey will have to give much more than token civil rights support to get the Negroes in the northern industrial states out in large numbers.

If he does that, he almost certainly will drive the southern red-necks into the arms of either Wallace or Nixon.

Nixon has no chance of getting the Blacks. Unless Humphrey gives them much more attention, they are very likely to stay home.

Events which have not yet occurred will play a part in determining whether Humphrey or Nixon will attract certain elements of the voters across the nation.

Who will lose or gain the most if there are serious riots this summer?

Nixon obviously stands to improve his image as a law-and-order man if they are bad while Humphrey, as part of the in-establishment would lose no matter what is done about violence.

A still unanswered question is what the young people, who rallied to the causes of Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy will do in the fall election and whether they will even be a factor with Bobby dead and McCarthy tossed out the window at Chicago.

Without Bobby to lead them, the young Kennedyites may just indifferently accept Hubert as the lesser of the two evils — unless, of course, Senator Edward M. Kennedy turns up as Humphrey's Vice Presidential running mate.

California and New York could play an important part in settling a Humphrey-Nixon struggle.

The Nixon camp claims California and lists New York as leaning to Humphrey.

The Humphrey leaders claim New York and label California as doubtful.

Has Nixon mended his fences to that extent in California? Is Humphrey that strong in New York, where McCarthy defeated him in the fight for delegates.

Humphrey should make a stronger run against Nixon in the Midwest than the late John F. Kennedy did in 1960.

That could be the section of the nation where the Presidential battle will be won and lost.

Six Residents Graduate From Colby College

6 Newton area students were among those receiving B.A. degrees at Colby College's commencement exercises on Sunday morning (June 2). David McCord, Harvard University poet and essayist, was commencement speaker for the Maine college's 147th year.

Area residents graduating were: Carl Glickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glickman of 55 Wheeler Rd., Newton. He majored in psychology.

James E. Sandler, economics major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandler of 70 Clements Rd., Newton.

Chemistry major Irving W. Frutkoff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Frutkoff of 24 Glen avenue, Newton Centre.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Volk of 5 Pickwick road, West Newton. Jan F. Volk majored in history at Colby.

The four graduates above prepared for college at Newton High.

Miss Ellen J. Dockser, who prepared for Colby at Cambridge School in Weston, majored in English. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dockser of 12 Drumlin Rd., Newton Centre.

Wade J. Asaff, of Auburn-dale, is also a graduate of Colby.

Editor, The Graphic:

E. H. Rosenberg, in his letter to the Editor, has badly misquoted Dr. Bradbury Sea-sholes. Dr. Sea-sholes is upset, not by the services at ASC, but by the lack of Free Discussion.

ASC has slowly reached the rank of Anti-war fanaticism where the creative processes to deal with the particulars of Vietnam, racial tension and community conflicts are being thwarted.

The Arlington Street Church, involved in draft-card burning, Spook conspiracy charges and sanctuary for draft and armed service evaders, has internally found itself in conflict. Those leaders within the church, and laymen, are slowly being out-shouted and misquoted, falsely accused of being over-administration prone, because they see complexities to be discussed.

The Church has tended toward a "withdraw" or "shut up" policy for six years. They have become preoccupied with it until some responsible laymen have been forced to withdraw in that all mediums for "antiwar desenters" have been closed. There is no dissent within the Church. Here is where many past and present "ASC-ers" refute the new young champions of the anti-war cause. A closed mind is not in the tradition of the Church as a body.

Disputes Bowen Letter

Editor, The Graphic:

Contrary to what J. Ellis Bowen asserts in his letter of June 13, 1968, there is no "right of citizens, guaranteed by the Constitution, to bear arms..." The Second Amendment reads as follows: "A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed."

The Second Amendment sets forth the right of each state to maintain a state of militia; it sets forth nothing more. The private citizen has, in fact, no Constitutional right to possess, sell, or use guns, and this being so, said possession, sale, or use is wholly within the power of Congress to regulate.

Demo Committee Urges Low-Cost Housing In City

The Newton Ward 7 Democratic Committee has passed a resolution calling for more low and middle income housing in the city.

They stated that the absence of such housing in the city is "harmful since it means that many people who work in Newton cannot afford to live here."

The committee also urged that the Board of Aldermen, adopt the unanimous action of its own sub-committee which recommended authorization of construction of at least 200 low income housing units.

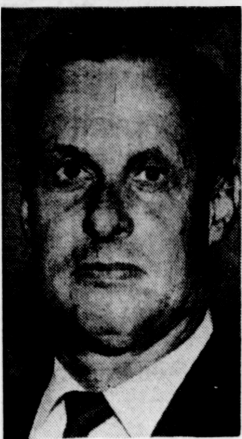

Petition Asks Dog Leash Law

A petition asking for a public hearing to consider a dog leash law has been received by the Newton Board of Aldermen and, as yet, no date has been set.

A similar petition was heard about 10 years ago and, at that time, the Board voted to deny a leash law.

Teachers Eulogize Youth At Mendelson Services

Newton South High School athlete Daniel Mendelson was eulogized for his "honesty and innocence" Monday at funeral services attended by relatives, friends, coaches, teammates and many others who knew the football and wrestling star.

Eulogies were delivered by Newton South High Principal William D. Geer, Jr., Athletic Director George Winkler, Newton South English teacher Jonathan Slater and Meadowbrook Junior High School social science teacher Warren Priest.

"There are many kinds of success that a 17-year-old boy can achieve," said Geer. "And Danny Mendelson attained most of them. He was a gifted athlete who was embraced by his teammates. He was noble and warm with his peers and was loved by them."

"He was bold and honest in his judgments and everyone in the school respected him for them. Yet these were not his real successes nor his remarkable gift."

"During the past two years at Newton South, Danny waged a brave, gentle and innocent struggle with all the negative forces of status and cool that daily stalk the corridors, classrooms, playing fields and parking lots that have stricken all of us: student, teacher and parent alike."

"He as no clever tactician of success who calculated the amount of cool to be had in any act. He charted no grim and self-centered course for success and he seemed oblivious of the grim struggle for cool and status that surrounded him. "He was never oblivious of the feelings and qualities of those with whom he came in contact, and so he succeeded in freeing all from the harsh and barren cool."

"His was the rare quality of honesty and innocence. He gave it as a gift with grace and modesty to all. Few men having full lives can claim this success. Yet, in his youth Danny Mendelson gave this gift to us and asked for no return."

Coach Winkler said in part: "Danny's tremendous dedication to athletics was demonstrated constantly. He always placed team before himself. He was one of the most coachable boys we have ever had. No matter how difficult an assignment he was given, he gave 110 per cent."

"Danny's radiant personality, his wit, enthusiasm and unselfishness as a member of all athletic teams, were qualities admired by all his teammates and coaches. We were most fortunate to have a young man of Danny's calibre in our midst."

Social Science teacher Priest said, "What was yesterday's promise is today's memory."

"Danny lived by a principle that remained strong with him. He hated sham, pretense. He saw much about him in his young life. He could not walk in the ways of other people. He had to find his own way. His way was different."

Praised English teacher Slater, "You enjoyed his special summertime that we so seldom dare embrace in our lonely, cautious little worlds."

Football teammates acted as bearers.

Gifts in his memory were made to the Daniel Mendelson Fund, 141 Milk st., Suite 703.

NC Lutherans Represented At N.Y. Convention

The Lutheran Church of the Newtons, Centre and Cypress streets, Newton Centre, will be represented at the 41st Convention of the Atlantic District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod by Mr. John Haffner of 14 Lathrop road, Wellesley.

The Conference, which began last Sunday (June 23) is being held on the campus of Concordia College Institute, Bronxville, New York. More than 700 pastors, teachers, lay delegates and guests are attending.

Highlights of the convention will be a presentation of the impending declaration of full Altar and Pulpit Fellowship with the American Lutheran Church; a progress report on the progress and problems in the current dialogues between Lutherans and Roman Catholic and Reformed Churches; the possible division of the Atlantic District into smaller districts and a panel discussion on the subject of the Church's Ministry to the Whole Man and an opportunity for consideration of many of the crucial issues facing the Church today.

Each voting congregation of the District is to be represented by its pastor and a lay delegate. The Atlantic District is one of the 35 geographical districts in North America. It includes New York State east of Utica, N. J. and all of New England. The 293 congregations have a confirmed membership of 96,000 and a baptized membership of 156,000.

$400 Gift To BU Library By Women's Guild

Dr. Gustave A. Harter of Aburndale, director of Boston University's Libraries and Museums, received a gift of over $400 on behalf of the University's Mugar Memorial Library for acquisitions dealing with American Negro History and Culture. Presented to the University by Mrs. Arthur T. Thompson of Wellesley, president of the Boston University Women's Guild, the gift was the result of the Guild's Annual Book Ball held in February.

The profits from this activity have usually been donated to the library for general acquisitions, but this year the Guild's Executive Board decided to devote the contribution to the specific field in order to show its concern for the University's black students.

Organized 12 years ago, the Guild whose membership exceeds 400 is composed of faculty and staff members, faculty and administrators' wives, and graduate students' wives. In addition to the Book Fund Ball, their activities include welcoming foreign students and working on hospital and school service projects.

MRS. DONALD R. HASLER

Miss Brooke, Sen. Daughter Weds Donald R. Hasler

Miss Remi Cynthia Brooke, daughter of U.S. Senator and Mrs. Edward W. Brooke of Newton was married on Saturday, June 22 at the Brooke family home on Martha's Vineyard to Donald Raymond Hasler. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hasler of New Milford, N.J.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald A. Couza of the Sacred Heart Church. A reception was held on the lawn of the Brooke home.

The bride wore a white silk gown fashioned with a jewel neckline, long sleeves and a Watteau cathedral length train. Venise lace encircled the neckline, sleeves and hemline. A panel of similar lace with blue velvet ribbon embellished the sheath gown.

Her cathedral length illusion veil was fastened to a band of the same lace designed with a spray of imported orange blossoms.

Miss Edwina Brooke, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her empire sleeveless gown of white organza over powder blue was made with a jewel neckline and Val lace banding the waistline. Schiffli embroidery encircled the deep hemline of her skirt. She carried a fireside basket of blue and white flowers.

Other attendants were Mrs. Roger Tuttle and the Misses Peggy D. Amos, Denise Brodwyn, Carla Ferrari-Scaoco, Loretta Loveys, and Maria Nagorski.

The bride's father is the junior U. S. Senator from Massachusetts and former Attorney General of the Commonwealth, Mr. Hasler, father of the groom, is with Lever Brothers.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Brooke, wore a sleeveless sheath dress in pale yellow silk with a matching coat. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hasler, wore an A-line dress in aqua silk with a matching coat.

Raymond Uzzi of New Milford, New Jersey served as best man. The ushers were Daniel Hasler, James Danifrio, James DiLello, Skip Niel, Joseph Regalbutto, and Douglas Schiavi.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE WORKING IN NEWTON?

When we say NEWTON we mean Waban opposite the MBTA stop and right beside the Post Office.

Here you would find a nice quiet office atmosphere, modern equipment, nice people to work with and a company that has been in business since the year 1932.

We pay well and have good fringe benefits plus a working environment that would probably appeal to you.

We would prefer a girl of around thirty or more who would expect to stay with us for some time.

Rep. Harold E. Rosen Seeks Mrs. Cutler's Senate Post

Representative Harold E. Rosen of Dedham announced today that he will stand for promotion to the State Senate and will seek the seat now held in the upper legislative chamber by Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham who is to retire from office at the end of this year.

Rosen will be a candidate for the Republican nomination in the senatorial district which includes the towns of Dedham, Needham, Wellesley and Weston and Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 of Newton.

An active and highly respected law-maker who is now serving his 12th year in the House of Representatives, Rosen is regarded as a strong contender for the Senate seat.

He represented Needham as well as Dedham in the House until the legislative districts were revised in 1964. For the past four years his district has included only his home town of Dedham.

Rosen is the third candidate to enter the primary contest for the Republican nomination which is probably tantamount to election in this senatorial district.

A veteran of World War II and a graduate of the Dedham schools and Boston University, Rep. Rosen was a long-time Town Meeting and School Committee member in Dedham.

He presently is first vice-president of the Massachusetts Legislators Association, treasurer of the National Society of State Legislators and an active member of the American Legion and the Rotary Club.

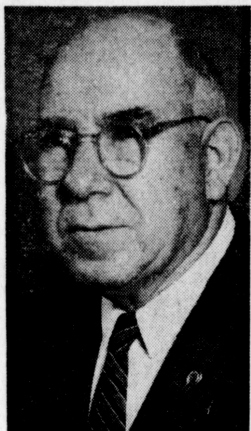

Rosen was in the hardware business in Dedham until 1966 but now devotes his full time to his legislative duties.

An active worker in the Republican party for many years, Rosen has served as member of the Dedham Republican Town Committee for the past two decades, was a legislative member of the Republican State Committee from 1959 to 1962 and has been elected a delegate to every Republican State Convention in the last 20 years.

He serves on the executive committees of both the Norfolk County Republican Club and the Middlesex Club and is a member of the Republican Club of Massachusetts.

In announcing his candida-

REP. HAROLD E. ROSEN

cy, Rep. Rosen pointed to his long experience and strong background in the State Legislature where his attendance record has been higher than 95 percent during the dozen years he has served on Beacon Hill.

His work for improved education and better conservation laws has earned him widespread praise and considerable respect from House members in both political parties.

Rep. Rosen was co-sponsor of the landmark bill making anatomical gifts possible.

He strongly favors shorter legislative sessions and a reduction in the size of the House of Representatives.

Rosen voices his firm conviction that a sports stadium — if one is built — belongs in Boston. He announced his intention of continuing his fight to keep a stadium out of the suburbs.

A Republican, Rosen has been a consistent winner in a Democratic town, a factor his supporters maintain would be crucial in a district where Republican dominance is gradually waning.

In announcing that he will run for Senator Cutler's seat, Rep. Rosen declared:

"As a long-time colleague of Sen. Cutler, I salute her distinguished career in the Massachusetts Senate. I feel I have both the qualifications and the support necessary to keep this Senate seat in the Republican column."

"The Norfolk and Middlesex District is growing. With growth come the problems of protecting the interests of a larger constituency. I seek the opportunity to use my experience in working toward the solution of the many problems we face here and throughout the state."

College Notes

John Gerard Flessas, of Newton, who was a student at the University of Wyoming, qualified for the honor roll there during the spring semester. To qualify, he carried at least 15 hours' credit and maintained a grade average of 3.25 as freshman or 3.40 in any other class.

Newton South High School graduate Nancy Bean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Bean of 259 Varick rd., Waban, has been cited for her academic achievement at Beaver College, Glenside, Pa., where she is a senior. She maintained a grade-point average of 2.5 or better out of a possible 4.0 to be eligible for the dean's list.

Bruce M. Novak, son of Sidney Novak of 823 Chestnut street, Waban, was awarded a bachelor of science degree by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at the university's 162nd commencement exercises on Friday (June 7). His major was physics.

Cadet David Riley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leo H. Riley of 525 Walnut street, Newton, received his diploma recently at the commencement exercises of The Manlius School, Manlius, New York. The school, which is the oldest boys' military preparatory school of its size in the state, completed its 99th year this year.

Among the 214 graduates who received a associate degree at the 68th UMass commencement on Saturday (June 1) from the Stockbridge School of Agriculture was James E. Casselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Casselman of 96 Temple street West Newton. Casselman is a graduate of the Darien, Ct., High School.

PLAQUE UNVEILED—Mrs. Moses Levenson of Newton and Mark Werman of Brookline shown at unveiling of plaque at dedication ceremony honoring their family.

Hospital Pays Tribute To Benefactor At Dedication

Beth Israel Hospital recently paid tribute to a family closely associated with the hospital's development for many years.

An outpatient Department Examining Room in the Rabb

Building was dedicated in honor of Annie and the late Joseph Werman of Brookline, through a gift by their children.

Irving W. Rabb, hospital president, officiated at the

Mrs. Mary Remar Is President of Mass. AMIC

Newton Centre resident, Mrs. Mary Remar, Director of Volunteer Services for the Department of Mental Health, has been elected president of the Association for Mentally Ill Children (AMIC) Mass. chapter. Mrs. Remar has been associated with the organization since it began in 1953 as the League for Emotionally Disturbed Children. She lives with her husband and six children at 661 Commonwealth avenue.

Other Newton residents elected to serve are Kenneth Huberman and Bernice Huberman as Vice President and director at large respectively. Mrs. Frank Johnson, secretary, Dr. Arnold Weinstein, Director at large. Mr. Philip Scheir of Waltham, Region 3 area board member for the Dept. of Mental Health was also elected as a director.

A state wide organization of volunteers, AMIC has sponsored legislation, first in 1960 and again in 1967, which provides for special public school classes for emotionally disturbed children.

ceremony and accepted the facility on behalf of the officers and trustees.

He told the assembly of guests that it was "particularly fitting" to honor a family which has been identified with the work of the hospital for at least two generations.

Dr. Mitchell T. Rabb, general director described the role of the examining room in modern outpatient care.

All four Werman children participated in the ceremony: Inez (Mrs. Moses Levenson) and Ralph from Newton; Mark and Lester from Brookline and Boston, respectively.

Mrs. Nehemiah H. Whitman, an honorary trustee, was hostess at the undraping ceremony and reception that followed for the Werman family and their guests.

LINDA KOZOL

Miss Kozol, Mr. Hiller Become Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. Solomon M. Kozol of Newton Highlands make known the engagement of their daughter, Miss Linda F. Kozol, to Edward L. Hiller. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hiller of East Norwich, Long Island, N.Y.

Miss Kozol was graduated from Brimmer and May School and Russel Sage College, class of 1968.

Newton Girl To Study Abroad

One of 24 Lake Forest College students who will spend the Fall studying the culture and language of the French people will be Miss Patricia Jane Brecher, a 1967 graduate of Newton South High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brecher of 237 Upland avenue, Newton Highlands.

She is assigned to the University of Dijon, France, and will live with French families in the Dijon area. The classes, all taught by French professors, will be in literature and art, history and philosophy, as well as the French language. The resident director will be Jean-Luc Garneau, the Illinois college French instructor, who will accompany the group.

A favorite outside activity for the 22 LFC students in Dijon last year was a cooking class taught at the National Hotel and Restaurant School. Gastronomically inclined students learned to prepare escargots (snails), coq au vin, and other Burgundian specialties. When the Cote d'Or wine harvest was in progress just south of Dijon, many students helped pick grapes and were rewarded with 25 francs, or about five dollars, a day and an unforgettable experience.

Announcement was also made that the club has awarded a four-year scholarship to Manhattanville College to a Boston area student.

David Landrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Landrigan of 1469 Centre st., received a bachelor of science degree in psychology at the Tufts University commencement exercises on Sunday (June 9). He had completed his requirements for the degree in February.

Centre Woman's Club Lists Varied Schedule For Season

At a recent Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. F. Earle Conn, president, announced a number of plans for the future, including Ways and Means projects beginning with the Club's Ninth Newton Antique Show opening at the Clubhouse at 1280 Centre street on Nov. 11 and running for three days under the direction of Mr. George Wheaton of Wheaton's in Newton Highlands on Lincoln street.

The Fourth Annual Arts Festival will follow; and, as an innovation, a Coed Fashion Show for men and women will be held under the leadership of Mrs. John E. VanderKlish of Gray Cliff road, Newton Centre. Club favorite, Mrs. William E. Bailey of Allerton road, Newton Centre will again be the Club Chairman of the Antique Show. There will be held, also, the Annual Fall Rummage Sale; please watch this paper for the date.

The Clubhouse was started recently on an outside beautification program by the Garden Committee with a gift of two rhododendrons by Mrs. Francis D. Pitts of Chestnut Hill, chairman, in the name of the Garden Committee. This is the beginning of a long-range project to replant the shrubs and beautify the corner.

Miss Ruth Burns, program chairman of the club and assistant vice-president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, announced some of the programs for next year with such talented people as Robert Phillips, Jr. (Organist) and Phyllis Howes, (Soprano) in concert; Newton Centerite, Sam Hirsch, Drama Critic of the Boston Herald-Traveler; Philip Cummings for Jan. 10, Newton Federation of Women's Clubs Day, on the subject of "Our Patterns of Progress, and Congresswoman Margaret M. Heckler speaking on "The Transition from Boston to Washington."

A summer quorum of five officers of the Club was announced. They are Mrs. F. Earle Conn, president; Mrs. Stanton J. Ten Broeck, Jr., rental chairman; Miss Ruth Burns, program chairman; Mrs. Leonard D. Baker, house and grounds chairman; and Mrs. Ross L. Trenholm, assistant treasurer.

Among Newton Centre Woman's Club members serving the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs this coming year are Mrs. Amos E. Kent as vice-chairman of the State Meetings Committee and Mrs. Stanford D. Blitzer as 12th District Representative on the Safety Committee.

Mirrors are the "Dazzlers" of the accessory family. Traditionally, a mirror is hung on a dark wall to lighten it, to reflect the outdoors, or to add dimension to a room. Today mirrors give sparkle and life to a room. Like the salt and pepper seasoning in your food recipes, you'll find that mirrored reflections, well-placed, can add tasteful spice to a room. Instead of the normal procedure of matching one mirror to one piece of furniture, try a wall wizardry grouping of mirrors of different sizes and shapes.

Mirrors can enlarge a room and add the beauty of depth to your home. Mirrors are also one of the most practical accessories we know. Let the sales people at FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 306 Harvard St., Brookline (566-8635) help you arrange all your accessories in the most pleasing fashion. . . accessories make a room. Was Katie Ghost Or Girl Friend? Still They Argue

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — When one of the greatest scientists of his time stunned the Victorian world by announcing he believed in ghosts, was he telling the truth or trying to hide a torrid love affair with a pretty medium?

The question has cropped up again, as it did during his lifetime, nearly 50 years after the death of Sir William Crookes whose discoveries paved the way for television and whose high honors included the presidency of the Royal Society.

CURIOUS POINT

Crookes gave Victorian England one of its most

Richard H. Tushin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Tushin of 4 Riverside street, Gloucester, Newton High graduate and former resident of West Newton, graduated from Cornell University, Ithaca, New York on Saturday (June 1). Awarded a bachelor of science degree, he has been appointed to the U.S. Patent Office in Washington, D.C.

curious talking points when he insisted that 17-year-old Florrie Cook, a medium, had produced under the strictest conditions the materialized form of a "spirit" named "Katie King" and that he himself had been photographed with this spirit in bright electric light.

The 1874 photograph exists, including copies titled in ink by Crookes himself, "W. Crookes and Sp. in Electric Light." At the bottom of one such photo Crookes wrote rhapsodically of "Katie" that "round her eyes she made an atmosphere of life; the very air seemed lighter from her eyes. Her overpowering presence made you feel it would not be idolatry to kneel."

The most recent study of the extraordinary events that baffled even the great Charles Darwin claims the entire affair was a fraud and the only science involved was the science of illicit love.

NOT SATISFACTORY

But this does not satisfy those who find it hard to believe even now that a man of Crookes' intelligence and means could not have arranged clandestine meetings with a girl without subjecting his international reputation to possible ridicule.

And two distinguished members of the board of the Society for Psychical Research, Mrs. K. T. Goldney and R. G. Medhurst, have now reported on a study in depth of letters and papers — some of them examined for the first time — on the Crookes-Cook case.

"I can only give you my personal opinion," said Mrs. Goldney, "and that is that I do not believe Crookes was carrying on an affair with Florrie Cook. I believe that in his belief that she was able to materialize the 'spirit' of 'Katie King' he was sincere, but deluded."

'Pushbutton' Wine

DAVIS, Calif. (UPI) — The day of the "pushbutton winery" may be here soon because of the development of a new machine that can wash fruit sugar from crushed grapes or alcohol from fermented ones.

To make white wine, the machine washes fruit sugar from the crushed grapes because only the juice is fermented. But in processing red wine, the juice, skins and pulp are fermented before the machine takes over. The machine was developed by two University of California scientists at Davis.

Temple School Graduates At Special Service

At a special Sabbath Eve Service recently, the Hebrew School Graduating Class of Temple Shalom of Newton participated in the conduct of the Service and gave a presentation on the theme "With Lifted Hands—Great Jewish Ideas in the Birth of America."

The class was presented by Bernard Shulman, Religious School principal, and was awarded diplomas by Stanley Miller, Religious School committee chairman, and books by Mrs. Joseph Soltz, Sisterhood president.

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, congratulated and blessed the graduates. He gave particular commendation to Steven Markow for completing two years at the Union Hebrew High School, which is sponsored jointly by the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Bureau of Jewish Education.

Cookout Here Held To Fete Cadette Girls

Bay Path Colonial Girl Council Cadette Troop 842, Mrs. Herbert Spatz and Mrs. Wilfred Rounseville, leaders, were guests of their neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Julius Feldman, at a cookout in her yard, Friday, June 14.

The girls were honored in gratitude for caring for Mrs. Feldman's three children while she was confined to the hospital for an operation recently. Members of the troop took turns, so that they were covered all the time.

The girls are: Donna Benders, Carolyn Clark, Beverly Kandler, Selina Lovett, Sarah Porter, Lillian Spatz, Susan Hamilton, Becky Scott, Amy Podofly, and Karen Vasil. Selina Lovett was also surprised with a birthday cake.

To complete their painting and child care badges the Cadettes presented a puppet show for Mrs. Edward Fitzpatrick's Brownie Troop 606 and the local neighborhood children of the Ward street area.

The girls also presented a two-man puppet tent to the All-Newton Neighborhoods Girl Scout camp equipment depot, Mrs. Richard Simmons, chairman.

This was made possible through their very successful cookie sale in March, and represented money left over from their trip to Mystic Seaport in Mystic, Connecticut.

For this trip they were joined by a Girl Scout troop from Beverly, which swelled the group to forty-one girls, seven leaders, and filled the last car of a New York-New Haven railroad train, reserved for the Girl Scouts.

To Officer's Training

Cadet Frank A. Kaplan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin T. Kaplan of 104 Hammondswood rd., Newton, is with his unit from Gettysburg College at Gettysburg, Pa., attending Army Reserve Officer's Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Benning, Ga.

During the encampment he is receiving training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects. Upon completion of his training and graduation from college he may be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity and a graduate of Newton High School.

Lee Loumos Says:

Saying you have a good service department and actually having one can be two separate things. I am convinced that the only way to assure this is for management to constantly check and supervise the competence and desire of one's service personnel. Too often, particularly with automobile companies, I have been disappointed with the service performed after the sale. Either problems are completely overlooked, or repaired in a temporary, slipshod manner — even when I'm willing to pay the price for a good job! One outstanding exception for me has been my experience with Lee Chevrolet, where even things I haven't specifically complained about are taken care of. I can only hope that my customers have the same feeling toward my organization.

Country Players Re-elect Daniel Kosow As President

Daniel Kosow of Crosby road, Chestnut Hill, will head the Country Players of Newton for the second consecutive year, marking the first time in its 12-year history that a president has been re-elected to office.

Prior to this year he had served a year's tenure on the board of the Players, a non-profit community theatre group.

This summer Mr. Kosow will play the feature male roles for the Weston (Vt.) Playhouse in the musicals "Sweet Charity" and "Brigadoon."

Other officers elected include Mrs. Richard Thorman, vice-president; Joel Dorfman, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Ford, recording secretary; and Mrs. Malcolm Kates, corresponding secretary. Executive board members are Martin I. Cohen and Mmes. Melvin Gorin, Burton Kramer, Bertram Krassin and Leon Pellow.

Mr. Kosow appears in the films "Thomas Crown Affair" starring Steve McQueen and Fay Dunaway and the forthcoming movie "Charly," which features Cliff Robertson and Claire Bloom.

For the Players, he portrayed the lead roles of Sky Masterson in "Guys and Dolls," the devil Mr. Apple in "Damn Yankees," Judge Aristide Forestiere in "Can Can" and Daniel Corban in "Catch Me If You Can."

He directed the Player-produced one-act plays "Dinner For One" and "Suppressed Desires." Under their auspices he also appeared in the five-character musical revue "The Ones That Stopped The Show."

His credits include the direction of "Just Around The Corner," "The Visit" for Boston University Workshop and that of assistant producer of the Falmouth Playhouse.

With the Playhouse, he appeared in the national touring company production of "The Best Man," which starred Frank Lovejoy and Sheppard Strudwick.

Mr. Kosow has written and produced a number of original comedy revues, as well as the libretto for the musical comedy "The Wicked Picket Fence," and his performances in local organization and club revues have been multifold.

His educational background includes a degree in Journalism from Boston University, a diploma in Theatre Management from Musical Arena Theatres Association, New York City, and two years of study in directing under William Lacey at Boston University and nine under Jan Kessler at Brandeis University.

For information concerning Player membership, phone 969-3993 or write P.O. Box 9, Newton Centre, Mass. 02139.

Accepted for the fall term at the University of Bridgeport, Ct., is Katherine R. Remar of 661 Commonwealth avenue, Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Roy Remar. She will major in psychology in the college of education.

No special notice required. Funds readily available at any time. No fixed or minimum amount.

lected several thousand signatures on the petition over a single weekend.

Rep. Mann is particularly critical of the proposed Woodland Golf Course proposition.

"The building of a stadium on the Woodland Golf Course would be a ruthless violation of the principle of Home Rule," he declared.

"There is no sense in a proposal to locate a stadium across the road from a hospital, in an area of fine residential homes, near schools and religious institutions. The effect on the area, on the entire city of Newton and the impact on its tax rate would be intolerable."

Mann warned that the threat to Newton is by no means ended. He pointed to the rash of proposed Amendments and bills, including one filed by House Speaker Quinn, being submitted to the State Legislature. Some of these, he observed, are well intended but they can react unfavorably against Newton's position.

"Not until the matter of a stadium is given final disposition," can the citizens of Newton let down their guard," Mann commented.

Rep. Mann said he was confident that Newton officials and legislators will continue their unified action in the interests of the City and that there would be continued citizen alertness to the danger.

Local Students Place 15th In Speedway Test

Philip Rousseau of 229 Pearl street, Newton and Richard Long of 17 Evergreen road, Needham, students at the Newton Technical High School placed fifteenth in a field of one hundred two cars at the National Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest held at the world famous Indianapolis 500 Speedway on June 19. Both students were awarded watches.

Richard Long, Second Place Winner of the written examination was awarded a $100.00 United States Savings Bond.

The two boys were winners of the Eastern Massachusetts Trouble Shooting Contest. This is an activity for students enrolled in Automobile Mechanic course in Vocational High Schools, and sponsored by the Chrysler-Plymouth Corporation.

Weeks' Teacher Now Attending Drama Sessions

Chosen from among a wide field of applicants representing schools from coast to coast is Weeks Junior High School teacher, Marjorie Montgomery, who will participate in this summer's session of the joint Wesleyan University-Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theater Foundation Pilot Program.

A new group of ten teachers opened the second season on Monday (June 24) to run through August 4 at the O'Neill homestead in Waterford, Ct.

Each teacher was awarded a stipend under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation. The project is "designed to improve and augment drama curriculums in both public and private schools." The intensive six-week course will provide both laboratory and practical experience in the technical as well as the creative aspects of theater, with emphasis on directing, acting, lighting, sound and set construction.

$152,105 Grant To Newton For Recreation Site

Governor John A. Volpe has announced that Newton is one of the two Massachusetts communities that will receive Federal and State assistance for construction of sewage facilities and acquisition of land for recreational purposes.

The City of Newton will receive $152,105 toward purchase of 378 acres on the Webster Estate for a recreational and nature study area in cooperation with the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Arlington is scheduled to receive $40,600 from the Federal Water Pollution Control Commission for construction of a 36-inch diameter reinforced concrete relief sewer for the Mill Brook Valley.

4 Graduate At Case W.R. Univ.

Four students from the Newton area were candidates for degrees at graduation ceremonies at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, held on Wednesday (June 12).

Ellen E. Coser of 74 Putnam street, West Newton, was awarded a Doctor of Medicine degree; Norman W. Kelin of 355 Lexington street, a bachelor of science in chemical engineering; Robert A. Goldman of 121 Park street, Newton, Doctor of Dental Surgery; and Ronald Angoff of 46 Converse avenue, a bachelor of arts.

Summer Track Season Opens At Beverly

The Newton South summer track team journeyed to Beverly, Wednesday evening, June 19. Bruce Kopelman earned his fourth prize of the season, copping a third place medal in the 220-yard dash. His time of 24.2 was slowed because of the poor track condition and because the race was on a turn. Mike Coleman re-entered the competing ranks for the first time in two years as he grabbed third in his heat, also in the 220.

The 880 relay team of Kopelman, Coleman, Ed Foley of Northeastern the winner in the 220, and Arthur Farris of Lowell High, placed second.

Earlier, Farris was involved in the most interesting race of the evening—the open 440. The race consisted of Farris and Charley Duckworth of Waltham, the second and third place finishers in the New England Schoolboy meet. Farris was the victor, coming from behind in the last 20 yards, in 49.8.

Ed Baskauskas of Boston College High School was the only double winner. He grabbed first in the 60-yard high hurdles and first in the high jump. His leap of 6'3" was a meet record.

Awarded Degrees At Antioch Coll.

Among the 260 candidates for bachelor degrees at Antioch College were two students from the Newtons who attended the Ohio College's 116th commencement exercises on Saturday (June 22).

Awarded the bachelor of arts in art was Susan Nazarian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nazarian of 23 White Pine road, Newton.

Receiving a bachelor of arts in literature was Phyllis B. Rubinoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jack Rubinoff of 112 Winchester street, Newton Highlands.

SNAPPING THE TAPE—Newton South trackman Stuart Chasen breaks the tape in the junior varsity 100 yard dash against New Bedford. Chasen, who is also a high jumper, ended up in a three way tie for first in that event with a jump of five feet. Even though the Lions picked up some first places in other events, they lost the JV meet to the Whalers, 88-39. Chasen, incidentally, is a junior. (Photo by Roger Belson)

Waban Falcons' Record Is 5-1 In Two League

The Waban Falcons raised their season's slate to 5-1, last week, in Newton Two-Light baseball action, with two wins, 3-0, over Silver Lake, and 2-1, over the Highlanders on Friday.

The game against Silver Lake was an odd one. The Falcons, behind Frank Hurvitz's excellent 2-hit hurling, with 7 strikeouts, were victorious, without the benefit of a hit. Elliot Libman, former Newton High pitcher, blanked Waban. However, the Falcons pushed across their runs on walks, errors, and infield outs.

Clark Berry threw a 4-hitter at the Highlanders Friday evening. The Falcons provided him with an early lead and he made it stand up. Tom Chalmers singled in the first frame and advanced to second on an infield out. Ron Arcese, who had two of the five Falcon hits, stepped to the plate and ripped a single to left. The ball got by the fielder and both Chalmers and Arcese came home.

The Falcons will play three times this week, battling the Boys' Club, St. Bernard's, and Sid Small.

David Nollman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Nollman of 65 Elinor road, Newton Highlands, has been named to the Dean's List at Nathaniel Hawthorne College, Antrim, N.H.

Children for all camps may be registered for any number of periods with a minimum of two weeks. The camp will run from June 24th through August 16th. For further information contact the Newton Community Service Centers at 244-2260 or 244-5614, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

Fine Future Seen For BU's Southpaw Hurler

A bright baseball future is predicted for Newton's Jim McLaughlin, a sophomore pitcher for Boston University. McLaughlin helped the Terriers to a 10-5 record and their first NCAA tournament berth in 14 years.

"Jim has all the stuff in the world," says BU coach Bob Crocker. "With this year of college ball under his belt, he should be a real 'stopper' for us over the next two years."

The 6-4 lefthander's career has been studded with brilliance. Since 1964, pitching for Our Lady's, Newton Junior College, the Boston Typos, and BU, Jim has tossed no less than four no hit games.

His no-hitter while pitching for the Typos, was the first in that league's 18-year history. He also pitched one each at Our Lady's and Newton Junior.

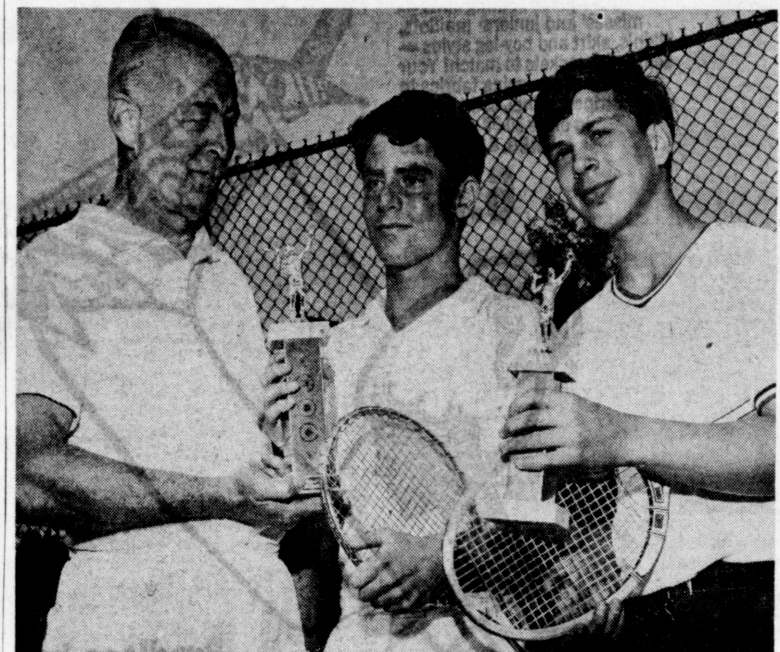

Pitching behind three veterans this year, McLaughlin started only three games and picked one win. Naturally, it was a no-hitter in his first varsity start against the University of Connecticut. It was the only college no-hitter pitched in the area this year.

Jim made two more starts during the season—giving up just one run in 5 and one-third innings against Tufts. His other starting assignment came in the Terriers' final game of the NCAA playoffs against Connecticut, the team that he had no-hit earlier in the year.

Jim sailed through the first four innings without giving up a hit. But then the heat, some shoddy fielding, and the previously silent UConn bats combined for seven runs, only three of which were earned, as the Huskies finally won the game 8-2.

With a sophomore year that showed great promise now completed, Jim McLaughlin will be counted on heavily by BU over the next two seasons.

NEWTON WINNER AND RUNNER-UP—Newton residents John Galub (center) and Richard Levenson (right) met in the finals of the Age 16 & Under Boys Singles competition of the recent New Boston Open Tennis Tournament, co-sponsored by H.P. Hood & Sons, Physical Fitness Program and the Committee for Greater Tennis Activity. Here committeeman Alden Eberly of Needham presents the trophies—to Galub as winner Levenson as runnerup. John also captured the Boys Doubles championship and combined with sister Diane to be runnerup in the Mixed Doubles. More than 150 competed in the tournament, held at the Harvard University and Franklin Park courts.

"SAFETY for SAVINGS"

Quote of the Week Sports' Division

The way to bring more life to baseball is not to bring more death—it needs more base hits, not more ear hits. They can't put spit on the ball. Why should they be allowed to put blood.

Jim Murray

Mobile America

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Figures show America is a nation on wheels.

In the past decade, says The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, U.S. production of pneumatic tires has more than doubled, from 102 million tires in 1958 to an estimated 208 million that will be produced in 1968.

Old Custom

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Easter egg hunt common today is based on the ancient prohibition of eggs and milk during Lent. During the fifth century when the Lenten fast was strictly observed, people began the custom to signify the end of Lent, say researchers at Hallmark Cards here.

Eclipse Cycle

Berkeley — An average century produces about 237 eclipses of the sun or moon.

BRIGHT PROSPECT—Jim McLaughlin, of Newton, 6 ft. 4 in. sophomore southpaw hurler for Boston University, has two bright seasons ahead according to Coach Bob Crocker.

Speedy Return

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — Police reported that young Ramon Garcia, only a few hours after his release from prison on a robbery sentence, stole a motorcycle and was almost immediately apprehended and put back in jail.

HOME GROWN RADISHES are a "cool weather" crop, producing crisp, crunchy bottoms during the spring growing season when moisture is abundant. Summer plantings become "bites" due to lack of moisture, although many home gardeners do grow them throughout the summer. A fall sowing produces tasty radishes. Did you ever grow radishes in sawdust? Many have written to tell me that they dig a shallow trench, (6 inches deep) and this is filled with moist sawdust. Seed is sown in the trench, and gardeners tell me there is less trouble with radish maggot this way than when grown in soil.

One trouble with radishes is "all tops and no bottoms." This is due to lack of thinning, or sowing the seed too thickly. If radish seedlings are not thinned out, they become weeds to each other, competing for nutrients and moisture. The result: spindly tops and no bottoms. Did you know there is a winter radish and a summer radish? Winter radishes are sown in July or early August, and can be stored like other root crops for winter use. They grow considerably larger than the summer types and have a very mild flavor, plus a fine texture.

PROTECT FRUIT FROM BIRDS: We've tried a lot of methods for keeping birds out of strawberries, blueberries, cherry trees, etc., and have concluded that nothing beats a netting material, draped over the bushes, to keep the birds out. There are many kinds of netting on the market now, and most garden centers carry them. Note: You cannot drape the net directly on the plants, as birds can peck at the fruit through the holes. You have to put up a couple stakes with cross arms to keep the netting off the bushes, and in this way you provide a barrier which works perfectly for keeping the birds out. It pays to use the plastic treated net materials as they can be used over and over again, without rotting, mildewing or spoiling.

FREE: If birds are "bugging" you, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my bulletin, BYE BYE BAD BIRDS! My guide has some good tips gardeners use to keep birds away. Write to: George Abraham, Naples, N.Y. GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: We have some flowering quince. Is the fruit edible?

Flowering quince (Chaenomeles) produces fruit good enough for jams, jelly, and marmalades. Some use a baked quince, cored, filled with honey. If grown on poor, damp soil the fruit is inferior, but you can improve the quality by making the soil better. Plant has handsome crimson and white blossoms, thorned branches excellent as a hedge and a sense of privacy. Used as a hedge, plants may be sheared to shape. Pruning may be done all during the summer. New plants are started by seed, cuttings and layering.

5 Newton Girls Graduate From Chandler's

Five Newton area young women were graduates of the Chandler School for Women at the 85th commencement exercises held at the Boston Music Hall the first of June.

President George Irwin Rohrbough awarded diplomas to the following local girls: Diane Ellen Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Donovan of 18 Oakleigh road, Newton, who completed the Executive Program. She graduated from Newton High School in 1967.

Newton High graduate Diane Carol Brickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Brickman of 68 Prospect park, Newton. She is a graduate of Newton Junior College and completed the Executive Program.

Carol Susan Silverman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Silverman of 70 Deborah road, Newton Centre, also a graduate of Chandler attended Newton South High School and graduated in 1966.

Ellen Jane Friedman, Newton High graduate, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isay Friedman of 212 Grant avenue, Newton Centre. Sheryl Karen Spill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Spill of 46 Milo street, West Newton, also graduated from Newton High School. She studied legal specialization at Chandler's.

Lechmere Sales To Discontinue Sale of Guns

Lechmere Sales, one of New England's largest suppliers of hunting equipment, today announced that it was discontinuing the sale of guns and ammunition.

In a statement announcing the decision, Lechmere, with stores in Cambridge and Dedham, pointed out that the lack of an effective federal gun control law makes it impossible to keep weapons out of the wrong hands.

"We believe that a uniform law, effective in all 50 states, is the only way to prevent guns from getting into the wrong hands. We are in favor of the strictest possible federal gun control law," the statement declared.

"No matter how effectively an individual store attempts to control the sale of guns and ammunition, it is possible for anybody who wants a gun to obtain one by driving to another state where no questions are asked. We favor a federal law which will have four basic elements which will outlaw the sale of any guns or ammunition by mail; require proof of a legitimate use before a gun or ammunition can be sold; require a permit issued by an authorized agency before a gun or ammunition can be sold; and require a copy of the sales slip showing the identity and address of the purchaser to be forwarded to the police," according to Norman D. Cohen, vice president of Lechmere Sales.

"In addition to discontinuing the sale of guns and ammunition in the absence of such a law, the store will make every effort to seek broad community support for appropriate federal legislation. We urge interested citizens to lend their support to legislators favoring such action, and we will help promote letterwriting and other campaigns to Congress for this purpose," Mr. Cohen added.

Lechmere intends advertising this program, listing names and addresses of appropriate legislators, and will post this information in its stores. Cohen pointed out, however, that in the past when Lechmere had sold guns, it had set up a series of standards which would insure that these weapons were sold only to legitimate hunters or to police officers and security personnel who had a valid reason and a license for possession of these weapons.

The decision to go out of the gun business is effective immediately.

Miss Clinton On European Tour

Margaret A. Clinton of Newton is among a group of 29 Shippensburg State College students who are leaving the United States today (June 27) for a six week tour of England, Switzerland, Italy and France.

The group is a travel-study seminar taken for graduate or undergraduate credit. They will spend four weeks in England, which will include attendance at the 42nd annual European Lecture Seminar at Pembroke College of Oxford University. They will then spend the remaining two weeks on the continent.

U. Of Wisconsin Degrees to Six

Six residents of Newton have received degrees at the recent commencement of the University of Wisconsin. They and the degrees they were awarded are:

Harriet J. Bickelman, 70 Athelstone road, John D. Kaufman, 29 Royce road, Neal Widett, 55 Ellison road, all of Newton; and Robin L. Brenner, 36 Kaday road, Waban, received Bachelor of Arts degrees.

Linda C. Freeman, 19 Westchester road, Newton, received a Master of Science degree and Judith S. Novack, 35 Hewbury street, Newton Centre, was awarded a Master of Arts degree. Nearly 3,800 students were awarded degrees at the ceremonies on the Madison campus on June 10.

The first 19 governors of Iowa all were born out of the state.

COL. MARK FINLEY

Col. Finley to Talk to Rotary On Communism

"Pink Shovelers and 3 Chipmunks," an expose on Communist strategy to penetrate U.S. TV, magazines and newspapers to change American attitudes toward Red ideologies will be the subject of a talk to the Newton Rotary Club Luncheon on Monday (July 15) at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Promotion Director of the Boston Record American-Sunday Advertiser newspapers Mark Finley will be the speaker. A Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve Psychological Warfare, Mr. Finley served 46 months in Europe in World War II and holds the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star, and the Croix de Guerre decorations. To the French in Marseille, he is affectionately known as "Col. Quicksilver" (Le Colonel Vif d'Argent).

With a flamboyant style, Col. Finley pounds the table with his shoe, threatens the audience, sings songs and rips aside many myths and mistiques of human behavior as he unmasks the inner world that arouses tension when Krushchev speaks to Americans in harsh tones.

The schedule for the swimming instruction will be posted in the building at the lake, and as the children are signed up, the instructors will place them in the appropriate classes.

Once again, small sailing craft instruction will be given. Those interested in this program are asked to call 527-6000 for information regarding sailing instruction.

Chi, honorary psychology fraternity. He is also a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity and was a resident counselor to students.

Altman, a graduate of Browne and Nichols School, Cambridge, was a member of Delta Chi social fraternity.

Miss Nickelsen and Rubin were both 1964 graduates of Newton High School. Miss Nickelsen, a Patterson Scholar at LFC (students chosen by the faculty for superior scholarship and intellectual achievement), was consistently on the Dean's list and appeared in several plays. Rubin was a member of the broadcasting staff of WLFC, campus radio station, and of the Community Government Association and Phi Pi Epsilon social fraternity. He plans to attend graduate school in the field of clinical psychology.

Newton Men Concerned By Problems Of Aging Worker

Three Newton residents were prominent participants in the "Ability is Ageless" conference held at Boston College on Tuesday of last week which was sponsored by the Kennedy Family Service Center of Charlestown with the co-operation of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Bringing their talent and experience to the Conference were Joseph Villamas Jr., Director of the Kennedy Family Service Center, of 57 Marlborough st., Newton; Hubert E. Jones, Executive Director of the Roxbury Multi-Service Center of 21 Talbot st., West Newton; and David Taylor, Assistant Professor of Industrial Relations at M.I.T. of 215 Highland ave., Newtonville.

General objective of the meeting was to examine the situation of the man or woman of forty-plus, jobless because of mergers, business failures, changing times or problems of the social order. Such individuals are trapped in the limbo of unemployment because of the problems of social and work readjustment, and often by the very benefits set up for their protection, such as pension plans, unemployment security requirements and Social Security. It is hoped that the findings of the conference will stimulate businessmen, of both small and large companies, to assist in solving the problem.

Charles E. Odell, director of the U.S. Employment Service, was the principal speaker at the morning panel, which discussed "Barriers to the Aging Worker." Panelists included Leon Eisenberg, chief of psychiatry at Massachusetts General Hospital, John G. McElwee, vice president, personnel, of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company; and Hubert E. Jones, executive director of the Roxbury Multi-Service Center. Jean Dietz, Boston Globe staff reporter, was the moderator.

At the afternoon panel Gerald G. Somers, professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin spoke on "Outlook for the Aging Worker." James H. Ottaway, Jr., publisher of the New Bedford Standard Times, was moderator of the panel, which included Alan McKay, metropolitan director, National Alliance of Businessmen; J. David Fine, vice president, labor relations, for Stop & Shop, and Walter D. French, on-the-job training co-ordinator of the Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union.

The conference, which opened at 9:00 a.m. in Higgins Hall, with a welcome by Conference Chairman Nicholas LaFauci, vice president of Richard Montgomery Mason, Inc.; an introduction by Executive Director Villamas; and remarks by Gov. John A. Volpe, closed with a summary by Alvin J. Simmons, Ph.D., associate director of the Kennedy Center, and remarks by Kevin H. White, mayor of Boston.

Cpl. Steinsieck was a member of the Class of 1968 at Brown University but he took a leave of absence from the university to enlist in the Marine Corps. He had planned to return to Brown last February and had an early release from the Corps to do so.

But two weeks before he was to return to the United States, he was assigned a mission; a mission he gave his life in fulfilling.

Born in Newton, Cpl. Steinsieck graduated from Newton South High School in 1964 where he had been captain of the varsity hockey team, starring center on the football team and treasurer of his senior class.

He has a brother, Gregory, a student at the Rhode Island School of Design, and two sisters, Carol Ann, a student at Russell Sage College, and Lynne Marie, a student at Simon's Rock School.

To Thailand

Son of Mr. and Mrs. David V. Rosenthal of 11 Commonwealth ave., Boston, and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. David Lavien of 20 Elliot Memorial rd., Newton, Sergeant Donald J. Rosenthal is on duty at Udorn Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Sgt. Rosenthal, a member of the Pacific Air Forces, is an administrative specialist. Prior to his assignment overseas he was stationed at Kingsley Field, Ore.

A 1964 graduate of Newton South High, he has studied also at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.

U. of Maine Grads

Three Newton area girls were graduates on Friday (June 7) at the commencement exercises at the University of Maine, Orono, Me. Degrees were awarded to 1030 students in the largest graduation in the school's history.

Degree candidates from Newton were: Jill Spencer, with her major in political science; Betty J. Loew, an education major, and Charlotte G. Loew, chemistry major, both of Newtonville.

Scout Improvement Day Is Reported Upper Falls Hit

June 15 was the day designated by Mayor Monte G. Basbas as Scout Improvement Day in the Upper Falls area.

Scouters and their friends started at 9 o'clock and had completed three areas by 11 o'clock.

The staff of the Upper Falls Code Enforcement office were joined by Cub Scout Troop 226 (Emerson P.T.A.) Boy Scout troops 212 and 214 sponsored by Mary Immaculate of Lourdes and the First Methodist Church respectively, Brownie Troop 549 led by Mrs. Louis DiCicco, Junior Girl Scout Troop 895 led by Mrs. Donald Dolph and Cadetter Troop 573 led by Mrs. Thomas Bryson.

Albert French, Neighborhood Advisor and Norumbega Commissioner of the Norumbega Boy Scout Council, said the children did a wonderful job and that he compliments each and every one.

Deborah Borda With Symphony Tour of Italy

Miss Deborah Borda of Newton, a member of the all-American youth symphony orchestra in the North Carolina of the Arts Summer Session, is with the group in Siena, Italy, for seven weeks' study with noted Italian and American teachers of music, art and the Italian language.

They will play in a number of Italian cities during their stay in Siena and will tour and play in Trieste, Pisa, Arezzo, Florence and the famed Spoleto Festival on July 10.

The session is being held in the magnificent 13th century Palazzo Chigi Saracini, home of the Chigi Academy. It is supported as a joint Italian-American cultural activity by the Italian government, private foundations in the U.S. and the School of the Arts at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Miss Borda is a student at New England Conservatory and a violinist in the orchestra. She is the daughter of Mrs. Helene Le Vine of 379 Central ave., Newton.

Newton Man Is V-P With Newton Upper Falls Firm

Robert Bell, president of Manufacturing of Tenneco Advanced Materials Inc., Newton Upper Falls, has announced the appointment of Seymour A. Buchine as vice president.

Mr. Buchine has been with Tenneco Advanced Materials Inc. for 6 years, most recently as Director of Manufacturing. Prior to this, he was affiliated with Trimount Plastics Co., Inc., as Treasurer and General Manager. He attended the University of Wisconsin. He is currently a member of the Society of Plastic Engineers.

Mr. Buchine resides in Newton Centre, Mass., with his wife and their four children. Tenneco Chemicals, Inc., a major component of Tenneco Inc., is a leading producer of organic chemicals and specialties, dyes and pigments, printing inks, petrochemicals, plastics, and packaging materials.

Lopez Is Summer Basketball Coach

Tom Lopez, former Newton South three-sport star in football, basketball, and baseball, will coach the Lion entry in the Waltham Summer Basketball League. The team has a roster of 14 hopeful candidates for next year's varsity. The hoopers open their season this week.

Award To Newton Major

Colonel Bertil B. Sandell, deputy post commander, Fort Devens, congratulates Major Carl P. Vermilyea, of Newton, upon presenting him the Army Commendation Medal for outstanding performance of duty.

Fort Devens Medal Award To Newtonite

The Army Commendation Medal was recently awarded to Major Carl P. Vermilyea of Newton, assistant adjutant general, Fort Devens, for outstanding performance of duty while stationed at Fort Devens.

The award was presented by Colonel Bertil B. Sandell, deputy post commander, 13th U. S. Army Corps and Fort Devens.

Major Vermilyea, who entered the Army in June, 1960, is a 1956 graduate of Natick High School. He received a bachelor of science degree from Norwich University.

The 29-year-old major is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex W. Vermilyea, 89 Erie Ave., Newton Highlands.

He is married to the former Miss Linda Rath, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Rath, live in Swansey Center, N. H.

The major, his wife, and three children, Gail, Carl, and Karen, live at Fort Devens. Carl and Karen were present for their father's award ceremony.

Urban-Suburban Subjects

By Dorothy Ingram

FOR CHILDREN:

The Museum of Science and the Charles Hayden Planetarium provide a haven for children of all ages and their parents, chaperones, baby-sitters or "whatever". Tuesday marked the opening of a new presentation at the Planetarium "From Galileo to Palomar" which gives an historical look at astronomy tools and a "behind-the-scenes" look at the Planetarium effects system. Shows begin at 11:00 on Mondays, 11:00 and 2:45 Tuesdays through Saturdays, 12:15 and 2:45 on Sunday, and a special 8 p.m. showing on Fridays. Children under 5 are not admitted to the Planetarium, but are, of course, welcome to the Museum. Through June 30 at the Museum, famed nature photographer Emmy Haas has an exhibit in the Washburn Gallery — in black and white entitled "Lions". Also through June 30, "Fifth Annual Art Exhibit" sponsored by technical writers and publishers is taking place in the Coolidge and Friend Galleries. Remember, luncheons are available in the fashionable cafeteria overlooking the Charles River and many a youngster has had a birthday celebration there.

The Children's Art Centre, 36 Rutland street offers daily exhibitions and art classes for boys and girls ages 5-18. The classes are in all media including clay, painting, collage watercolor, charcoal and outdoor sketching. Sidewalk shows as well as indoor exhibits are going on through the end of the month. Hours: Monday through Friday, 9-5 p.m. in Boston.

LOOKING AHEAD FOR ADULTS:

Brandeis University will sponsor the First International Experimental Theatre Festival ever held in the United States, called, Brandeis-Interact and will be at the Spingold Theatre July 28-August 24. Guest countries include France, Canada, and Colombia. The United States entry will be the Cafe La Mama, experimental theater club under the direction of Tom O'Horgan. Entrants will give five performances of a new work representative of experimental theater in their country. Also included will be a "Fringe" theater presenting the works of local theater groups. For more information regarding this festival just next door, call 894-4343. This sounds like an exciting happening.

Don't forget the Loeb Drama Center of Harvard Summer School and the plays, You Never Can Tell, Waltz of The Toreadors, The Balcony & Troilus and two older sisters and two younger brothers. His inventions were generally a nuisance to everyone, so his happy solution in his meadow makes for top-notch entertainment not only to children but to parents of those who read or need to be read to. It's a great book, and hard to really categorize re: age, but surely the sophisticated 5 year old would be a beginning place!

Wentworth Gives Degrees To 10 From Local Area

Ten local residents were among the 833 seniors awarded Associate in Engineering Technology degrees or certificates in Industrial Technology at 58th annual Wentworth Institute commencement exercises in Boston's War Memorial Auditorium last Saturday.

They were: Anthony Arpino, 75 Prescott street, Newtonville, Richard Carrol, 57 Adams Ave., West Newton, Kerrins T. Conroy, Jr., 7 Jackson terrace, Newton, Robert J. Demmons, 30 Broadway, Newtonville, Richard F. Farina, 99 Craft street, Newton.

Also, Barry I. Itzkowitz, 51 Plainfield street, Waban, Joseph D. Jacobs, 8 Bryon road Chestnut Hill, Patrick Mazzola, 38 Clinton street, Newton, Stephen Pannella, 228 Chapel street, Newton, James Zannis, 35 Great Meadow road, Newton.

Hiram College Graduate

Among the seven seniors from Massachusetts who received bachelor of arts degrees during Hiram College's 118th commencement recently was a student from Auburndale.

Receiving the B.A. degree in sociology from the Ohio College was Joan B. Shriber, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Shriber of 42 Holman road. A graduate of Newton High School, Joan was a member of Phi Kappa Chi, women's social club.

Three presidents, Monroe, Hayes and Kennedy, were wounded in battle.

BABSON HONORS GREEN—In recognition of his years at Babson, a plaque was presented to Michael "Jeff" Green (left) son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Green, former residents of 11 Emmons St., West Newton. Green, who was the golf and swimming coach, is leaving Babson to become director of student activities at Bryant & Stratton Junior College of Boston. Making the presentation during the annual Sports Banquet is E. William Olson, director of athletics at Babson.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Scientists at the University of Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station have developed a quick and simple way to determine the ripeness of tomatoes. The tomatoes are poured in to huge containers, partially filled with a liquid. The ripest tomatoes sink to the bottom and the less ripe one float at various levels. The scientists say the ripeness affects the specific gravity of the tomato, and thus the floating ability.

NEWTON SOLON IN WASHINGTON MARCH—Rep. Joseph G. Bradley, of Newton, is shown as he participated in the Poor People's Solidarity Day March held in Washington, D.C. last week.

To ROTC Camp

Glenn A. Jarrett, of Newton, is attending an Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Benning, Ga. beginning the second week in June and lasting until July 21. Graduating from college and successfully completing summer camp training are necessary before he may be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. He is with his unit from Middlebury College at Middlebury, Vt., where he is a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity. He is a graduate of Newton South High (1966).

Bradley Takes Part In D.C. Solidarity Day

Rep. Joseph G. Bradley, of Newton, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Third Congressional District, participated in the recent Solidarity Day March in Washington, D.C. last week to demonstrate his support of the Poor People's Campaign. "My participation in the march," Bradley said, "served as a symbol of my concern for the needs and goals of the people at Resurrection City. "It gave me the opportunity to talk to the poor people and their leaders, and key Congressional leaders. This direct communication has given me a greater understanding of their hopes for the future and has better equipped me to meet their challenges to the nation as a member of Congress."

While in the Capitol Bradley, along with John Cort, director of the Commonwealth Service Corp., led a delegation to meet with Speaker John W. McCormack.

Master's Degrees To 3 Newton Area Women At Tufts

Three Newton women were among the 262 candidates for advanced degrees who were graduated from the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences of Tufts University recently. Economist John Kenneth Galbraith delivered the commencement address and also received a Tufts honorary degree.

Diane H. Eisen, 152 Washington street, Newton, Mass., was awarded the degree of Master of Arts. She received her B.A. from Cornell University.

Judith M. Cadel, 173 Morton street, Newton Centre, Mass., was awarded the degree of Master of Education. She received her B.S. in Education from New Jersey State Teachers College.

Carolyn W. Sadow, 15 Sharpe road, Newton Centre, was also awarded her M.Ed. Carolyn received her A.B. from Boston University.

Oil Resources

Melbourne — Australia expects to produce enough oil to be independent of all imports from other countries.

Supovitz Appointed Director

Paul A. Supovitz of Waban was recently appointed Director of Franchising for Nathan's Famous, Inc.

Prior to accepting his new post, Supovitz was associated with Mister Donut of America, Westwood.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, he presently resides with his wife and two children at 21 Warren road, Waban.

Nathan's Famous, Inc., recently began exploring the feasibility of establishing a nation-wide franchised chain of fast food restaurants outside of the New York metropolitan area.

The company, traded over-the-counter, currently operates three high volume restaurants in the New York area specializing in fast food service.

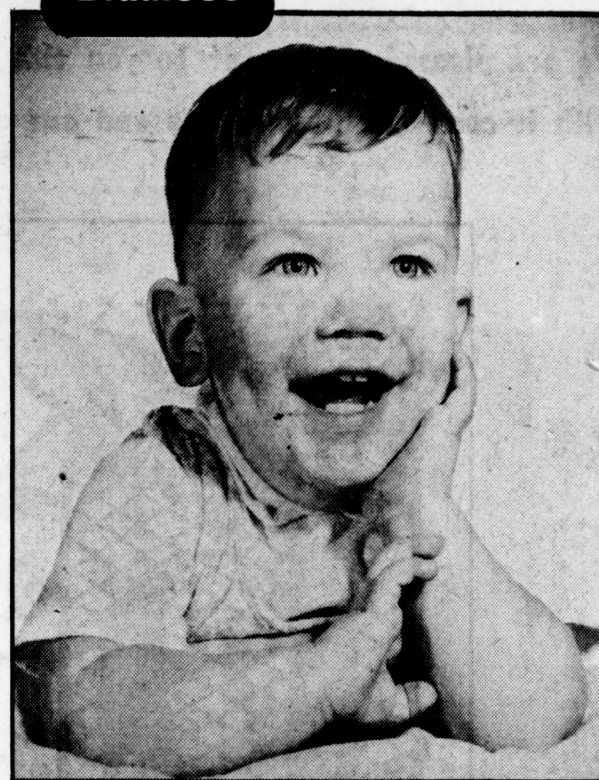

Gandhi Centenary

NEW DELHI (UPI) — The Indian government plans to issue special commemorative notes on the occasion of the Mahatma Gandhi Centenary in 1969.

President Andrew Jackson married at the youngest age, 18 years. Ice should be at least four inches thick to safely support a winter fisherman. There are 13,281 square miles of national forests in New Mexico.

ANTHONY O. GORDON

Newton Man Is Urban Renewal Leasing Head

Anthony O. Gordon, former resident of Newton and graduate of Newton High School, has been appointed Director of Commercial Leasing for Worcester Center Associates, a joint venture of Beacon Construction Company and Theodore W. Berenson Associates. Worcester Center is a massive urban renewal program in downtown Worcester on which demolition has already begun.

Prior to becoming a member of the Dreyfus Properties and the Theodore W. Berenson organization, Mr. Gordon was connected with the J.I. Kislak Company, of Newark, N.J.

A graduate of Harvard College, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Gordon, formerly of Newton, he was honorably discharged from the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

When completed in 1970, the Center will include a 300-room motel, 500,000 sq. ft. of office space, at least two major department stores, approximately 85 specialty shops, along with restaurants, banks, bus terminal, 2500 seat civic theatre and 4000 car parking.

"We are receiving enthusiastic response from retailers throughout the country," said Mr. Gordon. "They know the Worcester Center is the prototype for shopping center complexes of the future."

Stephen White, son of Mr. Abraham White of 7 Marcellus drive, Newton Centre, was awarded a bachelor of science degree by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at the university's 162nd commencement exercises on Friday (June 7).

Newton Girls Win Degrees At Radcliffe

Six girls from Newton were among 292 members of the Radcliffe Class of 1968 who were awarded Harvard Bachelor of Arts degrees last week at traditional ceremonies held in the Radcliffe academic yard.

They were Diane Alexa Kagan, of 25 Dorr road, Newton, Mrs. Rachel Radio Leiberman, of 8 Nod Hill road, Newton, Susan E. Dietz, of 93 Harwich Lane, Newton Centre, Leslie S. Claff, of 144 Austin street, Newtonville, Chris E. Laurits, of 343 Quinobequin road, Waban, and Lee F. Sherman, of 130 Nehoiden road, Waban.

Rivers School Graduates Five Newton Youths

The 54th annual commencement exercises were held at the Rivers Country Day School, Weston, on Thursday (June 6) at which time five students from the Newtons were graduated.

Jean-Pierre F. Diels, who has enrolled at Babson, was a member of the Glee Club, Debating Club and Drama Club. He lives at 375 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville.

Planning to attend Hartwick is Wilmer H. Jones of 1775 Beacon street, Waban. He played varsity football and varsity wrestling.

Mitchell Mannin of 24 Pickwick road, West Newton, was captain of the varsity soccer team, played varsity lacrosse and wrestling, was in the Drama Club and on the honor roll. He has enrolled at the University of Rochester.

Honor roll student William B. Roberts of 572 Quinobequin road, Waban, played varsity football and baseball. He was a member of the Drama Club and editor of the Yearbook. He is an early decision student accepted at Amherst College.

Richard A. Sacks of 54 Loran road, Newton Centre, who played varsity football was on Current Board (School Literary Magazine) and has enrolled at Lake Forest College.

Commissioned With U.S. Army

Assigned to the U.S. Army Transportation School, Ft. Eustis, Va., is second lieutenant Arthur M. Pearson of 126 Oxford road, Newton. He was recently commissioned in the Transportation Corps following graduation from the U.S. Army Engineer Officer Candidate School at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

The Challenging 23-week course was designed to provide the U.S. Army with qualified transportation platoon leaders. The curriculum includes training in mechanical and technical equipment, topography, and military science and engineering. Emphasis was given to developing leadership capabilities and increasing physical proficiency.

Newton Woman Cited in Radio Drama Contest

A Newton resident was among 29 writers to receive honorable mention in the Radio Drama Development Project Script Contest sponsored by Boston's educational radio station, WGBH-FM.

Helen Trenwith of Newton Lower Falls, is writer of a play selected for honorable mention by the three-man jury including William Alfred, author of "Hogan's Goat," Burgess Meredith, actor and producer; and Douglas Cleverdon, radio drama producer of the British Broadcasting Corporation's Third Programme.

Miss Trenwith's play may be selected for further development and eventual broadcast. The Contest was conducted in an effort to lift the radio drama from temporary oblivion at a time when exciting developments in sound and stereo yield immense potential for new dimension in production, more than at any time in radio theatre history.

Funeral Services Merge as Short, Williamson & Diamond

Short and Williamson, Inc., Funeral Service of Allston and Belmont and David P. Diamond Home for Funerals, Belmont, announce their merger under the name Short, Williamson & Diamond, to be effective July 1.

The combined funeral service will continue to serve all faiths in the Greater Boston community from funeral homes at 173 Brighton avenue, Allston and 52 Trapelo rd., Belmont.

Officers of the new organization are Leslie W. Williamson, President; Albert W. Keddy, Senior Vice President; David P. Diamond, Vice President; Mrs. Mildred G. Sumner, Treasurer; and Leslie W. Williamson, Jr., Assistant Treasurer and Clerk.

According to the principals, the two firms have combined to provide a better and more complete funeral service to residents of the Greater Boston area. The move will in no way affect the personal service both firms have always offered.

DAVID P. DIAMOND

Convention of Christian Family Movement Here

Newton members as well as those from all over New England will gather at Newton College of the Sacred Heart this Friday and Saturday (June 28 and 29) for the biennial area I convention of the Christian Family Movement.

Mother Bessie Chambers, an authoritative scholar, lecturer and counselor in psychology from Boston College will keynote the convention on the dignity of people as individuals, in line with the theme, "Up, Up with Persons." Boston City Councilor Thomas I. Atkins will talk about the city's influence on persons. He is a young, articulate Negro, a product of the city who speaks with authority on his subject. Mr. Romeo Malone, head of the Canadian Catholic Organization for Development and Peace will also speak.

Started twenty-five years ago by seven young men in Chicago, the Christian Family Movement has become an international lay organization seeking to form its members as responsive Christians, aware of their role in today's world and ready to fill it. Believing that the family is the focal point for apostolic training, CFM employs the observe, judge and act technique in small group discussions to develop in couples free, mature consciences concerning problems on the local, national and international scene.

Annual Plans For NUF Improvem't Ass'n Outlined

Philip Dobbyn, President of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association, introduced Albert A. French, Code Enforcement Neighborhood Advisor for Newton Upper Falls, to the Association's Executive Board at their meeting on Wednesday (June 19). Convening at the home of Recreation Chairman, Kenneth Vlass of 12 Spring Street, the board heard of the progress made by the Concentrated Code Enforcement Program officials.

Mr. French outlined in detail several of the projects undertaken, the streets where the houses have already been inspected — namely Linden street, Mechanic street, Ossipee road, Shawmut park, and the lower end of Chestnut street near Oak street. As this is a three-year program, Mr. French, at our next board meeting, will state which section of our village will be covered this year and outline what parts of Newton Upper Falls will be covered in each of the following two years.

The Board Meeting ended with Mr. Dobbyn's outline of plans for the coming year, stressing revision of our Constitution and By-Laws for the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association; Mr. Frank Dippo, Finance and Membership Chairman, outlining his plans for increasing the membership of the Association; and Mrs. Donald Dolph, Social and Hospitality Chairman viewing her ideas for the social theme for the coming year.

The next Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association will be held on Wednesday evening, July 10th, at the home of Mrs. Albert DelMonte.

Newtonites To Participate in Church Conclave

One of the principal speakers at the Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ to be held at Craigville Conference Center on Cape Cod on Monday and Tuesday (July 1 and 2) will be the Rev. Dr. Max Stackhouse, assistant professor of Christian ethics at Andover Newton Theological School.

Dr. Stackhouse will discuss why churches should be concerned with social problems and issues at the Tuesday morning sessions (July 2) and during that day's evening meeting persons from the Eliot United Church of Christ in Newton will tell the story of that parish and its involvement in such social issues as war and peace and the racial and economic crisis.

The main concern of this year's conference will be the problems and strategies related to social change. How do ministers and other religious leaders effect social change? How can the church speak to the current crisis in American culture as it relates to community life?

Sunday Services At 1st Church of Christ Scientist

The public is invited to attend the service on Sunday morning at 10:45 at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville. Title of the lesson for this service is "Christian Science" and includes the verse "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Among related passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy are these lines: "Sickness, sin, and death, being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government. His law, rightly understood, destroys them."

Susan Rieger to Be ABC Tutor at Mount Holyoke C.

Newton resident and graduate of Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Susan D. Rieger is one of ten students who were selected to be resident tutors for this year's ABC program at the College. This will be the second year she has held such a position.

The program is designed to help prepare the students, who will return to schools in their communities, to qualify for admission to college and for scholarship assistance.

The resident tutors will live with the girls and assist with both the academic and recreational programs.

Miss Rieger graduated this year as an English literature major. While at the College she has been treasurer of the National Student Association and a committee member of the Action on Academic Issues. During her senior year she was editor-in-chief of the Mount Holyoke News, the student newspaper.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Rieger of 226 Commonwealth ave., Newton.

School Of Nursing Holds Annual Graduation Rites

Graduation of the 1968 class of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital School of Nursing took place Saturday, June 22, at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Wellesley Junior High School.

The ceremonies came in the 80th year since the founding of the school in 1888.

Richard H. Lovell of Newton, president of the board of trustees at the 250-bed community hospital located in Newton Lower Falls, presided at the commencement and conferred diplomas upon 42 members of the graduating class.

Presenting the class was Miss Myrtice L. Fuller, R. N., B. S. of Natick. She is director of the school of nursing at the hospital, a teaching affiliate of Tufts University School of Medicine.

The commencement speaker was Paul F. Grysky, M.D. of Weston, the chief of surgery at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Awards to outstanding graduates were presented by Miss Anna Helfer, R.N. of Brookline, president of the Alumnae of the School of Nursing, and by Mrs. Robert C. Casselman of Auburndale, president of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association.

Present at the graduation and observing their golden jubilee were ten members of the 1918 class.

They included: Mrs. Katherine Blakely of Montpelier, Vermont; Mrs. Bernice Cole of Scituate, Mass.; Miss Jessie M. is financed by a research grant from the National Institutes of Health. Lending extensive co-operation in the project are the governments of Papua and New Guinea and the British Solomon Islands protectorate.

"Our expedition seeks to determine what happens to people when the stone age meets the space age," Dr. Page said.

His departure on June 22nd marks the second journey to the Solomon Islands by Dr. Page with the combined research group. The first came in 1965, when the study program was launched.

The dozen-member group will base itself on the island of Malaita, not far from Guadalcanal. Unoccupied by American and Japanese forces during World War II, the island exists in primitive isolation. It is the home of many native tribes, cultures and languages.

"This time we will focus upon two tribes who have been at war for generations. The Lau people live in a lagoon upon artificial islands. They are sea people.

"The Baegu people live in the jungle and mountain uplands behind the lagoon. They are hill people," Mr. Page explained.

While traditional enemies, the tribes have established a sea-shore trade market. There the sea people trade fish for vegetables grown by the hill people.

"However, each group will be studied in its native village," Dr. Page said.

He noted a cultural anthropologist who is a member of the expedition group has spent nearly two years among each of the tribes, observing their customs, food habits, and cultural tradition.

"He has learned their languages, grown familiar with the cultures and has launched a demographic survey. He is our liaison with the tribes, our master of ceremonies in a sense," Dr. Page continued.

The medical team moves in to profile disease conditions that affect people of a stone age culture. Eventually, the data will go on a computer and will plot medical and a anthropological differences between primitive and modern man. An important feature is to study the impact of civilization on tribal people as they make the rapid transition from primitive to modern life.

The team includes a pediatrician, dentist, ophthalmologist and similar medical specialists. They will assemble data on physical form and dimensions.

They will note "genetic markers," such as fingerprints, ability to taste certain substances, evidences of color blindness, blood types, and similar data. The findings will offer clues about the lineage of the native populations and about their migrations.

Medical examinations will include physical examinations, studies of cholesterol levels, and antibody studies.

The expedition also carries a portable x-ray unit for chest studies and to determine bone ages. The equipment will be powered by batteries and a portable generator.

The gear will be set up first at the lagoon village. Later, expedition members will lug it into the hills to study the second tribe.

"This is the broadest study of its type ever attempted, at least to my knowledge," Dr. Page indicated.

"In one of the few areas of the world where primitive peoples still live, we seek a cross-sectional view to see what kind of biological changes occur and what kinds of illnesses affect the tribes as civilization reaches them. Further, the team will study diet changes, changes in beliefs, economic changes, and evidences of widespread cultural change."

"We also hope to pursue a longitudinal view, to study the same people over the course of many years. We have already learned that the natives have diseases today that modern man rarely sees. In the future, it is possible their disease patterns may simulate ours, as the island populations come more and more in contact with the modern world."

Leading the 1968 expedition is Professor William Howells. He is chairman of the department of anthropology at Harvard University.

Also in the group is Dr. Albert Damon of Newton, who directed the 1968 expedition. Both an M.D. and a Ph.D., Dr. Damon is a member of the department of anthropology at Harvard.

Taylor Made President Of Newton Centre Association

Edwin F. Taylor of 86 Oxford road was elected president of the Newton Centre Neighborhood Association at its annual meeting Sunday, June 16.

Taylor received a bachelor of arts degree from Oberlin College, Ohio, and earned his Ph.D. in physics from Harvard University. He taught at Wesleyan College in Connecticut and at Princeton. He is presently associated with M.I.T. in the Department of Education Research.

Locally, Taylor is a deacon at the First Baptist Church and active in the Boy Scouts. He resides at 86 Oxford road with his wife, Helen, and his three children, Lloyd, Andrew and Christine.

Others elected to serve were: Edson L. Fitch, vice president; Nancy E. Wallace, treasurer; Marion F. Becker, secretary; Henry G. Barry, Paul C. Doherty, Clarence F. King, Mary Kreger, Donald E. Paulson, Lou Treehug, Francis White, William Skerry, Max Wexler and Joanne Bluestone were elected to the board of directors.

The membership voted to have the board of directors take an active role in studying the causes of and combating the increasing juvenile terrorism in the Newton Centre area. Members cited flagrant bouts of drinking and dope taking near the Weeks Junior High School, cases of aggravated assault upon local citizens, stone throwing at MBTA trains, and harassment of neighbors. It was felt that a strong neighborhood effort in conjunction with police and selected social service agencies could have a beneficial effect upon the problem.

Newtonite To Summer Session

Alan M. MacRobert of 1080 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, is among a total of 54 high school science students from throughout the United States who attended the Secondary Science Training Program at the Western Michigan University campus beginning last weekend and continuing through August 2.

Although most of the participants are from the midwest, some will come to Kalamazoo from as far away as Phoenix, Arizona; New Hyde Park, N. Y. and Shreveport, Louisiana. The program will include field trips in the Kalamazoo area, as well as special recreational activities. At the completion of the program each student will be awarded a diploma acknowledging his participation in the training course.

Marc S. Cornblatt of Newton Centre, will continue his studies at the Universities of Pennsylvania Law School, Philadelphia, Pa., having graduated from Harvard College with the degree of bachelor of arts, magna cum laude during exercises held on Thursday (June 13). He is the son of Mrs. Nathan Cornblatt and the late Mr. Nathan Cornblatt.

teachers with situations having to do with race that may occur in classrooms, Martin said.

Committeewoman Mrs. Norma Mintz, who strongly favored the proposed program, said that, in her opinion, there are three dominant needs — the development of new curriculum materials, the sensitivity training of teachers and the constant review of materials now being used.

Committeemas Edwin Hawkridge suggested that the committee working on the program include at least one black person. He also proposed that the committee look to organizations like the South Middlesex Branch of the NAACP for help.

Most committee members present agreed that stronger efforts should be made in the lower grades since hate is a thing which is taught, not inborn.

Assistant Supt. for Pupil Personnel Services Dr. Edward Landy declared that the black child in America faces different problems growing up and that the white child should recognize this.

Newtonite Is Lecturer For Italian Event

Irving Glickman, D.M.D., of Newton Professor of Periodontology at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, was the principal speaker this month at the Third National Convention of Stomatology in Spoleto, Italy.

He conducted a two-day course in periodontology at the University of Rome devoted to new research findings on occlusion.

The findings discussed by the Tufts periodontist are obtained by utilizing electronic equipment small enough to fit into a single tooth and transmit signals indicating whether the patient is biting properly.

In 1966 Dr. Glickman became the first American to receive the International Association for Dental Research's Annual Award for Basic Research in Periodontal Disease.

Among his many other awards: The Charles Miller

Memorial Award In Oral Medicine For 1965, and the Honorary Consultant Award from the Andrews Air Force Base Hospital in Virginia.

Dr. Glickman resides with his wife and two children, Alan and Denise, at 24 Manor House road, Newton.

4 Newton Men Are Honor Students at Bowdoin C.

Four Newton area students, who were members of the graduating class at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., distinguished themselves as scholars and received awards in recognition of their various abilities during the 163rd Commencement exercises at the School on Saturday (June 15).

The bachelor of arts degree was awarded to Mark Joe Winkler who was graduated magna cum laude receiving "high honors" during his last semester. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity and was awarded high honors in Sociology.

Winkler, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Winkler of 12 Fairfield street, Newtonville, is a graduate of Newton High School.

He majored in Sociology at Bowdoin, was a Dean's List student and a James Bowdoin Scholar. The James Bowdoin Scholarships are honorary awards given annually in recognition of high academic achievement. He was nominated for Fulbright and Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, and was a straight "A" scholar at Bowdoin.

Winkler has had his poetry published in "The Quill," Bowdoin literary magazine, and he wrote a weekly column for "The Orient," the student newspaper. He was a finalist in the Hiland Lockwood Fairbanks Prize Speaking Contest and a finalist in the Advanced Public Speaking Division of the Fairbanks Competition. He also won his freshman numerals as a member of the tennis team and has participated in interfraternity athletics. He was on the Student Council Curriculum Committee and was a participant in the Wilmet Brookings Mitchell Interfraternity Debates.

Robert Ray Geddes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Geddes of 272 Quinobequin road, Waban, a graduate of Newton South High School in Newton Centre, Mass. received his bachelor of arts degree.

A Dean's List student, he majored in Physics at Bowdoin.

Geddes is a member of Bowdoin's Alpha Rho Upsilon Fraternity, which he has served as President, Recording Secretary, Historian, and House Improvement Committee Chairman. He earned his freshman numerals as manager of a Bowdoin freshman soccer team which swept through an undefeated schedule. He also was awarded a varsity letter as a manager of the varsity soccer squad.

Geddes was a member of the Bowdoin Band during his senior year and has been awarded Bowdoin's O'Brien Graduate Scholarship for study at Harvard.

Geoffrey A. Miller, bachelor of arts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold F. Miller of 221 Jackson street, Newton Centre, is a graduate of Newton South High School.

A member of Zeta Psi Fraternity, Miller majored in Mathematics at Bowdoin. He has served as Treasurer of his fraternity. A Dean's List student, Miller was a member of Bowdoin's varsity tennis team. He also won his freshman numerals as a member of the swimming squad and has been active in interfraternity sports.

Miller was on the staff of "The Orient," Bowdoin's student newspaper. He was selected as a summer trainee in the actuarial division of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Robert Chandler, the son of Atty. and Mrs. Louis Chandler of 105 Baldpate Hill road, Newton, is a graduate of Rivers Country Day School in Weston, Mass. He majored in Sociology at Bowdoin receiving a bachelor of arts degree.

A Dean's List student, Chandler was a member of the freshman golf team and has been active in intramural athletics. He was a member of Bowdoin's International Club.

Suicides Can Be Prevented

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Two years ago, Suicide Prevention, Inc., received its first telephone call from a despondent person.

Since then, Raymond I. Harris, the man who helped start the local organization, said, "we have received close to 3,000 calls, of which at least 150 were suicide attempts in progress."

Harris said the volunteer agency "has been generally accepted among physicians, clergy and police officers, as a valuable arm in not only doing a job on its own, but also in helping them in their various businesses and professions."

The agency has a telephone number open to those who need someone to talk to. Volunteers staff the telephones, listening to problems of the callers and giving advice.

"It is our belief that suicide prevention centers are here to stay," Harris said, "and through their help and research work will materially reduce the number of suicides and attempted suicides."

Newton C. of C. to Print Buyers Guide, Directory

The biennial Buyers' Guide and Membership Directory by the Newton Chamber of Commerce will be published in September according to President of the Chamber Kevin F. Hughes.

Approximately 20,000 copies will be sent to households throughout Newton. The Guide and Membership Directory will feature information important to the residents of Newton. It will contain a complete listing of all Chamber officers and members, elected officials in the city and emergency phone numbers.

Pitt Graduates

Two Newton youths were among the graduates at the University of Pittsburgh, Penn., who were awarded degrees at commencement exercises there at the end of May.

Richard Bruce Zonderman of 42 High Rock terrace, Newton, received a bachelor of science degree and Lyon Pransky, 43 Jacobs terrace, Newton Centre a bachelor of arts degree.

Prof's Beef

EDWARDSDALE, Ill. (UPI) — James R. Kerr, associate professor of government at Southern Illinois University, took the campus newspaper to task for "failure to print any notice of my wife's faculty recall." "While it is true that few students attend music department events, a number of faculty do rely upon the student newspaper as a source of information about campus events," the professor said in a letter to the newspaper "Ablestle."

Dedham Mall Swings Into Festive 3-Day "Sidewalk Sale" June 27th

A turn-of-the-century atmosphere will be in evidence and the gay, outdoor bazaars symbolical of European old-world charm will be brought to mind as the first gala "Sidewalk Sale" at traditionally value-packed Dedham Mall is launched with music Thursday, June 27 to run its happy way through Saturday, June 29.

The busy shopping Mall on Route 1 will take on a new (Gay Nineties) look throughout the event with special sales tables set up outside each store along the wide, flower and plant-bedecked promenades. Values of the "good old days" will set wallets to singing.

Adding to the festive touch, sales people from each store will be garbed in colorful regalia, saucy aprons, jaunty derbies and flirtatious bonnets right from the Mauve Decade.

And, of course, the Dedham Mall being an enclosed shopping area need have no concern for the weatherman and his whims. This sales event is guaranteed to be "cool" in the comfortably air-conditioned confines. Regardless of the outside weather it is always dry and pleasantly tempered within the now famous Mall.

It will be the most amazing Three-Day Shopping Event ever unveiled in these parts, an old-fashioned event in modern setting.

The Mall management isn't overlooking the approach of the Glorious Fourth from a patriotic viewpoint, either, for, as a special attraction during the three-day event, 1,000 4" x 6" American Flags will be given away from 3 to 4 p.m. each day by "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

Adding additional appeal to the Mall's presentation of unusual values and bargains in every store, shoppers will stroll to Gay Nineties music provided by the Wurlitzer Company, where great pianos and organs are sold.

This event is a "Bring the Family" sale. Everybody can enjoy the cool comfort of the enclosed Mall where several restaurants and luncheonettes are available, as well as places dispensing ice cream and candy treats. The Mall is spacious with no bargain-basement crowding and jostling; there is a mammoth parking area guaranteeing no problem in parking the family car.

Entrance and exits are located on Route 1 and on Washington Street.

Waiting to cater to every need and with precedent shattering mark-downs for the big Three-Day Sale are the following stores located in the Dedham Mall.

Anderson Little, Baker Shoe, Blair's Gift and Card Shop, Bradlee's, Brigham's, Fanny Farmer, Field's Hosiery.

Friendly Ice Cream, Hancock Trust Co., Jack's, Kay Jewelers, Mall Liquors, Mr. Slacks, Nugent's, One Hour Martinizing, Owen Moore Sportswear, Pewter Pot Muffin House, Radio Shack.

Sears, Roebuck Co., Singer Sewing, Stephen's, Inc., Stop & Shop, The Booksmith, Thom McAn, Woolworth, and Wurlitzer Co.

Stores at the Mall are open every night. So, get the family together and visit the climate-controlled Dedham Mall during the next three days. Spend the day, stroll the stores, take advantage of the special sales tables, browse the book shop, treat the gang to a meal. Make a day of it. It is one way to have fun and save money.

Newton Man's $100,000 Gift Benefits Hospital

A gift of $100,000 from Otto Bresky of Newton will provide expanded quarters for Beth Israel Hospital's Radiology Service.

Stanley H. Feldberg, general chairman of the Hospital's Golden Anniversary Fund drive, announced that the third floor of the new George Sherman Clinical Research and Therapy Building will be designated in honor of Mr. Bresky's wife, the late Mynette Bresky.

The new Radiology area, which will adjoin the department's present facilities, is expected to be completed early in 1969. "This expansion comes at a critical time since present facilities are strained by the existing work load," according to Dr. Mitchell T. Rabkin, General Director of Beth Israel Hospital.

He expressed the Hospital's deep gratitude to Mr. Bresky for helping "to provide the needed environment for the practice of modern radiology."

Dr. Morris Simon, Radiologist-in-Chief at the Hospital, said that creation of the new facility will provide additional space for routine studies and for the more complicated radiologic special procedures.

"These include many examinations which involve the passing of a catheter into blood vessels of organs such as the brain, heart, lungs and kidney. Rooms for such special procedures must be equipped with the most advanced equipment available, such as that for biplanar angiography (which allows simultaneous viewing of anterior and lateral surfaces of blood vessels) with movie and video recording systems."

In addition to several radiographic and fluoroscopic rooms, the third floor will also help to provide spacious and attractive patient waiting rooms and areas for film reading, consultation and X-ray conferences.

Among Mr. Bresky's other Hospital benefactions is the Otto and Mynette Bresky Endowment Fund. Irving W. Rabb, hospital president, lauded Mr. Bresky's generosity and concern, noting that "so many of our future patients will benefit from the additional diagnostic and therapeutic possibilities made available through this one man's action."

Preparation for the expansion of the service will begin immediately with modernization of equipment in the existing unit, located on the third floor of the Gryzmish Building. Existing fluoroscopic and radiographic units will be replaced by units of the latest design, incorporating most recent technological advances. Dr. Simon said, "This phase will also involve decentralizing film processing areas and the addition of some specialized equipment, including equipment for neuroradiology. Many of the new items offer diagnostic possibilities that we haven't had in the past."

At present the Radiology Service conducts approximately 35,000 X-ray examinations yearly. "Inevitably, additional facilities will allow an increase in work load in the department," Dr. Simon pointed out, adding that the experience in radiology departments the world over points out the necessity for maintaining the space and equipment to meet the rising demands of first-rate patient care.

NAACP Gives Scholarships To 2 Newton Girl Students

Two cash scholarship awards have been presented to Miss Jennifer Williams and Miss Janet Turner, both Newton High School graduating students, by the South Middlesex Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The awards were formally made at the NAACP South Middlesex Branch office in Natick by James Yancey, first vice president of the branch, and Thomas Turner, 60 Wyoming road, Newtonville, president of Community Parents Organization of Newton.

Miss Williams, recipient of the first award, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Williams, 405 Cherry street, West Newton. She plans to attend Perry Normal School in Boston which has an association with the Boston University School of Education.

Miss Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Turner of 3 Northgate Park, West Newton. She will attend Springfield College where she will major in physical education.

The money for the scholarships is given by the Community Parents Organization of Newton, a group whose interest is centered in the education and recreation of children in West Newton and surrounding areas.

High school seniors and college undergraduate students from Newton, Natick, Framingham, and other towns served by the NAACP South Middlesex Branch.

President of the South Middlesex Branch is Mr. Matthew Jefferson, 15 Prospect street, West Newton, who was recently sworn in as Ward Three alderman.

Previous Newton recipients have been Miss Sandra Houston and Miss Deborah Haywood (1965), and Richard Jefferson, Stephen Parnell, and Austin Moore (1966). Scholarships have been awarded each year since 1964.

OFFICERS OF SACRED HEART PARISH COUNCIL—Newton Sacred Heart Interracial Council officers are (left to right) Mrs. Thomas Sabetti, chairman of the Social Action Committee; Miss Aileen Lynch, secretary; Sister Miriam de Lourdes, C.S.J., vice-president; Gordon A. Martin, Jr., president; Miss Anantonia Caruso, treasurer; and Judge Cornelius Moynihan. The Parish Council is undertaking an immediate study as to the role it may play in helping to alleviate Newton's shortage of low and moderate income housing.

Parish Council Studies Housing Problems

At a general business meeting held recently the Newton Sacred Heart Interracial Council elected its officers for the coming year, as follows:

Gordon A. Martin, Jr., president; Sister Miriam de Lourdes, C.S.J., vice-president; Miss Anantonia Caruso, treasurer; Miss Aileen Lynch, secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Sabetti, chairman of the Social Action Committee.

Founded a year and a half ago, the Sacred Heart Council is the largest parish interracial council in the Archdiocese of Boston.

Its particular goal is providing to Newton's Catholic population, ways in which to understand better and to assist in dealing with the urban crisis.

Dr. Francis Drinan, the Council's immediate past president, is now chairman of the committee surveying the Council's role in the area of housing.

Sister Leo Clare, C.S.J. is chairman of the education subcommittee, while Miss Martha Sabetti and Miss Kathleen Hines are in charge of youth activities.

All Newton residents interested in participating in the Council activities are invited to contact Miss Aileen Lynch, Council secretary, 222 Pleasant st., Newton centre.

Adams St. Fire Forces Seven To Flee To Safety

Seven persons fled to safety last Wednesday night when flames swept two apartments and a market at 163-167 Adams street, Newton.

One firefighter, Joseph Tedeschi, of Ladder 3, received a cut hand while fighting the fire of undetermined origin. He was released after treatment at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Frederick Dellicandro, occupant of a first floor apartment at 167 Adams street, fled with his wife, Virginia, and their three children. Also routed was Antonio Pellegrini, of 163 Adams street, second floor occupant.

Fire officials said the fire started in the basement and went up to the first floor apartment through a partition and stairway and then went to the second floor via stairway. The 2½ wooden frame store and dwelling is owned by Lawrence D. Rufo, 161 Adams street, Newton. Larry's Superette on the first floor received smoke damage.

Ward 7 Democrats Support Alderman Shea On Housing

At its June meeting at Grace Church in Newton Corner, the Ward Seven Democratic Committee passed a resolution commending

Alderman H. James Shea, Jr., for his action which delayed the sale of the Bowen School site to private developers for "garden-type" and therefore expensive apartments.

The resolution, introduced by Chairman Harry H. Crosby, grew out of a discussion about the need for housing for all income levels in Newton, whether the housing be supported by private or public funds.

Committee members agreed that the movement of elderly couples out of Newton because of high rent and high taxes should be avoided. They agreed also that the absence of low and middle income rental property is harmful since it means that many people who work in Newton cannot afford to live here.

A resolution introduced by Melvin Chalfin exhorted the Board of Aldermen to adopt and implement the unanimous action of its own subcommittee which urged that the Board authorize construction of at least two hundred low income housing units.

A third resolution, proposed by Gordon Martin, requested that the Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and Housing Authority undertake a comprehensive study as to present housing needs and sites and, pending completion of such a study, prevent sale of any municipally owned lands suitable for housing.

In another discussion, the committee strongly condemned the recent mail survey of fall-out shelters conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau for the Defense Department.

Saul Aronow commented that the study comes at a singularly bad time since it ups concern for war at a time when peace sentiment is important; he added that all medical reports indicate that the types of shelter mentioned in the survey have little value against nuclear attack.

Considerable sentiment was voiced against what one member called "a grandstand play made by a man running for vice-president" when Governor Volpe enclosed a letter over his own signature in the survey envelope.

Dr. Cavin Leeman was asked to study the matter further and perhaps recommend action by the committee. Members were urged to return the private information requested, but with a reaction to the legality, good taste, and wisdom of the survey itself.

At the suggestion of Joseph Michelson, the committee will use its July 9 meeting to study and make recommendations for the National Democratic Convention platform and will try to establish liaison with national convention delegates. The July 9 meeting will be

Newton Soldier Gets Promotion At Kansas Post

Peter C. Golden of Headquarters Detachment, U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., has been promoted to Specialist 5. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Golden, 1438 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton.

The 24-year-old soldier entered the Army in September 1966, completed his basic training at Ft. Gordon, Ga., and then attended the U.S. Army Quartermaster School at Ft. Lee, Va.

He went to Ft. Leavenworth in April 1967 and was assigned as enlisted aide to Brig. Gen. Robert C. Taber, Assistant Commandant of the college.

When General Taber went overseas in June 1967, Specialist Golden became enlisted aide to Brig. Gen. James K. Terry, Commanding General of the Combat Arms Group.

After General Terry went overseas in December 1967, Specialist Golden was assigned as the noncommissioned officer-in-charge of the Visiting Officers Quarters at Ft. Leavenworth.

Specialist Golden was graduated from Boston English High School in 1961 and attended Burdett College. Before entering the Army he was a partner and sales executive for Al Goldin & Son Company of West Newton.

He is married to the former Miss Carol Ann Katz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Katz of 243 Upland road, Newtonville. Specialist and Mrs. Golden live at 1347 Stonleigh Court, Leavenworth.

Newton Rabbi To Serve Boston's Temple Israel

Rabbi Frank M. Waldorf, of Newton, has been selected as assistant Rabbi of Temple Israel in Boston, according to an announcement by Mr. Solomon Stern, President. Rabbi Waldorf, together with Rabbi Halpern, will assist Rabbi Gittlesohn with all the rabbinic needs of the Congregation.

Rabbi Waldorf was born in Baltimore, Maryland and received his B.E.S. degree from John Hopkins University in 1959. He was ordained at the HUC-JIR in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1964 where he was awarded the M.A.H.L. with honors. While attending HUC he served congregations in Kokomo, Indiana; Staunton, Virginia and Clearwater, Florida. Immediately upon ordination Rabbi Waldorf entered the United States Army as Chaplain. He served at Fort Jackson, South Carolina from July, 1964 to March 1965 and in Frankfurt, West Germany from April, 1965 through March, 1968.

Rabbi Waldorf is married and is the father of three children. They are living in Newton. After a brief organizational meeting presided over by William R. Horner, chairman, the committee was host to the area's Republican candidates.

Reading Plus Program For Grades 4-8th

This summer the Scholastic Achievement Center of Newton will offer elementary students a "reading plus" program. This program aims to improve a student's basic reading skills, vocabulary and comprehension. The "plus" part of the course involves learning the necessary work habits to assure a student's effectiveness in the classroom.

Reading ability, alone, is not enough. A student must be able to perform in a classroom setting.

To learn correct study habits and to improve reading comprehension, each class will plan and carry out a group project based on the interests of the group. For further information on this elementary program or Junior High and Senior High School courses, call 665-0227.

Levinson Is New Director Sinai Hospital

Andover-Newton Names Needham Man to Staff

The position of Associate Director for Development at the Andover-Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, has been filled by Harry C. Snyder, of Needham. In this capacity he assists Paul R. Dunn, Vice President for Development, in broadening the scope of the department to meet the need for increased income for current expenses and capital funds.

A 1965 graduate of Andover Newton, Mr. Snyder has been the minister of the Henderson Memorial Baptist Church, Farmington, Me., for the past two years. Born in Grantwood, New Jersey, he received his B.S. in Commerce and Industry from Bucknell University and was engaged in his own contracting business in Lewisburg, Pa., until he entered Andover-Newton to study for the ministry. He served the Kingston Baptist Church in Kingston, Mass., while studying for his B.D. degree.

Married, he and Mrs. Snyder live with their four children on Great Plain Avenue, Needham.

Candidates At Meeting Of Ward GOP

Ward Two of the Newton Republican City Committee held a highly successful meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Horner, Grove Hill Park, Newtonville, recently.

After a brief organizational meeting presided over by William R. Horner, chairman, the committee was host to the area's Republican candidates.

Among them were Laurence Curtis, and Malcolm E. Peabody, Jr., Republican candidates in the Third Congressional District; Wigmore A. Pierson, and Nelson M. Silk, Jr., State Legislative candidates; Mrs. Robert R. Amesbury, and David Locke, who seek election to the seat being vacated by Senator Leslie B. Cutler; and Harcourt Wood, candidate for election as Republican State Committeeman.

Recently elected officers of Ward Two are William R. Horner, Chairman; Miss Clara Haffermehl and Douglas J. Howard, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. William R. Horner, Secretary; Mrs. Nellie Clinton, Treasurer; Joseph G. Hallett, Jr., Finance Chairman; and Mrs. A. V. Jonah, Registration Chairman.

A social hour and refreshments followed the meeting.
